LAST night was Halloween and the small boys committed the usual amount, if not more than the usual of depredations to door steps, platforms and gates.

At the meeting of the Local Council of Women yesterday the date for the annual meeting and the advisability of holding a meeting to consider the question of tuberculosis were discussed.

The passengers by the Princess last night included W. F. Robinson and Miss Helen Anderson from Halifax; Miss May Gillis, Pictou; J. J. Leary of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co., and Mrs. Leary, on a visit to the city.

AMONG the passengers by the express last night were George Handrahan from Summerside; Major Schurman; J. F. Fraser, of Davis & Fraser; Miss Amy Lowe from Boston; A. Lord from Cape Traverse; D. R. Morrison, Summerside.

A CORDIAL invitation is extended to everybody who wishes to call and see The Guardian Web Perfecting Press while running at 11.30 a. m. on Monday or Wednesday of each week. This is the only press of its kind in the Province and well worth a visit. It

THE death occurred at Tryon yesterday morning of Miss May, daughter of Matthew Callbeck, in the 23rd year of her age. Deceased had been in ill health for some months past. A father, mother, three sisters and two brothers will have the sympathy of many in their bereavement. The funeral takes place today, Wednesday, at 2.30 p. m.

THE last issue of the Toronto Globe's Saturday magazine contains several Prince Edward Island views including The Roman Catholic Church at Vernon River, photo by Rev. Father McKenna. It is termed "a fine example of ecclesiastical architecture occupying an eminence where it can be seen for miles." There is also a "typical country lane at Seven Mile Bay" and "clam digging," from photos by Rev. J. J. Macdonald, parish priest of Seven Mile Bay.

C. D. McKINNON, Souris, came to the city last night.

THE death took place yesterday of John Hopkinson, Weymouth St. laborer, after a brief illness of inflammation of the lungs.

T. J. MORRIS, who formerly conducted a grocery business in this city and is now in Glace Bay came to the city last night on a short visit.

THE concert and social held in Georgetown on Monday night, in aid of the Street Lamp Fund, realized $130, and five lamps will be procured immediately. The hall was packed, and a good program was rendered. It included a duet by the Misses Hickey and McPhee; recitations by Miss Freda Morrissy and Miss Aggie McPhee; solo by Miss Marion Morrissy; chorus by the Georgetown Glee Club, and a topical song by E. F. Ryan. The cakes were sold by P. D. Bowen, M. L. A. T. W. Morrissy and E. F. Ryan.

YESTERDAY a lad named Ingram was arrested for the larceny of $20 from the residence of Charles Macmillan, Covehead. Ingram, who belongs to town is about 16 years of age and had been working for Mr. Macmillan. Monday night he disappeared from the place. On his not showing up further investigation showed that the $20 was also missing. When arrested at his home by the Marshal the $20 was found in his possession. He was arraigned before Stipendiary Brehaut and will be tried this afternoon. The trial of John King charged with malicious injury to the property of John Anderson, Queen's Arms, also comes up for hearing before Stipendiary Brehaut today.

JOHN J. KELLY and bride left yesterday morning for their home in Cambridge, Mass. Mr. Kelly was formerly Miss Edith McQuaid, daughter of John J. McQuaid Piquid. She was engaged in the dressmaking business here for a number of years and had very many friends. The groom holds a responsible position on the Boston Elevated Railway and is a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus and visited this city a year ago with a degree team from Boston. The groom's gift to the bride was a set of sable furs and to the bridesmaid a diamond ring. The presents were both numerous and choice and showed the esteem in which the young couple are held.

A QUIET home wedding takes place this evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Capt. A. and Mrs. Lord, Victoria, when their daughter, Miss Ella, will be united in marriage to H. J. Mabon, Souris. The bride will be gowned in white silk and will be attended by her sister, Miss Annie, who will also wear white silk. The Guardian joins with many friends in extending best wishes.

A MORE than ordinarily sad event took place last night about ten o'clock in the sudden death of Mrs. James Carter, Prince Street, after only a brief illness of a day. She had been taken ill in the morning with what afterwards proved to be heart trouble but which at the time was not thought to be so serious. Last night she grew suddenly worse and death came quickly and unexpectedly. There are left to mourn a grief stricken husband, one brother, Leslie W. Cook, and five children. The bereaved ones will have deep sympathy in their irreplaceable loss.

A PRETTY wedding will take place this evening at the home of John McDonald, Crapaud, when his daughter Miss Millie will be united in marriage to Donald McFadyen, Augustine Cove. The ceremony will be performed at 7 p. m. by Rev. Thos. Stebbing in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The bride will be attired in white albatross with trimmings of silk and lace. She will be attended by her sister Miss Leona and her cousin Miss Frankie Howatt, Tryon, the former dressed in pearl grey nun's veiling and the latter in pale green. The groom will be supported by his brother Edward McFadyen, Augustine Cove. A large number of presents bespeak the best wishes of many friends.

THERE was a large attendance at the annual meeting of the Caledonian Club last evening. The following officers were elected:

Friends of The Guardian are again asked to have all their advertising matter whether of entertainments, lectures, concerts, or of a general nature, in this Office not later than 4 p. m. and of any considerable length much earlier, as it is impossible to give all the news of the day if advertising has to be handled at night, for every line of the latter prevents the appearance of the same quantity of news. For the issue of the 13th one third of a column of such advertising was set up in type at night, and readers were thus deprived of the same quantity of late news. This, of course, makes The Guardian less valuable to readers and correspondingly so to advertisers, and in future only emergency advertising will be accepted at night. Friends are asked to hand in all their advertising as early as possible each day.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.
Herb W. Edwards of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared. I feel that this bottle of Pain Balm saved me several days' time, to say nothing of the suffering." This liniment is for sale by all druggists.
