"Where Old Friends Meet"

TRYON W. I.
On the evening of July 13th nineteen members of the Tryon Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Heath Howatt. Two visitors were present. The meeting opened by singing the Ode, followed by repeating the Creed in unison. After the roll was responded to the minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. A committee was appointed to interview the parents regarding vocal lessons in the school for the coming year. This committee is as follows: Mrs. Sheldon Howatt, Mrs. Robert Crawford, Mrs. Waldon Woodside, Mrs. Spurgeon Clark. It was suggested that the parents be told that the practice this year would be that only those children who pay would have the advantage of the lessons. It was moved by Millie Gam-
