This week has been a very poor one for the lobster fishermen on the North Shore. On account of the strong winds and rainy weather they were unable to attend to their traps from last Saturday until Thursday and then the catch was only small—the largest catch from Rustico Harbor, being 435 lbs. North Shore lobsters this year are reported very small and far below the average. The high winds have damaged considerable gear.

The following interesting item is clipped from the Daily advocate of Stamford, Conn. "A few friends gathered at the home of Harry and Mrs. Lord, East Avenue, Stamford, Conn., Thursday evening May 14th, in honor of the sixth anniversary of their marriage. Mr. Lord, the general manager of the local telephone exchange, met his guests in his usual friendly manner, and was ably assisted by Mrs. Lord who made a charming hostess. Music, singing, graphophone selections, and a few hours of social intercourse were followed by a very tempting and bounteous supper. Mr. Lord who is a son of Artemas and Mrs. Lord, Brighton, has a large circle of friends in this City.

St Stephen's chapel Halifax was crowded at high noon Wednesday by friends of the contracting parties to witness the marriage of Miss Nellie Davies Taunton, daughter of W. D. and Mrs. Taunton, 99 Queen Street, Halifax and William Browne Williams, of the staff of R. B. Seaton, and Company. The couple were unattended. The Dean of Nova Scotia, Rev. E. P. Crawford, performed the ceremony. He was assisted by Rev. Kenneth Hind, priest incumbent at St. Stephen's, and the service was full choral, and full surplised choir being in attendance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a cream serge costume with pale blue hat and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. The bride was the recipient of many evidences of esteem from friends all over Canada. The bride's going-away costume was of grey material with pale green trimmings and hat to match. Mr. Taunton is a native of P. E. I. and relatives and friends in this City.

Yesterday afternoon shortly before three o'clock the new steamer Harland left port and very early afterwards she had lots of visitors anxious to see what the new boat was like. There was a general expression of favorable opinion after inspection. The Harland is admirably adapted for the service on the East and West Rivers and the Orre and Crapaud routes, and the accommodations are comfortable and ample. There is a splendid large airy cabin, which in cool weather will be found very agreeable, while the outside space will afford the greatest pleasure possible for excursionists, who will be able to see everything they can desire. The trip from Yarmouth to this port was uneventful, the boat behaving well during the forty odd hours running, during which time, counting the detours entering ports, etc., over four hundred miles were traversed. The owners of the vessel are to be complimented on supplying such a fine boat and the public will be able to look forward with pleased expectancy to the commencement of the Harland's trips.

The Somerville, Mass. Sun says: Following a wedding Monday evening of Miss Anne Elizabeth McLeod and the Rev. William C. Wauchope a farewell reception was tendered the Rev. D. B. Rev. Mr. McLeod is leaving his American church owing to ill health. During the reception addresses were made by Messrs David Donaldson, William Browne, John Sinclair, D. D., Scott Whittier, D. D., and Rev. M. L. McPhail, of Boston. A beautiful gold watch was presented the retiring pastor by Mr. William Browne in behalf of the congregation, inscribed, "Presented to Rev. D. B. McLeod, Union square Presbyterian church, Somerville, May 25, 1908." Rev. Mr. McLeod is leaving his congregation in a good financial and spiritual condition and the happiest of relations exist between pastor and people.
