

HALF OUR ILLS ARE CATARRHAL IN NATURE.

Catarrhal Diseases are Most Prevalent in Winter. IS THERE NO WAY OF ESCAPE FROM THEM? Pe-ru-na Never Fails to Cure Catarrh Wherever Located.

There are some things which are as sure as fate, and can be relied on to occur to at least one-half of the human family unless means are taken to prevent.

First, the climate of winter is sure to bring colds.

Second, colds not promptly cured are sure to cause catarrh.

Third, catarrh improperly treated is sure to make life short and miserable.

Catarrh spares no organ or function of the body. It is capable of destroying sight, taste, smell, hearing, digestion, secretion, assimilation and excretion.

It pervades every part of the human body, head, throat, stomach, bowels, bronchial tubes, lungs, liver, kidneys, bladder and other pelvic organs.

That Peruna cures catarrh wherever located is attested by the following testimonials sent entirely unsolicited to Dr. Hartman by grateful men and women who have been cured by Peruna:

Systemic Catarrh.

Mrs. M. K. Bousch, Richmond, Va., writes: "I had catarrh all through my system for two years and could get no relief. I was advised to try Peruna and I have taken five bottles of it and am well and better now than I have been for years. I can advise any one who has catarrh of any part of the body to take Peruna. My little girl who is eleven years old had catarrh, but was cured by Peruna. Before I began to take Peruna I was sick all the time, but now I am entirely cured, and all praise is due Peruna."—Mrs. M. K. Bousch.

Catarrh of the Nose.

Mr. Herman Ehlike, 952 Orchard street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes: "I am entirely cured of my catarrh of the nose by your Peruna. My case was a severe one."—Herman Ehlike.

Catarrh of the Throat.

B. H. Runyan, Salesville, O., writes: "I suffered with catarrh of the throat for five years. I was induced to try Peruna. I have used five bottles and am perfectly well."—B. H. Runyan.

Catarrh of the Ear.

Mr. Archie Godin, 188 Beech street, Northburg, Mass., writes: "Peruna has cured me of catarrh of the middle ear. I feel better than I have for several years."—Archie Godin.

Catarrh of The Kidneys. Peter J. Unger, Hawley, Pa., writes: "I think that I am perfectly cured of catarrh of the kidneys by Peruna, as I have no trouble of any kind."—P. J. Unger.

Catarrh of The Stomach. A. W. Graves, of Hammond, Ind., writing to Dr. Hartman, says: "I am well of catarrh of the stomach after suffering two years. I have taken five bottles of Peruna and one of Mannin and I feel like a new man now."—A. W. Graves.

Pelvic Catarrh. Miss Katie Lochman, Lafayette, Ind., writes: "I had pelvic catarrh, pain in the abdomen, back, catarrh trouble and headache caused by catarrh. I followed your directions: took Peruna and Mannin according to directions, and how happy I feel that I am relieved of such a distressing ailment."—Miss Katie Lochman.

Catarrh of The Bowels. Mr. Henry Entzian, South Bend, Ind., writes: "The doctor said I had catarrh of the bowels and I took his medicine, but with no relief. I was getting worse all the time. Before I had taken a half bottle of Peruna I felt like a new man."—Henry Entzian.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Catarrh of The Lungs.

Mrs. Emilie Kirekhoff, Ada, Minn., writes: "Through a violent cold contracted last winter, I became afflicted with catarrh of the nose, which in a short time affected my lungs. I took Peruna which cured me thoroughly. I now feel better than I have for forty years."—Mrs. Emilie Kirekhoff.

Catarrh of The Bladder.

Mr. John Smith, 311 S. Third street, Atchison, Kan., writes: "I was troubled with catarrh of the urethra and bladder for two years. At the time I wrote to you I was under the care of my home doctor, and had been for four months.

"I followed your directions but two months, and can say Peruna cured me of that trouble."—John Smith.

Catarrh of The Head.

Mr. D. R. Ramsey writes in a recent letter from Pine Bluff, Ark., the following: "My son, Leon Ramsey, four years of age, suffered with catarrh of the head for eighteen or twenty months. He took one bottle of your Peruna and could hear as good as ever."—D. R. Ramsey.

THE CAPITAL OF THE WEST

Latest from Summerside and Prince County.

The best place in Summerside for Christmas presents is at Small & Beirsto's.

Calendars, Poets, Almanacs, Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymn Books, etc. at Morris' Bookstore.

Perhaps next year the matter of having the Stanley her by Dr. I. reay for the season's work, will be insisted upon.

Scores of children are awaiting the new goods in Small & Beirsto's store. That's where they want their Christmas presents purchased.

The Henty Book, Ballantyne and other books for boys are among the numerous articles for Christmas gifts for sale at Small & Beirsto's.

One year ago today the Stanley arrived in Summerside to be in readiness for the season's work. The steamer is a little later this year—and the season earlier.

ALBERT Foreythe, formerly of Alberton who has been spending a holiday on the Island left Summerside Wednesday night on return to Worcester, Mass., where he has charge of a large firm in connection with the State Hospital for the Insane.

ALBERTON harbor is frozen out to the mouth with the exception of a small opening near the wharves. This is rather unusual as this harbor is generally the last on the Island to close. The schooner Jessie Willie, Captain Bell, which is being loaded with produce by Byer, Woodman and Hunter for St. John's, Nfld., is likely to be frozen in. She has the last cargo for the season from that port, the schooner Citizen which was bound for that port having been wrecked near Souris.

Some Allurements of the Carbolic Acid Route.

The soul has been aptly described as a life prisoner which seldom escapes without killing its jailer.

Whatever may be said in favor of the dispirited individual forestalling nature and letting the prisoner out by his own hand, there is one form of suicide—the most common form with young girls—whose allurements deserve special commendation.

People abnormally addicted to self-pity (and nobody else ever commits suicide), after deciding to kill the flesh.

rather and let the bruised soul go free, perfectly right to cast about to find the most shocking and painful possible style of exit. The satisfaction involved in blowing his anaemic brains all over the clean wall and otherwise messing up a tidy room must be far greater to the self-centered and dejected young man than to compose himself decently on a couch and float into the sweet subsequently on an overdose of morphine or laudanum. It adds to the general horror and crack of doom stage effect, this painful blood-letting, and besides it makes his friends feel, oh, so sorry for him—and that's what he counts suicide for. He wants somebody to feel sorry.

When the very young woman—and sometimes the woman who is not so very young—has been let down into the gloom and dolor of the Valley of the Shadow of Death, and all for love, she hypnotizes herself into a belief that her life has been permanently frost-bitten, and at once sets about to find some means, not of punishing the faithless heart-breaker, but of punishing her own unoffending self. No woman, even as she enters the suicide's portal of doom, ever thinks for a moment of wreaking vengeance on the man. With her usual fine sense of logic and consistency, she hunts up the thorniest kind of a crown of thorns to wear all by herself.

Not content merely to die in an orderly and painless manner, she decides to combine the tortures of the rack, the thumbscrew, being boiled in oil, drinking molten lead and walking on red-hot plowshares, all in one; and she does it by swallowing a few spoonfuls of concentrated acids in the form of carbolic acid. Of course, she is well aware that there are painless and even alluring methods of dimming the golden stair, but she scorns them all. For example, there is cyanide of potassium, a piece of which as big as a shoe button touched to the tongue would stop the action of the heart and send the icy darts of death through the veins quicker than the swiftest bolt of lightning and with less pain than attends the chewing of onion or an onion. Prussic acid, also, will pop the troubled soul out of the body with almost equal celerity and absence of torture. Then there is the overdose of morphine or of laudanum, which is not only painless but which waits the suicide across the gloomy Styx in a fairy galleon, surrounded by gauzy iridescent dreams so enchanting that anyone once choosing that route out of trouble will never have any other.

Yet the morbid and lovelorn maiden will have none of these. All disappointed women crave the blistering flame of martyrdom. Not unlike the heroic red Indians, they rejoice in suffering. So we see a long procession of them depositing their frozen hearts on the drug store counter and hugging the liquid horror to their bosoms. We see them gulping down amazing mouthfuls of carbolic acid, which bites and sears and eats its agonizing way through the tender tissues of the throat and oesophagus and stomach, and kills, finally, by eating ghostly holes through the internal organs and literally burning the victims alive. White-hot, molten iron, gulped down out of a ladle, would produce precisely the same effect. To a man the prospect would be most unpleasant, but the more the horror is piled up the more it pleases the woman bent on self-slaughter.

Men who set out

In the Morgue common, choose the revolver way of the bay route. Woman is nerverier than man. Tender and timorous in all things until her deeper feelings are roused, she will then not only endure, but invite the most agonizing torment. It is true that the woman with the suicidal mania might come nearer her ideal of "the road under a harrow" by plunging under the fanged cylinder of a threshing machine, but threshing machines in operation are not numerous, distributed throughout the city; besides, fifteen cents' worth of carbolic anguish is just about as excruciating and therefore as satisfactory as $2,000 worth of threshing machine.—Grant Wallace.

The German Chicago.

The Berlin feminine world is indignant because one of the leading fashionable shoe houses advertises a bargain sale of small-sized ladies' boots and shoes on the ground "that the feet of the Berlin lady are growing larger and require a new assortment of large-sized stock." Needless to say this is Berlin, Germany.

A COMMON COLD

Is taken by the skin becoming colder than is natural. The instant a chilly sensation is felt the mischief is done; but it can always be rectified so that no appreciable results will follow by the immediate use of Dr. Humphrey's "77" restoring the checked circulation, starting the blood coursing through the veins and "breaking up" the cold. This may be hastened by taking some form of gentle exercise or work, and containing it until a perspiration is induced, manifested by a slight moisture on the forehead. 25 cents, all druggists.
