LOOKING AFTER THE RETURNED MEN

OTTAWA, Sept. 30.—"Do you really mean to say that the Government sent you to see how I am getting along and if I need medical help, and to teach me what I need to know on the farm? I never thought that anyone in the country had any thought about me. Your coming gives me twice the heart for my work."

This was the remark of a wife of a settler under the Soldier Settlement Board of Canada to the District Director of the Home Branch of the Board. This lady writes from British Columbia very interestingly of her activities, and quotes another woman as saying: "I never dreamed the Government did things so kind" when assured that the machinery of the Home Branch was at her disposal for the purpose of smoothing her path and making the road easier to travel. The Director of the Home Branch has several reports of this nature in which are shown the kindly interest and the sympathetic co-operation of her assistants throughout the country in bringing to the pioneer's home some of the aids that are so much needed.

In respect of twenty-nine families visited by one of the officers of the Department, she reports that the reception by the wives of settlers was in all cases most cordial. The nationality of the women interviewed falls under the following figures: Canadian 6; English 18; Scotch 2; Not stated 3.

Of the new comers from England, the District Director says: "They are a distinct asset to Canada. They are thrifty, resourceful and adaptable and they are very likely to succeed. Naturally they are homesick. One young girl was frightened by the woods with which her home was surrounded."

Arrangements were made with the nearest hospital for special rates for soldiers' wives and with the local Medical Doctor for free transportation to hospital. Instruction in the care of infants is given and information supplied which is bound to be of great help to the young mother who finds herself a great way from friends and relations.

The aid of the G. W. V. A., and the sympathy and co-operation of other organizations, such as the Red Cross, Victorian Order of Nurses and Women's Institutes have been enlisted on behalf of soldiers' wives and families. A Health Centre in one well-settled district has been established and arrangements undertaken so secure two beds, a nurse and a free clinic.

In the visits to the home, instructions were given in cooking, bread making, curing of fish and meat, canning and preserving of fruits and vegetables, sewing, laundry, poultry raising, the care of dairy utensils, and even some information was given on the rotation of crops. In almost every instance encouragement and friendly sympathy were given and the pioneers were assisted in meeting and overcoming their difficulties as far as possible.

SABIN-GORMAN NUPTIALS

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Bertha Florence Mary Gorman of Boston, second daughter of the late John Edward Gorman of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island and Mrs. Catherine Gorman, to Milton Roe Sabin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic C. M. Sabin of Oswego, New York. The ceremony was performed on June 17th in Saint Cecilia's Church, Back Bay, Boston, by Rev. Father John Fletcher, who celebrated the nuptial mass.

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin Senator P. C. Murphy of Tignish, P. E. I., who came from Ottawa to Boston to be present at the ceremony.

Preceding the bride and her cousin down the church aisle were Helen Lambert of Dorchester the ring bearer, carrying the ring in a calla-lily, and four little flower girls carrying baskets of roses and sweet peas, scattering petals in the bride's path. Miss Lillian Beatrice Gorman, a sister of the bride was bridesmaid; Mrs. P. C. Murphy was matron of honor and Miss Miriam Edythe Gorman another sister of the bride was maid of honor. Louise Lambert and Lilla Fries of Dorchester, Mass., were the train bearers. Charles William Bahr of Quincy, Mass., was best man and the ushers were Rafael Cervino, Cuban Consul and James A. Parsons of Ashmont.

The bride was gowned in white duchesse satin made with a train and a bodice of pearls and rhinestones. Her tulle veil was draped from the crown caught with a crescent flet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses, and wore a necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom.

The matron of honor wore a duchesse satin made with a train and a pearl embroidery and a pink hat trimmed with pink ostrich feathers. She also wore white satin cloak and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. The maid of honor and the bridesmaid were gowned in pink georgette over pink satin and wore floral wreath-Gainsboro hats of cream horsehair and pink tulle with blue streamers. They also carried pink roses.

The dresses of the little girls gave a rainbow effect. Rose Mary Keefe of Dorchester, wore Irish lace over pink satin. Naomi Andrews of Dorchester wore turquoise blue satin with silver lace and white lace hat with rosebuds. Althea Wright of Wollaston and Ruth Harwood of Somerville, wore similar dresses of blue organdie with pink sashes and hats to match with pink roses and streamers. The train bearers wore lacy dresses of white chiffon embroidered in silver over white satin and lace bonnets with rosebuds and streamers. They carried arm bouquets of sweet peas and pink roses. The bridegroom's mother was gowned in pearl gray satin and old lace with hat to match.

A special program of music was rendered during the mass by Miss Therese Dwyer, organist; Miss Margaret Connell, soprano, and Miss M. Burns, contralto.

Following the ceremony a reception and wedding luncheon were held at the Ritz-Carlton. The bridal party were assisted in receiving their guests by Senator and Mrs. P. C. Murphy and the bridegroom's parents, Mr. Mr. and Mrs. F. C. M. Sabin.

The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a diamond pin and cuff links. She presented her matron and maid of honor and her bridesmaid with brooches and tortoise shell combs and the flower girls and train bearers with necklaces. The bridegroom's gifts to his best man and ushers were stick pins. After a four month's trip through the States and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Sabin will make their home in Boston. The bride is a graduate of the Emerson School of Oratory and a special student in the classical dancing department of the New England Conservatory of Music. The bridegroom is a graduate of Oswego High School; Armour Institute, Chicago, Ill., and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, in the class of 1913, where he studied chemical engineering.—New York Tribune.

(The Guardian with many friends in this city, in extending hearty felicitations to Mr. and Mrs. Sabin.)
