Most infants are infested by worms, which cause great suffering, and if not promptly dealt with may cause constitutional weaknesses difficult to remedy. Miller's Worm Powder will clear the stomach and bowels of worms and will set up the system that there will be no recurrence of the trouble. And not only this, but they will repair the injuries to the organs that worms cause and restore them to soundness.

Discussion On Federal Oyster Leasing Policy

Mr. A. E. MacLean's Criticism Replied To By Messrs. J. H. Myers And W. Chester McLure, In The House Of Commons.

In the House of Commons on March 11th Hon. G. Stirling, Acting Minister of Fisheries, presented his estimates and at the same time announced that the item "Oyster culture, $10,000," he said the amount was required to cover the expenses of the administration of the leasing and experimental farming to develop and demonstrate oyster cultural methods. Investigations have proceeded so far as to enable a good lead to be given in oyster farming, which has now become well established and promises to be one of the important industries of Prince Edward Island. So far seventy-nine leases comprising nearly 344 acres have been issued, and 110 additional applications for leases are receiving attention. Ground was offered for leasing in 1931, and in 1933 a start was made in production, ninety-two barrels having been taken and sold from the several areas.

Mr. REID: "Is the reserve for oysters that was placed in the Serpentine and Nicomeki rivers three years ago still there?"
Mr. STIRLING: The reserve still exists.

Mr. STEWART (Edmonton): How many oysters do we market in Canada in a year?
Mr. STIRLING: Approximately 8,000 barrels in the previous season.

Mr. MacLEAN: Perhaps the minister could give us some more details of the work that is being carried on under this appropriation. I think he stated that seventy-nine leases were granted. Is that correct?
Mr. STIRLING: Yes.

Mr. MacLEAN: Were they all in the Richmond bay area?
Mr. STIRLING: No. The seventy-nine leases are divided over ten districts.

Mr. GARLAND (Bow River): How much are oysters worth a barrel?
Mr. MacLEAN: Can the minister give us the number of barrels taken off the government ground last season?
Mr. STIRLING: There were taken and sold from the department's reserved areas 421 7-10 barrels of marketable oysters and 233 2-5 barrels of seed oysters, the latter being sold to the local lessees.

Mr. MacLEAN: Can the minister give us the price that was obtained for the oysters that were sold off the government area, and how they were sold? Were they advertised for sale by public tender, or were tenders invited only from some interested parties?
Mr. STIRLING: They were advertised for sale by public tender, and the amounts were as follows:
Quanti—
64 9-10 barrels ..... $8.00
105 2-5 barrels ..... 5.00
251 2-5 barrels ..... 4.00
233 2-5 barrels ..... 2.00
722 cardboard cartons with spat attached ..... 0.15

Mr. MacLEAN: Could the minister give us the number of permits that were given to those who took private leases for the picking of oysters? Those oysters, I understand, were picked off the public areas, and permits were granted to the holders of leases. How many permits were granted?

NEW STORY—The Guardian's new story "Brewster's Millions," by George Barr McCutcheon, will start in a few days. Watch out for the opening chapter.

ENTERTAINED—The directors of the Rustico Rural Telephone Co. Ltd. were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Bismark Craswell, Rustico, on Saturday evening. This company has been doing business for over twenty-five years and at every annual meeting this company has shown a surplus, thus showing that depression is not a welcome guest at any of their meetings.

B. Y. P. S. MEETING—The Clyde River B. Y. P. S. met in the home of President Edward MacPhail and Mrs. MacPhail. Vice President John Murray opened the meeting with singing, followed by Rev. J. G. Wakeling offering prayer and all repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Allan MacLean, solo, "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer," was sung by Helen MacPhee. A piano solo by Mr. William Murchison was very much enjoyed by all. Rev. Mr. Wakeling read the Scripture and gave a very inspiring address dealing with the Mispah benediction. The remainder of the evening was spent in games, music and contests, after which a dainty luncheon was served which brought to a very pleasant evening to a close. Accompanist for the evening were Mrs. J. Heber MacPhail, Mr. William Murchison. Collection amounted to $5.25 which goes toward the Cullison Fund.

PARLOR SOCIAL—A very pleasant evening was spent at the beautiful and spacious home of Hon. M. W. and Mrs. Wood, Woodcrest, Fox Farm, on the evening of March 18th, when upwards of fifty members and visitors of the McDonald Women's Institute assembled to hold a social. The program, which was arranged by members of the Institute and others whose help was greatly appreciated, was excellently rendered and much enjoyed by old and young. The program included instrumental music, Mr. Preston Wood and Mrs. M. W. Wood, Cross roads; quartette, Messrs. Preston Wood, Lloyd Balderson, Vaughn Murphy, Austin Kennedy (encore); piano solo, Mrs. M. W. Wood. A radio contest was then put on which caused much merriment, first prize being won by Miss Hazel Corbett, second by Miss Buelah Farquharson. A bounteous luncheon was enjoyed by all present. While luncheon was being served, one of the visiting friends was heard to remark on the enjoyableness of this feature of the function. A sing song and God Save the King brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

TRYON DAIRYING COMPANY—The 30th annual meeting of the Tryon Dairying Company was held on Tuesday afternoon, March 5th, 1934. There was a good attendance who were well pleased with the different reports given by the management on the work of the past year. This old reliable company which was established in 1899 has done much toward building up the dairy industry in this part of the province. Its attention to breeding, feeding and cow testing work has farmers of the district have built up some fine herds of dairy cattle. This is proved by the fact that with a total of 140 patrons this creamery produced 110,060 lbs. of butter, valued at $24,302.84 with a net return to the farmers (after paying all delivery charges on cream) of $19,685.53. This is an average per patron of $140.48. The average price received for butter was 22.08 cents and the average net price paid for butterfat was 22.00 cents per pound, which is believed to be the highest price received or paid by any company limited to buttermaking on Prince Edward Island in 1934. The following were the leading patrons: Frank Muttart, $633.59; C. W. Ives, $561.81; R. W. Dixon, $498.77; Major Carruthers, $479.24; Howard Calbeck, $407.91; The directors for the ensuing year are G. H. Calbeck, H. K. Howatt, Frank McFarlane, Headley Muttart, W. P. Cameron, Fred Leard, Ray Wood. The company bought nearly $400.00 worth of feeds last year which was mostly bought by the carload and distributed to the farmers at cost. The manager, C. E. Gamble, who has been manager of this company for the past four years, has proven his ability as a buttermaker and salesman amid keen competition. He received from the meeting a unanimous vote of thanks and appreciation for the splendid showing made during the past year.

Wedded in Vancouver

Friends on the Island will be interested in the following account of the wedding of Miss Marjorie Joan Arbuckle which took place recently in Vancouver, B. C.

The bride is a niece of Hon. G. Shelton Sharp, Minister of Public Works, Charlottetown, and Mrs. George Harris of Summerside and also a niece of Mrs. L. A. Moore, Summerside.

Her father, Dr. John William Arbuckle is a native of Summerside and a brother to Mrs. Moore and her mother is the sister of Hon. G. Shelton Sharp and Mrs. Harris and belonged to East Bideford.

Single cathedral tapers lighted each stained glass window and softly illuminated the interior of St. John's Church to reveal a beautiful floral setting—a symphony in gold and white. Stately calla lilies were placed on the altar, and tall baskets of King Alfred daffodils, white and yellow hyacinths and paper white narcissi, gracefully arranged in tall standard baskets stood by the chancel rail, backed with palms and ferns, to form a fitting background for the lovely bride and her trio of pretty attendants. Such was last evening's wedding, one of the most prominent and interesting of the early spring season. It was the marriage of Marjorie Joan, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John William Arbuckle, and Mr. John Howard Montgomery Lamprey, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lamprey, two of the most popular of Vancouver's younger social circles. Just prior to 8:30 o'clock guests were ushered by Mr. Reginald Arkell, Mr. Ralph Farris, Mr. Temple McMullen and Mr. Geoffrey Tullidge to pews marked with white satin bows. Rev. W. T. Keeling performed the impressive ceremony, and Dr. Arbuckle gave his daughter in marriage. Mr. Lamprey had Mr. Robert Rankin for his best man. As her maid of honor, the bride had chosen Miss Dorothy Jane Farrell, and Miss Edna Macdonald and Miss Nora Jane Harrison were bridesmaids.

Shimmering Satin
Complementing the brunette beauty of the slender dark-eyed bride, was the bridal gown of shimmering white Windsor satin. Molded on classical lines, with diagonal seaming over the hips the lustrous folds melted into a court train. Horizontal inverted seaming showed in the rounded yoke, draped close to the throat, and continued in the glove-fitting sleeves to a deep cuff ending in a point over the hand. Dumb-casden lace, exquisite and rare handwork from India, created her veil, the whole of which was outlined with a deep border of delicate tracery of lily of the valley. Worn in a point low on the forehead, and molded closely to her head, real lily of the valley formed a halo at the back from which the veil cascaded in great length over the train—and she carried an ivory-backed prayer book from which showered white orchids.

In enchanting frocks of filmy green chiffon in that soft jade hue—stiff, finely pleated halos encircling their heads—and in their arms large bouquets of golden tulips, Cugin to Toronto on Monday, to be present at the installation of Mrs. McGuigan's son, Most Rev. J. C. McGuigan, as Archbishop of Toronto.

The Reception
Jericho Country Club formed a brilliant setting for the reception. A profusion of spring flowers banked the reception rooms, and tall baskets of pink snapdragons, yellow and white tulips, hyacinths and daffodils, were placed throughout. By the embrasure where the bridal party received, was an arch of real orange blossoms. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Arbuckle had chosen a distinctive French gown of black-berry blue, finely woven lace of a cobweb design. Smartly fashioned on long lines, the skirt slightly flared, was en train. The graceful sleeves of the short jacket, showed a slight fullness shirred into a deep cuff. Her hat was of the same shade with narrow insets of net on the medium brim, the only trim being a diamante pendant at the side, back of the upturned brim. In her corsage bouquet were pink rosebuds. Dusky pink crepe Lisette fashioned Mrs. Lamprey's becoming frock, designed with hand-worked fagoting on the yoke and sleeves, while velvet of a deep blue was introduced into the girle, and fashioned the short coat with full sleeves worn over her gown to the church. Her hat was a wide-brimmed model of lace straw of the same pink tone, and she wore violets and roses in her corsage bouquet.

The bride's table, exquisite with its formal appointments, was centered with a four-tier wedding cake, with tall ivory tapers lighted in silver branch candelabra. Tiny silver vases of white roses and lily of the valley were placed at the four corners. At the table where ices were served pink roses were arranged in a silver bowl. Asked to preside at the urns were Mrs. Morley Holland, Mrs. Frank Hall, Mrs. Gordon Farrell, Mrs. Lyall Hodgins, Mrs. Hannah McInosh and Mrs. J. W. Thompson, while ices were cut by Mrs. Anson Frost and Mrs. W. E. Ainley. Mr. George Harrison proposed the toast to the bride.

For Travelling
When Mr. and Mrs. Lamprey left for their wedding trip, travelling to California and Mexico, the bride donned a chic two-piece taffeta of mustard and brown-flecked woolen. The short jacket was richly furled with deep revers and roll collar of beaver. A nigger brown taffeta blouse with pleated ruching high at the neck and crossing in front at the waist, a straight skirt showing two inverted pleats. The brim of her shiny brown straw hat rolled off the face in front. Pinned to her coat were yellow orchids. Following their honeymoon in the south the bride and groom, on their return to the city will reside at 9809 Cartier avenue.

Miss Florence Ruggles, who with her sister, Miss Elizabeth Ruggles, were among the out-of-town guests for the wedding, caught the bouquet.

TWO SOMERSAULTS BUT LANDS UNHURT
GUELPH, March 19.—Mrs. B. Tolton, elderly Guelph resident, had a remarkable escape from injury in an unusual accident at her home, 173 Woolwich Street, today. Plunging down 19 steps when she tripped at the top of a stairway, Mrs. Tolton, after turning two complete somersaults in the descent, landed unharmed at the bottom of the staircase. A china plate she was carrying was unbroken, as were her glasses and wrist watch.

"How my Father raised a Family on $1 a Day" A Real Life Experience as told by Mrs. F. A. C.*

WHEN my father married he was just 24. His job brought him only 90c a day. My parents first task was to set about buying a small home. Their next move was to take out Life Insurance. As time went on there were five children. My father's wage was eventually raised to one dollar out of which we had to clothe and feed our large family—and still pay the premium on Life Insurance.

For 20 years my father worked from 7 to 6 o'clock without a day off. Then he began to show the effects. Whenever he sat down he would fall asleep. By this time my two eldest brothers had good jobs in the city. They persuaded my father to sell his home and move to the coast. Although he found work, he was not suited to it and turned back to Western Canada after five years.

He bought land and set to work, content that at last he had found the life he longed for—land for his sons; a home and independence in time for his family. Then a sad thing happened. While putting in his first crop he was stricken with paralysis. His insurance policy contained a disability feature. It was like a God-send as there was no money from the farm thus far. His insurance money kept him comfortably provided for until he died four years later.

An early frost had ruined the crop. There was no ready money. It was a crisis and his insurance money "saved the day." All accounts were paid. We bought the adjoining quarter section, a snap for cash. The first crop replaced the money easily. The children were given a good education. Today my mother is well provided for in her home with three of her children. All this was due largely to the Life Insurance my father had taken out when money was so scarce with us.
