Two firemen were injured, one seriously. He was Albert J. Perrody, who fell to the sidewalk from the top of a 65 foot extension ladder, suffering a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Fireman Joseph T. Carroll, standing at the 35 foot rung of the ladder, the top of which was obscured by billowing smoke, also fell when the release of Perrody's weight caused the apparatus to sway.

Sir Robert Borden Reviews Early War Days In Address To Red Chevron Club At Ottawa.

OTTAWA, April 22. (By the Canadian Press)—If the League of Nations was not completely successful in its handling of the far eastern embroglio, at least it did not wholly fail, Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Borden, Canada's war time premier, told the Red Chevron Club here tonight. This was the occasion of their annual dinner, held on the anniversary of the opening day of the second battle of Ypres, 1915.

"I venture to believe that the outcome would have been infinitely more serious except for the existence of the League and the efforts it put forth," Sir Robert added. Proposing a toast to the "first 30,000" the former Prime Minister

Steady Increase In Can. Exports

Dominion's Improving Economic Condition Revealed During The Past Week.

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, April 22.—A steady increase in Canada's exports, particularly in wheat, flour and planks and boards, in the first three months of the year, together with greatly increased production of automobiles and the primary industries of iron and steel are a few of the favorable factors in the Dominion's improving economic condition, revealed in Government figures issued during the past week.

The increasing exports of Canadian cattle to the British market, where they are fetching top prices and the increased volume of building permits issued for construction work in Canadian cities also indicate a favorable upward trend in the Dominion's activities.

U.S. TARIFF MEASURES UNDER FIRE

New York Port Commissioner Charges Smoot-Hawley Tariff Responsible For Crippling Country's Foreign Trade And Commerce.

(Canadian Press)
NEW YORK, April 22.—A general attack against the tariff barriers erected by this country was made at the annual dinner here of the United States Council of Importers and Traders.

Howard S. Cullman, commissioner of the port of New York, led the onslaught when he charged the Smoot-Hawley tariff was mainly responsible for the crippling of this country's foreign trade and commerce.

"We are reaping the fruit of our own folly in the retaliatory tariff measures which other nations are rapidly setting up against our products," he said.

Senator Alban W. Barkley, of Kentucky, said the present American tariff, and the barriers which

McDougald And Haydon Scathingly Condemned By Senate Committee

Evidence Of Liberal Senators' Participation In Beauharnois Transaction Revealed In Still Stronger Light By Senate Probe. Debate On Report Opens Wednesday.

OTTAWA, April 22.—(By the Canadian Press)—Strong condemnation of the activities of Senators Wilfred Laurier McDougald and Andrew Haydon, with a temperate rebuke of Senator Donat Raymond, featured the report, tabled in the Senate this afternoon, of the committee which, under the chairmanship of Hon. C. E. Tanner, investigated Beauharnois in its relation to these three members of the Upper House.

The severity of the strictures on Dr. McDougald exceeds even the stern reproval administered to the Senator last year in the House of Commons committee report. (This latter document found it difficult for the committee to understand how the Senator could "allow his private interest to so interfere with his public duty that he found it necessary, speaking from his place in the Senate, to be "ambiguous and incorrect".

The Senate committee's report goes farther. It declares that "the conclusions therein set up are amply justified by the evidence that Senator McDougald's actions were not fitting or consistent with his duties and standing as a Senator."

Language of a similar nature is employed in castigating Senator Haydon. Of Senator Raymond the criticism is milder, but fault is found with him for accepting campaign funds from a company which was "dependent vitally on Government franchises or concessions" particularly when the Government was one of which the Senator was a prominent supporter.

The Senate committee's report is not concurred in by the four Liberal members of the committee—Rt. Hon. George P. Graham, Hon. C. W. Robinson, Hon. A. B. Copp and Hon. F. L. Bieque. This minority today issued a statement declaring the findings of the majority "not warranted by the evidence adduced." When the formality of tabling the report was concluded in

U.S. Export Trade Hard Hit By The British Tariff

(Canadian Press)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Approximately $98,000,000 of United States exports to Great Britain are affected by the new tariff duties just announced at London.

Tariff experts of the United States Department of Commerce, announcing that figure today said however, the exact total could not be determined until the British schedule is received from William L. Cooper, commercial attache of the London Embassy.

Cooper cabled the Department today that the new rates ranged from 15 to 33 1-3 percent with 20 percent a predominate assessment.

"Of the total net British imports from the United States amounting in 1930 to $700,000,000" said a statement from the Department, "it had earlier been estimated that about two percent had come under the 50 percent duties of the abnormal importation act and about 45 percent had been transferred from the free list to 10 percent under the general tariff."

MYSTERY OF MISSING FYLES IS SOLVED

Complete Record Of Transactions With Ontario Hydro Commission Comes To Light.

(Canadian Press)
TORONTO, April 22.—"The mystery of the missing fyles," a problem which aroused wide attention during the session of the Ontario Legislature, was solved today. The fyles, a complete record of transactions with the Ontario Hydro Commission, in which John Aird, Jr., was concerned, were missed when Mr. Aird moved from an office building, and were later offered to Sir John Aird, Premier George S. Henry; Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney General, and opposition leaders.

Before the royal commission investigating hydro affairs today, a dapper young Torontonian told of having phoned Sir John Aird, under an assumed name, and offering him the fyles. Later his father entered the witness box and repeated many of the details of the circuitous path by which the papers were finally given to an official
