

KING EDWARD DOING WELL BUT RECOVERY WILL BE SLOW

Doctors Confident from the First—Operation Comparatively Safe—Three Thousand Bonfires Blaze out the Nation's Joy—Dublin Illuminated—The Naval Celebration at Spithead.

KING HAD A GOOD DAY.
LONDON, June 30.—The following bulletin was issued from Buckingham Palace at 7 p. m.
"The King has had a fairly comfortable day and the discomfort in the wound has been less."
(Signed) Treves, Laking, Barlow.

RECOVERY WILL BE SLOW.
It is evident from reports of the distress caused by dressing the wound that recovery will be slow.

CONFIDENT OF RECOVERY.
It is learned from officials that the operation was simpler and safer than had been generally supposed, and that the surgeons were fairly confident of recovery from the outset, since they had been called in ample time and blood poisoning could be easily averted.

The depth of the wound has rendered the healing process painful and protracted.

THREE THOUSAND BONFIRES.
The general feeling of relief as a result of the favorable reports of the condition of the King, vented itself to-night by the tossing off of the three thousand bonfires throughout the United Kingdom, which were originally prepared to celebrate coronation night. The signal to light the fires was given at five minutes past nine o'clock.

FROM LIZARD TO ORKNEYS.
In response to a rocket signal bonfires rose from every elevation of any consequence from the Lizard to the Orkneys. The celebrations were unfortunately somewhat damped by a downfall of rain. London was not officially illuminated.

DUBLIN BRILLIANTLY ILLUMINATED.
DUBLIN, June 30.—All the principal streets of Dublin were splendidly illuminated to-night in honor of the King's satisfactory progress and they were so crowded with people that traffic had to be stopped.

CELEBRATION AT SPITHEAD.
There was quite a celebration at Spithead to-day, when the nearest approach to a review of the great fleet there was seen in the trip of several transports loaded with volunteers and colonial troops and a number of distinguished persons, who inspected the Empire's "first line of defence."

CLOSING DAYS OF BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

The Appointing of Committees and the Program for the Future Work of Denomination.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Session opened with singing Gospel Hymns and prayers by Rev. W. H. Warren and Rev. C. P. Wilson.

Minutes of morning session were read and adopted accepting the invitation of Cavendish church to meet with them next summer. Reference was made to the death on Friday of Dr D H Higgins, Ex-Professor of Acadia College and also to the severillness of Miss Helen Blacadar one of our missionaries in India.

A. W. Sterns presented the report on the work of the work of the Young People's Unions throughout the Province. Motion put and carried, and J. K. Ross, appointed to as leader in Young People's Work for the coming year. The Committee on Twentieth Century Missionary Fund reported urging that the matter be brought before the churches and that a strong effort be made to raise three thousand dollars on the Island for Home and Foreign Missions. Followed by a free discussion and adopted suggesting a committee be appointed by the Nominating Committee. The Report on Temperance was read by Rev E P Calder, Summerside and followed by a full and hopeful discussion.

SATURDAY EVENING.

SIXTH SESSION.

Report on Temperance was presented by Rev. E. P. Calder of Summerside. The report urged that we as Baptists stand for an honest and pure ballot, and that as individuals and churches we advocate total abstinence from the use of both intoxicating liquors and tobacco. Also we recommend our church members to exercise a loving solicitation for the fallen.

Wm. McLeod of Dundas spoke a few words, pointing out the cost of the liquor traffic to the country and the need of more vigorous effort in enforcing the liquor laws.

Rev. C. P. Wilson of Cavendish was introduced and spoke on the subject of the evening, which he said was considered by many to be obsolete. This is a great mistake. Men give attention to the repairing of their houses when they need it and keep on doing so, not considering the subject of repairs at all obsolete; why then should they apply such a term as obsolete to the burning question of Temperance? The subject is not at all obsolete. Who wants the Prohibition Bill repealed? Nobody but those who are either in the rum business or identified with it, or those who drink it. This fact is one of the strongest arguments in favor of Prohibition. He urged every Christian and every Baptist to be a true Prohibitionist.

Rev. E. P. Calder of Summerside gave a black-beard talk, in which he depicted the many and varied sides of the giant evil, Intemperance, and the futility of any attempts to reform except based on principle and right.

MONDAY EVENING.

The seventh business session of the Association opened at 10.30 Monday morning the moderator Rev J. L. Miner presiding. The circular letter was read by Rev J. Clark of Tryon. The subject was what is involved in church membership which was handled in an able, concise and inspiring manner. The writer spoke with no uncertain sound on the duties and privileges of those who take upon them the yoke of the Redeemer. Complimentary remarks were made by Pastors Warren, Brown, Wilson, and Deacons McLeod, Howatt and others and it was resolved that the excellent letter be published in pamphlet form for distribution among the churches.

The new Pastors, Miner of Charlottetown, Wilson of Cavendish, Gardner of East Point and Haywood of Trye Valley were invited to the platform and welcomed to the Association by Pastor Warren of Montague. "Blest be the tie that binds" was heartily sung after which each of the brethren made response.

Report on Sunday Schools was presented by Dea. W. B. Howatt of Tryon. This report showed increased interest and attendance much of which can be attributed to the indefatigable labors of our efficient Field Secretary Rev. G. P. Raymond. The report urged the need of continued effort in S. School work, of vigilance and care in the selection of S. S. Libraries and appealed to the older ones not to rest content with sending the little ones to school but to go there with them and help along to good work. Report was spoken to by several all of whom endorsed the importance of Sunday School work.

Resolved that Com. on S. Schools be instructed to see that in future at least one session of the Association be devoted to S.S. work with a platform meeting in the evening, the com. to be responsible for program.

ESTIMATE OF CORONATION LOSSES REACHES $5,000,000

Lloyds Will Lose a Million Seat Spectulators $2,000,000, Less $600,000 Insurance, While Railways, Hotels, Tradesmen and Caterers Will Also Lose Heavily.

LONDON, June 28.—Now that the first effects of the paralyzing blow have worn away it is impossible to get some idea of the tremendous loss which the postponement of the coronation entailed.

One no longer talks of thousands but hundreds of thousands of pounds when speaking of the amount of money which one way or another will go for nothing.

A rough estimate of the losses that can be calculated upon with some basis of fact makes the appalling total £1,000,000, and this does not include what has been spent for robes, jewels, coaches and horses by the nobility.

In the first place, Lloyds, underwriters' loss, at a conservative estimate, £300,000 on policies which covered the risk that the festivities would not take place on Thursday and Friday, June 26th and 27th. They stand to lose half as much again on those policies which covered the risk that the coronation would not take place at all.

Next come the seat speculators. Insurance policies taken out by them amount to some £120,000. Now, the erection of stands and the advertising and the paying for rights involved an expenditure of at least £500,000. Supposing one way or the other they retain £180,000 out of the money paid for tickets and they receive £260,000 for insurance they are still losers of £280,000.

The loss is made up of several items, the two main ones being the cost of constructing the stands and hiring the premises.

In several cases—large premises—more than £2,000 was paid for the right to build stands. Seats were erected altogether for nearly six hundred thousand persons.

Tradesmen who let out their own premises and did not employ agents also lose heavily.

Many shops have thrown themselves out of gear for months preparing for the coronation visitor. Little ordinary business has been done, while the rent has kept up as usual, and wages have gone on. At least £300,000 was lost by tradesmen in this way.

Caterers and food contractors of all descriptions and fruit and wine merchants all lose heavily, as London is now stocked with twice as much provisions as ordinarily would be consumed. A great deal of this is perishable and will be a dead loss. Thousands of contractors for luncheons were cancelled within a few hours of the news of the King's illness being made known.

These caterers in turn repudiate their contracts for supplies, so that the loss is divided between three classes, but some how they will be £50,000 out of pocket and unaccounted for.

Railway companies calculated to bring 800,000 visitors to London on Thursday and Friday. Almost every available carriage was let at prices ranging from five to twenty guineas for each day. The average price for a single horse vehicle was seven guineas.

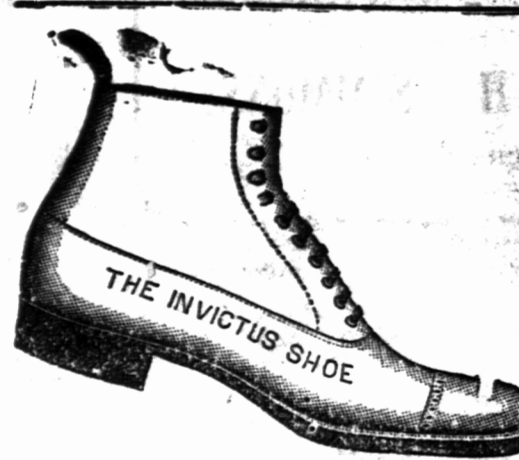

Private and corporation decorations and illuminations now counting for naught cost at least £100,000. Then the Government's expense in erecting stands in the Abbey and bringing the King's and the nation's guests to London approximates more than £100,000.

What is to show for all this expenditure? Thousands upon thousands of empty seats, flapping pennons and banners, garland encircled masts, shovily bedecked buildings, innumerable illuminations of varied designs, all of which seem sadly out of place, while the King, in whose honor these sprang into existence lies stricken.

A LARGE number of persons took in the Foresters' excursion to West River yesterday. The steamer Hillsboro left the Prince Street wharf at one o'clock to the strains of Worth's excellent band. When arriving at West River the excursionists went up the bank to a large field at the rear of Theo. Stewart's farm where refreshment booth and other amusements had been prepared. During the afternoon many enjoyed a clam bake on the shore and others took advantage of the pretty lanes and field nearby. Owing to a slight misunderstanding a table for guests was not furnished. Through the kindness of the Captains the excursionists on the way home were taken around the site of the new bridge which was much enjoyed by all on board.
