ROLLED OATS MILL DISCUSSED BY CITY COUNCIL

The question of the immediate establishment of a rolled oats mill in Charlottetown was discussed at a gathering of the principal business men in the city yesterday afternoon, when the members of the City Council and the Council of the Board of Trade by special appointment met Messrs. L. H. Wheaton, C. E., of Halifax, J. H. Vromanhauser, engineer and contractor of mills and elevators, and J. Dalgleish, of Messrs. Goldie & McCulloch, mill outfitters, who have come here on behalf of the Colonial Corporations, Limited, of Halifax, the firm from whom the proposition to erect the mill comes. If what the Colonial Corporations, Limited, seek is obtained, in the near future Charlottetown will boast of a reinforced concrete building, five storeys high, in which the milling of rolled oats and cornmeal will be carried on to the extent of a turnout of about 300 barrels a day, necessitating the employment of 75 hands.

The representatives of the Colonial Corporations, Limited—Mr. Wheaton, in fact, one of its directors— arrived in Charlottetown from Halifax on Saturday night, and in the City Hall yesterday afternoon the meeting referred to was held.

His Worship the Mayor (Ald. C. Lyons) presided. The other members of the City Council present were Messrs. D. J. Riley, J. McKenna, J. McNevin, J. D. Taylor, W. W. Walker, T. Campbell, G. D. Wright and A. McLean, with Dr. Johnson, the Health Officer and Mr. K. J. Martin, Recorder.

The Council of the Board of Trade were represented by Mr. R. H. Jenkins (President), Messrs. H. Haszard, W. H. Aiken, W. S. Stewart, M.L.A., A. Pickard and J. Hyndman. Also present were Messrs. A. A. McLean, M. P., and J. E. B. McCready, Publicity Agent.

The Mayor opened the proceedings by stating that this was an informal meeting to meet the gentleman representing the Colonial Corporations, Limited, and two other gentlemen from Ontario who were interested in milling. That question had been up for a good while and negotiations had been carried on between the Company named and the City Council, and the Council had invited representatives of the company to meet them here and to point out what sort of site they would require for the erection of their mill. That morning Councillor Riley, Mr. McCready and himself with the representatives of the company went round the water front and they pointed out to the visitors the properties that might be available as sites for the mill. It was now up to those gentlemen at that meeting to state what they wanted, what they intended to do and to get from the City Council, what they purposed doing, and (he) would be pleased to hear Mr. Wheaton on the subject.

Mr. Wheaton said that as they knew correspondence had passed and so far as the Council was concerned, he thought, what the company asked for was explained in that correspondence. The proposal was to build a mill and elevator for the manufacture of rolled oats, of a capacity of 300 barrels a day, and also for the grinding of corn meal. While they could get a very large local market, at the same time there was a large mill in Ireland which proposed to take from them a large quantity of the raw material as well as 5,000 bushels of rolled oats, which might increase as the business developed. They would like a site free of taxes for ten years, with free water, the site to be furnished by the city after the company had the plant in operation. Of the sites that were looked over that morning, there were only two that, to his mind, were suitable, because they wished to have not only water connection but rail connection as well, to provide for the receiving of the material and the shipment of the product. He did not know the cost of those sites but so far as the company were concerned they would involve quite extensive foundation work, costing probably between $15,000 and $20,000 more than they estimated. They calculated that the mill would cost about $150,000 to build, employing about 75 hands. Both mill and elevator would have to be of re-inforced concrete. The elevator would have a capacity of 300,000 bushels. Of the men that would have to be employed, the head miller and the engineer probably would be brought over from the old country and the Superintendent, who he was sorry to say, could not be with them there as was expected, was from the old country himself. Aside from those, however, all the labour to be employed would be local. If they had to take either one of the two sites he referred to they would have to spend as he said $20,000 more and they would like to know if the city would assist them in any way in that matter. Mr. Vromanhauser was an expert contractor in building mills and elevators in reinforced concrete, while Mr. Dalgleish represented a firm that equipped mills with machinery. In conclusion Mr. Wheaton expressed himself as being prepared to answer any questions the meeting might wish to ask in the matter. He might say that one of the sites was at Lord's wharf and the other was by the Cold Storage Plant.

The Mayor asked Mr. Wheaton what he thought of Full's property that they also showed him in the morning.

Mr. Wheaton replied that that would not suit as well, because they could not get a direct road into it.

Mr. Vromanhauser confirmed Mr. Wheaton's statement that the two most suitable sites they had looked at was the wharf down at the Cold Storage Plant and Lord's wharf. The other property would be suitable for the erection of a milling plant but there was no suitable docking for the vessels, though it would not be as expensive so far as foundation went as in the case of either Lord's wharf or that at the Cold Storage place, where very expensive foundations would have to be laid, but on the other hand in those two cases they could get the railway down on one side and water connection on the other. Down at the Cold Storage some dredging would have to be done, while in the case of Lord's wharf they would be able to get the plant erected earlier.

Mr. Dalgleish said that the plant to be erected would be thoroughly up-to-date in every particular for the manufacture of rolled oats, oatmeal and cornmeal. It would be equipped for handling the product at the least expense.

The Mayor: Would your company be satisfied if the city of Charlottetown granted a free site and exempt it from taxation for five [illegible] years and give you free water? Would you feel that you can come here and establish this oats mill [illegible] these conditions?

Mr. Wheaton: In the event of the Lord's wharf property being decided upon, what about the railway connection. Will the city use its influence or give us its assistance to get the track extended to that wharf?

The Mayor: The city would help you in every way but of course there are the land damages for the railroadgoing across the way. I don't think the city could pay for that.

Mr. Wheaton said that he did not think the Government would listen to their requests in that matter unless the city backed them up.

The Mayor: I might say that the city is very anxious to have the mill established here and will do everything possible to assist you to do so that is, if you are satisfied with the site. Your proposal at first was that the city should guarantee you the money.

Mr. Wheaton explained that the idea of Mr. McLelland on the point of guarantee was that the financial stringency existing would make the getting of the money difficult, and it would be easier to get the loan at five per cent. through the city than have to pay seven per cent. if it were got through the banks. He might say that the town of Pictou was very anxious for the company to locate there, but they had made no definite proposition, only they desired to discuss the matter with the company. But the company preferred to locate in the Island on account of the greater supply of raw material here. From the statistics they had, P. E. Island's production of oats amounted to 7 million bushels against Nova Scotia's two millions and New Brunswick's one million. Therefore location as far as that was concerned, was best to be obtained at some point on the Island, which from geographical standpoint, too, was also most suitable. But as he said the sites that were suitable would require

IMPORTANT WITNESS IS MISSING IN MURDER CASE

(Canadian Press)

SHERBROOKE, June 30.—Thr disappearance of a witness whose testimony the crown authorities deem highly important was the sensation provided at the hearing of a case against L. A. Dufresne, a civil engineer, charged with the murder of Mrs. L. O. Bilodeau, who was killed by a bomb sent through the mail.

The witness is Salmon Ouellette and when he did not turn up at court Crown Prosecutor Nichol asked for a Bench warrant which was issued by Judge Mulveneau.

Mr. Nichol stated he understood that some persons hearing that Ouellette was to testify, had induced him to leave the city. That Dufresne had accused Bilodeau of doing him (Dufresne) a mean trick was the substance of the evidence of Napoleon Benoit. The witness said that Dufresne had threatened to get even with Bilodeau.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE IN INDIA

(Canadian Press)

CALCUTTA June 30.—While a passenger train was crossing the river Sako, near Ondal in the Burden district, the bridge collapsed and the train plunged into a torrent forty feet below.

The first seven coaches fell to the bottom of the river the remaining coaches being piled on top.

Some of the occupants of the latter coaches were thus held prisoners in mid-air.

Heavy loss of life is feared.

MR. ASQUITH MAY BE LORD CHIEF JUSTICE

NEW YORK, June 28.—A London cable says the latest rumor in regard to the lord chief justiceship is that Premier Asquith is likely to accept the post himself. It was rumored a few days ago that Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney general, would probably be appointed to fill this office, although it was expected that such action would arouse sharp criticism of the prime minister, because of the connection of the attorney general with speculation in Marconi shares.

ANNUAL CAMP OF THE MILITIA

The Exhibition Grounds presented an animated and interesting spectacle yesterday when the annual camp of the Militia Infantry and Light Horse Forces of this province began. The white bell tents, spread thickly over the green turf, with hundreds of multi-uniformed men moving in orderly confusion about created a scene that was both fascinating and inspiring. The presence of the camp so near the city was pleasantly reflected in the traffic along the thoroughfares, which at all hours of the day were thronged with the lads in scarlet tunics, caps and spurred boots, who as is usual were no little attraction to the small boy and the womenfolk with whom a uniform has always a warm place.

There are close on 800 men of all ranks encamped. On the ground immediately in front of the Exhibition building are the quarters of the camp staff who consist of Lieut.-Col. Allan, Camp Commandant; Lieut.-Col. Jenkins, Principal medical officer; Major A. A. Bartlett, Paymaster and Supply Officer; Capt. Gibson, (of the R. C. R. of Halifax), General Staff Officer; Capt. R. H. Campbell, Musketry Instructor; Lieut. Keith Rogers, Signalling Officer. The camp staff are being assisted by a detachment of 14 N. Co's and men of the R. C. R. from Halifax, who are also assisting in the general camp duties.

In the same enclosure where the staff's quarters are located, the camp of the Charlottetown Light Horse is pitched. This force consists of about 76 men with 67 horses, under the command of Major Ings. Their horses are stabled in the Exhibition Stables.

In the central part of the Exhibition grounds, enclosed by the track, is the camp of the 82nd regiment, mustering about 520 strong, under the command of Major J. M. Jones, owing to Lieut.-Col. Allan being detailed as Camp Commandant.

On the same ground are quartered the Army Medical Corps, about 110 strong, under Major Yeo. There is also in camp a small detachment of the Signalling Corps.

The whole force was in camp by about two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Fixing up camp and setting things to rights constituted yesterday's work. To-day also there will be little done in camp. In the morning will be the Paymaster's muster of all the troops in camp, each unit being assembled on its respective parade ground. Afterwards the men will be given a half-holiday. On Wednesday the actual duties of the special training for which the men are assembled will begin. There will be a good deal of musketry interspersed with the regular drills.

The commissariat arrangements have been admirably carried out. The officers will mess in their respective marquees, while the men generally mess in one of the Exhibition buildings. Altogether it should be an interesting and enjoyable time if a bit arduous for all those engaged in it.

GERMANY VOTES BIG INCREASE FOR THE ARMY

(Canadian Press)

BERLIN, June 30.—The German government to-day secured from the Imperial Parliament the entire army increase it had demanded, including six new cavalry regiments. Three of those regiments which had been eliminated in committee and on the first and second readings of the bill were restored on the third and final reading.

Imperial Chancellor Dr. Von Bethmann Holwegg purchased this consent from the House by the acceptance of a proposal to refer the military code of justice, introduced by Socialists on Saturday in consequence of the severe sentences pronounced by the court martial at Erfert Friday. Five reservists were then condemned to five years' imprisonment each, another to one year and a seventh to seven months for participating in a dispute in a saloon and fighting a couple of policemen after the annual muster of reserves. The men are under martial law for 24 hours on the occasion of each muster. A bill reducing penalties inflicted by courts martial when mitigation circumstances exist will be passed unanimously by the House and Chancellor Von Bethmann Holegg promised to give his support to it when it reached the Federal Council.

Only the Socialists, Poles and Alsatians in parliament voted against the final reading of the armament bill which increases the peace strength of the German army by approximately 4,500 officers, 15,000 non-commissioned officers and 117,000 privates, bringing the total permanent force up to nearly 870,000 men.

FORTY TWO PAIRS YOUNG FOXES FOR P. E. ISLAND

(Special to The Guardian)

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 30.—Perhaps the most valuable car that ever passed through St. John, was attached to the Montreal express to-day. It was owned by the Dominion Express Company and contained forty-two pairs of young foxes, ten of which were pure black, which had come from the borders of Yukon Territory. They were in charge of Mr. Arthur Holland, P. E. Island, owner of the black foxes. Of the whole lot going to the Island, thirty-two pairs were of a cross variety and were for a number of different parties. Mr. Holland explained that he obtained ten pairs of the foxes from Indians between Lake Huron and Montreal Lake on the borders of Yukon. Considering the high mortality attendant on bringing animals out to civilization Mr. Holland said he was very well satisfied with the health of the consignment.

(Canadian Press)

LOUCHARS, Scotland, June 30.—An important railway junction here, connecting Edinburgh with Dundee and Aberdeen, within a few miles of St. Andrew's golf links, was burned to the ground to-day. The authorities believe the fire was started by militant suffragettes who are in strong force in Dundee across the Tay.

LARGEST CASTLE GUTTED BY FIRE

(Canadian Press)

GLASGOW, June, 30-Ballikinrain Castle at Balfron, Stirlingshire, one of the largest in Scotland was gutted by fire this morning, only the bare walls remaining. The fire seems almost without doubt to have been an incendiary one, as the private fire apparatus, being cut, was rendered useless. The usual rumors laying the blame for the outrage on the militant suffragettes spread rapidly but no evidence was found to connect them with it. The castle cost $500,000 and was built by Sir Archibald Ernest Orr Ewing. It contained one hundred rooms. It had been occupied for some time.
