Line a 9" pie plate with pastry, mix together Benson's Corn Starch, sugar and salt, and sprinkle on bottom crust. Add sliced apples (peeled and cored). Combine lemon juice, Crown Brand Corn Syrup and spices, and pour over apples. Dot with butter. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) 15 min. Reduce heat to 350 deg. F. and continue baking until apples are tender (35 to 50 mins.).

"My Husband is one husband who doesn't complain about our weekly 'all-female' bridge parties!" This is what a reader writes. She says, "I'm so delighted with the wonderful food news I come home with after these parties. For instance, so many of my bridge-party friends have switched to the new, improved TENDER LEAF TEA BAGS that I decided to try them. We think their flavor is superb. Orange Pekoe at its tastiest! It must be those little top leaves that add that extra 'something' to the character of this delicious tea! And another thing I like about Tender Leaf Tea Bags... they're so very easy to serve—no very economical! For just one of the Tender Leaf Tea Bags gives me two cups of extra-delicious Orange Pekoe!"

together out of idle curiosity. But James disregarded our query and went on with his story. "You know it was so true to life, Ellen I could feel the tug of the reins in my hands. It was a familiar road. I'm sure at the time I could have named it—a narrow friendly road, you know the kind I mean!"

Yes, we could envision it in detail, base of the modern motorist though it might be narrow with over-arching branches filtering sunlight along the cool dim aisles on a Summer day, and by night a shadowy path presenting dark magic lit by moonbeams and always scented by the fragrance of the season at hand. Ferns, wild roses, cloverly meadows, a thousand perfumes caught and distilled and offered in an essence to the most casual passer-by.

And in Autumn, when naked branches above litted starlight commencing to be sharp and frosty... but no sound of machine ever made, could equal the rustle of hoot-beats through crisp fallen leaves! table and James continued: "I found myself driving the same horse and buggy I knew as a boy. And do you know, Ellen, that even in a dream it was something to relieve and enjoy? Yes, there was a fascination about those days that makes "them stay a long time in mind!" "Our world was young then... and very new, and unexplored" we suggested. "Yes" he agreed "I guess that was it" "And yet there was an unhurried quality to those days, we've quite lost in the present" "Well lost!" we laughed. "No" James returned "I wouldn't say that. In spite of the conveniences and improvements in our way of living since then... cars and radios, trucks and tractors and all... those were nice days, Ellen, nice to have lived in, and good to look back upon." "But "O, my dear" he says, "it's away past our time for bed!" "Until tomorrow — Diary—Good-night..."
