PRACTICAL DAILY GUIDE FOR VACANT LOT AND BACKYARD GARDENERS ENLISTED IN GREATER PRODUCTION CAMPAIGN

Notes on Garden Pests issued by the Canada Food Board in collaboration with the Dominion Entomologist.

GET THEM RIGHT

Every vegetable used for canning, dehydrating or storing should be in perfect condition. For satisfactory results it is necessary not only to have products which are absolutely free from decay but to catch them at just the right stage of development.

Even if perfectly sound, over-ripe vegetables are not satisfactory for canning because most vegetables undergo a decided change in texture as they reach maturity and become fibrous or pithy. This not only detracts from their quality but greatly increases the work of preparing them for canning or for drying and, later for cooking.

One factor which makes for success in saving for winter is to have all the products as freshly gathered as possible. Vegetables which have once been allowed to wilt are not nearly as good in the final analysis as those which are canned, dried or stored when absolutely fresh from the garden.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHN SHERREN

The death occurred at his home in St. Catharines on June 15th of John Sherran aged 24 years, after an illness of over a year. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherran and possessed many good qualities was liked by the entire community and is now safe in Jesus arms. He leaves to mourn their loss beside his mother and father, five brothers and five sisters. George their father and his mother and father, at home; James on Military service; Hector in Can. s. Cove; Neil and Peter in the west; Mrs. James Taylor, Charlottetown; Mrs. Walter Carson, Bonshaw; Mrs. Donald McLean in DeSable; Mrs. John McLean, Providence, R. I.; and Lizzie at home. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. McLean, there being over one hundred wagons in attendance. The pall bearers were Messrs James McFadyen, Hugh McFadyen, Seamore McLean, John McEachern, John Currie and Neil McKenzie. The remains were laid to rest in Canoe Cove Cemetery.

One less at home. The charmed circle broken—a dear face Missed day by day from its accustomed place. But cleansed, saved, perfected by grace. One more in Heaven.

One more on earth. Its pain, its sorrow and its toll to share. One less the pilgrim's daily cross to bear. One more the crown of the blest to wear. At Home in Heaven. Asleep for evermore. There may be one to take his place. —M. M.

MRS. JOSEPH MCAVINN

The community of Kelly's Cross and wherever she had friends were shocked on June 18th on learning of the demise of Mary Ann, beloved wife of Joseph McAvinn in the 57th year of her age. Mrs. McAvinn had been in failing health for the past year or two, and her sufferings were alleviated by every thoughtful method conceivable by her devoted husband and family, but all in vain. The deceased lady needs no commendation of fulsome praise at our hands, for her works and example shall live long after her death, and her posterity of whom three daughters have consecrated their lives and talents to the religious life, shall long cherish her memory and call her blessed.

She leaves to mourn her husband, six daughters and three sons, Herbert, Emmet, and Johnnie at home. The daughters are: Sister Mary Winifred in Indiana; Sisters Mary Aniceta and Mary Fortunata, in St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. Wm. T. Spenser, Cliftondale, Mass.; Florence of Malden, Mass.; and Margaret at home, also two sisters and two brothers. The funeral took place to Kelly's Cross on the 20th where the obsequies were performed by Rev. Dr. Curran, P. P. The pall bearers were: James Gorman, Thos. Malone, Peter McGuigan, John Haughey, Jerome McGuigan and Hugh McKenna.

MRS. JOHN S. AFFLECK

Thers departed this life on Wednesday, the 15th day of May, 1918, at her home in Bedouque, Sarah Pearl, beloved wife of John Stewart Affleck, and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacLean, of Searletown. Although her sojourn here below extended over the comparatively short period of only thirty-one years, yet she performed a wonderful service for her Lord and Master, and lived a life of devotion to His cause. At the early age of eleven years she repeated the shorter Catechism without missing a word, and was always a thoughtful and earnest student of the word of God. She passed through a lingering and trying illness which brought out in glowing beauty the several graces of the Christian life and all who visited her as well as those who remained in the home, could not but feel the influence of her delightful personality, and must have been impressed by her remarkable testimony. In her passing away was gloriously exemplified the power and marvellous working of the Holy Spirit in bringing the souls of God's people to a state of holiness and in comforting them in all their sorrows. As a little child falls asleep in its mother's arms she fell asleep in Jesus, closing her eyes to earthly scenes, but still beholding the beaming smile of Him Who cheered her in all her trials, and taught her to sing His praise. She was frequently visited during her illness by her minister, Rev. Jas. MacDougall, who was much attached to her, and who so highly appreciated her Christian disposition. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Waldron MacDougall, of Bedouque, as Rev. Mr. MacDougall was absent from the congregation at the time. The service was deeply impressive and comforting. Interment was made at Cape Traverse cemetery. She leaves to mourn, besides a disconsolate husband and sorrowing parents, one brother, Glenn, and also a large number of friends, relatives and acquaintances.
