—WEDDING BELLS: A very pretty event took place at Fifteen Point Church on Wednesday, when Miss Tillie Gallant, daughter of Joseph Gallant of Mount Carmel, was united in marriage to Mr. William Cormier, son of the late John Cormier, also of Mount Carmel. They were supported by Mary Gallant and Azade Gallant; Rev. P. P. Arsenault performed the ceremony.

Cleveland Honors Champion Indians

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15—Cleveland paid a tribute to its world champion baseball in a public demonstration last night in Wade Park, attended by approximately fifty thousand people.
 So great was the enthusiasm of the baseball-crazy mob that it finally became uncontrollable and broke through ropes marking off the stage where city officials and the Cleveland American League Baseball players sat, smashed chairs, pushed several persons into a small lake and vocally and physically expressed its joy over the winners of the world's series.
 Several detachments of police were powerless and not until long after the lights had been put out and the players had left did the celebration end.
 Thousands were unable to get near the scene of the demonstration.

WHAT THEY SAY

ED. KONETCHY
 All you have to do to start big Ed Konetchy, first baseman of the pennant-winning Robins, to fanning, is to suggest the name of your Uncle Wilbert for conversation. Koney says:

"Do you want to know the secret of Brooklyn's success this year? That's easy. It isn't a secret at all. Just Robbie. That old scout can handle a ball club better than any man I ever saw. I have been cruising around in the National League for 14 years, and I have never come across a manager like Robbie until I joined the Brooklyn team. Say, that guy knows how to slap a ball player on the back better than any man in the world. That stuff about the Robins being a happy family ain't no kid. There isn't a man on it that doesn't think Robbie is the greatest guy in the game, and that's why they hustle for him. There are no factions in the club. The other day when I was lucky enough to tie up the score with a home run, Robbie ran at me in the clubhouse after the game and gave me a wallop between the shoulder blades that nearly felled me. That was his way of telling me he appreciated that hit. Maybe you think ball-players don't like that stuff. I'm telling you they do. Wilbert Robinson is the biggest hearted and most appreciative manager I ever worked for."

Speaking of the Cleveland Indians they might be said to have stepped on that long string of star hurlers for the Dodgers' Club. The Brooklyn team now assumes the proportions of a broken mess of pottery!

HER IDEAL HUSBAND

Under the heading "My Ideal Husband," Jane Stanford in the Locomotive magazine of Farmington, Mich., outlines her ideal of a real husband:
 1.—He must be a home lover.
 2.—He must be well physically, mentally, and spiritually.
 3.—He must be able to make the best of things; he must know how to smile and whistle.
 4.—He must like both work and play.
 5.—He must have the comrad spirit—the sharing spirit.
 6.—He must love children for themselves.
 7.—He must know the art of encouraging.
 8.—He must be frank and honest with all people at all times.
 9.—He must be a man of ideals.
 10.—He must be a friendly man.
 11.—He must be my equal intellectually.
 12.—He must be courteous—both before and after the marriage.
 13.—He must possess grit and determination.
 14.—He must come to me with an untainted name; I demand it for my children.
 15.—He must be sincere and sympathetic.
 16.—He must be a man of self control.
 17.—He must know how to love—not for a day, a month, a year—but for all time.
 18.—He must be interested in what I do, what the community does, and what his country does.

MR. JOSEPH ARSENAULT

A deep gloom was cast over the community of Mont Carmel, when a telegram from Cariboo, Me., announced the sad death by accident of Joseph Arsenault, son of Mrs. Joseph T. Arsenault. While riding in his car with his friend, they came to a sharp turn and the car slid off the road into a ditch. While trying to bring it back, the front wheel broke and the car turned over. His companion called for help, which came almost immediately, but it was of no avail, as he was found to be dead with a fractured skull. His death at the early age of 27 years, 2 months comes as a severe shock to his family and a wide circle of friends and relatives in Mt. Carmel. He had been working in Maine for the past eight years and while there his lovable and cheerful disposition had won for him a large number of acquaintances and his unexpected death is a sad loss to them all. The remains which were accompanied by Mr. A. Thibodeau of Millinocket, Maine arrived at Wellington by train on Friday evening and were conveyed to his home, where his widowed mother resides.

In Memoriam

MISS MARY FARMER

At Kinkora on Tuesday, Sept. 28, there passed peacefully away to her reward, Miss Mary Farmer aged 62 years. The deceased had been ailing for some years and was attended by her devoted last rites of her church by her devoted pastor, M. J. Smith. She leaves to cherish her memory, three brothers, Patrick, Michael and John; also two sisters: Mrs. Joseph Mulligan and Mrs. Alex. Gillis, who waited on her with loving care.
 Her funeral took place on Thursday morning, Sept. 30 to St. Malachi's Church, where her remains were laid to rest.
 The pall bearers were her six cousins: Michael and Patrick Mulligan, Michael Owen, Thomas and Patrick McCarvell, May her soul rest in peace.

MRS. JAMES O'BRIEN

The death occurred Saturday, Sept. 18, at Bonshaw, of a well known and highly respected resident of that place in the person of the late Mrs. James O'Brien. Deceased had been seriously ill for some time, but hopes of her recovery were always entertained, but despite careful nursing on the part of her family, she departed this life on the above named date at the age of 75 years. The late Mrs. O'Brien, whose maiden name was Noonan, daughter of John Noonan and Bridget Reddin, was born at Bingshamstown, County Mayo, Ireland. At the age of 18 years she with her family emigrated to Charlottetown, P. E. I. afterward settling at Bonshaw, where she spent the remainder of a long life. She was a devoted member of the Catholic Church and was attended in her last sickness by her pastor, Rev. Dr. Curran. The following family survives: her aged husband and two sons, John and Matthew and one daughter, Bridget, all at home. In the absence of her pastor, Dr. Curran, the funeral ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Monaghan Internment took place at Lot 55 Church. The following were the pall bearers: John McManus, Wm. McQuaid, Chas. Fowler, Stephen Fowler, Geo. A. Crosby, John J. McLeod, R. I. P.

JEREMIAH ENMAN

The funeral of the late Jeremiah Enman of Vernon, who passed away on Monday morning at 6 a. m., was held on Wednesday the 13th inst., when a large number of the residents from the surrounding districts met at the late home of the deceased, where a short service was led by the Rev. R. M. Brodie, after which the casket was taken to the Methodist Church where a most solemn service was held, the pastor speaking from the words, "A door in Heaven was opened." At the conclusion of the service, the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery adjoining the church. The deceased, who was 76 years of age, was all his days a very active worker knowing no illness until he was struck down with the illness that called him away. He was unmarried and lived with his sister Margaret for whom much sympathy is expressed, also for the other sister, Eleneboth at Vernon and the brothers, William at Vernon, David and John at Royalty and Smith at Port Elgin, N. B., are the prayers and sympathy of the residents offered, in which The Guardian joins.
