

Charlottetown Exhibition and Horse Races, September 22nd to 25th

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1925

EXHIBITION NEXT

Now that the politicians have had their say and got away with it the next big item on the entertainment programme is the big Exhibition at Charlottetown open to the whole Dominion.

The stage is all set for a full four days show with today to get ready for it and Saturday to rest. Preparations such as have never before been made for an exhibition in this province have been completed and everything will be ready for an early start tomorrow.

To avoid the necessity of returning home or to the hotels for meals the Ladies' Aid of the Prince Edward Island Hospital will serve lunches each day and will provide a candy table and have fancy articles for sale.

A SECOND ELECTION?

Premier King announced during the present campaign that if he is not given a sufficient majority over all in the next parliament he will ask His Excellency the Governor General for a second dissolution and another general election.

If Mr. Mackenzie King is going to have a say with regard to this, the chances are good for a second dissolution. He has a majority of one now. Liberals admit that they are going to lose some in the Maritime Provinces and this is certain.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The King government is doomed. The universal feeling throughout Canada is that the King government must go.

Mr. Forke, leader of the Progressives declared the other day that absorption of the Progressives by the Liberal party would delay in definitely the important reforms which have been the aim of the Progressive party.

The Montreal Star, whose editorial opinions are usually based on safety first principles has turned dead against the Mackenzie King government.

Equality of tariff, whether high or low, between neighbours is the only measure of fairness. Why should the United States tariff against Canadian products be from two to three times higher than the Canadian tariff against United States products?

IN THE MARITIMES

The Liberal argument in the Maritimes is that protection—always dubbed "high" protection—is not only of no use but is a detriment to the Maritimes. What is the idea? Do they mean to say that we should have one tariff policy for the Maritime and another for Ontario and Quebec?

They admit that the National Policy built up the Central provinces and made them industrially wealthy but they shed crocodile tears over the fact that we must buy our goods from these provinces. And why progress since the war, Canada is out of step.

Notes By The Way

Premier King has come and gone—hurriedly, lest he might be expected to visit Summerside and Prince County. Once when he sadly needed a seat Prince extended to him a princely hospitality.

Prominent Liberals do not conceal their indignation when speaking of the Premier's recent dispensation of patronage and some of them express their feelings in unparliamentary, if not unprintable language.

The Premier knows now what some of his former supporters in Prince Edward Island and the other Maritimes think of him. There were three Liberal Premiers to meet him when he last visited the Far East.

As he speeds westward again Premier King may reflect upon this and upon other things. There's the contrast between his Maritime Ministers and those of the Laurier days.

As he fares westward Premier King may muse upon some things that have befallen the colleagues he first called to his Cabinet in 1921 and some of the others he has added since.

Fielding and Gouin, either of whom towered above himself in ability and influence, now down and out.

McMurray out and disqualified on account of Home Bank indebtedness.

McGovern of Ottawa, a bright and shining light, but declining to face the voters again.

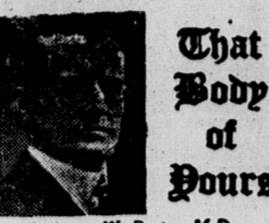

Seven colleagues thus disposed of, what of the others? Flying hither in breathless panic to seek new constituencies!

Hon. E. M. Macdonald, Minister of Militia and political enemy of Prince Edward Island has fled from Metou to Antigonish.

Hon. George Graham turns his back upon his old seat in Brookville asks shelter in South Essex.

Hon. James Murdoch, Minister of Labor, but whom organized labor lions and would not nominate again in Kent, Ontario, has fled to almost certain defeat in Hyde Park, Toronto.

Never before in Canadian history was there such a panic flight of Cabinet Ministers only half of which is told above. Here are more Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, who sounded the "death-knell of protection" has heard his own political knell in Regina, and has fled to Melville.

By James W. Burton, M.D.

A NEW HEALTH WEAPON

During the Flu epidemic there were a great many cases of broncho pneumonia. In fact the deaths were really due to the broncho pneumonia, in pneumonia, in a majority of cases.

One of the methods of treatment was the administration of oxygen, and the feelings of the patient when the oxygen tank was rolled into the room must have been almost terrifying.

Instead of rolling up the tank to the patient's side and holding the end of the tube to his mouth and nose a little tent is made of muslin held up by two halves of a barrel hoop crossed and tied together.

Whenever, therefore, a patient begins to show signs of lack of oxygen in his blood, his finger nails lose their pink color and turn dark, the nurse immediately switches on the oxygen. It flows in a regular graded manner, and is kept up until the nails turn pink again.

We are all hoping that there will be no more Flu epidemics. We have much to learn yet about the causation of Flu.

However, with the safeguarding of the heart right from the onset of the attack, and the use of oxygen where the blood is deficient, this method is likely to be a more successful fight against it than heretofore.

Daily Selections FOR Guardian Readers

September 21, 1925 ALWAYS PROTECTED:—When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee, and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee; when thou walkest, through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee, Isaiah 43:2.

PRAYER:—We are glad, Lord that thou dost keep us dear unto thyself as the apple of Thine eye.

COUNTRY-BORN

They dread the darkness who have never known A world outside the flare of man-made light.

Who have not learned to read the chart of night And walk unflinching by the stars alone;

And they distrust the silence who have grown Where human sound, attesting human might.

So weaves its spell, their need and their delight Is in the city's ceaseless undertone.

But to my heart the darkness is a friend, I would not spare—denied, must sorely miss;

The stillness is a mantle to be worn With deep contentment at the long day's end.

How shall I voice my gratitude for this My heritage, that I was country-born!

—Molly Anderson Haley.

deep and the Grand Old Conservative party emerged victorious and triumphant. Honest Alexander MacKenzie, the Liberal leader of that time, confidently predicted victory in 1878, but went down to crushing defeat. The same thing happened to Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1911. He was sure of victory, but the people decided otherwise. Now the flowing tide is with Arthur Meighen and the Conservative party, sweeping on to victory.

COLLEGE "BREAD." "Papa," said a small boy, "what do people mean by college bread? Is it different from any other kind of bread?" "My son," replied the father, who was annoyed by his elder boy having failed in his examinations, "it's a four years' loaf."

The Public Forum

This column is open for the discussion by correspondents of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

THE JUDGE'S STAND

Sir—Now that the Exhibition race are to take place I would like to ask the management to please exclude from the Judges' Stand every one except those who have authority to be in it. The National Trotting Association rule on the subject is as follows: "None but judges of the course, the secretary, starter and three timers be allowed in the Judge's Stand during the pendency of a heat. Any Association convicted of violating this rule shall forfeit any sum not to exceed $100.00."

ROAD BROWS

Sir—We all note the state of the weather and the effect it has on the roads. The excessive rain on Sunday night played havoc with them. I drove 14 miles and do not think I ever saw the roads in a worse condition this season. The billy roads with long grades are practically impassable and make a place from the centre to carry the water to the trenches. If he cannot do it himself he surely can find some one in his district that will be able to do so and save thousands of dollars to the public besides providing a better road.

GUERNSEYS VS. HOLSTEINS.

Sir—What does it mean when a man casts aside all semblance of argument and reverts to personalities and vague insinuations, as has been the case with our mutual friend, Mr. J. Walter Jones? I cannot, like Mr. Jones, put it down to "the question" caused by too much golden cream, but rather to lack of argument, for he admits in the opening words of his reply, if it can be termed as such, that he has been "convinced" against his will.

Before it was "the freight movement" now it is "the finger movement" on the famous two color ribbon typewriter, which is worrying Walter, and he makes the fervent plea: "I wish I could sell my milk and drink it too." Like looking over his shoulder at the new moon, this is an idle wish, for it is impossible for any one to sell his milk and drink it too. Had he said, "I wish I could sell my milk and then drink it, or I wish I could sell my milk and afterwards drink it, it would have had the right kind of milk to offer the people where he gets his meals when in Town, but how can he expect to sell milk after what he has written of late?"

In his last letter he said: "3.5 per cent. is standard milk." and "an excess of fat is more than ter he said: "An excess of fat is decidedly injurious" and in the separate official tests recently the Bunbury herd surpassed a 4 per cent. test."

If Mr. Jones is to be taken seriously and at his word, or if he honestly believes what he writes, it is no wonder the people are afraid to buy it and Mr. Jones is afraid to drink it, both in mortal fear of the "poisonous fat" because the milk from the Bunbury herd is "decidedly injurious" due to an "excess of fat."

He next says: "I forget the name used just previous to the last Federal Election." Evidently the letters were not "too ancient" for him to remember, at any rate they were in connection with some very misleading statements made by Mr. Jones, to the effect that trade had no relationship to exchange, they were written to give these people the truth, the same as these are, and if they were in any way responsible for the loss of his deposit, I am very sorry to hear of it. They say: "He will be at it again this election. Sir, if you do not stop him."

Mr. Jones has tried nearly everything, teaching, authorship, raising fat tailed sheep, fur farming, Holstein breeding and not Walter Jones, "all the truth and shame lies, still he is not satisfied and the Devil," insinuations are only one to sell his milk and drink it too. Had he said, "I wish I could sell my milk and then drink it, or I wish I could sell my milk and afterwards drink it, it would have had the right kind of milk to offer the people where he gets his meals when in Town, but how can he expect to sell milk after what he has written of late?"

That Body of Ours

In his last letter he said: "3.5 per cent. is standard milk." and "an excess of fat is more than ter he said: "An excess of fat is decidedly injurious" and in the separate official tests recently the Bunbury herd surpassed a 4 per cent. test."

If Mr. Jones is to be taken seriously and at his word, or if he honestly believes what he writes, it is no wonder the people are afraid to buy it and Mr. Jones is afraid to drink it, both in mortal fear of the "poisonous fat" because the milk from the Bunbury herd is "decidedly injurious" due to an "excess of fat."

He next says: "I forget the name used just previous to the last Federal Election." Evidently the letters were not "too ancient" for him to remember, at any rate they were in connection with some very misleading statements made by Mr. Jones, to the effect that trade had no relationship to exchange, they were written to give these people the truth, the same as these are, and if they were in any way responsible for the loss of his deposit, I am very sorry to hear of it. They say: "He will be at it again this election. Sir, if you do not stop him."

Mr. Jones has tried nearly everything, teaching, authorship, raising fat tailed sheep, fur farming, Holstein breeding and not Walter Jones, "all the truth and shame lies, still he is not satisfied and the Devil," insinuations are only is one of the most important you have to solve every year. On it depends your comfort and convenience during the cold winter weather. Why not let us help you solve it? Drop us a card, or call on the telephone, and we will gladly help you with your coal problem.

The Coal Question

It was a heifer I bought from Mr. Jones, not a cow, and this is the first I ever heard she was not his, and it puts me in mind of the time Jeff sold Mutt the radio which was no good, when Mutt

Suppose they do get one third more cream from twice as much milk, the man who buys his milk is out at the end of the year buying low testing milk, and the farmer who sells it is no further ahead for the extra proceeds are labor and feed bills.

Mr. Jones next attempts an insinuation when he says: "The only instance of fancy prices on P. E. I. the Captain and I know about." Really Mr. Jones has not confided the secret with me, and that is hardly fair. I think he should raise his head, and not Walter Jones, "all the truth and shame lies, still he is not satisfied and the Devil," insinuations are only

Next he says: "The cow the Captain bought was not from my herd, though I've sold some poor ones." He says: "It is a poor argument to use to a farmer the Guernsey milk is high in fat, and small in quantity, fancy price cannot be obtained."

A short memory is a terrible handicap in an argument, for only the other day he said: "Those Guernsey breeders who wholesale their 5 per cent. milk in the city at 10 cents a quart, would do as well to sell it to a cheese factory."

It is true for at factories the percentage of fat, and farmers should be more interested in the economical production of butter fat than anything else, and Mr. Jones is very busy on the amount of extra feed it takes to get the extra milk, and shows no regard whatever for the poor fellow who has to buy his milk.

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN ELECTION CONTEST Closes Thursday, October 22nd, 1925 at 8 P.M. TEN HUNDRED DOLLARS IN PRIZES

How many votes will be polled in this Province in the coming General Federal Election? THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN is offering Ten Hundred Dollars in cash for the best estimates. The Contest is not political propaganda, and there can be no juggling of figures as the correct returns will be furnished by the Government Statistician, and will be public property.

A TOTAL OF TEN HUNDRED DOLLARS To THE GUARDIAN subscriber who sends the correct estimate—the sum of Five Hundred Dollars $ 500.00 To THE GUARDIAN subscriber who sends the nearest to correct estimate—the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars $ 250.00 To THE GUARDIAN subscriber who sends the second nearest to correct estimate—the sum of One Hundred Dollars $ 100.00 To THE GUARDIAN subscriber who sends the third nearest to correct estimate—the sum of Fifty Dollars $ 50.00

ELECTION STATISTICS

Population of P. E. I. 88,615 Number of People Voting, 1921 52,444

How to Make Estimates

The subscription price of THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN is Five Dollars a Year in the City and $4.00 by mail on the Island.

A full year's subscription paid direct to the Office will entitle the subscriber to make one estimate in the GUARDIAN'S Election Contest.

Two subscriptions or two years' subscriptions will entitle the subscriber to make three estimates. Three subscriptions will entitle him to five estimates. The decision of the Editor is Final. All estimates must accompany the subscription, and no changes will be allowed afterwards.

ELECTION CONTEST COUPON

Please send the Charlottetown Guardian to the after mentioned for which I enclose $

NAME ADDRESS [Prov. New or old] Estimate

SIGNED ADDRESS The Decision of the Editor in the Election Contest Shall be Final for cowards and the like. Next he says: "The cow the Captain bought was not from my herd, though I've sold some poor ones." It was a heifer I bought from Mr. Jones, not a cow, and this is the first I ever heard she was not his, and it puts me in mind of the time Jeff sold Mutt the radio which was no good, when Mutt

The Coal Question is one of the most important you have to solve every year. On it depends your comfort and convenience during the cold winter weather. Why not let us help you solve it? Drop us a card, or call on the telephone, and we will gladly help you with your coal problem. A. Pickard & Co. Phone 240

Vote for MacKinnon and Messervey and Prosperity