Navy And Legion Teams In Important Encounter Tonight

With Legion aiming for first place in the league standing and Navy shooting to clinch the third and final playoff slot, this encounter at the Forum tonight in a City League encounter and before the first; is completed fans are expected to witness one of the toughest games of the league schedule. Despite the fact that "Tars" have been able to chalk up only a win and tie for this season, they are being given the two top teams, Saints and Legion, a playoff opportunity and tonight with a play-off spot facing them the Legionaries prove tough nuts for the Legionaries to crack.

The game will get underway at 8:30 sharp. Once again the fans are reminded of the "no smoking" rule and are asked for the same whole-hearted co-operation as they have been giving in the past.

Probable lineups:
 Legion: Goal, Cudmore; defence, P. McDonald, Carmichael, Andrews; forwards, Drillon, Perry, Strain, Carter, Shepherd, Dowling, McIntyre, Richards.
 Navy: Goal, Davis; defence, Hennessy, K. Carmichael, Stewart, Josey; forwards, Higon, Bradley, Cudmore, Blanchard, Kelly, H. Jay, Flannigan, McCourt.

Canadiens Outskate Bruins For 4-3 Win

BOSTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Back in National Hockey League action in Boston for the first time in almost two months, the Montreal Canadiens rebounded out of their losing slump by outskating Boston in a 4-3 triumph tonight before a packed 13,900 crowd. By scoring twice for the victory, Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, season's top point-maker, boosted his seasons total to 28 goals.

Although the Bruins outshot the Flying Frenchmen by an apparent 2-1, the Canadiens dominated the action from start to finish.

Two of the Boston goals were scored in from 50 and more feet out by Moe Henderson and Jack Crawford, a pair of Boston defencemen. The first Boston tally was registered by Henderson, who fired a shot from the second period after Canadiens had built up a two-goal lead on well-aimed shots by Kenny Mosell, Montreal defenseman, and the third period goal made by Butch Bouchard, who polished off a Montreal breakaway rush. The Bruins bowed for the first time in their last four games, all of which have been played on Boston ice. They have clashed with Canadiens seven times, surrendering 13 out of a possible 14 points to the again high flying Frenchmen.

Saint John Beavers Defeat Crescents 8-5

HALIFAX, Jan. 22 (CP)—Saint John Beavers moved into second place in Maritime Senior Hockey League standing tonight when they defeated Halifax Crescents 8-5. The victory left Beavers with a 10-3 record and leading Moncton Hawks and broke Saint John's second-place deadlock with Truro Beavers.

A five-goal burst in the last period gave Beavers the victory. Reverted to Halifax on a special when the regular train was hours late, the Saint John team was slow in getting started but once in stride quickly wiped out the three-goal lead Halifax set up in the first half of the match.

Crescents introduced a new goal in Berry Sullivan, former Toronto St. Michael's performer, and for almost two periods he helped keep Crescents out in front. Once Saint John got going midway through the last period there was no holding the Maritime champions who came up with seven straight tallies before Crescents fired the last marker of the game.

Beavers' scoring was well divided with the veteran Steve Estabrooks leading with a pair of tallies.

Saint John's kid line of Don Whalen-Nick Nicole-Abbie Colwell came up with a pair of goals and performance and were always dangerous on the attack, each netting a marker.

Saint John's rearguard trio of big Walter Kyle, Johnny Miketyk and a Rosie MacMillan came up with a strong performance. Kyle and Miketyk each netting a goal while Rosie earned an assist on Johnny's center. Gerry Lough net the other Saint John goal.

Crescents started out hot but when they were that way they failed to get a large enough lead for the storm to come. Saint John never allowed them to recover their advantage.

Allan Sullivan, Spike Larocque, Paul Stanhope, Steve Thomas and Carl Ripley were the Halifax goal-getters.

For Ripley, who recently left the Amherst, N. S. club of the Central League, it was his first

Hockey Practice

The Rangers hockey team will hold a practice at the Forum at 10:30 this morning. The following are requested to be on hand: C. Huessis, L. MacLennan, R. Atkinson, D. Cameron, K. Taylor, F. Currie, H. Hartinger, L. Adams, C. Hine, M. Jenkins, B. Clark, B. White, K. Howatt, P. Longphillip.

JUVENILE HOCKEY

In two hockey games played at Souris Monday, Jan. 20th, Morell Juniors defeated Souris Juniors 6-5 and Morell Midgets defeated Souris Midgets 3-2.

In the juvenile game Sinnott was sensational and stopped many hard shots, and MacAdam played well and scored the hat-trick. Eldershaw played well on defense. MacKenzie and Lewis played a good game for Souris.

Close Racing Witnessed In Ice Race Meeting Yesterday Afternoon

Over a track made lightning fast by a sudden drop in the temperature, four classes of harness racing staged by the Victoria Driving Club yesterday afternoon produced the fastest, closest racing of the season with one of the classes, the Class B. Trot and Pace requiring an extra heat before a winner was decided.

Despite the near-zero temperature prevailing a large turnout of spectators were on hand to witness the afternoon's sport that saw Lucinda win the Class A. Trot, Lynn Mite, driven by Austin Tierney, come through with a surprise win in the Class B. Trot and Pace. Just Flicka being a straight heat winner in the Class C. Trot and Pace, and Bennie Shepherd's Lily Marlene providing another upset when she paced off with the Class D. Pace, final event on the card.

Particulars of this apply to Walter Lawlor's Navy team. Assured of at least a tie for the third and final playoff spot, Navy can guarantee themselves a place in the finals by a victory tonight and at the same time put a decided crimp into Legion's hopes to finish on top of the heap, so it can be easily seen that both squads will be gunning for a victory tonight.

So much for tonight's game. Looking back over Tuesday night's encounter Prince of Wales Welshmen, still with their mathematical chance of forcing a playoff for third spot with the Navy, certainly displayed their best efforts of the season in their losing battle with the Legion squad, a game that might easily have gone either way.

In all fairness and not attempting to take anything away from the Legion's victory, Welshmen missed at least a half dozen chances that, with the breaks going their way, could easily have been converted into scores. But old Lady Luck failed to smile on them. On the night's play they were every bit as good as the Drillon-coached squad but as usual the payoff comes on goals and that, when the opportunities presented themselves, was where the Legion team had the edge over the City college pucksters.

"Hope lies eternal in the human breast" is an old saying and this still applies to the Welshmen. Naturally they are hoping that Legion and Saints will both take the "Tars" into camp and by so doing give them their one slim, remaining chance of meeting the Saints in the final game of the schedule.

If that happens, it will be entirely up to the Welshmen themselves. The chips will be definitely down on that occasion and if the P.W.C. outfit, and have seen them do it before, can marshal their forces sufficiently strong to take the Kane-coached crew into camp, then fans will have the opportunity of seeing Navy and Welshmen playing off to decide the holders of third place and first playoff position.

And while still on the subject of Tuesday night's encounter it is funny how fans' opinion can change. Making his appearance in an active player role after a lapse of several games, Gordon Drillon who has been the object of a lot of criticism in his previous appearances, received a well-deserved hand from the crowd Tuesday night on his performance.

Centering one line and at other times performing in a defence position the big hockeyist added a lot of strength and steadiness to his teammates and not once during the hard-fought encounter did he even come close to taking a trip to the penalty box.

And that brings up the 16 minutes in penalties he had served in two previous appearances. Evidently that was not bit of news not only for Maritime newspapers but also for bigger papers throughout the Dominion, and commenting on it Andy Lytle of the Toronto Daily Star had the following in a recent edition:

"Gordon Drillon, as mild a man as ever put stick to hockey puck, played a few games in Charlottetown, drew sixteen minutes in penalties, was booed by the customers, and decided, it appears, to coach and not play before the rugged P. E. Islanders thereafter."

"That is testimony which could be supported by all of the vets who took part in the Leaf-Canadian tussle."

"Sylvanus Apps, who can be a gentle zephyr sitting through the opposition like blown thistledown, not infrequently finds it necessary now to elevate stick, erect elbows and generally wrangle, in a bodily sense, with human impulses that somehow cling to him and won't be brushed lightly aside or off any more."
