CENTRAL GUARDIAN Island Airman Valedictory At Is Reported Nurses Graduation Seriously Injured City Hospital

VALEDICTORY
The following valedictory address to the 1942 Nurses Graduating Class of the Charlottetown Hospital was delivered at the Graduation Exercises Wednesday night by Miss Elizabeth Evelyn MacKinnon, Grand Tracadie:

The joy of achievement is one of the deepest emotions of the human heart. We, the 1942 Graduates of the Charlottetown Hospital School of Nursing, receiving our coveted diplomas, feel something of the young aviator's exaltation; described lyrically in 'High Flight':

Oh! I have slipped the surly bonds of earth
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings.

Our happiness is enhanced because our friends are sharing it with us. But, however lightsome may be our spirits tonight, we cannot forget that the granting of our diplomas confers likewise definite responsibilities. We are graduating in chaotic, social, political disturbances and countless material and moral losses.

These days spring ultimately from the grave responsibility to observe the Divine precepts upon which all human endeavor is based. When men cast aside their obligations to God, there followed the outlawing of justice and charity, the destruction of the principles and the denial of liberty and freedom. Peace and true freedom in the New Order, so fondly hoped for, will be the result of the union of individuals to the teachings of Christ. When all men recognize in one another a brother in Christ Jesus, the unity of mankind will disappear.

In this great work of social reconstruction as well as in the successful waging of the war for freedom, the importance of the individual must play her part. Among the many lessons the war has taught us are those of the value of unity and the importance of little things. As nurses, we have, indeed, particular opportunities to assist in the establishment of this New Order and to exemplify for mankind the teachings of Christ. The Gospel story reveals His preoccupation for the sick and unfortunate, with His infinite charity and kindness. His unwearied patience and unselfishness—the essential virtues of a true nurse. To look upon Christ as our model in our profession, in that we are but following the Master's command "Learn of Me". Our ideals must be lived by, not merely talked and written about. I think that you are thinkers so loud, I can't hear what you say."

Man's Right to Liberty and Freedom
Man's right to liberty and freedom, for which our gallant armies fight, is based on human dignity. It is based on the fact that man is a composite being, an immortal soul made to the image and likeness of God. Human nature is elevated and not diminished by infirmities, sufferings and disease. They are effective agencies in sanctifying man as the old couplet says:

The good are better made by ill
As odors crushed are sweeter still.

For twenty centuries, man's afflictions have been the occasion for beneficence and charity, for studies and research by doctors and scientists and for heroic acts which are the boast of our civilization.

They serve also to remind us that our earthly life is but pilgrimage. When we think of the heavenly goal of that journey we remember our duty and our pilgrimage. When we think of the heavenly goal of that journey we remember our duty and our pilgrimage. When we think of the heavenly goal of that journey we remember our duty and our pilgrimage.

Here's how to keep woollens DAINTY-NEW-LOOKING

It's beyond any girl to make a good impression in a sweater that needs a wash. Wool craves perspiration odor which is fatal to charm!

Dip knitted things regularly in Lux to keep them fresh. Lux whisks away odor; it keeps wool soft, colors bright through month of hard wear!

Dip baby's little woollies, too!
Baby's things need regular dips in Lux to keep them flower-soft and comfortable. Lux is pure, gentle—contains nothing to irritate or chafe baby's tender skin.

In Memoriam
MR. CLAYTON BURKE

After a lengthy illness of a heart affliction, the death occurred at Fortune Bridge, P. E. I., on May 14th, 1942, of Mr. Clayton Burke, in the sixty-seventh year of his age. The late Mr. Burke was a native of Fortune Bridge and spent practically his whole life in that community where he engaged in the trade of a stone-mason. He was widely known as a faithful and industrious workman and was held in high regard as a kindly friend and neighbor.

The funeral, which was widely attended, was held on Friday afternoon, May 15th, to the Bay Fortune Cemetery. It was conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. A. MacQuarrie, assisted by the Choir of Bay Fortune United Church. The pallbearers were Ray Burke, Clarence Burke, Lester Burke, Kenneth Burke, Harry Burke and Geo. Jackson.

He leaves to mourn his widow, formerly Margaret McCormick of Fortune Bridge, two brothers, Daniel Burke and Percy Burke, both of Fortune Bridge, and a number of nieces and nephews, to all of whom, we join in extending sympathy.

NEW FISH MARKET—A daily fresh fish market in Charlottetown opens today at 211 Queen Street, next door to the Fire Hall. Fish to the customer a few hours after they are taken from the water, is the aim of the proprietor, Mr. Allan Gauthier, North Rustico, an enterprising young fisherman who has always taken a keen interest in the advancement of the fishing industry in the province. He is a member of the P. E. I. Fishermen's Union and is also an active member of the North Rustico Union. His intention is to take the fish right from the boats at the harbour each morning and have them on display in his new shop on Queen Street about an hour later. Citizens will have a wide variety of both fresh and cured fish to choose from. Included on the fish list will be clams, quags, hogs, lobsters, cod, cod tongues, cod cheeks, etc. The market has been cleaned up and today the store will be open to the public. Mr. Gauthier's advertisement appears elsewhere.

SCHOOLGIRLS OF TODAY — GLAMOUR GIRLS TOMORROW

Attention mothers! The school girl of today can become the glamour girl of tomorrow if she is properly encouraged.

Kindness, sense of responsibility, imagination, sportsmanship, self-possession, good taste, grace, grooming and manners, should all be learned even before the "teen-age". Children learn their manners from the examples that are set before them in their own households. An interest in grooming can be cultivated by patient training in hair, tooth, hand, and face care, while physical grace will come from sports, dancing and posture-training.

Taste can be acquired only by children who are permitted to exercise their own judgment in the matter of clothes, room furnishings and other belongings.

Self-possession comes from proper training in classroom, playground, or dancing school. Good sportsmanship can best be learned with groups of other children of the same age, training under competent instructors as in the Girl Guides.

Imagination will be stimulated by wisely chosen reading and a sense of responsibility will be encouraged if regular household tasks are assigned to the children.

Kindness can be developed if they are taught to care for younger brothers and sisters or for pets.

HAMILTON WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Mrs. Nell Simpson entertained the Hamilton Women's Institute for the May meeting which was held on the 19th.

The president opened the meeting by singing, 'Is a Good Time To Get Acquainted', followed by the Creed in unison. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The school committee reported getting a pencil sharpener for the school the same costing $1.00. The sick committee had a bill of $35 and there was a bill of 90c for material for repairing the Hall. It was moved by Mrs. Everett Ramsay seconded by Eileen Hamilton that all bills be paid.

The matter of Hospital Care was to be decided on at the next meeting.

It was moved by Mrs. J. R. Leckerby, seconded by Mrs. J. M. Ramsay that $10.00 be sent to the Red Cross Campaign.

Mrs. Nell Simpson was appointed as delegate to attend the annual convention with Mrs. J. A. Ramsay as alternative.

Roll Call at the next meeting to be answered by giving something for a Baby Shower.

Questionnaires were discussed and were to be filled in later.

Roll Call was answered by 13 members with 1 visitor.

New committees were appointed as follows: Sick, Mrs. Major Taylor and Mrs. Charles Stewart, School, Eima Stewart and Letta Ramsay.

Prize for Mrs. J. R. Leckerby and Mrs. Wm. A. Ramsay.

It was moved and seconded that the committees stand for three months. It was also decided to dispense with lunch and have the meetings in the Hall during the summer. Collection amounted to 89c. Meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Lunch was served by the committee assisted by the hostesses.

BLACKHEADS

Blackheads go quickly by a simple method that dissolves them. Get two ounces of peroxide powder from your druggist, apply with a hot, wet cloth gently over the blackheads—and you will wonder where they have gone.
