

THE WESTERN GUARDIAN

PRINCE COUNTY OFFICE
3 Summer Street, Summerside, Phone 289
News, Subscriptions, Advertising Representatives

J. ELMER MURPHY and GEORGE CLOW
The Guardian may be bought at any of the following stores in Summerside

Bell Bookstore, Summer Street; Gourlies Drugstore, 21 Central Street; Kelly's Newsstand, Water Street; Mark's, 67 Granville Street; Alyre Doucette's Grocery, Second Street; Island Motor Transport, Water Street

The Guardian will be delivered to any home in Summerside by Carrier Boy at 30 per day or 150 per week. Phone 289 for this service or give your order to the boy responsible for delivery on your route.

GENERAL INSURANCE Ralph A. Muttart, Summerside.

CHICKEN DINNER at Bordelon tomorrow, Sunday, Nov. 13, served from 4 to 7.

Personals
-Master Ivan Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Celestine Smith, Carleton Place, is a patient in the Prince County Hospital after an operation Thursday, November 3rd.

Services At Catholic Church in Miscouche

Annual Remembrance Day services were held in the Catholic Church at Miscouche yesterday afternoon at three o'clock and were attended by His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor D. L. McLaren of New Brunswick, Mayor J. L. MacLaren of New Brunswick, and other distinguished visitors as well as members of Miscouche and Summerside Branches of the Legion.

Rev. J. D. Kelly, pastor, welcomed the guests at the door and escorted the Lieutenant-Governor to a seat at the head of the Church. Father Kelly extended words of welcome and said the people of the parish were especially honored at the presence of such distinguished visitors.

Lieutenant-Governor McLaren gave a brief address on the meaning of Remembrance Day. A very excellent program was carried out by the pupils of Miscouche Convent which showed that much time and training had been spent by the Sisters in preparation.

The program was as follows: Military march, drill, playing soldiers; singing, chorus, Our Country, I'll Remember, Then by Lucile Martin and pupils of Grade eight; Last Post; Revellie; the silence; chorus, Song of Peace.

A vote of thanks was moved to the members of the Summerside Legion Branch and the prominent visitors for attending by Gerald Steele, seconded by Estelle Williams and supported by Raymond LeClair, all school pupils.

Dr. J. A. McPhee, honorary president of Summerside Branch Legion, wreaths were laid at the altar, wreaths the memorial window to the soldiers of the parish who gave their lives.—S.

DEFENCE PLENS
Continued from page 1

Canada was gradually organizing a civil defence system organization on which an expanded version could be built in emergency. To establish a full-fledged organization now would be to invite a lack of interest within a fairly short period.

M. J. Caldwell, C.C.F. leader, said that the record budget must be supported but that it should be completely re-examined to raise world standards of living and to remove the misery and want from which any future war would spring.

Caldwell Disturbed
Mr. Caldwell said he was "disturbed" over the sale of the Government-owned Canadair aircraft factory in Montreal to the Electric Boat Company of the United States. The main argument against the sale is that it is not a source of profit for any private group but should be owned by the people.

John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge) said Canada was particularly vulnerable to attack because of the centralization of industry. A sudden manœuvre by the enemy resulting in control of certain parts of Ontario and Quebec would roll down the curtain for the rest of Canada.

He urged both industrial decentralization and establishment of a regional defence set-up under which one area of Canada could operate as a self-sufficient unit without being dependent on another area.

Mr. Claxton said, too:
1. Canada's role in any new world would involve heavy emphasis on air power and the R.C.A.F. already is the leading service in terms of spending.

2. Canada's internal security measures have been "completely re-examined and intelligence precautions strengthened.

The regular forces are within 11 per cent of their authorized strength of roughly 50,000 and are turning away more than 75 per cent of the candidates for enlistment.

4. The greatest bottleneck in any future emergency would be the shortage of skilled tradesmen and various methods were being used to increase their numbers.

5. Canada is spending $91,000,000 this year on defence construction including housing, barracks and buildings at military bases.

6. Orders worth $75,000,000 have been placed this year for aircraft and aircraft overhauls and parts, nearly four times the total for the last fiscal year.

Mr. Claxton said it is too early to spell out the obligations of the Atlantic pact in terms of money and men but eventually its pooling of resources should cut the defence spending of all 12 member states.

GARRISON N. C. O.'S
Continued from page 1

climax to a splendid day, but asked his listeners to remember that Remembrance Day was not only a chance to pay tribute to the dead of two wars, but to pay additional tribute to those who lived through badly shattered through war wounds. He said that people were inclined to place the emphasis only on the peace and forget the living who needed help and understanding. His plea for peace in the world included the part that those present at the dinner could play in ensuring that the freedom already won would continue.

The dinner last night was attended by over 100 members of the Mens and guests. Seated at the head table were Rev. H. E. D. Ashford who said Grace, Lieutenant Colonel G. G. Keape of the 29th L.A.A. Regiment, Harold Shaw of the 21st Field Ambulance, A. W. Rogers of the P.E.I. Regiment, Captain A. R. Bowles of the 5th Infantry Division Signals, Captain Earle MacLeod, M.C., and H. R. Vessey, President of the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion, all of whom spoke briefly.

Among the invited guests was Fred Furze, 81 year old veteran of the Boer War and the First Great War.

Chairman for the dinner was R.S.M. P. G. Hillier of the 28th L.A.A. Regiment while vice-chairman was S.S.M. H. H. MacLeod.

Only three of the 562 Indian states under British rule now retain their original boundaries—Mysore, Hyderabad, and Kash-

S'side Legion Addressed By Lieut. Gov. MacLaren

Hon. D. L. McLaren, P.C., Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, was the guest speaker last evening at the annual Remembrance Day banquet of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. held at the Olympia Restaurant, Summerside.

His Honor said in his opening remarks that this was a happy occasion to be in Prince Edward Island, especially in Summerside, for he was an Islander twice removed and he had as a boy spent his holidays in Summerside at the Caledonian games.

"This is Remembrance Day," he said. "To many it is a day of rejoicing and to many a day of proud grief. It is a day veterans, old and new, gather together to keep ever before us the memory of those gallant lads who gave their all and now sleep in the boundless depths of the ocean or in some corner of a foreign field. Recently we stand before our cenotaphs and during the silence pay a loving and humble tribute to those with whom we shared the dangers of war. As the notes of the Last Post die away we think of those beautiful lines

"At the going down of the sun And in the morning, we will remember them."

"In the evening we gather around the festive board to sing the old songs and to renew and cement those friendships formed out of the tragic days of war. You and I know this is how the ones we left behind would wish us to carry on.

"And so on this night we recall in song and story the old days once again and to relive that period in our lives which will ever remain the greatest game a youth of a nation can be called upon to play."

Early Battles
His Honor went on to relate how the sons of the Maple had first won their spurs in the Boer war and Pardaberg became a household word in the nation. Then came 1914, the thunder of war once again, the Empire in danger. What was Canada's answer?

Within two months of the declaration of war the First Canadian Division had sailed for the Mother Land. April 1915, the Ypres Salient, the first gas attack, the line bent but not broken, for the Huskies path to the Channel ports was open, that path was blocked, the line held, and in the words of Sir John French "the Canadians had saved the day."

During the four years of war the army had been Canada's largest contribution to the fighting forces but there was a new branch of the service only in its infancy but preparing for a great future, the Royal Canadian Navy. Small though it was it played a gallant part. Canada had taken like a fish in water to a new form of war, aerial warfare. They produced the most outstanding fighter pilots of the Allies.

Out of the tragedy and suffering of world war one Canada emerged a nation ready to take her place in the councils of the world, "the most important Dominion in our Commonwealth of British Nations." Then 1939, Germany fully prepared for war, mad with the lust for war and confident that world dominion was within her grasp.

Not in a boastful spirit but with pride of race, knowing that for one year and six months that tight little Isle, England, stood alone facing the greatest military machine the world have ever known, and with only a divine faith that right must triumph, a will to win through no matter what the odds and the guts of the bulldog breed. Like history repeating itself Canadians regarded themselves again for battle. In a few short months another armada left the shores of Canada.

"To you the vets of world war two all that happened overseas is still fresh in your memories. Your time came, you did not fail. Dieppe, Sicily, Italy and the landings in Europe, the tough hard fighting right through to the end, a magnificent achievement, you have written a glorious chapter in our country's history."

On The Home Front
His Honor then went on to speak of Canada's effort on the home front. "No country," he said, "has financed her war effort better than Canada and no country has emerged from the war on a sounder financial footing." He then reviewed what Canada has done for the veterans and said that the tremendous help by Canada well up to the top of the list in looking after her returned men.

"We asked no favors," he continued, "in the days we were proud to wear the uniform of our country. We ask none now, we do ask and I think it is our right to demand that these who thought and fought for their country to go forth to battle in defence of all they held dear when seeking employment and capable to do the job should receive first consideration.

"Take your place in public life, use your God-given right, the franchise, combat those forces who menace our way of life. The danger today arises not so much from aggression from military power but come from sinister plans to undermine the structure of free government within the borders of individual nations."

The chairman and toastmaster of the evening was Lester Jenkins, president of the Summerside branch of the Canadian Legion.

The following is the toast list which was carried out in a most splendid manner.

"The King", musical honors. "The Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L." responded to by Major J.S. Wright, E.D.

"The Royal Canadian Navy" by Com. John W. MacNeill. "The Canadian Army" by Lt. Col. J.A. McPhee, M.D., E.D.

"The Royal Canadian Air Forces" by Wing Cmdr. R.F. Gross, C.C., R.C.A.F. Station. "The Ladies Auxiliary", Roland Philipson. — S

Chairman for the dinner was R.S.M. P. G. Hillier of the 28th L.A.A. Regiment while vice-chairman was S.S.M. H. H. MacLeod.

Only three of the 562 Indian states under British rule now retain their original boundaries—Mysore, Hyderabad, and Kash-

At HOLMAN'S . . . For Fall and Winter!

NYLON HOSE (Substandard) in full fashioned, serviceable 45 gauge knit. These are available in a nice range of smart Fall shades. The sizes are 9 to 10, priced a pair— 1.19

NYLON HOSE made by Kayser, Holeproof and Supersilk, full fashioned and in 42-45 and 51 gauge. Lovely new Fall shades in sizes 8½ to 11, priced a pair— 1.40 to 2.25

PURE SILK HOSE, full fashioned, in shades: Enchantment, Cameo, Honey Glo and Temptation. The sizes are 9 to 11, priced a pair— 1.95

RAYON CREPE HOSE are made by Kayser, and Mercery. The shades are Encore, Zusk, Anthem and Morning Mist. The sizes are 9 to 10½, priced a pair— 1.50

CASHMERE HOSE, with ribbed cotton tops and a sound percentage of cotton to insure good wear. In a variety of Fall colors, the sizes are 9 to 10½, priced a pair— 1.25

CASHMERE HOSE, full fashioned, of either all wool or a reinforcement of cotton. In new Fall shades, the sizes are 9 to 10½, priced a pair— 1.50 and 1.75

CASHMERE HOSE, full fashioned in heavy weight for warm, Winter wear. The shades are Cloud and Dusk, in sizes 9 to 10½, priced a pair— 1.95

OVERHOSE (all wool) in Dusk shade, the sizes are medium and large, priced a pair— 1.35 to 1.95

Dry Goods Department

"Where Old Friends Meet"

HOLMAN'S

Many At Remembrance Day Services In S'side

Remembrance Day services were conducted at Memorial Square, Summerside, yesterday morning in a winter setting. There had been an unseasonable fall of snow and the ground and the trees were covered with white. Snow continued to fall during the ceremonies at which His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor D.L. McLaren of New Brunswick was the main speaker.

Lieutenant-Governor McLaren had come to Summerside on Thursday evening at the invitation of the Canadian Legion and took part in most of the observances of Remembrance Day in the island Province who made the supreme sacrifice in two world wars.

"I should never be forgotten by the people of this generation and those who will follow in the years to come the deep debt of gratitude they owe to these brave boys. Through their sacrifice you and I have continued to enjoy the freedom we have always known and which they were determined should not perish from the earth.

"Young, full of life and to many a mere adventure, cheerfully they went forth to face the unknown counting not the cost. They have passed on but in passing have handed down to you and to me a noble heritage. We must not fail them. We are worthy of their great sacrifice ever remembering they saved the real test of patriotism is when a man answers his country's call in her hour of danger, willing if necessary to lay down his life.

"Twice in one generation our country has been called upon to take her place alongside the other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations in defence of a common cause.

"Once more as in World War I Canada turned to her youth to fill the ranks in the fighting services and to uphold the honor and glory of the land of the maple. If there were any who doubted if young Canada would accept the challenge they were sadly mistaken. Worthy sons of a great country they answered in one clear voice:

"When duty whispers to thou must

"The youth replies I can

"And so they girded themselves with armor and went forth to war the very flower of Canada's manhood. Well may we be proud of their glorious achievements on the sea, on land and in the air, which made a magnificent contribution to the final victory of the Allied forces.

"Wars are not won without great sacrifice. Many of these gallant lads now rest in the bosom of the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with pride of race we salute the heroic dead.

"Oh valiant hearts who to your glory came

"Through dust of conflict and through battle flame;

"Tranquil you lie your knightly virtue proved

"Your memory hallowed in the land you loved!" — S

CHINESE CLOTH
Nankien, a cotton cloth of a peculiar yellow shade, was originally manufactured in Nankien, the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with other countries.

Lt.-Gov. MacLaren

Lieutenant Governor McLaren's speech at the square:

"I feel very honored in having been invited to take part in this memorial service and pay tribute to those gallant sons of this island Province who made the supreme sacrifice in two world wars.

"I should never be forgotten by the people of this generation and those who will follow in the years to come the deep debt of gratitude they owe to these brave boys. Through their sacrifice you and I have continued to enjoy the freedom we have always known and which they were determined should not perish from the earth.

"Young, full of life and to many a mere adventure, cheerfully they went forth to face the unknown counting not the cost. They have passed on but in passing have handed down to you and to me a noble heritage. We must not fail them. We are worthy of their great sacrifice ever remembering they saved the real test of patriotism is when a man answers his country's call in her hour of danger, willing if necessary to lay down his life.

"Twice in one generation our country has been called upon to take her place alongside the other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations in defence of a common cause.

"Once more as in World War I Canada turned to her youth to fill the ranks in the fighting services and to uphold the honor and glory of the land of the maple. If there were any who doubted if young Canada would accept the challenge they were sadly mistaken. Worthy sons of a great country they answered in one clear voice:

"When duty whispers to thou must

"The youth replies I can

"And so they girded themselves with armor and went forth to war the very flower of Canada's manhood. Well may we be proud of their glorious achievements on the sea, on land and in the air, which made a magnificent contribution to the final victory of the Allied forces.

"Wars are not won without great sacrifice. Many of these gallant lads now rest in the bosom of the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with pride of race we salute the heroic dead.

"Oh valiant hearts who to your glory came

"Through dust of conflict and through battle flame;

"Tranquil you lie your knightly virtue proved

"Your memory hallowed in the land you loved!" — S

CHINESE CLOTH
Nankien, a cotton cloth of a peculiar yellow shade, was originally manufactured in Nankien, the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with other countries.

Lt.-Gov. MacLaren

Lieutenant Governor McLaren's speech at the square:

"I feel very honored in having been invited to take part in this memorial service and pay tribute to those gallant sons of this island Province who made the supreme sacrifice in two world wars.

"I should never be forgotten by the people of this generation and those who will follow in the years to come the deep debt of gratitude they owe to these brave boys. Through their sacrifice you and I have continued to enjoy the freedom we have always known and which they were determined should not perish from the earth.

"Young, full of life and to many a mere adventure, cheerfully they went forth to face the unknown counting not the cost. They have passed on but in passing have handed down to you and to me a noble heritage. We must not fail them. We are worthy of their great sacrifice ever remembering they saved the real test of patriotism is when a man answers his country's call in her hour of danger, willing if necessary to lay down his life.

"Twice in one generation our country has been called upon to take her place alongside the other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations in defence of a common cause.

"Once more as in World War I Canada turned to her youth to fill the ranks in the fighting services and to uphold the honor and glory of the land of the maple. If there were any who doubted if young Canada would accept the challenge they were sadly mistaken. Worthy sons of a great country they answered in one clear voice:

"When duty whispers to thou must

"The youth replies I can

"And so they girded themselves with armor and went forth to war the very flower of Canada's manhood. Well may we be proud of their glorious achievements on the sea, on land and in the air, which made a magnificent contribution to the final victory of the Allied forces.

"Wars are not won without great sacrifice. Many of these gallant lads now rest in the bosom of the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with pride of race we salute the heroic dead.

"Oh valiant hearts who to your glory came

"Through dust of conflict and through battle flame;

"Tranquil you lie your knightly virtue proved

"Your memory hallowed in the land you loved!" — S

CHINESE CLOTH
Nankien, a cotton cloth of a peculiar yellow shade, was originally manufactured in Nankien, the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with other countries.

Lt.-Gov. MacLaren

Lieutenant Governor McLaren's speech at the square:

"I feel very honored in having been invited to take part in this memorial service and pay tribute to those gallant sons of this island Province who made the supreme sacrifice in two world wars.

"I should never be forgotten by the people of this generation and those who will follow in the years to come the deep debt of gratitude they owe to these brave boys. Through their sacrifice you and I have continued to enjoy the freedom we have always known and which they were determined should not perish from the earth.

"Young, full of life and to many a mere adventure, cheerfully they went forth to face the unknown counting not the cost. They have passed on but in passing have handed down to you and to me a noble heritage. We must not fail them. We are worthy of their great sacrifice ever remembering they saved the real test of patriotism is when a man answers his country's call in her hour of danger, willing if necessary to lay down his life.

"Twice in one generation our country has been called upon to take her place alongside the other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations in defence of a common cause.

"Once more as in World War I Canada turned to her youth to fill the ranks in the fighting services and to uphold the honor and glory of the land of the maple. If there were any who doubted if young Canada would accept the challenge they were sadly mistaken. Worthy sons of a great country they answered in one clear voice:

"When duty whispers to thou must

"The youth replies I can

"And so they girded themselves with armor and went forth to war the very flower of Canada's manhood. Well may we be proud of their glorious achievements on the sea, on land and in the air, which made a magnificent contribution to the final victory of the Allied forces.

"Wars are not won without great sacrifice. Many of these gallant lads now rest in the bosom of the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with pride of race we salute the heroic dead.

"Oh valiant hearts who to your glory came

"Through dust of conflict and through battle flame;

"Tranquil you lie your knightly virtue proved

"Your memory hallowed in the land you loved!" — S

CHINESE CLOTH
Nankien, a cotton cloth of a peculiar yellow shade, was originally manufactured in Nankien, the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with other countries.

Lt.-Gov. MacLaren

Lieutenant Governor McLaren's speech at the square:

"I feel very honored in having been invited to take part in this memorial service and pay tribute to those gallant sons of this island Province who made the supreme sacrifice in two world wars.

"I should never be forgotten by the people of this generation and those who will follow in the years to come the deep debt of gratitude they owe to these brave boys. Through their sacrifice you and I have continued to enjoy the freedom we have always known and which they were determined should not perish from the earth.

"Young, full of life and to many a mere adventure, cheerfully they went forth to face the unknown counting not the cost. They have passed on but in passing have handed down to you and to me a noble heritage. We must not fail them. We are worthy of their great sacrifice ever remembering they saved the real test of patriotism is when a man answers his country's call in her hour of danger, willing if necessary to lay down his life.

"Twice in one generation our country has been called upon to take her place alongside the other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations in defence of a common cause.

"Once more as in World War I Canada turned to her youth to fill the ranks in the fighting services and to uphold the honor and glory of the land of the maple. If there were any who doubted if young Canada would accept the challenge they were sadly mistaken. Worthy sons of a great country they answered in one clear voice:

"When duty whispers to thou must

"The youth replies I can

"And so they girded themselves with armor and went forth to war the very flower of Canada's manhood. Well may we be proud of their glorious achievements on the sea, on land and in the air, which made a magnificent contribution to the final victory of the Allied forces.

"Wars are not won without great sacrifice. Many of these gallant lads now rest in the bosom of the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with pride of race we salute the heroic dead.

"Oh valiant hearts who to your glory came

"Through dust of conflict and through battle flame;

"Tranquil you lie your knightly virtue proved

"Your memory hallowed in the land you loved!" — S

CHINESE CLOTH
Nankien, a cotton cloth of a peculiar yellow shade, was originally manufactured in Nankien, the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with other countries.

Lt.-Gov. MacLaren

Lieutenant Governor McLaren's speech at the square:

"I feel very honored in having been invited to take part in this memorial service and pay tribute to those gallant sons of this island Province who made the supreme sacrifice in two world wars.

"I should never be forgotten by the people of this generation and those who will follow in the years to come the deep debt of gratitude they owe to these brave boys. Through their sacrifice you and I have continued to enjoy the freedom we have always known and which they were determined should not perish from the earth.

"Young, full of life and to many a mere adventure, cheerfully they went forth to face the unknown counting not the cost. They have passed on but in passing have handed down to you and to me a noble heritage. We must not fail them. We are worthy of their great sacrifice ever remembering they saved the real test of patriotism is when a man answers his country's call in her hour of danger, willing if necessary to lay down his life.

"Twice in one generation our country has been called upon to take her place alongside the other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations in defence of a common cause.

"Once more as in World War I Canada turned to her youth to fill the ranks in the fighting services and to uphold the honor and glory of the land of the maple. If there were any who doubted if young Canada would accept the challenge they were sadly mistaken. Worthy sons of a great country they answered in one clear voice:

"When duty whispers to thou must

"The youth replies I can

"And so they girded themselves with armor and went forth to war the very flower of Canada's manhood. Well may we be proud of their glorious achievements on the sea, on land and in the air, which made a magnificent contribution to the final victory of the Allied forces.

"Wars are not won without great sacrifice. Many of these gallant lads now rest in the bosom of the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with pride of race we salute the heroic dead.

"Oh valiant hearts who to your glory came

"Through dust of conflict and through battle flame;

"Tranquil you lie your knightly virtue proved

"Your memory hallowed in the land you loved!" — S

CHINESE CLOTH
Nankien, a cotton cloth of a peculiar yellow shade, was originally manufactured in Nankien, the deep or in some corner of a foreign field. Reverently and with other countries.

Lt.-Gov. MacLaren

Lieutenant Governor McLaren's speech at the square:

"I feel very honored in having been invited to take part in this memorial service and pay tribute to those gallant sons of this island Province who made the supreme sacrifice in two world wars.

"I should never be forgotten by the people of this generation and those who will follow in the years to come the deep debt of gratitude they owe to these brave boys. Through their sacrifice you and I have continued to enjoy the freedom we have always known and which they were determined should not perish from the earth.

"Young, full of life and to many a mere adventure, cheerfully they went forth to face the unknown counting not the cost. They have passed on but in passing have handed down to you and to me a noble heritage. We must not fail them. We are worthy of their great sacrifice ever remembering they saved the real test of patriotism is when a man answers his country's call in her hour of danger, willing if necessary to lay down his life.

"Twice in one generation our country has been called upon to take her place alongside the other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations in defence of a common cause.