TIGERS WIN 4-3 TO CAPTURE WORLD SERIES

Goslin Singles In Ninth To Drive In Winning Run

Veteran Outfielder's Hit Scores Cochrane From Second And Sends Record Crowd Into Wild Demonstration. Game Full Of Tense Situations.

(By Alan Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor) (A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) DETROIT, Oct. 7—Leon Allen Goslin, an amiable New Jersey farmer known far and wide as "The Goose," struck the $50,000 blow today that carried Detroit's Tigers to their first world championship in a slugging, rip-roaring finish to the baseball wars of 1935.

With the score tied, two out and Manager Mickey Cochrane on second base in the last half of the ninth inning, the Goose produced the golden baseball, a line single over the head of Billy Herman, star second baseman of Chicago Cubs, that brought Cochrane home with the deciding run.

Goslin's winning hit off Larry French, Cub southpaw, gave the battling Bengals a 4-3 victory in the sixth game, and carried them to triumph in the series by a margin of four games to two and enabled slim Tommy Bridges, curve-ball right-hander to achieve his second pitching conquest after a thrilling struggle.

BRIDGES BRILLIANT IN CUBS HALF OF NINTH Coming after a brilliant stand by Bridges, who stopped the Cubs solid in their half of the ninth after Stan Hack had opened with a triple to deepest centre, the Goose's wallop touched off one of the wildest home-town demonstrations any World Series has witnessed since the renowned Walter Johnson pitched Washington Senators to victory over New York Giants at Washington in 1924.

The biggest crowd that has ever seen a ball game in Detroit, 48,420 roaring fans who contributed to the seventh million-dollar "gate" in World Series history and the third largest of all, poured out on the field the moment that Cochrane crossed the plate, well ahead of Frank Demaree's futile throw in the general direction of home.

Dramatic Climax It was a highly exciting and dramatic climax to Detroit's long quest for the world championship of professional baseball. It was the first Tiger triumph in five attempts. Four times since the modern inter-league warfare began officially in 1905 Detroit has had its pennant winner turned back by National League rivals. Twice the Cubs turned the trick, in 1907 and 1908. The Pirates followed suit in 1909. Last year the city's first championship club in 25 years was beaten back on its home grounds by the gas house gang of St. Louis in a seven-game thriller after returning home with a 3-2 lead.

The final game was filled with tense moments, some of the hardest hitting of the series and marked by a bitter renewal of the war-fare between the Cubs and Umpire George Moriarty, of the American League, before Bridges earned the decision over French. Both pitchers went the route, under heavy fire, as each club collected an even dozen basehits. Both did some superb work in the pinches but the Tigers got the "breaks" when they capitalized their chances to squeeze out their third one-run victory in the last four games.

Gallant Fight Led by the sensational Billy Herman, who banged out three hits, including a home run in the fifth inning, and drove home all three Chicago runs, the Cubs put up a gallant fight to send the series into a seventh game. Scrampling all the way, swinging from the heels against Bridges' tied ball, the National Leaguers tied the score in the third, took the lead in the fifth and yielded only after giving the Tigers a last-inning scare.

A close decision at third base by Umpire Moriarty, in the third, cost the Cubs one run and another ruling by the same arbiter, in the sixth, had the Cubs growling in bitter protest against the man who seemed fated to be "on the spot" at any time there was a close play to call with the fortunes of the National Leaguers vitally involved. After singles by Cochrane and Charlie Gehring and Pete Fox's double had sent the Tigers off with a one-run lead in the first inning, the Cubs opened fire in the third against Bridges. Billy Jurges led off with a single, French fanned but Augie Galan's sharp drive caromed off Marvin Owen's glove near the first base-line for another base hit, sending Jurges to third. Herman's single to right tallied Jurges but Galan was cut down on Fox's brilliant throw to "Fies" Clifton at third base. Galan's hook-slide into the bag was simultaneous with the arrival of the ball. The Cubs kicked vehemently, renewing their feud with Moriarty, but it did them no good.

The Tigers took a 2-1 lead in the fourth with the aid of another "break." Gerald Walker, who had replaced Jo Jo White in centre field, and Billy Rogell led off with hits. Owen's attempted sacrifice resulted in a force out play. Hack to Jurges, at second base while Walker reached third and Owen got to first on the fielders' choice. Bridges then rapped a tricky bouncer to Hack. It looked like a double play as Hack fired the ball to Herman for a force-out but Bridges, showing an emergency turn of speed, beat the relay to first by a half-stride while Walker crossed the plate. Clifton ended the inning by forcing Bridges.

The Cubs took the lead on French's single and Herman's home run blast into the left field bleachers in the fifth, with two out. The count was 3 and 1 when the Cub second sacker took a toehold and put the ball among the customers in the open stands. The Tigers came back in the sixth to tie the score. With two out, Rogell doubled to the left-field corner and scored when Owen lashed a single to left on the first pitched ball for his first and only base hit of the entire series.

Warning Issued To Hockeyists

Aimed at stopping wholesale transfers of hockey players from the Maritime Provinces to the United States, Well A. Matheson, vice president of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association for P. E. I. today issued a warning as follows:

"Official warning is hereby given that any wholesale migration of Maritime Provinces hockey players to the United States or other places will result in the immediate suspension of players concerned, and such players will not be allowed to play organized hockey in Canada upon their return."

The warning was issued by Mr. Matheson under instructions from James Wry, Amherst, N. S., president of the M.A.H.A. In sport circles it was believed to have been aimed at a group of City League players who were offered berths on a Denver, Colorado, squad.

It would not apply to the seniors, Leo Sargent and Ivan Nicholson, newest additions to a Richmond, Newdon, England, team, whose case comes under a Canadian Amateur Hockey Association ruling, Mr. Matheson said.

Two out in the Cub half of the sixth, Hack doubled to right. He raced toward third as Jurges grounded sharply to Clifton, halted and started to retrace his steps to avoid being tagged. Swerving to one side, Hack tried to dodge Clifton's lunge and make another attempt to reach third but Moriarty ruled him out and the war of words was on again.

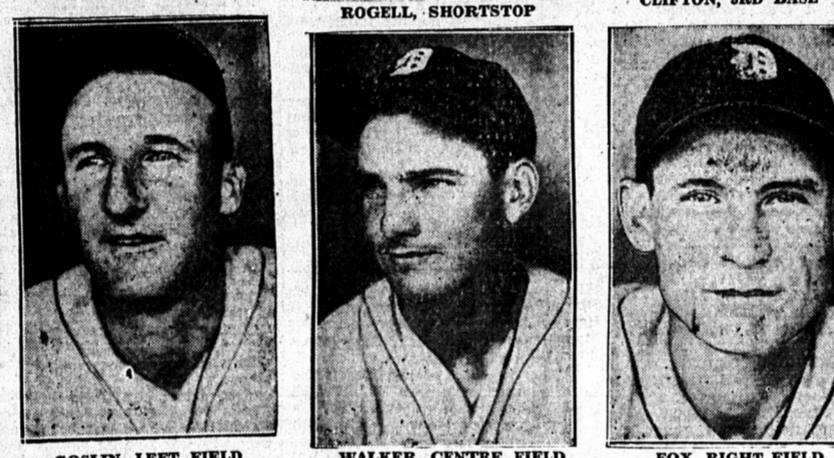

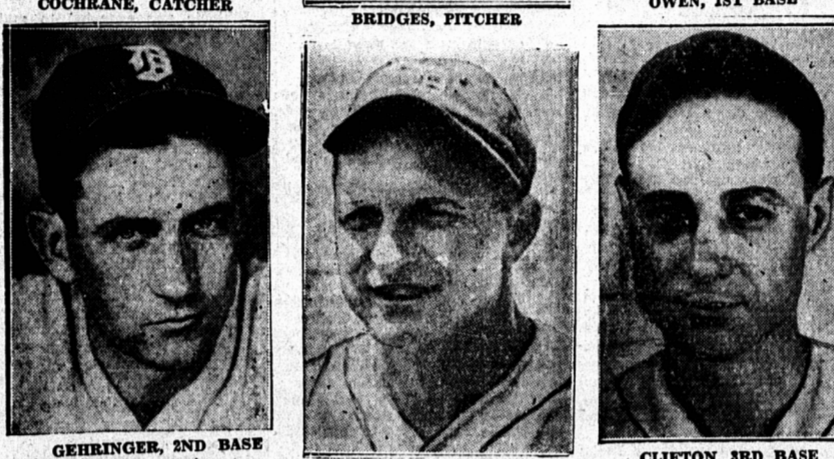

The huge crowd, all but filling the park to its utmost capacity, groaned as Hack delivered his second successive extra base wallop at the outset of the ninth. Hack got to third standing up.

It was the chance for Bridges to make his last stand and the Tennessee right-hander turned on the thunderbolts to do it. He fanned Jurges, retired French on a bouncer to the box and got Galan on a short fly to Goslin as Hack was left stranded. The last Cub hopes faded and the crowd yelled furiously.

Clifton fanned to start; the home team's half of the last inning but Cochrane drew a big roar from the crowd with his third hit of the game. The Tiger manager reached second on Gehring's roller down the first base line.

This set the stage for the Goose. Hitless in four previous turns at bat, Goslin swung hard at the first pitch and fouled it against the lower boxes in front of the right-field pavilion. He hit the next pitch on a line over Herman's head and Cochrane came home easily to end the ball game and the series.

World Series Sidelights

(By Paul Mickelson) (Associated Press Sports Writer) DETROIT, Oct. 7—The Goosie and the Tiger feasted at last tonight as Detroit fans, probably the most loyal of them all, went delirious with joy.

No sooner had the Goose, Leon Goslin, smashed the winning hit to drive in Manager Mickey Cochrane than fully 25,000 fans rushed on to the field and toward the Tiger dug-out. The playing field swarmed with humanity, wild and joyous.

"We want Goosie; we want Goosie," they yelled. But the Goosie was too fast for them. As soon as he saw Mickey across the plate Goosie dashed to the dugout. Police had a difficult time holding back the surging, wild mass. A half hour later, Goosie ran across the field escorted by six cops. He almost had his clothes ripped off by the mob.

Five policemen had to stand around the pitching mound to keep the wild crowd from ripping the rubber right out of the "hill." The playing field was littered with paper and a couple bushels of vegetables that some fans took along in case of another Joe Medwick-Marvin Owen battle.

Goslin's hit was the most precious in the history of all baseball. It gave the Tigers a world's championship after six attempts; it gave the Tigers an extra cut of $58,071.06 in the record players' pool, and it was worth $2,277.30 to each Tiger player. Each Tiger will receive $6,331.72 as his cut in 26 1-2 shares; each Cub will receive $4,382.72 as his cut in 26 1-2 shares. The former individual record cut was $6,143.49 won by New York Yankees in the series against the Giants 19 years ago.

Charlie Gehring and Pete Fox were the chief Tiger men on attack. Charlie got nine hits in 24 times at bat; Fox got 10 in 26 attempts. Bill Herman and Chuck Klein led the Cubs, Herman getting eight hits out of 24 and Klein four in eight.

SPORT BRIEFS

OXFORD BEGIN TRAINING

LONDON—The university boat race is more than six months ahead but Oxford has started preparations for breaking the long run of Cambridge successes. Two crews have already started training under the supervision of P. Haig Thomas, who coached Oxford for the last race, and H. M. Mosley, last year's president.

FRISCH'S RECORDS

ST. LOUIS—Frankie Frisch, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, established five new World Series records last fall: most games played in a series, 50; most times at bat, 197; most base-hits, 58; most singles, 45; most doubles, 10.

THE FASTEST CENTURY

TAUNTON, England—Harry Gimblett, farm-boy cricketer, who hit a century in 63 minutes while playing for Somerset against Essex in his first appearance; in first class cricket, has been awarded the Lawrence Trophy for the quickest hundred of the season. The silver cup was awarded by Sir Walter Lawrence and an order on a London store for $525 goes with it.

SPLITTING THE PIN!

MELBOURNE, Australia—Moyle Breehan played a mangle shot, 120 yards from the hole. The ball struck the top of the pin and drove the pin six inches into the ground. The ball was split by the contact with the pin.

Umpire George Moriarty got so mad at the Cubs once today that he was fuming. When the Cubs protested Hack's out at third in the sixth inning, big George wheeled around, rushed over to the left of third and demonstrated how Hack had run out of line in attempting to dodge Clifton. He almost fell over showing 'em how.

Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis had Manager Charlie Grimm and Jurges on the carpet again before game time because of their taunts at Moriarty. Something is almost certain to result from the "jury" meetings. The Cubs last night threatened to "get" George.

Goose Goslin And Bridges Showered With Praise From Triumphant Tigers

(By Charles Dunkley) (Associated Press Sports Writer) (A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) DETROIT, Oct. 7—With blood curdling yells that rocked the rafters, the victorious Tigers charged into their dressing room after wallowing the Cubs 4-3 today to cut loose in a wild, hilarious celebration.

They made for Goose Goslin, whose single in the ninth scored Manager Mickey Cochrane with the winning run. They surrounded him, pulled off his shirt and mauled and hauled him all over the place. Cochrane, who piloted the Tigers to their first world championship, was beaming with pride. He paid a remarkable tribute to little Tommy Bridges, the Tigers winning pitcher.

"A hundred and fifty pounds of courage," he yelled. "If there ever pitched in the greatest world series here. It was the finest exhibition of pitching I ever saw in a world series game. In the ninth inning, after Hack had tripled, Bridges threw nine of the best curves I ever looked at to get the next three men. We beat a great ball club. I'm glad its all over."

In game Kenesaw Mountain Landis, gray-haired commissioner of baseball, to extend his congratulations to Cochrane. Ford Frick, president of the National League, joined him.

"I never saw a greater world series game," was Landis' comment. Then Charlie Grimm, the Cubs Manager, came to extend his congratulations.

"Thanks, Charlie," Cochrane said, gripping the Chicago leader's hand. Then Grimm told him: "It was a helluva series. It was a tough one to lose. I hope we meet up again next year."

The Cubs trooped into their dressing room weary and crushed. Manager Grimm was disappointed and so were his players.

"We were beaten by a grand ball club," Grimm said. Big Larry French strode over to Grimm and shook his hand, remarking: "I'm sorry, Charlie," to which Grimm replied: "You pitched a helluva ball game, Larry, and it was a tough one to lose."

Lon Warneke, one of the stars of the series, remarked that "if we had to lose, it was a swell way to lose it, coming down to an exciting finish that way."

Eatons To Play Stewarts On Wednesday

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 7—Dorald Cummings, vice president of the Moncton Softball Association, received a letter from Pat Power, secretary of the Prince Edward Island association, this morning, stating that Stewart's Bakery team of Charlottetown, had been declared champions of the Island, but that the team's finances are low. Mr. Power, on behalf of the team, made the suggestion that all the games necessary in the inter-provincial playdowns with Eaton's, Moncton and New Brunswick champions, be played in Moncton, providing a guarantee for the Island squad could be arranged.

Mr. Cummings communicated with the Eaton team management today and an agreement was arrived at whereby the New Brunswick titlists would go to Charlottetown on Wednesday for the first game. They will not offer any guarantee to the Island squad, but that home and home games will be necessary. The second and, if necessary, third games will be played here on Saturday, the winners to play the Nova Scotia champions for the Maritime crown in Moncton.

Although the above date hasn't been definitely decided upon, the final word having yet to come from Moncton, it is fairly certain that the Bakery team will hook up with the New Brunswick titlists at the Victoria Park diamond tomorrow afternoon in the first game of the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island playdowns to determine a team to meet the Nova Scotia champions.

The local team face a mighty tough foe in the Hub city representatives who know the game from every angle but are not a bit undaunted. They have been getting in great practice session of late and right now are displaying the best form of the season and should give the visitors a battle from wire to wire.
