IN MEMORIAM

JOHN WILFRED RYAN

John Wilfred Ryan, former Charlottetown banker, died suddenly on June 9th at his home in Holliston, Massachusetts. He had suffered from heart trouble for several years.

During his residence in Charlottetown he owned the lovely old place known as "Sidmouth" on the North River Road, near the Country Club.

Mr. Ryan was born March 30, 1872 at Kentville, N. S., the son of

TENDERS FOR COAL

Written tenders will be received by the undersigned up to noon of July 11th, to supply coal for the City Schools, namely, "Prince Street," "West Kent" and "Queen Square," the estimated quantity of coal required is four hundred tons. The price quoted to include delivery and storage of coal in the cellars of the above schools. The coal supplied to be weighed on the City Scales at the expense of the dealer supplying same. Also quote how much less a ton, if supplied and stored in the schools direct from car or schooner.

Prices required specially on the following kinds of SCREENED COAL, Old Sydney and Springhill and also on a slack coal suitable for forced draft. It will form part of the contract that should we run short of coal during the late winter or spring, the dealer receiving the contract will supply our needs with the same kind of coal at the same price. Coal must be stored to full capacity of the vaults in the cellars of the schools by August the tenth. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Lieut.-Col. James William Ryan of the King's Canadian Hussars. For over thirty-five years he was a banker, during his career serving as a bank manager in Glace Bay, N. S., Charlottetown, Fort William, Ont., and finally at Saint John, N. B., where he was manager for the Union Bank of Canada and chairman of the Saint John Clearing House. Resigning from banking in 1928 he became Vice-President of the Ryan-Lite International Corporation, in Schenectady, N. Y. Retiring from active business in 1930 he bought a farm and settled at Holliston, about twenty-five miles out of Boston.

Besides his wife, the former Olivia Violet O'Key of London, England, and Port Williams, N. S., he leaves four daughters: Doris, wife of Dr. Joseph Goodman; Denise, Phyllis, and Olive, and a son Frederick, all of Boston. He is also mourned by four brothers: Walter D'Arcy Ryan, Chief Illuminating Engineer of the General Electric Co. in Schenectady; Lieut.-Col. Robert Ryan, also of Schenectady; J. Garnet Ryan of Saint John, N. B., and Winfield Ryan of New York City; and a sister, Mrs. James Balch of Kentville, N. S. He was buried in Lake Grove Cemetery, Holliston.

QUEEN MARY INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of Queen Mary Institute, Murray Harbor, met in tea room of the public hall on Monday at 8 p. m. Forty members and two visitors were present. The canvassers for the Red Cross brought in the amount collected which totalled twenty-six dollars and thirty cents ($26.30).

The quarterly committee to visit the schools and shut-ins were appointed. The following delegates to the Institute Convention were then chosen, Mrs. H. L. Machon and Mrs. Colin White with Mrs. Albert McLeod and Miss Edith High as substitutes.

Alice White, the popular young film star, tells a story of a pretty compliment made by a colored man to his bride.

A clergyman in one of America's Southern States had married them, and at the end of the ceremony, the bridegroom turned to him and said, "How much does Ah owe you, sir?"

"Oh, pay me whatever it's worth to you," the clergyman replied. The young negro stared adoringly at his wife for several seconds, then he replied in a very soft tone: "Parson, you've ruined me for life—you sure has."

Insurance Rates On Grain Ships

LONDON, June 23—(Canadian Press Cable)—A further reduction in the extra premium demanded for insurance on vessels trading with Canada via the new Hudson's Bay route has been effected according to the third report of the Imperial Shipping Committee on Hudson Bay marine insurance rates, issued today. The reduction however, applies only to insurance on vessels equipped with gyro-compass in addition to wireless direction-finding apparatus.

The reduced rate is, in the hope of the committee a preliminary to greater concessions "in view of the favorable weather observations and the success of the two pioneer voyages by the Farworth and Warkworth in 1931."

Improved facilities have been provided by the Canadian Government, the report says, but from the viewpoint of the underwriters there is still a speculative element in the Hudson's Bay route.

"We hope the experience of a further year will enable a more confident view to be taken, both in regard to the rates of the additional premium and the dates of sailing from Churchill," the report said.

"We are examining the possibility of supplying a special compass card for use with the ordinary magnetic compass between Charles and Coats Islands with a view to recommending that experiments be carried out by the Canadian Government."

Cabinet Resigns

Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, who was reported to have resigned in a cabinet crisis March 5, acted as spokesman for the Cabinet today and explained the attitude of the Minister, (which was not revealed).

President Vargas then appointed General Flores Do Cinha, of Sao Paulo, who acted as mediator in the revolt of April this year, as Minister of Justice. He named Moraes Barros as Minister of Agriculture.

After announcing that these posts, which had been vacant for some time, would be filled, President Vargas asked the remainder of his Cabinet members to continue in their posts. They agreed to do so. Later it was understood that the resignations had been offered to President Vargas in order that he could have a free hand to reorganize his Government.

CHICAGO, June 23—Mrs. Jeanette Davidson was granted a divorce on grounds of cruelty today, from Julius Davidson, of Toronto, who, she said, beat her every time she missed a gymnasium class. Mrs. Davidson had reduced her weight from 250 to 150 pounds, and her husband said he had spent $400 or $4 a pound, in gym classes to bring it about. The plaintiff, however, told Judge Daniel P. Trude she had no desire to reduce.
