FIRST STORY OF AMERICA'S FIGHTING SUBMARINERS, TECHNICOLOR HIT PACKS THRLLS AND ADVENTURE!

Out of the Atlanic, graveyard of a thousand ships, and one of the most fiercely fought-for areas in the present war, comes "Crash Dive."

The first picture of underseas fighting to be produced since America entered the war, the film is the thrill-packed story of the fighting men who in their "pig boats" are wreaking havoc and destruction on the enemy.

Starred in the film is Tyrone Power, in his farewell performance as a civilian. 20th Century-Fox has spared no expense in bringing all the thrills, adventure and excitement of life aboard the sub to the screen in Technicolor. The film is slated to open today at the Prince Edward Theatre.

Out of a sea aflame with danger, Power, as a junior officer aboard a sub, leads his men on a bold commando raid. Again they face death aboard the depth-bombed steel fish. Operting from the great naval submarine base at New London, Conn., where much of the picture was made, these men strike ceaselessly at the enemy. They live up to their credo, as expressed by one of the men:

" . . . And with terror and flame we shall hit the enemy where it hurts most . . . until he doesn't know his bow from his stern!"

There is time, nevertheless, for those precious, stolen moments of love. And in this dynamic film, Anne Baxter plays opposite the dashing Power. Dana Andrews, who with Miss Baxter, heads the featured cast, is shown as the commander of the submarine — a two-fisted, hard-fighting sea dog who has worked his way up from the ranks.

ROSS—COLES. — Trinity United Church Parsonage, Charlottetown, was the scene of a quiet wedding on the morning of August 25th, when Mary Harriet Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ross, Wheatley River, became the bride of John Russell Coles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Coles, North Milton. The bride was becomingly dressed in a two piece suit of pastel blue crepe with navy accessories, and wore a corsage of pink dream roses. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Coles, sister of the groom, who also wore a dress of blue crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. The groomsman was Mr. John Ross, brother of the bride. Following the ceremony the bridal party had dinner at "Milton's Old Spain" and later Mr. and Mrs. Coles left on the Prince-Nova for a honeymoon trip to Cape Breton. For travelling the bride wore a wool crepe dress and coat of British navy with hat and shoes to match. A host of friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Coles many years of happy wedded life.—(Patriot please copy.)

HAMPTON W. M. S. — The monthly meeting of the Hampton W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. George Villett, DeSable, on Monday evening with a good attendance. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. MacFarlane. Following the devotional period, the new study book "For All of Life" was introduced by Mrs. Vessey. Plans were made for the Autumn Thank offering to be held in the church on Sunday evening, September 19th. Also plans were discussed for holding a supper later in the fall. At the close of the meeting a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

A WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.— Rev. E. S. and Mrs. Weeks, Sackville, arrived Saturday to attend the 40th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. Weeks' twin brother at Bedeque on Saturday evening. They will return on Monday or Tuesday.

LACOURSIERE — SHIELDS.—A pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. H. E. Williams, Halifax, aunt of the bride, when Rev. E. D. Murray united in marriage, Miss Gloria Mabel Shields, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Shields, 115 Beech Street, and Petty Officer Jacques Emil LaCoursiere, R. C. N., son of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. LaCoursiere, Montreal, formerly of Georgetown, P. E. I. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length gown of ice blue sheer over blue satin, with a wreath of blush pink roses on her head and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. Her only jewellery was a single strand of pearls. Audrey Joudrey, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore delphinium blue silk crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The best man was Signalman Walter Rowe, R.C.N.V.R. Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The rooms were decorated with summer flowers and white streamers and the bride's table was centred with a three tier wedding cake. Later the happy couple left for Prince Edward Island on a honeymoon trip. For travelling, the bride wore a cocoa brown camel hair coat over a dusty rose wool suit with cocoa brown accessories.

PRESENTATION AT WINSLOE NORTH.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Younker was the scene of a pleasant gathering on Friday evening, September 10th when a post-nuptial presentation was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lawson McKinnon (nee Miss Helen Fall) who had recently been married. The rooms were tastefully decorated with a profusion of fall flowers. Prettily decorated seats of honor were placed in the living room for the bride and groom who were escorted down stairs by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Noseworthy. Mr. Leith Carter then came forward and read an address of good wishes and congratulations and extended a cordial welcome to the bride, while Mr. Layton Smith presented them with a substantial purse from Winsloe and vicinity. Lawson on behalf of his bride and himself thanked all for their kindness. After singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and giving the couple a hearty bounce, cards and dancing were then enjoyed until a late hour. Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by a number of the young ladies. Music for the evening was furnished by Messrs. Percy Groom and Emmett Hughes.—(Patriot please copy.)

Preston Is Fast Worker In Film Of Chinese Front

There's no shilly-shallying about love in Paramount's "Night Plane From Chungking," the romantic adventure thriller of the Chinese war front due to make a three-point landing to-day at the Capitol Theatre.

Robert Preston has the top role of his career as an American flyer fighting with the forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek. Before the Japs pulled their sneak "incident" at Shanghai and touched off the powder train for the global war, Preston, as Nick Stanton, was an archaeologist studying lost temples and things in the remote interior. Now, as Capt. Nick Stanton, he's in command of a secret airport near the bomb-scarred, truck-clogged Assam Road that runs from Chungking to India. He hasn't seen a white woman for six years.

In the picture Preston's co-star, Ellen Drew, is a pretty American Red Cross nurse who's a passenger aboard an India-bound bus. The bus is bombed by the Japs, Chinese soldiers are killed and Ellen finds herself at the secret airport. Preston takes one look at her and says: "May I kiss you?"

Ellen says "yes." Bob does. "Night Plane From Chungking" is off to a flying start.

...You'll get more wear!

It's not only a question of economy to make your clothes last as long as possible—it's a matter of necessity, just as it is with your car, tires, electrical equipment and other commodities. It is also our patriotic duty as good citizens to make everything we own last longer—and that definitely includes clothing.

As makers of good clothes for men and women for over three decades, whose main task today is the production of uniforms for our fighting men, we offer these reminders of how to make your clothes give you longer and better service:

1. REST YOUR CLOTHES
Just as you need relaxation, so do your clothes. Alternate your suits. Give the wool a chance to spring back into shape.
2. BRUSH YOUR SUITS DAILY
You brush your teeth every day—do as much for your clothes. They'll appreciate it.
3. HANG YOUR SUITS UP CAREFULLY
Give them breathing space in your closet, so they won't crush. Use hangers that conform to the lines of the coat. Don't throw your clothes around the room—hang them up where they belong.
4. CLEAN WHEN NECESSARY
Choose a reliable cleaner who knows his business.
5. GUARD AGAINST MOTHS
An ounce of moth prevention is worth many dollars in the longer life of your clothes.
6. CHECK FOR RIPS AND TEARS
"A stitch in time" may save greater damage or a whole suit.

P.S. Naturally, your clothes must be good clothes to begin with—the kind of quality clothing Tip Top Tailors has been famous for since 1910.

The "Ground-Nut" That Becomes Butter

THAT most valuable protein plant, the peanut, has the peculiar habit of burying its seed pods into the earth to ripen, instead of raising them in the air. To do this the flower-stalk, holding the young pods, gradually curves downward after the flower has passed away and finally penetrates the soil where the pods ripen. Hence their other name of "ground-nuts".

Then, when processed by the exclusive Schwartz method, the ground-nut becomes a Peanut Butter of delicious, mellow smoothness. You will find it best for cookies, for sandwiches, and as a butter-saving spread for children's lunches. They love it and it's good for them. Their elders, too, welcome Schwartz Peanut Butter as a nourishing and economical wartime food.

Say Schwartz—and be sure!
