The Lone Ace

The East Royalty players presented the "Lone Ace" for the last two engagements at North Wiltshire Hall last Thursday and Clyde River on Friday evening. At both places the play and the players were kindly received by large audiences. It is pleasing to note the many improvements that are being made in the Rural halls throughout the province. Larger stage space, new scenery and clean tidy dressing rooms with stage door entrances have been provided. In many sections electric border and foot lights have been installed. Planes have also taken the place of many old time organs. The community spirit seems to be spreading throughout and the Women's Institutes in many sections are to be congratulated on improved conditions. Hall owners and hall committees are also realizing that it is impossible to produce good plays and entertainment in dark dingy halls without the proper facilities. East Royalty talent have produced good plays in the past. The comedy "The Lone Ace" ranks among the best. The entire cast, the Women's Institute, and all the kind friends who helped out in various ways are to be congratulated.

SURPRISE PRESENTATION—A pleasant surprise awaited Mr. R. E. Mutch, president of Roops Limited, when he was called Saturday evening for an emergency meeting of the directors. On arrival at the office he found his business colleagues Messrs. T. W. L. Prowse, R. E. Spilliet, H. J. Phillips, J. R. Munn, and J. M. Rop awaiting him. On motion of Mr. Prowse, Mr. Munn took the chair. Mr. Mutch, still wondering what it was all about, was then presented with an address expressive of the high appreciation of the directors of his efforts towards making the company's business a success. The address was accompanied by the presentation of a magnificent Greener 10-gauge gun, specially made in England. Mr. Mutch, who is an enthusiastic sportsman, was deeply touched by this remarkable tribute and replied feelingly, stating that he considered the company's success was due largely to Mr. Rop and the efficient staff under him. The gun presented to Mr. Mutch is believed to be the finest of its kind in the Province, and the pleasure of possessing such a firearm, coupled with the manner of its presentation, will be a source of lasting satisfaction to its owner.

ARTISTIC DISPLAY—The annual art and fancy work exhibit by the pupils of Rochford Square School is being held over the weekend, having opened Saturday afternoon. Many parents and interested friends have called to see the exceptionally fine display which includes lovely works of art and clever fancy-work, the painstaking efforts of carefully trained and nimble fingers. Each grade had an exhibit in drawing in addition to the fancy work as follows: Grade II, handkerchiefs; Grade III, trapezoids; Grade IV, initialed embroidered pillow slips; Grade V, fancy aprons; Grade VI, knitted goods and luncheon sets; Grade VII, hemstitched and embroidered pillow cases; Grade VIII, night dresses and runners; Grade IX and X, altar linen, embroidered and hemstitched. IN TRAINING—Wednesday night the Signal Company which has been drilling regularly two nights a week at the local headquarters, will be inspected by Brigadier General Constantine of Halifax, district officer commanding M. Conrad, officer commanding; Capt. W. A. Smith, W. H. Worth, D. N. Bell, Major and Quartermaster R. C. Chandler, Lts. C. S. Chandler, C. Pickard, and L. F. MacDonnell. The training undergone is most interesting and instructive, and at practice one may watch the group at the transmitting station at the Fort, Victoria Park, receive a message by flag from the sending station at Southport wharf, relay it to another station situated at Messervy's Point who in turn relay the message, exactly as it was sent, to a receiving terminal at North River Bridge. After it becomes too dark for flags to be seen lamps are used.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

There was a good attendance at the morning service and the Sunday School roll showed 247 present. Preparations are under way to send as large a delegation as possible to the Boys Camp at Canoe Cove which starts on July 8th. The camp is under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the Maritime Religious Educational Committee. A splendid opportunity for an enjoyable and profitable outing.

Rev. Ross Flemington, M. A., Principal of Mt. Allison Academy delivered very helpful sermons at both services. In the morning his Scripture passages were Matt. 22-34 to 40 and I Cor. 13-4 to 8 selecting as his text the words "Thou shalt love" or as the Moffat translation reads "Thou must love." There is no principle or ideal that shines forth so brilliantly both in the old and new testament as love. It is the most important thing in life. It is the foundation upon which our civilization must be built if it is to endure. The hymns were suitably selected and the congregational singing was an attractive feature of the service. The solo by Miss Frances Wood was delightfully rendered and greatly appreciated. Miss Wood sang Gounod's "Entreat me not to Leave Thee."

In the evening, Rev. Mr. Flemington read as the lesson, Matt. 6-5 to 13 and spoke from the words "Lord, teach me to pray" Jesus says, Behold I stand at the door and knock. Prayer is the opening of the door of our hearts so that God may come in. If we open our minds and hearts to let the spirit of God enter it will revolutionize our lives. The Soloist at night was Mrs. L. Warren "Summer Suns are glowing", Mrs. Warren is a valued member of our choir and is always heard with pleasure.

The last Sunday in June has passed. Bliss Carman wrote: "It seems such a maladjustment of time, when there are twelve months in the year, only to have one June."

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH Three months ago certificates were given to children attending the morning worship in St. Paul's Church. Yesterday stars were added to these certificates, showing progress made. Quite a large number received gold stars, indicating perfect attendance during the three months.

The preacher at the morning service was the Rev. Dr. Haslam, Principal of Emmanuel College, Saskatoon. He said it was a pleasure to be present on this particular morning, and he liked very much the idea of encouraging the children to come to Church. He said one wonders sometimes just what a child's idea is in coming to Church, and he would like to put two questions before the children. They were asked by Paul, now known to us as St. Paul and the writer of so many great letters. The first "Who art thou, Lord?" he would like the children to ask and seek an answer to, when they come to Church. Christ is with us as we worship and He is the all important Person in our lives. We need to find out more about Him and then can ask the second question: "Lord, what will Thou have me to do," and be ready to follow His lead, and do whatever He would have us do.

In the evening, the Rector took as his text "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also," from that wonderful passage of scripture we call "The sermon on the mount." Christ does not suggest that it is wrong to make investments, but unless we possess our possessions, they will soon possess us. We must keep the mastery of things entrusted to us. God has endowed us all with one or more talents and some day we shall be required to give an account. If we have been drifting along it is time we started to invest in things spiritual, to have a purpose in life. None are too old or too young to start. Love, justice, purity, unselfishness and service are some of the things we might well invest in, for it is better to invest in things that bring worth while results, than in things that will perish.

During the offertory, a solo was pleasingly rendered by Mr. Percy Williams.
