Bush Fruits

COMPARISON OF DIFFERENT KINDS OF BUSH FRUITS

(Experimental Farms Note)

On the Quebec City market, hundreds of crates of strawberries and raspberries are handled for one of currants or gooseberries. This should not be so, because some of the bush fruits, like gooseberries, are not enough appreciated as a desert fruit, being most appetizing during the hot season when thoroughly ripe, whilst red currants might be used as a flavor in soda fountain, or to make jelly of a pleasing color.

During fourteen years, most of the best known varieties of black, red, and white currants, and of gooseberries, have been tested at the Cap Rouge Experimental Station. Bushes were planted on a naturally drained sandy loam of good fertility, which to all appearances is fairly uniform, and were grown under conditions which were considered the same for all. The soil was reasonably manured ington; Secretary, Miss Laura MacDonald, Little Pond. There being no further business the meeting adjourned until 8 p. m.

Evening Session

The evening session opened with singing of "Smile a Little Bit." The rest of the program was as follows: Recitation by the Misses MacPherson, Launching, (Encored). Solo by Miss M. Jenkins, Annandale.

Solo by Bridgetown Quartette, (Encored).

Recitation by Miss Gardner, Launching.

Solo by Mr. U. Burdett, (encored). Recitation by Miss McCormack, Little Pond.

Trio by Messrs U. Burdette, H. McLeod and N. Burdett.

Now Is The Time To Prepare For Plums

By Hernalis Harris Fraser

Although the sort of plums we are about to discuss is probably not the same variety found by Jack Horner in his famous pie, yet this fall fruit is greeted with as much excitement by both big and little folks. As a sweet the following recipe will interest mothers of children who are constantly demanding candy:

Deputy Minister of Public Works and Highway Commissioner, Province of Manitoba, a Director of the Canadian Good Roads Association, who discusses at the annual convention at Charlottetown, Sept. 18, some modern trends in cement and concrete highways.

Candied Plums

2 cups of plums, stoned.
2 apples, chopped into small pieces.
1 lemon, chopped into slices.
1-2 cups of sugar.

Boil these ingredients until they are quite thick. Let harden, and cut into slices.

Plums are considered indigestible if eaten raw. It is much better to cook them.

Plum Jam

Put 1 quart of plums from which the stones have been removed in a kettle. Add to them 1 quart of white sugar, some powdered cloves and a cup of hard cider. Stir often. Let the jam boil for ten minutes. Pour into glasses and cover with paraffin.

Plum Pie

Make some puff pastry, or rub butter over the surface of some pastry you have left over. Roll into the shape of a pie crust. Put it in a pie pan. Stone the plums. Put them into the shell along with a cup of sugar and a tablespoon of flour. Cover with another shell. Bake in a quick oven. Before it is cooked, brush the top crust with the beaten white of egg and a little sugar.

Plums Preserved Ready for Pie

You may want to put plums away ready to make into pies during the winter months.

4 lbs. of plums.
3 cups of white sugar.

Stone the plums. Put them in a steamer and steam them until the juice flows readily. Add the sugar. Pour into the glass jars and cover with paraffin wax.

Prunes are plums, made from the fresh fruit by exposing them alternately to the heat of the sun and to oven heat. Prunes are used all year round for their medicinal value and as a dessert.

Plum Sauce

Take 3 pounds of plums. Add to them 1/2 pound of sugar, a teaspoon of cinnamon and two slices of bread, crumbed. Cook the kernels separately and add their juice to the plums. This is nice in small tarts or between cake layers.

Plum Marmalade

Wash the plums and put them in a kettle on the stove. Let them simmer. The stones will boil out of them and come to the surface. Press the pulp through a sieve. Add the juice of one orange and the juice of one lemon. Add sugar. To a pint of the plum pulp use a pint of white sugar. Pour into jars and cover with wax.

FAMILY OF SIX QUALIFY AS DOCTORS

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(By The Canadian Press)—Of the six children of Councilor J. T. Hallinan, Mayor of Lewisham, the borough covering a large slice of Southeastern area of London, six have qualified for the medical profession. His five sons are all doctors, and his daughter, Miss Eileen Hallinan, has just become qualified. All the sons served with the Royal Army Medical Corps in France.

HERE FOR THE CONVENTION

Among those attending the Good Roads Convention are two managing editors of leading Canadian dailies, viz. Mr. J. A. McNeill, of the Montreal Gazette, and Mr. F. K. Jennings of the St. John Telegraph-Journal. Mr. McNeill has attended no fewer than nine out of sixteen Good Roads Conventions, and has always shown the liveliest interest in their proceedings, especially from a publisher's point of view.

IN MEMORY—The City Public Schools will close today at 12.30 out of respect for the late Dr. Jenkins who for 30 years has been an honored member of the School Board. The Senior boys of West Kent and Queen Square schools will attend the funeral in a body. The flags on City Schools are flying at half staff in loving memory of deceased.

AT ROTARY—At the Rotary luncheon yesterday the speaker was Dr. Cyrus MacMillan who took as the subject of an earnest, thoughtful and timely address "The Value of Tradition." While realizing that all the old customs were not dressed in the livery of heaven, he felt that the whole trend of modern life is away from tradition. This is a regrettable situation. Our pioneers are the greatest teachers which our province has ever known in the art of living and if we neglect and ignore this art we will not last long. There are three ways in which the problem involving the maintenance of wholesome tradition may be faced. (1) By means of literature which is the lasting expression in words of the meaning of life. (2) By song. (3) By taking a pride in our community. The speaker deplored the great lack of knowledge of local history and especially of the notable work done by the early settlers through wise wisdom and courage the foundation of our present prosperity and progress was laid. Percy W. Turner was in the chair and the guests were Dr. Shutt and Mr. Wright of Ottawa and Mr. George W. Cumming of New York. On motion of Past President, Pops, the secretary was instructed to place on record the expression of the Rotary Clubs deep regret at the loss suffered by the community by the death of Dr. S. R. Jenkins.

CONFERRED WITH Thornton And Dunning

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—Right Hon. J. H. Thomas conferred this morning with Sir Henry Thornton and Hon. Chas. A. Dunning on matters of mutual concern, chief of which will be the question of the use of British coal by the Canadian National Railways. The president of the C. N. R. and the Minister of Railways promised to give every opportunity to British coal at points where it would compete with foreign coal, but could not offer much encouragement for British orders in the eastern and western regions, where Nova Scotia and Alberta coal are used.

Mr. Thomas made it clear he did not want to enter into competition with Canadian products. The British minister, when spoken to this afternoon, stated quite emphatically that he is not asking Sir Henry Thornton to go to England and advise the government there with respect to railway problems. Mr. Dunning, who recently expressed the hope that Sir Henry would not be leaving Canada, is presently engaged in drawing up a new contract with the National Railways' president covering a period of several years. The government is disposed to recognize his work by a substantial increase in salary.

Move To Secure Low Freight Rates On Tuber to West

ST. JOHN, Sept. 16.—The Transportation Commission of the Maritime Board of Trade is taking steps to secure the emergency rates on Maritime potatoes shipped to the central provinces of Canada following the information received by F. M. Sclanders, commissioner of the St. John Board of Trade, of the pending shortage in the potato crop of the west this fall.

The commission is approaching the railway authorities to secure the re-institution of low freight rates which were given to the Maritime shippers last spring, and proved of mutual benefit to both sections of the Dominion.

The authenticated report of a pending shortage in the United States this fall adds a strange light to the matter, as pointed out by Mr. Sclanders yesterday afternoon. The producers of the Middle Western States across the border from Canada are pouring their produce into the shortened Canadian market, forsaking their own home market and the United States Government is contemplating, at the present time, raising the duty on Canadian potatoes from 80 to 75 cents per hundred pounds. The Transportation Commission of the Maritime Board of Trade is seeking the re-institution of low freight rates on potatoes for the purpose of permitting the eastern provinces of Canada to supply the wants of the western Canadian market. The Maritime crop this year is considered up to normal.

Revision Will Apply To List Of Commodities

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—Although the government feels it is compelled to do something in reply to the United States tariff affronts, any decision as to the actual commodities to be selected for tariff increase against the United States has yet to be made. From what can be learned, it is expected that the revision will not be confined to one or two salient items, but they will be seen in a considerable list of commodities, and in every case consideration will be given to the extent to which these commodities can be replaced by goods of Canadian manufacture or by imports from the United Kingdom.

Any new fiscal policies to be disclosed next session may be confined to a tangible reply to the United States. What is to be done in the other direction in widening the avenues of intra-imperial trade may await the imperial economic conference, which is likely to be held next midsummer either in London or Ottawa.

Thornton To Stay With C. N. R.

Mr. Francis Kelly of Toronto writes:

"Close on a year ago I was taken sick... My system was poisoned and my life in jeopardy. I commenced taking Dr. Watson's Tonic and my condition improved and now I am in perfect health."

This man's experience is not unique. Thousands bear witness to the almost miraculous results obtained from using this century-old English beverage-tonic. Dr. Watson's Tonic Stout and Ale have been made in England since 1837. A 70¢ package makes 3 gallons.

tion for any report of his going elsewhere.

The salary to be paid the president in the new agreement has not been decided but it is said there is no warrant whatever for any suggestion that the president has applied for more money. Whatever his remuneration in future, it will be on the initiative of the government.

Sir Henry, at present draws $75,000 a year. Comparisons with what is paid other big railway executives will be a factor in settling his future remuneration along with consideration of the results he has achieved in the financial rehabilitation of the National System.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—The Citizen today in a newspaper feature stated that "before leaving Ottawa yesterday afternoon, Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas gave an emphatic denial to reports that he had been endeavoring to induce Sir Henry Thornton to leave Canada and go over for railway organization in England. "I never made any such fool proposal," he said.

We use this adjective advisedly. Sufferers from Eyestrain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any evil defect.

The motive power of the entire human organism is Nerve Energy.

Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 30% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eyestrain is present, a much larger proportion is required.
