GERMANS FORCED TO ADMIT DEFEAT ON TWO FRONTS

They Concede the Loss of Clery, which is a Short Distance from Peronne, and also Fortified Positions in Galicia, with the Loss of 4,500 Prisoners.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) LONDON, Sept. 7.—While their compatriots were busy Wednesday north of the Somme, mainly in warding off German counter-attacks, or engaged in artillery duels, the French south of the river drove their men further into the German lines and made additional noteworthy gains. In stubborn fighting over a front of four miles, between Vermandovillers and Chilly, the Germans have been forced to give up the northern portion of Vermandovillers; while the French have occupied the outskirts of the railway junction town of Chaules and thrown their forces along the railway running from Chaules to Roye, between Chaules and Chilly. To the north the operations by the French, which have Barleux, and ultimately Peronne, as their objective, also met with success. Southeast of Belloy-en-Santerre further German trenches were captured, and the greater portion of the village of Berny-en-Santerre fell into the hands of the French. During the day's fighting, according to Paris, the number of prisoners taken apparently was large. Berlin admits the loss of the town of Clery, which lies a short distance northwest of Peronne. In Galicia, on the front of the Zlota Lipa and Dniester rivers, the Russians have driven out the Teutonic Allies from fortified positions and taken 4,500 prisoners, among them about 2,000 Germans. Berlin concedes a victory to the Russians in this region. Violent fighting is still going on around Brezany, southeast of Lemberg, but here Berlin says the Russians have suffered heavy losses and made no advance. Similarly, Russian attacks near Zborow, northern Galicia, in the Volhynia, failed according to Berlin. Fighting is still going on in the Carpathians, where the Russians claim the capture of additional heights. In the Roumanian theatre the German and Bulgarian troops are still engaged, with the Roumanians in the Dobruja region. Berlin reports the capture of seven of the Turtucaia works, together with their armored batteries. The Roumanians, on the other hand, assert that they have retaken all the Dobruja frontier east of the Danube, between Bulgaria and Roumania. The towns of Kalak and Kalak, on the Danube have been bombarded by the Teutonic Allies. The Russians in Turkish Armenia continue to make progress against the Turks near Ognott, inflicting heavy casualties on them, according to Petrograd. On the Macedonian front only bombardments are in progress. In Albania, the Italian advance has been stopped, says Berlin, and the Teutonic Allies have recaptured all the positions taken from them recently east of Avlona.

THE ENEMY REDUCED TO IMPOTENCE BY FRENCH AND BRITISH ARTILLERY

Violent Fighting on both Banks of the Somme and on the Verdun Front. Germans were Completely Demoralized by Artillery Fire and Unable to Attempt Counter-attacks. Aerial Activity on whole Front in which Several Enemy Machines were Brought Down.

(Special to the Guardian.) PARIS, via London, Sept. 7.—French artillery fire south of the Somme has prevented the Germans from making counter-attacks, according to an official communication issued by the war office tonight. Some additional progress for the French troops is also recorded. The text of the statement reads: "North of the Somme there has been violent bombardment in various portions without infantry actions. In a trench recently captured by our bomb throwers sixteen machine guns were added to the material previously brought in. South of the Somme the enemy, reduced to impotence by the violence of our artillery fire, was unable to make a counter-attack. Immediately east of Delacourt we captured some new trenches in the course of isolated combats in which we took fifty prisoners. In Champagne a German reconnaissance was caught by our fire, west of Mecons de Champagne we dispersed the enemy and some prisoners fell into our hands. On the right bank of the Meuse, Verdun front, the enemy bombarded our new positions in Vaux Chapitre Woods. During last evening's attack in this section we captured 250 prisoners including six officers. Everywhere else there was intermittent cannonading." (Canadian Press Despatch.) PARIS, Sept. 7.—The French have captured the German first line trenches over a front of one mile on the Verdun front, the war office announced today. The French in the German line was effected on the front northeast of Verdun between the Vaux Chapitre and the town of Chenois. They took two hundred and fifty prisoners.

SMASHING DEFEAT FOR THE CRACK GERMAN CORPS

Von Hindenberg Witnessed the Defeat of the Flower of the Kaiser's Army—French Won the Greatest Victory Since the Offensive Began.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) PARIS, September 7.—"Not a success merely, but a victory—the greatest victory since the offensive began, in the way the despatch from the Somme front describes Sunday's operations. According to the Echo de Paris, the French have administered a smashing defeat to crack German corps under the eyes of Field Marshal von Hindenberg himself in a regular pitched battle of five hours duration. The weather had greatly interfered with General Foch's plans. Twice a postponement was necessary, owing to a driving rain which prevented aerial observations. Twice the artillery ceased fire from the sheer impossibility of knowing whether its objectivity had been attained, only to be again as soon as a gleam of sun shone pierced the lowering clouds. It was not until Sunday that the French commander could be certain that his preparations were adequate and gave the order for the attack which lacked that knowledge, he would not risk. The delay had given the Germans time to mass their forces in the threatened area. From before Guillemont to the Somme no less than two army corps of the finest troops the German Empire can boast were waiting to bar the advance of the Chasseurs Alpes and regiments of Normandy and Brittany and their allies. The Kaiser's heroic Brandenburgers were not again to cross swords with the French regiments, which had torn the Douaumont crest from their grasp on Saturday. In February the Chasseurs Alpes had taken the task of holding Guillemont against the British, and they failed as they failed at Verdun. Imperial Guards Falk. Next to them, at the point of the Allies' junction between Guillemont and Maurepas, the Third Division of the Imperial Guard, under command of the Prince of Prussia, linked up with a half division of Saxons. They too, tried in vain to check the rush of the Chasseurs and the "Hard Heads," from the northwestern fishing villages. Although the official bulletin spoke of counter-attacks, it is doubtful whether "simultaneous attacks, would not be a more correct phrase, for, as the French left their trenches in waves, cheering and singing after their long inaction, the German masses moved to meet them, as if actuated by a common impulse. In the fierce melee which followed, giant howitzers and field fortifications were forgotten, and the battle was won, like Jena, the French bayonets and light artillery backed by the genius of French commanders. The French, too, have learned to excel the Germans in the use of the quickfiring which have become deadlier weapons in their attack than in the German defence. Enemy Begins to Waver. At 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon the Germans began to waver. By five o'clock they were in full retreat, streaming hither and thither across the open country under the fire of the victors. To many of the latter it seemed as if the victory might be followed up immediately, but General Foch's orders were absolute—there must be no advance beyond the objectives defined. The first results were of the highest importance. The French reached the outskirts of Comble and were firmly established on the plateau overlooking the Bapaume-Peronne state road. Further south they gained a footing on Hill St. Quentin, dominating Peronne itself. The whole line north of the river has been brought level to that at the south, which no longer forms the salient.

ROUMANIANS ADMIT VIOLENT OPPOSITION

(Special to the Guardian.) BUCHAREST, Roumania, Sept. 7.—German and Bulgarian forces having received numerous reinforcements continue attacking with great violence the Roumanian fortress of Turtucaia. The garrison fortress is ceaselessly counter attacking, the Roumanian statement adds and losses on each side are said to have been very numerous. The text of the official statement says: On the northwest frontier we occupied Gyergyo Ditro and Onava pass where we captured seven guns and several machine guns, searchlights and important food stores. On the southern frontier the enemy having received heavy reinforcements especially in heavy artillery, continue to attack with great violence on Turtucaia garrison, which is ceaselessly counter attacking. Losses are very serious.

British in Hand To Hand Fighting

(Canadian Press Despatch.) LONDON, Sept. 7.—The official announcement follows: "Under cover of darkness the enemy made a counter-attack against our positions in Leuze Wood. After hand-to-hand fighting the enemy was driven back, leaving two officers and seventeen men, prisoners in our hands. "The fighting at Ghinchy continues. There has been considerable artillery activity on both sides, during the night, and this morning the enemy used gas and lacrimatory shells. "East of Neuville, Sevast, the enemy exploded a mine. Yesterday evening we carried out a very effective bombardment of the enemy's trenches west of Lens."

Enjoyable Recital In St. James' Hall

The recital in St. James' Hall last evening was one that could not fail to delight a music-loving audience and there was abundant evidence to show that the large audience present was both music-loving and delighted. The programme was varied, consisting of vocal and instrumental music and recitations of moderate length. It was pleasantly lengthened by the audience persistently demanded by the audience and generously responded to by the performers. The soloists were the well-known favorites, Sergeant Arthur Bruce, Professor Barlow and one who is not so well known to Charlottetown audiences but who, henceforth will always be assured of a warm welcome, Mrs. (Dr.) A. J. W. Myers of Toronto. Professor Watkins presided at the piano, giving several selections, and accompanying the soloists in his usual masterly style. Miss Goff, who has on several occasions delighted Charlottetown audiences with her violin, gave two magnificently rendered violin solos, "Butterflies," from Bressler, and a minute in G. from Beethoven.
