

SUCCESSFUL MEN

MANY OF THEM ARE HANDICAPPED WITH CATARRHAL DISEASES.

Dr. A. W. CHASE COMES TO THEIR AID.

Success in life is almost impossible for a man with bad breath. Nobody wants to do business with him. Nobody wants to associate with him. He is handicapped everywhere. Offensive breath comes from catarrh; sometimes from catarrh of the stomach, sometimes of the lungs, sometimes of the head, nose, and throat. It is from catarrh somewhere, and catarrh is another name for uncleanness. Many men understand this, and make every effort to cure it, but it is beyond the reach of ordinary practice. No self-respecting man can ignore catarrh. If he has it in any form he makes constant effort to be rid of it. There is something about the manner of life and the climate of Canada that seems to breed diseases of the mucous membrane. Medical science ordinarily doesn't try to cure catarrh; it "relieves" it; but Dr. Chase has been curing catarrh for over thirty years, and his name is blessed by thousands who have shaken off the grasp of this insidious disease. Sold by all dealers, price 25 cents per box, blower free.

Tammany Opens State Campaign

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—Tammany opened the State campaign last evening with a tremendous rancorous meeting, full of dash and enthusiasm that promise well for a tin Democratic victory on election day. Fully 15,000 attended.

Every section district from the Battery to the Bronx sent a squad of representatives. The hall was packed so full of voters that thousands were unable to crowd their way in. They filled Fourteenth street from Third to Fourth avenue. For them there were outdoor stands, two in front of Tammany Hall two in Fourteenth street, near Irving place, and one around the corner in Irving place. Each stand was surrounded by nearly a thousand citizens.

For downright, old-fashioned Democratic fervor the meeting has never been surpassed. It was a rousing gathering of the clans. Although the proceedings were not begun until 8 o'clock, the hall was filled at 7. Citizens who arrived after that had to fight and elbow and crush their way inside of the building. None but young, strong fellows were able to make any progress through the throng after 7 o'clock.

The atmosphere of Fourteenth street and Irving place was full of red fire, fizzing rockets, exploding bombs and the blaring of a dozen bands. The streets were impassable. From house-front to house-front every bit of space was jammed. Whenever a car was to pass along Fourteenth street four policemen marched ahead and ploughed a path for it through the throng.

From every window of Tammany Hall floated a big American flag. The banner bearing the portraits of Van Wyck and Danforth and the names of all the other Democratic nominees was illuminated with electric lights. The whole front of the Wigman blazed with electric bulbs.

Within Tammany Hall was a red white and blue. Above the stage was draped two gigantic American flags surmounted by two flags of the state of New York. Pennants of the national colors were festooned from above the stage to the edge of balcony and boxes. Large American flags were draped everywhere.

The Democrats assembled to cheer the State ticket along its progress to victory were full of vim and cheering, ready to applaud every telling point that the speakers made against Republican corruption and oppressions.

Sayne's Sixty-ninth Regiment Band played patriotic airs while the crowd waited for the orators to appear. "Yaukees Doodle" received more applause than any other tune. The ladies of the families of leading Democrats sat in the boxes, and lent a touch of beauty and color to the gathering.

Elliot Danforth tried to slip quietly into a seat among his friends on the platform, but the crowd recognized him and cheered him tremendously. The mighty chorus of hurrahs lasted for fully a minute. At the first lull a man in the balcony called for three cheers for Elliot Danforth, and the hurrahing and applause began all over again.

Temporary Chairman Thomas S. Brennan escorted James B. Eastis to the stage. The former Assistant to France and his gigantic companion were cheered heartily. Richard Croker closely followed them, and he was greeted as heartily as Mr. Danforth was. Mr. Eastis was made permanent Chairman by acclamation. Mr. Eastis's able speech, attacking the corruption of the Republican State and national administrations was often interrupted by hearty applause. So were the speeches of former Gov. James E. Campbell, of Ohio; Senator Thomas F. Grady and John M. Quinn, late of Montana.
