In Memoriam

MRS. JAMES SMITH

Another link with the past was broken on Friday, July 1st, when Elizabeth MacKay, widow of the late James Smith, died at her home in Kensington at the advanced age of eighty-nine years. On Canada's first Dominion Day she was a young married woman of twenty-four, and her memories of the pioneer days of this Province remained clear and distinct even when events of more recent years had become somewhat hazy in her mind. Mrs. Smith was the last member of one of the old MacKay families of New London and very few of her generation now remain. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Z. J. Murray, of Winnipeg, Mrs. E. V. Vradenburg, of Winthrop, Mass., and Mrs. J. G. Townsend, of Kensington. In addition to these, five grandchildren, one great-grandchild, and a large number of relatives and friends mourn the loss of one who was very dear to them. Mrs. Smith was a woman whom to know was to love. Children were attracted to her instinctively. Older folk recognized in her a true friend whose hospitality was abundant and whose Christian life and walk was genuine and sincere. The smile, the cheery word, the kind deed, industrious toil—these were her contributions to her day and generation. The funeral was held on Sunday, July 3rd, and the services were conducted by her minister, Rev. Mr. Loring, assisted by Rev. Mr. Spriggs. She was buried in New London Cemetery beside her husband, who predeceased her twenty-five years ago. The pall-bearers were George MacLeod, George MacKay, Bert MacKay, A. E. Fyfe, John Fyfe and J. N. Evans. "The souls of the righteous are in the hand of God."

Injured In Car Accident

Miss Jennie Gordon, M. A., teacher in Toronto, arrived on the Island last week to spend a holiday at her old home in New Perth. Miss Gordon unfortunately was injured in an automobile accident on the way down and will be confined to her home for some days. She left Toronto in company with Rev. A. Waterworth, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, Mrs. Waterworth and Mr. Waterworth's younger brother David. Mr. Waterworth's father, Rev. M. Waterworth, pastor of the Christian Church at Montague, had motored to Toronto with his wife and son David to attend the church convention held in that city. The party, in two cars, left for the Island together. All went well until about seven miles from Woodstock, N. B., when Rev. A. Waterworth's car left the road and crashed into boulders at the side. The car was completely wrecked, Miss Gordon being pinned underneath it and severely cut and bruised, whilst David sustained a bad cut on the head. The others fortunately escaped injury. The accident happened about six o'clock on a wet morning. Rev. Mr. Waterworth ran to a farm house for assistance. The farmer drove to the scene with his car and had the party taken to his home. Miss Gordon was removed to the Woodstock Hospital, where she spent a week. Mr. Waterworth, Sr., and his wife were about four miles ahead at the time, and on finding that the others were not coming along they turned back. They were met by a Massachusetts car and the driver informed them of the wreck. The party remained at Woodstock for a week with the exception of Rev. M. Waterworth, who proceeded to Montague and later accompanied by Mr. Wilfred MacDonald, drove back to Woodstock and brought some of the party home, the others coming after Rev. A. Waterworth had secured another car.

The case of Nathaniel Molyneux vs. Irving Oil Co., Ltd., was continued yesterday at the Supreme Court. At 10 o'clock the jury, accompanied by the sheriff, prothonotary and counsel, went to Cross Roads to view the well in question, and the surroundings. When the Court opened Mr. Porter for the defense, moved that verdict be entered for the defendant. The motion was refused by the Court, but liberty was granted to make application before the full Court later. Witnesses examined for the defense were Messrs. James A. Reardon, John Ready, Edward Clarence Barrett, Walter Amy, N. W. Lowther, W. Harold Hayes, Chemist, St. John, Mrs. Esther Campbell, laboratory technician at the sanatorium, Miss W. Mae Hutchison. The court adjourned till 10 o'clock this morning. many former patients will regret to learn of her early demise. Besides her husband, one brother Morton Hayward, of Boston; one sister, Mrs. Earl Barrie, of Cochrane, Mass.; and an aunt, Mrs. A. W. Weeks, of New York, are left to mourn, and to whom much sympathy is extended.
