Missionary Meeting At Kensington

On Tuesday evening, March 10th, a public missionary meeting was held under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society, in the United Church, Kensington, at which Mrs. (Rev.) George Murray of Malpeque was present and gave a very interesting address on Canadian mission work in Trinidad. The pastor of the church, Rev. B. Chalmers Salter, presided, and the choir, with Mrs. John Walker at the organ, led the singing. Reading of the Scriptures from parts of Romans 10 and Galatians 3, was followed by prayer of invocation, and after singing "Work For the Night is Coming," the special speaker for the evening was called upon. Mr. Salter in introducing Mrs. Murray, spoke of his friendship with Mr. Murray during college days and later, when they both served during the Great War, returning afterward to finish their interrupted college courses. Mr. Murray chose the foreign mission field for his life's work and was sent with Mrs. Murray to Trinidad, where they served until last year, when lack of support compelled them to withdraw.

Mrs. Murray expressed her pleasure at being present and brought greetings from the Christian women of Trinidad to the women in the home field, and went on to speak of the great need of reinforcements instead of withdrawal, in the foreign field. Port of Spain is a beautiful city, and any one going into the stores and served by obliging, intelligent young native salesmen, do not realize that most of them in their homes bow down to idols; every fifth person in Trinidad being now Christian. Hinduism and Mohammedanism are the religions practiced by the East Indians. A great deal of good is being done in the Christian schools and colleges, many of them having native teachers, but it is in the rural districts and among the poor labouring people that the need is great. The fathers and mothers, and indeed in most cases the children in the homes over twelve years of age, labour long hours in the cocoa fields a few cents a day, leaving the younger ones at home to care for themselves as best they may.

It is by going among these natives, human beings as we are—loving and hoping and despairing—whose religion gives them little hope here and none for the life beyond, that Mrs. Murray and the other missionaries wives come into touch with the women and children, going into their bare and poverty stricken homes, and having them in turn visit the missionaries in their homes and by hygiene talks and teaching them the tenets of Christianity, strive for their physical, moral and spiritual uplift.

It is a great work, built up on hardship and sacrifice, and where the younger ones are strengthened with more support it is necessary to re-trench and withdraw.

Where do the women of Canada stand and what is their responsibility in this matter? "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. How shall they call upon Him in Whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in Him Whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher except they be sent?" Let us each ask "Lord, what would Thou have me to do?"

At the close of her address Mrs. Murray showed some articles used by the East Indians; a heavy brass plate used for eating all their food off. A drinking vessel, used by the faithful. A Hindu priest would never put any other vessel except his own, to his lips; silver bracelets, diamond cut—worn by the better classes—the women and girls carry their dowry, their wealth, on their arms and around their necks, and it is only under the most urgent circumstances that they will part with any of their coins and bracelets.

A silver collection was taken to augment the allocation fund, and the meeting closed with singing "Jesus Saves" and the Benediction. B.
