MONCTON, BERWICK REACH MARITIME FINALS

Abegweits Bow Out Before Baffling, Tireless Offensive Of Hub Hockeyists 13-6

Moncton Maroons, a team of fast-skating hockeyists that play five men inside the opposing blue line for sixty minutes, last night captured the New Brunswick-P. E. Island championship when they came through with their second straight victory over the Abegweits, sending the locals down to a 13-6 defeat last night to win the round and a place in the Maritime finals by a round-score count of 28-8.

Baffling their opponents by the method of their attack, hammering away for goals every minute, Maroons last night came from behind in the final half of the game to tack away the victory. But while the Maroons never ceasing offensive had the desired result in the final stages it was only after the Abegweits, as game and courageous as a crew as ever, had skated their hearts out in a heroic but vain attempt to whittle down the big lead "Dad" James' warriors had built up in the first game of the series.

But for a period and a half the faithful fans who attended the game had plenty to cheer about. Backed up by the sensational, brilliant goal-tending of courageous Ray Stull who rose to unparalleled heights the local net only halved the Maroons but need into a 3-2 lead by the time the clock showed the halfway mark of the second period had been reached. But after that it was all Maroons as the Abegweits faded.

Before the period had ended Maroons had scored four times to go into the lead for the first time in the game. Two of their counters were only earned but the last two were gifts. One was a perfect pass to an uncovered Maroon and the last saw an Abegweits player deflect the disc into the net as he attempted to clear the rubber from in front of the cage.

Still trying desperately as the third period opened Abegweits saw their attacks halted inside the Moncton line by a team that showed conclusively that when the occasion arises they can play hockey inside their own line as well as inside their opponent's. Abegweits broke through for one goal in the session but only after the Maroons had tallied twice in the first seven minutes and then after the locals had accounted for their last marker Maroons, showing dazzling bursts of speed, came through for four more goals before the final bell.

That in brief is the story of the game that on one side showed the evident superiority of the Maroons and on the other showed the game-ness of the Abegweits. Maroons fast, powerful and well-conditioned hit a clip that is hard to match. Always on the offensive last night they hemmed the Abegweits in for minutes on end, and then when an Abegweits threatened they were able to scurry back to their positions in time to break up the incoming play. It is hard to judge how for Maroons will go, but it must be admitted, they have the style of game they play down to a nicety and it produces goals. (Maroons have scored 45 in their last three games), and after all that is where the payoff comes in hockey.

George Bell, fast skating Maroon winger, led the goal-getters last night notching five while Wilf Whalen of the Abegweits had three. Ken McInnis, hard working defence-man of the Abegweits shot a brace while Appley and Dickie of the Maroons also accounted for two apiece.

Starting away with five men up Abegweits hemmed the Maroons in for the first minute and a half and their efforts finally bore fruit as McInnis racing away from a Maroon attack paraded in close to beat Barton. Maroons warming up to the game started their five man attacks going and it was only the valiant figure of Ray Stull that kept them at bay as he pulled off remarkable saves. At 11:30 of the period Abegweits took a two goal lead as Whalen rammed the disc in on a pass from Kane. Again the Maroons tried desperately but once more when his mates would be beaten Stull rose to the heights.

Starting the second it was a regular scoring spree for the first ten minutes with the Abegweits again on top by a 3-2 margin. Maroons scored first on an Appley to Bell p. but with Dickie drawing a penalty Abegweits started in two quick goals. Bradley got the first from a mixup and then 10 seconds later McInnis drilled in his second goal of the night. Maroons replied with a goal by Babe LeBlanc and Abegweits got that one back on another Kane to Whalen play. For five minutes there was no scoring but in the last four minutes and 20 seconds the visitors came through with four counters. Appley went in alone for the first; Bell took a perfect pass from an Abegweits player for the second; Appley to Bell was the order of the third and then to cap it all Maroons raced to the front for the first time as an Abegweits player deflected the disc into his own net.

Far from discouraged Abegweits came out fighting in the third but before they scored their only goal of the session Maroons had broken away for two. Kenzie Carroll got the first with Bell going in for the second. Then Abegweits came through with a counter Whale scoring on a double assist from Stewart and Cudmore eight seconds before the halfway mark had been reached. In the next seven minutes Maroons scored five goals Appley, Dickie, Dickie, Len LeBlanc and Bell counting in that order on fast, break-away plays.

Thousands Pay Tribute To Howie Morenz

(C.P. by Guardian's Special Wire) —(MONTREAL, March 10)—Thousands continued to flow into Montreal tonight for Howie Morenz, dynamic centre ice star of Montreal Canadiens, whose sudden death Monday night stunned sports fans and players of the National Hockey League circuit where he shone for 14 years.

Perhaps the one which would have pleased Howie most—for its very spontaneity—is the floral wreath from the "rush end" supporters, faithful fans of the Flying Frenchmen, who banded together at the Maroons-Canadiens game last night and contributed dimes, nickels and coppers in memory of their hero.

Howie was a real hero to the toque-capped Habitants who gathered in the north tiers game after game since 1923 when the Stratford Streak came down to Montreal to play the game he loved. Their piercing "come on 'Ow-ee'" was still heard that night of Jan. 28 when Morenz flashed down the ice for the last time and was carried off with his broken leg dangling.

Thousands after thousands of friends passed Howie's bier in an undertaking chapel last night and today and many thousands more will join in the public funeral service tomorrow at the Forum. The body will lie in state over the centre ice ring from 11 to 2:30 when Rev. Malcolm Campbell will conduct the funeral service. Interment will be at Mount Royal Cemetery.

Dominating the great floral display around the coffin today is a great floral piece of lilies and roses in the figure "7". Seven was Howie's number all through his 12 seasons with Canadiens and when he left, temporarily, for a two-year sojourn with other clubs, the number was never given another player. The floral "7" bears the card of Aurel Joliat, inmate of the great star who is the sole survivor with Canadiens of the 1923 front line.

Outside the chapel door today are piles of hockey sticks and skates, left there by schoolboys as they filed past the casket, caps in hands. Representatives of each team in the interschool hockey league will be in the funeral procession tomorrow.

Canadian players will form a guard of honor at the lying-in-state. During the service the team will line up near the casket and will be followed in the procession by Maroons players and the entire Toronto Maple Leaf team.

Lawlor Coached Team Wins Nova Scotia Hockey Title Defeating Antigonish 5-2

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) —(ANTIGONISH, March 10)—(CP) —Berwick Bruins broke the grip of Antigonish Bulldogs on the Nova Scotia hockey championship here tonight, defeating the defending titlists 5-2 in the second of a two-game, total-goal series. The Apple-Kings, or at least, that's what they called themselves last year, won the right to represent Nova Scotia against Moncton Maroons in the Maritime finals, eastern preliminaries to the Allan Cup race, by a total score of 7-3. They defeated the Bulldogs at Kentville 2-1 two nights ago.

Before the game began, the players lined up at centre ice and paid silent tribute for two minutes to Howie Morenz, great Montreal hockey player who died Tuesday morning.

The sight was impressive, as the great crowd of fans, most of whom never saw the Stratford Streak, stood with their heads bared before the start of the important game which Bruins went into with a one-goal lead.

On a sticky ice surface which made good passing plays difficult to manage, Berwick took the offensive and increased their lead in the series before settling down to a sound defensive game.

Before the end of the first, the Bruins led 2-1. They picked up two more goals in the second, and in the final division, when Antigonish made its most determined spurt, split a pair of goals with the desperate Bulldogs.

Bob Malenfant, Moncton flash who helped St. Francis Xavier University win the Maritime intercollegiate championship in the New Brunswick city last night, scored the first of the two Antigonish goals.

Buzz Saarinen, fleet forward who came to Berwick from Fort William, Ont., and Walter Lawlor of Charlottetown, their young playing-coach, were high scorers of the night, each notching up two counters. Boyle scored the other Berwick goal.

The Island Intermediate hockey championship is at stake at the Forum tonight when Victoria Unions and the local L. P. U. team meet in the second game of the finals tied with three goals each as a result of Joey McDonald's team gaining a surprising draw at Victoria Tuesday night in the first encounter.

The game should be and likely will be a thriller. Reports on Tuesday's game say that it was the best hockey played there this winter and that the teams are very evenly matched. The draw evidently shows that tonight's game with everything at stake should be even better.

Victoria, regarded as the outstanding intermediate squad on the island this year, have a great reputation as a road team. Several times this season they have come through with important victories away from home and their supporters tonight are looking for a repeat performance.

The L. P. U. team, awarded a place in the finals after Montague had refused to play under officials named for a replay of the second game are confident of turning back the visitors on home ice. Tuesday they were just 38 seconds away from a win and tonight they opine that if they can gain the lead there will be no losing it.

Interest in the series is at fever height now and indications point to a large crowd attending. Victoria will doubtless have a large delegation of rooters on hand and the L. P. U. team have plenty of supporters in the City who are willing to wager that their team will come out on top.

The winners of tonight's game meet the Nova Scotia champs, Picton, in the semi-finals for the Maritime title.

The major drove his glistening 12-cylinder Golden Arrow over the sands at 231.36 miles an hour. But the mark has been left far behind by Sir Malcolm Campbell who now holds the record with a flash at 201.12 miles an hour in Utah, Sept. 3, 1935.

St. Pats Blank Bathurst In Opener 6-0

AMHERST, N. S., March 10—Amherst St. Pats hurled the first obstacle in their way to another Maritime junior hockey championship here tonight by blanking Bathurst 6-0 in the first of a home-and-home series.

Led by Ripley twins and Creighton Lowther, the speedy Amherst team that was eliminated from Memorial Cup playdowns last year by Pembroke Lumber Kings after a bitter battle, had little trouble with the New Brunswick champions.

St. Pats scored two goals in the first period and added three more in the second but it was not until 19:55 of the final they got their sixth goal.

The Bathurst squad outshot St. Pats 12-9 in the first session but lack of finish around the net spelled their doom. Neal picked up Copp's pass at 10:10 for the first Amherst goal and Lowther and Carl Ripley combined for another two minutes later, the former scoring.

The second period was only a minute old when the Ripley twin, got together and Frank rifled home Carl's assist. The Ripley-Lowther-Ripley line combined for another at 9:45 Frank Ripley tallying and the others gaining assists. Copp rushed through a minute later for the fifth goal.

The New Brunswick champions held their rivals fairly even in the third and it was not until the dying minutes that Estabrooks scored with Neal and Copp earning assists.

With twelve teams still in the running, the Military Club Championship Tournament swings into the semi-finals and finals at the Armouries tonight. No doubt keen competition and spectacular badminton will feature tonight's play as nearly every team in the draw looks good enough to come through.

The following is the draw:

Braddock Receives Enticing Offer From Max Schmeling For Title Bout In Berlin

(By Bob Cavagnaro Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, March 10—The unpredictable heavyweight championship situation, headed variously for New York, Chicago and the law courts, picked up another possible destination today as it rolled merrily on with titleholder Jim Braddock receiving two more offers approximating $650,000.

Max Schmeling, who earned a chance at regaining the title when he butchered Joe Louis with his right hand last summer offered Braddock $250,000 cash and American motion picture and broadcasting rights, calculated to produce around $150,000 more, if he'll put the title on the line in the 1936 Olympic Stadium in Berlin with Schmeling in the other corner.

Previously, Dennis Scanlan, who was Sonja Henie's manager when the Norwegian figure skating queen turned professional a year ago, but otherwise is known merely as a dealer in steel and tin, also offered Braddock $250,000 to defend his crown against Schmeling in the vast Olympic Stadium.

Scanlan neglected, however, to say where the money would come from, in addition to which authoritative information from German sources, indicated that Schmeling, rather than Scanlan, had the benefit of official Berlin backing.

Schmeling said he made the offer "on behalf of the Deutschland Halle, Athletic Club, which is the largest sporting organization in Europe. Furthermore, he said, he has power of attorney to sign Braddock for the bout. Schmeling said Scanlan did not figure in his plans.

"I am ready to post a forfeit of $25,000, that, if I should win the title I will defend the title in the United States in September, 1937, against Louis or any person who may be considered the outstanding challenger, on a percentage basis," said Schmeling.

Goldie, who attacks has Braddock started to two bouts in the brief space of three of three weeks, as usual, was in a receptive mood. With a few alterations, none of which Schmeling and the Deutschland Halle A. C. are likely to agree to, he indicated he might accept Max's offer.

For a flat guarantee of $400,000, the Garden's consent to the Berlin bout, and Schmeling's agreement to an American referee and an English judge for the bout, Gould said he'd let Jim fight Max for the title.

When Gould stipulated he wants the Garden's consent, he meant that Schmeling would have to remove all possibility of a suit by the Garden.

"It's not gonna do me any good to get into another contract unless they get me out of the one I already have with the Garden," said Gould. "I'm in enough trouble now."
