ISLANDER DEAD - The death occurred in Vancouver on Nov. 27th of Mrs. Amanda Maria MacKay, widow of Mr. David MacKay formerly of Charlottetown in her 84th year. The MacKay family who were prominent in business and social circles here will be kindly remembered by many friends. Mrs. MacKay resided for many years in the Yukon.

MONTAGUE IS 1st - WHO NEXT - Just two weeks ago the Provincial Red Cross received an urgent request from the National Red Cross Women's War Work Committee for assistance in making sweaters. Mrs. E. A. Foster, the Provincial Chairman of this Committee, immediately contacted twelve working centres in the province and asked each to make a certain number of sweaters. This is a great deal of knitting in these times when we have long sleeves and a rolled collar. Yesterday, Montague Women's Institute returned their quota of six sweaters, all beautifully made. Montague can always be looked to for a quick and efficient job on anything they undertake and their work is always of the highest calibre. Mrs. Mont MacKay, the energetic lady in charge of the war work of the Mt. Stewart Women's Institute was really the first to completely finish and bring in her quota of four sweaters but she is not the only one to do so. It is certainly gratifying to have groups of women such as there are in this province who can turn out such excellent work in such a short time when the necessity arises - in days like these.

It was decided to treat the school children with fruit. It was also decided to do a $10.00 worth of fruit to Santa Claus. It was decided to remember seven of the boys of the community, who are serving in the army, with letters for Christmas. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Nell Lamont. Roll call for bag. At the close of the meeting, a dining lunch was served by the hostess.

MALPEQUE AND BALTO WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Malpeque and Balto women's Missionary Society met for Dec. meeting at the Manse recently. The President, Mrs. Crow's presided and the Christmas Candlelight Service was carried out most effectively. As the members sat in a circle, with their hands joined to sing a hymn, surrounded by seven candles opposite Persia, Europe, America, Japan, China, India and Africa, seven members lighted candles at given fields, and read interesting readings and prayers of said nations. Christmas carols were sung at intervals. The service was most appropriate at this season. The business period followed, with minutes of previous meeting read and adopted. The roll call replied to with Scripture verse, Peace, Treasurer reported, correspondence read, and unfinished business completed. Bristol and Vicinity. During the recent storm the north side of the roof of the Roman Catholic church at St. Andrews, was torn off by the wind. The church more than a hundred feet long, has a long foot rafter. A school teacher and the children in the school across the road from the church saw the roof lit and part. The teacher Miss Mabel O'Brien, said the side of the roof reared into the air, splitting at the saddle board and hung there for a few seconds before it crashed to the ground with terrific force. The spire one hundred and sixty-nine feet high, rocked on its base but did not fall although it was thought for a time the entire building would be demolished. Carpenters have already started to rebuild the roof. The parish priest at St. Andrews, is Rev. T. A. Campbell, and he reports the church was all newly painted last summer including a new coat of stain on the entire roof. Ell sparring got underway here last week despite the thin ice, no large catches were reported as yet. The by-roads are again opened to car travel. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Donovan, were in the City on Saturday on business, making the trip by car. The stores here and at Montserrat have been decorated for the holiday season. Third Officer Fred Mosher, of the Merchant Navy, who was home for two weeks has gone to rejoin his ship. Mrs. Robert Belanger, formerly Alice Lapierre, has gone to the mainland to visit her husband, P. R. Belanger. She will return later in the month to spend the winter with her mother. A welcome visitor here after a lay off of several months was the east bound freight train or rather the mixed train as passengers are travelling on this train also. Friends along the line were pleased to see Trainman Lem McKay, back on the eastern run where he is so well known. Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. James P. MacDonald, who moved into their new home last week. Sickness during the last winter confined Mr. MacDonald to his bed delaying the work, but during the summer he was around again and completed the lovely new Bungalow, a nice addition to Bristol.
