"MISS HAMILTON'S DEATH.
The death occurred in Georgetown Tuesday of Miss Eliza Hamilton, at the advanced age of 80 years. She deceased was a native of New Perth, but resided for many years in Georgetown on the beautiful property overlooking the harbour and Brudenell River, and formerly owned by the late Dr. Kaye, whose trusted housekeeper she had been. She was a lady of pleasing character, of more than ordinary intelligence, charitable and sympathetic, and the news of her death will be learned with deep regret by many friends. She leaves one brother, Daniel, in Summerside and one sister, Miss Mary, at New Perth, to mourn. She was also a sister of the late John Hamilton and Alexander Hamilton of New Perth. The funeral took place at 1 p.m. yesterday at Brudenell Cemetery.

GOLFER SLANGS PRES. WILSON.

President Wilson, playing golf at the Surburban Club at Washington, was approaching the ninth hole and was about to play a stroke when a member signalled to him to wait until he had driven his own ball. The president (the Mail says) either failed to see or understand the signal, and sent his ball whizzing near the member's head. The member roundly ratted the president. On learning the identity of the visitor, the repentant member wrote to the president a note of apology. This the president acknowledged in a letter in which he insisted that the member was within his rights according to the rules of the game.

MOSQUITOES IN ENGLAND.

A few hot days and the proximity of water will always bring what we proudly call mosquitoes, says the Daily Mail. And Epping Forest is complaining of the plague. An anxious member, whose children have suffered, suggested that Lascaris should bring these insects from the East. Not a bit of it. There is not a fisherman or botanist but knows them—those gnats. They are only genuine island growth, with nothing like the energy and venom of the mosquito. But enough!

WOMAN IN BAD CONDITION

Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Montpelier, Vt. — "We have great faith in your remedies. I was very irregular and was tired and sleepy all the time, would have cold chills, and my hands and feet would blot. My stomach bothered me, I had pain in my side and a bad headache most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me lots of good and I now feel fine. I am regular, my stomach is better and my pains have all left me. You can use my name if you like. I am proud of what your remedies have done for me." — Mrs. MARY GAUTHIER, 21 Ridge St., Montpelier, Vt.

WHEAT IN ENGLAND ONCE SOLD AT $3.95 A BUSHEL

Present high prices for wheat recall the past soaring records of the Chicago wheat pit. When one searches the records prior to the Letter and Hutchinson corner years of 1898 and 1899, one finds that, in 1877, wheat sold in Chicago for $1.76 a bushel, in the corner of August, 1872, wheat sold for $1.61—but it also sold for $1.19 within twenty-four hours of the establishment of that high price, in the collapse of the corner. At one time in 1869, a bushel of wheat commanded $2.47 in the Chicago market; on May 18, 1867, the highest price was paid in the memory of any living trader—$2.85.

Still, if anybody thinks even such a figure to have been the highest paid in history, let him look back to the records that antedate those of the Chicago board of trade, and for that matter, of Chicago itself. In 1812 the year of Bonaparte's retreat from Moscow, the Peninsular campaign, and the war between England and the United States, wheat sold for $3.95 a bushel in England. This is the highest price quoted for at least the period since wheat began to be spoken of in terms of American dollar value. Wheat would still have risen considerably this year, in spite of its advance of 45 cents since the opening of August, to equal as much as half its 1812 price.

A PATHETIC WAR INCIDENT.

Pierre Lotif, the famous French writer, tells this pathetic incident: "At evening in one of our southern towns, a train full of Belgian refugees ran into the station, and poor martyrs exhausted and bewildered, got out slowly one by one on the unfamiliar platform, where French people were waiting to receive them. "Carrying a few provisions caught up at random, they had got into the carriages without even asking whether they were bound, urged by their anxiety to see their families, to find horror and death, from ungenial mutilation and Sadic outrage— from things that seemed no longer possible in the world, but which, it seems, were lying dormant in pietistic German brains, and had suddenly belched forth upon their land and ours like a belated manifestation of original barbarism. "They no longer possessed a village, nor a home, nor a family; they arrived like jetsam cast up by the waters, and the eyes of all were full of terrified anguish. Many children, little girls whose parents had disappeared in the stress of fire and battle; and aged women now alone in the world, who had fled, hardly knowing why, no longer caring for life, but moved by some obscure instinct of self-preservation. "Two little creatures, lost in the pitiable throng, held each other by the hand—two little boys, obviously brothers—the elder, who may have been five years old, protecting the younger, of about three. No one claimed them, no one knew them. How had they been able to understand, finding themselves alone, that they too must get into this train to escape death? Their clothes were decent, and their little stockings were thick and warm; clearly they belonged to humble but careful parents; they were doubtless the heirs of one of those sublime Belgian soldiers who had fallen heroically on the battlefield and whose

Justice of Peace Praises Dr. Chase's Ointment

After Nine Years of Agony He Escaped an Operation by Using This Great Healing Agent.

As a means of healing sores and wounds that defy ordinary treatment Dr. Chase's Ointment has long stood supreme. It is known far and wide as a positive cure for eczema and piles. Whatever uncertainty there may be about the results obtained by the use of medicines taken internally there can be no question of the healing of the skin when Dr. Chase's Ointment is applied. You can actually see with your own eyes just what takes place. The sore parts are cleansed, and gradually the new skin is formed and the sore becomes smaller and smaller, until it finally disappears. It is often wonderful the results which are accomplished in a single night by the use of this great healing ointment. Mr. N. A. Heath, J.P., Fitch Bay, Que., writes—"Nine years ago I was taken with an abscess, and cannot begin to describe what I have suffered as a result. I was examined by two doctors, both of whom said I would have to undergo an operation to be cured. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment, it has rendered an operation unnecessary, and has completely cured me. I cannot say enough in praise of this wonderful ointment which cured me after nine years of agony." Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60c a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

last thought had perhaps been one of supreme tenderness for them. "The elder, clasping the little one's hand closely, as if fearing to lose him, seemed to wake to a sense of his duty as protector and, half asleep already, found strength to say in a suppliant tone, to the Red Cross lady bending over him— "Madam, are they going to put us to bed, soon? "For the moment this was all they were capable of wishing, all that they hoped for from human pity; to be put to bed. "They were put to bed at once, together, of course, still holding each other tightly by the hand, and nestling one against the other, they fell at the same moment into the tranquil unconsciousness of childish slumber.

SEEIN' THINGS.

"Be observant, my son," said Willie's father. "Cultivate the habit of seeing and you will be a successful man." "Yes," added his uncle. "Don't you go through the world blindly. Learn to use your eyes." "Little boys who are observing know a great deal more than those who are not," his aunt put in. Willie took this advice to heart. Next day he informed his mother that he had been observing things. "Uncle's got a bottle of whiskey hidden in his trunk," he said. "Aunt Jane's got an extra set of teeth in her drawer, and father's got a pack of cards behind the books in his desk." —Weekly Scotsman.
