EMERALD FUNCTION POSTPONED.—The concert and lecture booked for tonight (March 18) in the B. I. S. Hall, Emerald, has been postponed. The new date will be announced later. 3096-3-18M11

WAITING AT BORDEN.—Mr. Joseph Coffin, of Edmonton, is now at Borden, accompanying the remains of his wife. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. Hammond McEwen, Lot 40, as soon as transportation conditions will permit.

RETURNED TO MONTREAL.—Dr. Nicholson of McGill University who left Montreal to attend the funeral of his mother the late Mrs. James Nicholson of Cherry Valley reached Sackville Friday but owing to the blockade was forced to return to Montreal, being unable to reach here in time.

ISLANDER IN CHARGE.—It is stated in a London dispatch that the Canadian Demobilization Committee has issued its final report and it is understood the recommendations have been referred to the authorities at Ottawa. In the meantime it has been necessary to take steps to classify the men and arrange for a systematic demobilization of the Canadian forces.

THE MAILS.—Last night shortly after 9 o'clock two couriers arrived in the City from Bonshaw, with light loads of mail from Borden. There was very little local mail in the assortment. The men had a very strenuous time, being on the road over 24 hours and fighting the "trail" nearly all the way.

LADIES PHOTOGRAPHED.—The Montreal Star of a recent date contains six large photographic groups of the prominent Canadian women who were called into council at Ottawa. In one may be seen Miss Hazel Sterns, of Charlottetown, Supervisor of Women's Institutes for the Island.

SERVICE AT CATHEDRAL YESTERDAY.—The feast of St. Patrick was celebrated yesterday in St. Dunstan's Cathedral by a solemn high mass at 11 a. m. The Reverend Father, Rev. Father Frank MacQuaid was deacon, Rev. Father W. J. MacDonald was sub-deacon and the Rev. Father Hughes acted as master of ceremonies.

IT CAN'T BE DONE.—Irish foreman, looking down into excavation: "How many of you are down there?" "Voice from below—"Seven." "Well half of yez come up."

A MOODY DISPOSITION.—Mrs. Bilton: "Weren't you surprised, dear, when your husband gave you such a nice present?" Mrs. Tilton: "No; I was suspicious."

FUNERAL TODAY.—The funeral of the late Mrs. James Nicholson will be held today Monday at 1 o'clock from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. James Irving, Cherry Valley.

A LITTLE LATE but none the less welcome—the 7th chapter of the Fighting Trail at the Prince Edward today and tomorrow. 3099

A COLD DRIVE.—In order that Father McAulay of St. Peter's could reach the city in time for the 11 o'clock service in St. Dunstan's Cathedral yesterday a team was sent from Charlottetown on Saturday to bring the reverend gentleman in. The roads were exceptionally heavy with a piercing cold wind.

HIGHER PRICES FOR RUBBER FOOTWEAR.—Owing to the manufacturers having advanced prices on all lines of rubber footwear, owing to the increased cost of labour and all materials, readers may expect advance immediately, as local stocks are running low and new goods will have to be purchased to fill requirements. 3098

TO HOLD A FOOD SALE.—The Charlottetown members of the 105th Comfort Circle intend holding a "Food Sale" in Moore & McLeod's store on Easter Saturday. This event will no doubt be of interest to the citizens who are well aware of what the Circle's work has meant and still means to the brave boys. 3093-3-18M11.

ENJOYABLE EVENING.—Saturday night, Mr. B. Roy Holman, the guardian angel of the visiting commercial men who are storm stayed in the city, arranged a friendly hockey match in the Arena between the commercial men at the Victoria Hotel and their fellow knights of the grip at the Revere Hotel.

THE TRAINS.—The Borden train which was stuck at Albany all day Saturday, got through to Emerald yesterday and is on her way now to Charlottetown. Another train has left to Borden to follow up and kept the road clean. The Summerside train is still stalled near Traveller's Rest.

TRUBLE FOR TRAVELLERS.—There are now about fifty passengers at Borden, including those who came over on the last trip of the boat and those who are awaiting bound. They have found accommodation at the various farmhouses and in the railway cars and get their meals at the railway "dining hall."

BURIAL OF DR. P. CONROY.—The funeral of Dr. Peter Conroy held yesterday afternoon was one of the largest, considering weather conditions and the state of the streets, ever held in the city. Services in St. Dunstan's Cathedral were held by His Lordship Bishop O'Leary and the Reverend Father Maurice MacDonald, rector of St. Dunstan's Cathedral conducted the services at the grave.

SEED FAIR.—No arrangement has so far been made for the Seed Fair in Charlottetown. As is well known each Seed Fair is under the administration of a committee appointed by the farmers. These committees are appointed immediately after each Seed Fair and make all arrangements for the next fair. The Depart-

Prince Edward TONIGHT 7 and 8.45 TODAY AT 3.15 FILMDOM'S DAINTIEST STAR Vivian Martin IN The Little Dutch Girl A picture version of Voida's novel of compelling charm—"Two Little Wooden Shoes." A review of some of last week's features.

The romantic, appealing story of the babe who startled the old gardener's ducks by appearing among them, afloat in her own little basket. When death robs her of her friend and guardian she lives alone with her flowers. Romance reenters her life when a famous artist searching for an ideal model for his "Marguerite," sees "Little Dutch" at her spinning wheel. Love, all-engrossing, all-conquerable enters her heart, and then—her artist goes away, "Little Dutch" waits and waits. It never occurs to her that Lionel has forgotten her. She hears that he is ill and in want in Paris. Alone and afoot she starts for the great city to comfort and care for him. She arrives to find disillusion and disappointment awaiting her. Jean, the woodman—Jean the faithful—takes her back to her village home but the sunlight has gone out for "Little Dutch." Once more she seeks the pond where the startled ducks found her.

IN MEMORIAM

W. HARRY MACFARLANE Word has been received of the death of Mr. W. Harry MacFarlane, eldest son of Geo. E. MacFarlane, of Lanigan, Sask., formerly of P. E. I. Harry left the island for the West about ten years ago. Before going West he taught school in Souris, Spring Park and West Kent school and Margate. He also taught school for a while in the West, about six months before his death, he took over the management of the Lanigan Hotel. The many friends of the family in this province will regret to learn of his death, which was caused by an aneurism, at the early age of 35 years. It is but a short time since the Guardian recorded the accidental death of his brother Fred, who was lost in a wash out over a bridge and also his sister, Laura, about two years ago.

MESOPOTAMIA STORIES

Canon Parfit, of Jerusalem, who described himself as "Vicar of Mesopotamia and Rural Dean of the Garden of Eden," recently told a few Eastern tales in London. He said that when he first saw his "charge" the scenery did not impress him. The people were poverty-stricken and begged for "bakshesh," the children were "brilliantly clad in olive oil and the sweetest of smiles." A soldier, referring to scrippings and mosquitoes, said: "Everything in the Garden's lovely (I don't think!) It wouldn't take a flaming sword to drive me out of it!" At Bagdad, the pontoon bridge having been washed away, the Sultan determined to build a new one, so he set about raising the money. The people were whipped and blackmailed into parting with £40,000. The bridge cost £40,000, the tax-gatherer pocketed the rest.

GAVE HER DELICATE CHILD VINOL

It Built Him Up and Made Him Strong Newaygo, Mich.—"My little boy was in a delicate, emaciated condition and had a cough so we had to keep him out of school for a year. Nothing seemed to help him until Vinol was recommended, and the change it made in him was remarkable. It has built him up and made him strong so his cough is almost entirely gone. We can not recommend Vinol too highly."—Mrs. E. N. Hanson.

LITTLE GIRL HAD JAUNDICE

And All Treatments Failed to Arouse the Action of the Liver Until Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Were Used Plympton, N. S., March 18.—This is a case in which the liver became sluggish and torpid and failed to filter the bile from the blood. As a result the complexion became yellow and muddy, the white of the eyes discolored and the whole system poisoned by the accumulation of impurities. Doctors were trying various medicines, but did not succeed in finding any effective treatment. Fortunately a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and cure was effected.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING SYSTEM IS DISCUSSED

Administrators of Vocational Work of Military Hospitals Commission Speaks in Toronto The system of vocational training for returned soldiers which is enabling men to learn new occupations and in many instances to go back to civil life prepared to earn more than they did before they enlisted was the subject of an enlightening address by W. E. Segsworth, administrator of vocational training for the returned soldiers under the Military Hospitals Commission, before the Canadian Credit Men's Association in Toronto.

PERSONALS

Miss Jean Cantwell, City, is very ill, with tonsillitis and a gripe.

His friends will be pleased to hear that Mr. Roger Sumarh, who went under an operation for appendicitis at the City Hospital a couple of days ago, is at present doing very well.

Miss Emma McMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McRae McMillan, intended leaving for P. E. Island about the last of April, and will reside there, says the New Glasgow News.

His friends will be pleased to hear that Mr. Roger Sumarh, who went under an operation for appendicitis at the City Hospital a couple of days ago, is at present doing very well.

SMALL NUMBER BLIND

An investigation by the hospitals commission had shown that there had been 34 soldiers blinded by wounds, a much smaller number than was generally supposed, one doctor in "guessing" before the inquiry—having made an "estimate" of 1,000.

SOLDIERS NOT EXPLOITED

An important point brought out was that, although warned that soldiers would be exploited, the commission now had the men receive part of the training right in the factories of the country, with very successful results. Before this was done, however, an industrial survey was made.

CAREFUL CHOOSING

At the present time investigations are being made to ascertain just what disability a man can suffer and still carry on in a given trade. When investigation into this question has been concluded there will be no possibility of mistakes being made. To avoid error, the speaker said, the greatest care must be exercised. Not only must the man be consulted, and his inclinations ascertained, but his medical history must be gone into with minute care, so that his physical and mental qualifications may be ascertained.

SHRINKAGE

Customer: "Say, boss, have you got any red flannel shirts?" Boss: "Waal, stranger, I guess I can just fit you out beautiful—now, here's a fine red flannel shirt, price two dollars—may I let you have half-a-dozen of these red flannel shirts for eleven dollars?" Customer: "You may not; I'll take one red flannel shirt, and if I like it I'll come back again for the other five at your reduced price." Same scene three weeks later: Enter same customer. Boss: "Waal, stranger, I guess you've come back for those other five red flannel shirts." Customer: "I guess I have not, but I've come back for my two dollars. That red flannel shirt you sold me came back from the wash this morning—I put it on, and while I was washing my hair, my wife said to me, 'Sam, where did you get that little coral necklace?'"

CURLING

In a most exciting match, played on the best ice of the season, the original holders of the Wright Challenge cup defeated their former conquerors, the Ladies' team, Saturday afternoon by a score of 13-9. The results:

Ladies: Mrs. Gavan Duffy, Mrs. Walter Grant, Mrs. Geoff Fitzgerald, R. E. Spillet. Men: E. Rice, C. H. MacKinnon, C. H. Black, Gordon Hughes.

SERIOUS CASUALTY LIST

In the domestic relations court of New York Mrs. Annet Bushy was a witness against her husband, James, who was present to respond to the toast: "Was—done or avoided." Mr. Bushy allowed that he is a carpenter hampered by an education of the most classical type. "The fact of the matter is," he explained, "that I have sought work rather constantly until lately. I have been disheartened by the fact that I could not get work such as I desire. I do not like carpentry, and I can speak five languages. I want a good situation or none." "Five languages," sneered Mrs. Bushy. "What good are they? Four of them are dead and the other wounded."

DYNAMITE SAVES POTATOES

A resourceful farmer found a new way to use dynamite and saved a nearly matured crop of potatoes in a badly flooded field, says the Scientific American. Unusually heavy rains filled all the neighborhood drains and ditches; in his emergency the owner put down a number of holes eight to twelve feet deep with a stout auger and exploded a charge of dynamite in the bottom of each. This opened up passage into the sandy sub-soil, through which the surplus water drained rapidly, and the crop was saved, although many nearby crops were ruined by the excess of water standing in the fields.
