Crop Report

(Special to The Guardian)
WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 27.—Heavy rains all over the western region have delayed harvesting and threshing activities and in practically all districts the rains were more of a hindrance than a benefit as all crops are either out or so near to maturity that the straw is too ripe to conduct moisture to the grain heads. Rust has not been a factor in affecting the 1932 crop. The only possibility which exists today whereby the year's crop could be altered is through the medium of excessive rains and the damage they could do to the grade through sprouting and weathering. Reports of widely varying yields came from some localities and indications are that acreage yields in Alberta will exceed those of the other two grain growing provinces, according to the final crop report of the agricultural department of the Canadian National Railways.

Threshing in Manitoba is fully half completed and the date indicates a high quality wheat berry with prospects of the average yield being in the neighborhood of ninety to twenty bushels to the acre. Coarse grains in the south central areas are for the most part disappointing due to grasshopper damage and some districts will require all their oats and barley for feed and seed purposes. The Swan River Valley is this year harvesting one of the best crops in its history. In Southern Saskatchewan, wheat cutting is practically completed except where fields are being left for combining and when grain becomes sufficiently dry after the rain, combines and threshing machines will be operating. Wheat yields will be variable and flax and oat crops will have their output diminished due to the recent dry spell. Northern areas in the Province are hoping for warm weather as wheat crops are extremely heavy, ripening is slow and the fear of an early frost prevails. Southern Alberta's wheat harvest is about fifty percent complete. Central and northern cropping areas report crops maturing rapidly with cutting well advanced and total hail damage is small compared to last year.

The Peace River territory reports weather warm and dry with harvesting general and no damage from any source. Yields will not be as heavy as last year.

MEMORIAL DAYS OBSERVED

I. O. F. And Rebekahs Decorate Graves At Service In People's Cemetery Yesterday.

Memorial Day, the occasion for the annual decoration of graves by Oddfellows and Rebekahs of the city, was observed yesterday at the People's Cemetery. Despite a heavy shower of rain which delayed proceedings, the parade which moved off from the I. O. F. Hall about 3 o'clock, was a very creditable one. Headed by the Legion Band, and marshalled by Mr. John T. Martin in the unavoidable absence of Col. H. M. Davison, the procession proceeded directly to the cemetery. The members carried the floral links which were placed on the graves of the departed brethren. The older members went to the cemetery by car.

The chairman of proceedings at the cemetery was Mr. Louis Stewart, Past Grand Master, who called upon Rev. H. D. Raymond, Rector of St. Paul's, for the address. The speaker made reference to the memory of those who had passed on, and stressed in this connection the principles of the order, friendship, love and truth. The beauty of the floral tributes, with which 102 graves were decorated, was remarked upon by many interested spectators.

Taking part in the Rebekah service were Sister Mae Adams who decorated the graves in the north, Sister Annie Garnham in the south, Sister Bertie Stewart in the east, Sister Ruby Houle in the west, and Sister Sadie Sentner, who decorated the war graves.

Graves of deceased brothers and sisters in outlying cemeteries were decorated during the morning. Details of the ceremony were arranged by a committee under the chairmanship of Mr. Gordon Leitch, Past Grand Master, and were carried out most successfully.

The decoration ceremony was inaugurated in 1892 at the suggestion of Brother A. J. Houle, whose interest in the welfare of the order now and in years past is fully appreciated and recognized. At the institution of the ceremony in 1892 the decoration of ten graves and a short service comprised the observance of this day. The Grim Reaper has been ever present in the ranks taking his yearly toll until today 102 mourners mark the resting places in People's Cemetery, whilst 38 others are sprinkled far and wide throughout the Island and still others north, south, east and west in other parts of Canada and the United States.

The fire, which is of unknown origin, started about 2 p.m. and raged with great violence for two hours. The inmates of the Simpson home were visiting neighbors at the time. They are now occupying a vacant dwelling on a nearby farm. There is much sympathy for Mr. Simpson in the loss which he and his family have sustained.

Message to Baldwin

To Mr. Baldwin, Premier Bennett cabled:

"As you return to your native shore you will be pleased to know that there has been very general approval of the work of the Imperial Economic Conference and a firmer determination on the part of our people to maintain their place in the Empire. Kindest personal regards to yourself and Mrs. Baldwin."

From Mr. Baldwin, the following message was received by Mr. Bennett:

"Deeply grateful for your message which reached me at Southampton after excellent voyage. Very glad to hear on return from Conference with which your name will always be associated that Canada welcomes so heartily results of our work. Find strong evidence of similar feeling here. Mrs. Baldwin and I keep warmest recollection of Canadian hospitality and your personal kindness. Best regards from us both."

To Mr. Thomas.

The cable of the Prime Minister to Mr. Thomas read:

"Your indefatigable efforts for the cause of Empire both within and without the Conference have already borne fruit and I sincerely trust that you will be gratified to hear that there has been general approval throughout the Dominion of the results accomplished. Kindest regards to yourself and Mrs. Thomas."

Mr. Thomas replied to Mr. Bennett as follows:

"Your message deeply touched me. On stepping ashore on English soil I find evidence of Imperial spirit by reception we received. It was indeed a heavy task for all delegations at Ottawa. Our compensation is that Conference consolidated British commonwealth. No statesman requires more thanks than that and your chairmanship helped largely to achieve it. Mrs. Thomas joins with me in best personal thanks."

To Mr. Chamberlain

To Mr. Chamberlain, the Prime Minister cabled:

"As you put your foot on the shore of England I am sure you will be inspired to greater effort by the recollection of the great work you have accomplished here which will ever keep the name of Chamberlain green in the annals of Empire. Kindest personal regards to yourself and Mrs. Chamberlain."

Mr. Chamberlain sent the following message to Premier Bennett:

"I deeply appreciate your generous words and shall always remember with pride that at your invitation the name of Chamberlain appears on the Canadian treaty in recognition of my father's work. My wife joins me in kindest remembrance."

To Sir John Gilmour

The cable of the Prime Minister to Sir John Gilmour read:

"I trust you will return to your native shore inspired to further efforts by the thought that the arrangements made here for advancing Empire interests in agriculture have been received with hearty accord throughout the Dominion. Kindest personal regards."

Sir John sent the following message to Premier Bennett:

"Appreciate message and look forward to mutual advantages for agriculture. Greatly value Canadian hospitality and goodwill."

Other Messages.

To Sir Atul Chatterjee, Mr. Bennett's message read:

"You will be pleased to hear as the representative of our most ancient civilization that your efforts in the new world have borne fruit beyond our expectations and that the results of the conference have been received with great expressions of approval throughout the Dominion. Kindest personal regards to yourself and Mrs. Chatterjee."

Sir Atul replied as follows:

"Most grateful for your very kind message. My colleagues and I are delighted that the work of the conference under your able and distinguished chairmanship has commended itself to your people. We are confident that the results will be received with equal approbation by the people of India and we hope earnestly that Canada and India will be bound by even closer ties. TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow." Let us place the emphasis this week on the word "all." Paul may plant and Apollous water but God giveth the increase. It is so in all the relationships of life. Opinions may differ as to the extent of the benefits which may result from the Imperial Economic Conference closed a week ago. Prayers earnest and sincere were offered to God for the success of that Conference so let all now give thanks if as one result the peoples of the various parts of our great Empire may be united in a closer bond of fellowship which will give impetus to and ultimately bring to function the broader view of a universal brotherhood. It may be that the Conference is a step forward towards a movement that will bring to the troubled world a new social order. In any case let us continue to trust God and as we were reminded by the opening morning hymn "Above thee watching, He whom we adore Shall keep thee henceforth, yea forevermore." The Ordinance of Baptism was performed in connection with the morning service after which the children retired for their separate service in the Sunday School. There were 130 present and the average attendance for the month of August was 153 which was a sixty percent increase over the average for 1931.

Trinity has been favored with delightful solos in each service during August, yesterday Professor A. W. Trueman of Mount Allison gave two arias "Lord God of Abraham" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and "It is enough." It is indeed a rare privilege to listen to such compositions from the great Masters interpreted so magnificently as did Professor Trueman on this occasion.

In the evening Miss Verna Rodd sang very sweetly "Come Unto Me" from "The Messiah," and at the Offertory Mrs. Roy Cudmore and Mr. George Johnson sang as a duet "Love Divine."

Miss Lillian McKenzie, Mus. Bac. was the Organist for the day and presided at the organ in a capable and pleasing manner. Rev. C. N. Brown, M. A., was the Preacher at both services and delivered very helpful sermons, the morning text was Ephesians 1:7: "The forgiveness of sins according to the riches of his grace" and the text at evening was from Jeremiah 29-12: "Ye shall seek me and find me when ye shall search for me with all your heart."

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Both services at the Central Christian Church yesterday were taken by Pastor J. W. Hayter, Deer Island Church of Christ, N. B., in the absence of Pastor W. L. Outhouse who preached yesterday at Summerside. In the morning, following the observance of the Lord's Supper, Mr. Hayter addressed a ward towards a movement that will bring to the troubled world a new social order. In any case let us continue to trust God and as we were reminded by the opening morning hymn "Above thee watching, He whom we adore Shall keep thee henceforth, yea forevermore." Mollison will get away for Harbor Grace, Nfld., tomorrow. He retired early tonight to obtain a good rest. The young Scot, first solo flyer to make the westerly Atlantic crossing, planned to fly to Nerepis tomorrow morning in a local plane. From there he will fly his own plane to this city, refuel here, and then take off for the Newfoundland airport. His course lies over Prince Edward Island and the tip of Cape Breton.

He anticipated no difficulty in hopping from the field at Nerepis. Only a third of its length was needed for the landing and he expected to take off without turning the plane around.

Captain Mollison gave the time of his landing as 3.45 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, exactly five hours after he left New York. Running into fog at Rockland, Me., he nosed inland for 15 miles, taking a course paralleling the coast until he spotted a railway line in New Brunswick. He followed this to within nine miles of St. John, noting the field at Nerepis in case he found it necessary to return. The fog became too dense and he retraced his route, landing without difficulty in the field on M. O. MacKenzie's farm.

"My wife has definitely abandoned her proposed trans-Atlantic flight," Mollison said while enroute from Nerepis to Saint John. During the brief motor trip he studied a map of the Maritimes and Newfoundland, asking questions as to identification of points along the route. Mechanics who will service his plane at Harbor Grace reached that place today.

"They treated me jolly fine," he said, speaking of his reception at New York. He had been impressed by his speedy rides through Manhattan traffic, with police sirens clearing the way.
