WHO STOLE J. CANADA'S BIG FAMILY

OTTAWA, October, 20.—The "Missing Million" problem of the census has the undivided attention of authorities, who are trying to give an answer to the question, "Why has Canada only seven million people when there should be eight?"
When the loss was first discovered, everybody jumped to the conclusion that a million Canadians had slipped quietly away to the United States without saying good-bye to Canada. That theory was not a comfortable one at best, and it now turns out that it will not stand the test of applied statistics.
The census showed Canada to have gained 1,710,554 people in ten years. The immigration department has in ten years checked the arrival of 1,705,375 new comers. Thus immigration apparently accounts for the whole ten years' growth, and leaves nothing to natural increase.
Canadians have not yet laid themselves open to the charge of race suicide. Quebec has been held up as a shining example to the contrary and in the other provinces the baby carriage is abroad in the land. Experts in such matters have estimated that at least a million little Canadians have come into confederation since the 1901 census, and they have certainly not taken part in any annexation movement. Even the statisticians admit that they are still in our midst.
The statement that a million Canadians have gone to the United States does not hold water. The American vigilance along the border is notorious. Every person crosses from Canada under scrutiny, and most of them are fined a two dollar head tax. The American immigration figures are compiled with great care and they show that in the past ten years only a quarter of a million persons left Canada to settle in the United States.
This leaves seven hundred and fifty thousand Canadians lost.

TO SAVE BRUSSELS LACE INDUSTRY

BRUSSELS, Oct. 20.—Under the patronage of Queen Elizabeth a committee has been formed in Brussels to save the Brussels lace industry from extinction.
Queen Elizabeth has long since been interested in this question, and is working actively to revive the decaying industry. At her initiative, a co-operative society has now been formed, called "La Dentelle Belge." The board includes several professors of the Brussels University, as well as Her Majesty's secretary, M. Ingenbleck. The company has a capital of $27,000, which will be spent in the study of the labor market and the commercial market of lace in the neighborhood of the city of the lace-makers and in the introduction of lace-making courses in professional schools, and finally in the search of foreign markets for the sale of Belgian lace. The capital has been subscribed by some of the wealthiest people in Belgium.

VENERABLE CARDINAL LED BY LITTLE BOY

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 20.—Hand in hand with an eight year old boy, Cardinal Gibbons, forsaking his vestments for his coat and silk hat of private life, walked the mile from the Sacred Heart Cathedral to Mount Calvary Cemetery, where Bishop Van De Vyver was buried. The aged Cardinal stepped aside after celebrating the high requiem mass in the Cathedral, and in a side room removed his vestments.
Father Bowler, the vicar general of the diocese, and Father Magri, the chancellor saw him going quietly out of a poster door, and found him just as he and the lad had agreed to go to the cemetery on foot. They entreated him to take the carriage awaiting him. They said the thousands of people within and without the church would be distressed to see their venerable Cardinal afoot. The Cardinal smiled. "My heart is heavy, he said, and I need the aid. This child will lead me." And they walked away hand in hand, leaving the priests and bystanders in perplexity.

WOULD TONE DOWN GAY CHOIR BERDS

ATLANTA, Oct. 20.—The Rev. Dr. R. S. McArthur, formerly pastor of Calvary Church, New York, strongly urged the Baptist ministers here yesterday to hold more elaborate services in non-liturgical churches.
"When I took charge of the Calvary Church," said Dr. McArthur, "I told Mr. Rockefeller that I was going to out-Episcopal the Episcopalians in the stateliness and ornateness of my services, and our Methodist and Methodist brethren in fire and fervor.
" 'If you accomplish that,' said Mr. Rockefeller, 'you will make a great success.'
Dr. McArthur praised the "beautiful and effective forms" of the Episcopal service. He said there has been a surplus choir in Calvary Church ever since he studied the appearance of its quartette at the funeral service for President McKinley.
" 'On this solemn occasion the soprano and contralto wore huge hats with flaunting plumes; the tenor had on a red necktie, louder than his voice; the waistcoat the bass wore drowned the clamor of the tenor's necktie. I determined then and there that these gaudy birds should come down.'

TOBACCO TRUST MUST DO BETTER IN BREAKING UP.

NEW YORK, October, 20.—After thoroughly studying the provisions of the plan of disintegration that has been filed by the American Tobacco Company with judges of the United States Circuit Court, the attorney-generals of the State of Virginia North Carolina and South Carolina who have been in conference here on this matter for two days past, reached the conclusion late today that the plan as proposed will offer no relief to the Tobacco growers of this country. The conferees decided to file tomorrow a petition in the United States circuit court asking that the southern states represented at the conference be permitted to file written objections to the plan of disintegration and to be heard at the hearing which is to be held on October 30th.

COAL AND STEEL DIRECTORS' INSPECTION

GLACE BAY, October, 23.—J. H. Plummer, president; Sir William Van Horne, Sir Montague Allan, William McMaster, Frederick Nicholls, W. B. Ross, Senator MacKeen, Mr. Caverhill and other directors of the Dominion Coal and Steel company, accompanied by M. J. Butler, other local officials, were in town today on a visit of inspection to the collieries. The party visited New Aberdeen, New Waterford and other important points in the collieries and expressed satisfaction with the existing conditions and the progress made with development work throughout the colliery district during the past year. President Plummer will likely remain in Sydney for several days on business connected with the company. The visit of the directors to Cape Breton at this time has aroused great interest among the people of the industries affected and it is generally believed that there is an underlying significance in the "sit" which means further development in the industrial centers of this country.

GOVERNMENT APPOINTS JUDGE FOR QUEBEC.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—J. M. McDougall, K. C., of Hull has been appointed to a judge of the Supreme Court of Quebec to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Champagne last week. Mr. McDougall has several times contested Wright County in the Conservative interest. Sir Wilfrid Laurier called upon Premier Borden in the latter's office this morning, and the two leaders were in private conference together for a quarter of an hour. It is understood that the chief subject of the conference was in regard to the position of the private secretaries of the ex-Ministers under the new Administration. The outgoing Government, following the usual precedent, endeavored to secure promotion for the private secretaries to higher grades in the Civil Service so that they would be compensated for the loss of their secretarial allowances.

THE MINTO TRIP

The work of exploration and Survey was proceeded with at the latter place and also at Churchill. While at these two places one mail was received by the Minto via Winnipeg and two or three left the ship, one of which was sent via the Erie and taken off by the Minto.
In her work the Minto struck bolted a couple of times and also lost an anchor and a quantity of chain in a very swift current.
They left Nelson on return on Sept. 28th. They spent a couple of days in a harbor called Sugluk and left there intending to call at Lake Harbor, Baffin Land, where a report had said missionaries were starving. Meeting the Dundee whaler Active in the Straits on Oct. 6th, they were informed that this was incorrect and proceeded to Port Burwell, arriving on the 8th. Taking on water they left on the 10th and when 50 miles from Indian Point, Labrador, learned by wireless that the Eric was in Domino Harbor with only 1 1/2 tons coal. They proceeded there and gave the Eric 7 tons, which would take her to a port where she could be supplied. She left Domino Harbor on Oct. 12th, arriving in Sydney at one a. m. Oct. 17, left there 4 p. m. same day and arrived in Halifax at 7.30 a. m. on the 18th.

The Minto used up about 800 tons of coal on her trip. She was plentifully supplied and provisioned. Her officers were Capt. MacPherson, City, 1st. Mate, Senebaugh, Georgetown, 2nd. Mate, Capt. Lawrence, Halifax. The engineers were P. E. I. men and a couple of the firemen and four of the deck hands, Graham, Trainer, Watts and Gallant, were from this province, the remainder being shipped in Halifax.

The Minto will be examined in Halifax before being transferred from the Naval back to the Marine Department but whether she will be repaired there or here the Captain could not state.

SCHR. WM. E. PARK LOST; CREW SAVED.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A report to Lloyd's today says that the schooner whose crew was picked up by the British steamer Elaine at sea, was the William E. Park. The Elaine, which was en route from Norfolk for Havre, signalled the news of the rescue to the British steamer Cayo Giano, which reported the matter when off the Lizard yesterday. No details were given.
The schooner William E. Park was owned in Philadelphia and sailed from Bridgewater on September 26th for Buenos Ayres.

JUMPS ON BACK OF A RUNAWAY.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Serious injuries to scores of people if not a probable loss of life was prevented on Boylston street by Daniel Leonard, a driver for the Armstrong Transfer Company, when he jumped from his wagon on to the back of a runaway horse and threw it to the ground just as it was about to dash into a crowd of people who were crossing Washington and Boylston streets.

STONE WOMAN IS IDENTIFIED.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—The woman as rigid as if she had been turned to stone that has been puzzling doctors at the City Hospital was identified at Miss Josephine Hearn of 21 Bennett Street, Roxbury. She was identified by her aunt, Mrs. Mabel Barry of the same address.
The case is one of the most mysterious that ever was brought to the attention of the doctors at the hospital and she was placed in the psychopathic ward, where she is under observation.
Shortly after 5.30 in the morning the woman walked into the fruit store of Gust Meragas, at 1085 Washington street, where George Brown and Albert Toddy were standing and after writing a letter requested Brown to step out to the mail box and mail it for her, which he did.
Brown returned to the store and was talking to Toddy when their attention was attracted to the woman, who was standing near the door with a glassy stare in her eyes. Stepping over to her they asked her if she could do anything to assist her, but she did not answer them or appear to have heard them. Brown took hold on one of her arms with the intention of helping her to a chair and lifted it into the air away from her body.
When Brown let go her arm he was surprised to see it stay up in the air in the same position that he placed it. For over 20 minutes the two men stood looking at the woman, afraid to touch her, but after they regained their courage they took her arm down and placed it beside her body.

LITTLE PROGRESS BEING MADE AT LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., October 20.—Through the empanelling of a jury to try the case of Jas. B. McNamara, in the explosion of the Times Building, is still a matter of weeks, definite progress had been made when court opened today toward defining the issues, principal and collateral, along which the battle will be fought.
After having concluded the examination for cause among eleven of the talemens in the box, reserving still, with the Court's permission, the right to interrogate further H. Quackenboosh "about matters yet being investigated," the defense had emphasized by three challenges for cause that it would consider as hostile the men who not only were prejudiced against labor unions and their methods of operation, but those who firmly believed dynamite destroyed the Times building. The Court is not expected to render its decision on these challenges until the States has had its opportunity to examine the talemens for cause.

The prosecution continued today its examination of C. D. W. Adams, and it was apparently the line of questions, too, that the State deemed it essential that no talemens should serve who said gas explosion caused the Times disaster.
The State, furthermore, in its examination of Adams has revealed that it will consider unacceptable these talemens in whose minds socialistic views are imbedded. The State has vigorously resisted the questions of Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, who sought to learn talemens' views on whether or not labor unions as conducted were a menace or an advantage to society and has been opposing the argument of the defense that labor unions are directly involved in the case by asserting that the main issue is whether or not the defendant wrecked the Times building regardless of labor affiliations. But in its examination of talemens the State on the other hand expects to find men who are prejudiced in favor of labor unions and likewise maintain that gas caused the explosion.

On Judge Bordwell devolves the task of ruling as to whether Geo. W. McKee, Otto Jensen and J. Shower shall be allowed to serve. McKee and Jensen are against unions and believe dynamite caused the explosion, while Showers believes dynamite placed through the instrumentalities of labor union was the cause. A ruling on these points will go far towards hastening or delaying the work of getting a jury.

JOHN MEEHAN John Meehan, who comes to Charlottetown in the leading role in "THE ROSARY" is a Canadian boy, born in Lindsay, Ontario—who has steadily worked his way to the front by hard work in his chosen profession. His stage career dates back about nine years, his first engagement being for a minor role with Robert Edeson in "Soldiers of Fortune." During the season he met with some discouragements, listened to the advice of one or two ancient actors who had a grievance against the world in general, decided that the stage offered no great inducement for a serious-minded, ambitious young man and determined to give it up, which he did. He stood fast by this determination for nearly a year, meanwhile studying law in the office of an uncle. One day, however, Mr. Edeson came to town with "Soldiers of Fortune" which he had revived after the failure of "The Rector's Garden." John attended the performance and speedily discovered that the stage still had a strong attraction for him. His uncle who had attended the performance with him, noticed his intense interest and agitation, and then and there advised him to go back, if he felt that way about it, and so the law lost another shining light. Since that time, Mr. Meehan has been connected with stock companies in Boston for three seasons, where he had good experience in a varied line of parts. A season on tour with David Belasco's company in "The Girl of the Golden West" advanced him further and then came three seasons with a first class stock company in New England cities in the support of leading roles in such plays as "The Daughters of Men," "Janice Meredith," "The Climbers," "Strongheart," "The Man on the Box," and other plays of that class. During the last season Mr. Meehan starred in "The Man on the Box" on tour. All through his stage career Mr. Meehan has had a reputation for reliability and earnestness in his work, playing what parts came his way to the best of his ability, and whatever honors have come to him have been fairly earned. Asked recently what style of a part he liked best, he replied, "Well, we all like to be the hero, of course, still, a good character part that one can study on and try to better at every performance is well worth while, more especially if you can so sink your identity in the character that the folks out front are made to wonder if it is really you. If it's a good part or a bad part, get all you can out of it, and sooner or later you will get credit for what you do." Off the stage, "Jack" as he is best known to his associates, with whom he is a staunch favorite, is a quiet, unassuming chap, quite unlike what the general public consider a leading actor to be. He is fond of outdoor sports and is an authority on baseball. A good part of his spare time is spent in a quiet little home out near Brookline where two little ladies look up to him as their leading man and guiding spirit. This season he has met with great success in the role of "Father Kelly" in "The Rosary."
