Red Wings Come From Behind, Tie Canucks

DETROIT, Nov. 23 — (CP) — The Detroit Red Wings came from behind in the last six minutes to tie the Montreal Canadiens 3-3 in a national hockey league game before a crowd of 12,862 fans.

Thus the Canadiens played through their 14th successive game against the Red Wings without suffering a loss. Montreal had won both the previous meetings this year by 2-1 scores.

Detroit, on the other hand, lost its first period game to the Canadiens 1-0. The Red Wings' first period goal was scored by Bill Durnan late in the second, led 2-1 going into the final stanza.

Maurice Richard wasted no time squaring it by hammering in a 15-foot shot just 43 seconds after the start of the third period.

Holler's tying goal came at 14:01 as he skated in alone on Durnan. The Canadiens' second goal, scored by Dion, went 2-2 minutes before being credited with a save through the net.

Maple Leafs Out-Played By Boston Bruins 5-1

BOSTON, Nov. 23 — (CP) — Toronto's Maple Leafs, who were outplayed tonight as the Bruins, paced by winger Herb Cain, romped to a 5-1 national hockey league victory before a crowd of 12,000 at the Boston Garden.

Cain, the Bruins' leading scorer, scored on a pass from rookie Paul Gladi.

Gladi continued his drive for the league's top-scoring honors by collecting two assists in addition to his goal, thereby boosting his point total to 21.

Harvey Bennett, the Bruins' rookie goalie, appeared headed for a shutout until the 11th minute of the finale.

Then with the first shot aimed at him during that session, Bennett was forced to make a save. That Leaf broke up a Boston rush in his own zone and went the length of the rink before firing point-blank at the startled Bennett.

Gives Address On Nutrition

Dr. L. B. Pett, director of nutrition, Ottawa, gave a brief address on the work of his department before a number of public health nurses and other interested persons in the City Council chamber tonight.

Dr. Pett, who is also a member of the Ottawa Health Department, discussed the importance of nutrition in the prevention of disease, including tuberculosis and rheumatic fever.

His department was doing a great deal of work in this field, he said, and he had given scientific advice on nutrition to many of the Government departments and had improved the nutritional standards of many places supplying war workers with their meals.

Only five provinces in Canada had full-time nutrition experts working with the public health department, he said. He thought there was need for such a specialist in Prince Edward Island.

There was a number of questions of a valuable nature that the department was sending to all the provinces and it was not always an easy task to effect its proper distribution. The doctor thought this was an auspicious time to get the people's physical fitness program was becoming better known. Neither was effective in the other and the two should be united.

Dr. Pett's address was the speaker for his department and assured him steps would be taken to ensure the distribution of the wall charts and other valuable print materials that had already been sent to him.

The Employment Committee was followed by a long discussion. It was pointed out by the Committee and other speakers that it was difficult to get returned men positions under the Civil Service and in the Canadian National Railway. In the latter the Brotherhoods had certain regulations which contributed to the difficulty. The report of the committee was referred back to them to take up the matter of appointment of returned men to Government and C. N. R. positions and through him with the heads of the Brotherhoods as well as with the Civil Service Department.

It was decided to hold the December meeting on the 15th of the month during Christmas week. The meeting was closed with the National Anthem after which light refreshments were served.

Canadian Legion Again Indorses Conscription Stand

The regular monthly meeting of the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion took place last evening and was largely addressed by Leo Bradley, President.

After the meeting was opened in the usual manner and the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, seventeen new members were admitted to the Branch.

The secretary stated that he had received a card from Group Captain and Mrs. Blake conveying their good wishes to the members of the Branch.

The President read a letter regarding the necessity of conscription for overseas service. As the Branch had already gone on record as being in favour of conscription several times since the start of the war, it was decided after a very short discussion by an unanimous vote to concur in and endorse the demand of the Dominion Command for conscription in Canada and its brief calling for the total war effort, which was presented to the Prime Minister in only manpower but national resources.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Group Captain and Mrs. Blake, and also to the Ladies' Auxiliary for their splendid work done by them during that campaign.

It was understood that several French-speaking Liberal members oppose the compulsory overseas service policy and probably will make their opinions known in debate which arises from a motion to be introduced by Mr. King tomorrow asking the Government to "its policy of maintaining a vigorous war."

Power's Resignation
 There was no immediate comment here on an announcement from the Quebec office of Air Minister Power that the minister had "resigned" because he is opposed to conscription for overseas service.

Gen. McNaughton, speaking as a guest in the House where he still has to win a seat, said that except for some 16,000 men the army had been able to meet all requirements from men who came forward voluntarily.

The power granted in the order-in-council to send draftees — "Zombies" — overseas would be used only to the extent necessary to make the number of reinforcements required.

The first to question Gen. McNaughton after his statement was Col. Ralston, who left office as Defence Minister on Nov. 1 after recommending the establishment of compulsory overseas service to the Cabinet and having it rejected.

Mr. King explained after Col. Ralston's resignation that he had sought the counsel of Gen. McNaughton who had taken the position that the possibilities of a voluntary service method had been exhausted. The new Defence Minister had 21 days since taking office to test the duty of service policy he said today was not meeting immediate needs.

Ralston's Comment
 Col. Ralston said Gen. McNaughton appeared to attribute to him a spirit of conscription for overseas service but in fact his policy had been conscription when necessary, there now appeared to be little difference between Gen. McNaughton's policy and his own.

The new Defence Minister said he could not disclose the size of reinforcements pools he proposed maintaining in the European, Mediterranean and United Kingdom zones. He then discussed with Col. Ralston the methods used in establishing the size of reinforcement pools and said the time required in the movement of troops overseas had to be taken into account. Detailed tables had been worked out by the staff. If these were made available to the enemy would be able to draw general conclusions from them.

Gen. McNaughton said the 16,000 to be sent overseas were in addition to the supplies of general service personnel it was planned to send in any event. The total increase planned was 16,000 eventually destined for the infantry. He could not say that these men would be entirely draftees as some might be general service infantry changing from one place to another. But the net increase

DEATH OF WINNIPEG

 came of a notable Prince Edward Island family. His parents were the late John and Mary Jane (Yeo) Ings, the former born in Portmouthe, England, and the latter a daughter of James Yeo, one of the largest ship merchants of the Province. The paternal grandfather, John Ings, was born at Portmouthe in 1817, and was draughtsman in the navy yard at that place, later coming to Prince Edward Island and engaging in shipbuilding on his own account. He died at the advanced age of ninety-eight. His son John, Col. Ings' father, was for upwards of thirty years engaged in the publication of the Islander, and was for many years president of the Prince Edward Island Steam Navigation Company.

Col. Ings was a youth attended College of Wales College, and finished his education in Cheltenham College, England. Upon the completion of his college course he returned to Charlottetown and engaged in the study of law with the firm of Peters and Peters. In 1893 he was admitted to the bar and at the same time became junior partner in the firm of Peters, Peters and Ings.

He took prominent part in many local activities, being a director of the Charlottetown Steam Navigation Company, a director of the Telephone Company, and secretary of the Charlottetown Light and Power Company.

He also took a keen interest in athletics, and was a game mover in forming the old Aberystwyth football team, which he captained for a number of years. He was also president of the Charlottetown Amateur Athletic Association, and of the Charlottetown Golf Club.

Col. Ings was a member of the Masonic order. His religious connection was with St. Paul's Anglican Church, of which he was a vestryman for a number of years. He was married on July 10, 1894, to Miss Clara Dodge, of Halifax, N.S., a daughter of the late Dr. Dodge of that city. She passed away several years ago.

He leaves two daughters, Olive Mrs. Lawrence Clarke, in British Columbia, Edith (Mrs. Thomas Smith), Winnipeg, and one son, Jasper, Niagara Falls. A son Walter was killed in the First Great War and another son, Roy, was killed in Newfoundland on active service during the present conflict. A sister, Mrs. Frost, of Calgary also survives.

The remains, accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Clarke, will arrive on Monday night. The funeral will be held from St. Paul's Church, at 10 o'clock.

BACK OF HOCKEY VICTORIES

UP in the battle front of "big time" hockey, skating equipment gets the "acid" test. Fast skating, instant turns, collisions, spills and immediate stops impose terrific strains on skates and shoes.

The failure of a skate or shoe may lose the game, even the pennant, so championship players stick to C.C.M. Matched Sets and take no chances.

Montreal Canadiens won the World's Professional Championship—the Stanley Cup—with C.C.M. Matched Sets on every player. Quebec Aces won the Canadian Senior Amateur Championship—the Allan Cup—with C.C.M. Matched Sets and C.C.M. Laminated Hockey Sticks for every player. Oshawa Generals won the Canadian Junior Amateur Championship—the Memorial Cup—with C.C.M. Matched Sets on every player.

And so goes the story of Amateur and Professional Hockey in Canada and the United States—actual check shows over 95% of the players used C.C.M.'s.

In selecting hockey equipment for yourself or others be guided by the preference of champions and choose C.C.M. Matched Sets and C.C.M. Laminated Hockey Sticks. Be sure to find the C.C.M. winged tag of identification which is attached to every genuine C.C.M. Matched Set.
