In Memoriam
THE LATE TOBIAS COADY

In the death of Tobias Coady of Hazelbrook, the Community has lost one of its oldest and most respected residents.

He was born in Alexandria, Lot 49, in June 1847; his father, Tobias Coady, emigrated from Ireland and settled first at Newfoundland; his mother's name was Susanna Penal, who emigrated from England to Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. In the early part of the nineteenth century they landed at Point Prim, Prince Edward Island, from there they journeyed to Squaw Bay, now called Alexandra, where they made their home and where a family of twelve children were born, two of whom Mrs. John Murray, Tyrone, and Mrs. Joseph Acorn, Millville, still survive.

In early life the late Tobias Coady moved from Alexandra to Hazelbrook, where he purchased what was known as the Ellworth property; two years later he married Catherine Acorn of Hermitage, Vernon River, who predeceased him several years ago. From this union were born ten children, seven of whom are still living, as follows: Mrs. J. J. Murray, Emyvale; Mrs. Joseph Creamer, Kelly's Cross; Mrs. Joseph Driscoll, Mt. Herbert; Gerlie, Charlottetown; William, Hazelbrook; John E., Brighton, Mass.; Alfred, Brooklyn, N. Y.

After the death of his first wife, he married Margaret Driscoll of Mt. Herbert, who still survives him.

The deceased was of a very quiet and unassuming disposition and was never known to say anything which might in any way tend to lessen a person's good reputation; he was also of a very modest nature and he believed in the maxim "Not to let the right hand know what the left hand doeth." He was sober, honest and industrious and by his labor and industry and good management he acquired one of the finest properties in Lot 48.

As a reward he had the consolation of receiving the last rites of the Church and of having his family at his bedside, during his last illness. He took an active interest in politics, being a life long Conservative, though without prejudice to any party. He was in failing health for the past four or five years, but with special care and nursing he was able to be around until about six weeks before his death, when he was confined to his bed with what the Doctor called "heart spasms" which prevented him from taking anything but liquid nourishment. In this condition he gradually grew weaker, which was intensified by the regrettable gassing accident, recorded in the papers before his death.

The funeral took place on Tuesday morning, December 24th to St. Joseph's Church, Vernon River, and was largely attended. The pall bearers were: Andrew Morrissey, Frank Driscoll, William Coady, Robert Coady, William Acorn and Joseph Acorn.

The many spiritual and floral tributes received are evidence of the high esteem in which the deceased was held by all who knew him. May his soul rest in peace.

and louder and deeper and deeper, like a volcano suddenly grown active. Hats were flung off, people swayed like wheat in the wind, a shower of stone fell. The roaring grew louder; it was coming up, higher, closer to the top of the ground... a black greasy body of liquid came to the top of the pipe, gurgled, gushes and sank back again with the sound of a monster wooden pump just beginning to "prime"; there it bubbled for a breathless moment and then again the earth shook, this time with a greater infernal violence, a mightier retching; the hissing grew louder; there was a violent contortion of the liquid gurgling at the mouth of the pipe and up shot a mighty black cataract with a savage, snarling roar leaping and tearing within itself. The liquid crashed against the heavy crossboards of the derrick with a deep spiteful growl like the continuous, growing roar of an ocean wave coming in on the shore. The derrick rocked, cross-pieces flew off and whirling away. Back to the ground the heavy liquid crashed with a deafening roar and out over the embankments of the tiny dikes it spread. They had not been built for such a flood as this. The black jet continued to play, rising and falling like a mighty fountain with a ball dancing at the top. The brown flood now came rushing and sweeping toward the people, propelled by the force in the earth for below. The explosion had opened some chamber under countless tons of pressure where it had lain for endless ages; and now suddenly, astonishingly, the pressure had been removed and it leaped and fought and struggled for freedom. The crowd ran wildly scrambling back, pushing, shoving while the black waves rushed after them in joy. Clothes were drenched, cars splattered, the lease writer with the maps shook off the dripping, brown-black liquid.

MARRIED-A pretty wedding took place at Kensington on the evening of December 31, 1929, when Miss Minerva Catherine Duggan, only daughter of Mr. John O. and Mrs. Duggan became the bride of Mr. Alvin Reagh Sudsbury, son of William Sudsbury, Spring Valley. Rev. J. R. Saint performed the ceremony. The witnesses were Miss Irene Champion, cousin of the bride and Mr. Keir Duggan, brother of the bride. After the ceremony was performed the newly wedded party were the recipients of many sincere good wishes from their numerous friends in Kensington and elsewhere. The evening was passed in enjoyable, social intercourse. The wedding party and their relatives and their invited guests enjoyed to satiety a sumptuous repast, prepared in the most approved style, by Mrs. John C. Duggan and others. The married life of the young married couple was ushered in with favorable auspices, and all good wishes confirmed this prophecy. A large number of beautiful and useful presents were donated by the appreciative friends, which are a testimony of the high esteem in which the couple are held. With the usual fond adieu the wedding party repaired to the house of the groom where a cordial welcome was extended.-Y.

LABOR MINISTER SAYS DOMINION OPPOSITION HAS TO OVERCOME FIRST

LONDON, Jan. 6.-The campaign for free trade within the Empire and its sponsors, Lord Beaverbrook and Lord Rothermere, were attacked by Hon. Georges Lansbury, in a speech at Bow tonight.

The Minister denounced domestic policies being advanced by the newspaper peers and declared the Labor Government's program of increased social services were continuing a policy which had been proved the best insurance against revolution.

FAINT, DIZZY SPELLS

Had To Sleep Propped Up In Bed

Mrs. Norman Bishop, Salisbury, N.B., writes: "I was troubled with faint and dizzy spells and when I would lie down I would suffer terribly with smothering spells. I got so bad I had to sleep propped up in bed."

"My doctor said it was my heart and nerves, and that I needed a good heart tonic."

"I was advised to take

and I had not taken one box when I could lie down and sleep like a child." Price, 50c. a box at all druggists and dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

EXPLAINS TOXOID TREATMENT

The Conquest of Diphtheria was the subject of a timely address by Dr. F. W. Tidmarsh at Gyro last evening. The speaker reviewed the scientific progress made in treatment and prevention of the disease leading up to the discovery of toxoid in 1913. Referring to the forthcoming campaign sponsored by the City Council, the Provincial Board of Health and the Red Cross Society to wipe out diphtheria in the Province, Dr. Tidmarsh stated definitely that in the great majority of cases there was not the slightest reaction from the toxoid injection. In a very few cases the child may feel out of sorts for a day or two, but there was absolutely no risk. The treatment is not in the nature of an experiment, the value of toxoid in preventing diphtheria being definitely established. The success or failure of the campaign in Charlottetown depends altogether on the number of children inoculated and this in turn depends on the number of patients giving their consent to have this done. The speaker appealed to the Gyro Club to give its moral support to the movement. The chair last evening was occupied by Gyro Harry Jamieson. There was a brief discussion of business matters and some interesting remarks were made by Mr. S. S. Hessian, K. C., of Montague.

QUEENS COUNTY COURT-At the two sessions of the Queens County Court yesterday three cases for debt were dealt with, those of Gardner vs. Binns, Dr. Ledwell vs. Bruce Constable, Fred G. Kelly vs. Alfred Ryan. Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff in each case. Judgment was given by default in a number of similar cases where no defense appeared.

GREENVALE W. I.-The December meeting was held on Tuesday evening, December 10th, at the home of the president, Mrs. Alfred Carew. Meeting opened with singing of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," followed with a "Christmas suggestion." There were eight members and two visitors present. Minutes read and signed. Following committees were appointed: Miss Janie Spence and Mrs. H. Spence; Sick, Miss B. Matheson, Mrs. E. Silliphant, Miss Janie Spence, Mrs. M. Smith, Mrs. S. Silliphant and Mrs. Albert Paul. Institute news were distributed. Correspondence from Seal Sale Committee read and stamps were purchased by members. It was decided to contribute $4.00 towards gifts for pupils at school closing. Next meeting roll call will be answered with "Thoughts and Suggestions for the New Year" and plans will be made for the winter meetings. The Secretary reported $40.00 proceeds from chicken supper and bazaar in the early part of December. Miss B. Matheson invited the members to her home for the January meeting. Program consisting of Reading, "A Christmas Message" and Christmas Carol "Silent Night." A social time was spent in music and singing the old-time favorites, refreshments being served by the hostess.

ST. JAMES AND ZION CHURCHES

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed in St. James Church Sunday. A very fine congregation was present, many of the Zion Church also being in attendance. Rev. M. Scott Fulton preached a most appropriate sermon on the words "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you." St. James choir gave an appropriate selection "Communion Hymn." Mr. Fulton preached at Marmalade to the Church of Scotland congregation in the afternoon. There was a very good attendance.

St. James worshipped with Zion Sunday evening; there was splendid congregation present. The minister's address was most interesting. He spoke of the recent excavations by the University of Pennsylvania and the British Museum in the vicinity of Bagdad and Ur. The full text of these and other discoveries will be found in two recent numbers of the National Geographic Magazine. Mr. Fulton recommends the careful perusal of the above.

Annual meetings are now in the offing. The Annual Sabbath School meeting will be held in Zion Church parlor on Thursday evening, the 9th inst. The annual congregational meeting falls on the 3rd, Thursday of January (the 16th). Some of our cottage prayer meetings will be held over until next week.

Joint service with St. James Church next Sabbath. Mr. Fulton will preach in St. James in the morning and in Zion in the evening.

The music consisted of a solo, "Away in a Manger," very sweetly sung by Miss Margaret Ross. The final chorus "Angels from the Realms of Glory," from the cantata "The Christmas King," was well rendered by the choir.

Nearly $125,000 in rebates have been granted to householders and others in London who were not permitted to use water for gardens or automobiles during last summer's long drought.

Card of Thanks

Mrs. Tobias Coady and family wish to sincerely thank the Sisters and Nurses of the Charlottetown Hospital for their kindness and attention during the illness and death of the late Tobias Coady; also to all who sent Spiritual and Floral Offerings, to all relatives, neighbours and friends who by their kind assistance and sympathy helped to lighten their burden of sorrow.
