Governor-General Addresses Students

(Special to The Guardian) OAKVILLE, May 25.—"I want you to be in every way honorable, upright and christian gentlemen", was the closing message of His Excellency Lord Willingdon to the students of Appleby School when he reviewed them at the conclusion of the annual school games this afternoon.

"Cultivate the spirit of public service while you are in school, filling your brain with useful knowledge and while you are getting character by playing games so that you may be helped to play the game of life," he further adjourned them.

His Excellency told the boys they were the stepping-stones of the empire and impressed upon them the great responsibility that was theirs in the moulding of the empire and of the dominion.

Right at the outset of his brief address Lord Willingdon won the hearts of the students when he requested Headmaster J. H. H. Guesht to give them a holiday to mark the visit of Their Excellencies to the school. He was prompted to make this suggestion by Lady Willingdon, he said. Lady Willingdon personally congratulated the students for their athletic prowess when she presented the various trophies.

—MOUNT ALLISON COLLEGE PLAYERS—The Epworth Hall, Summerside, was packed to the doors, with standing room at a premium last Friday evening when the Mount Allison College Players presented Barry Connor's successful comedy "The Patsy," under the personal direction of Miss Ida Leslie, B.L.I. An all star cast kept the audience in roars of laughter during the whole evening. The stage setting was good and the play humorous and witty, each one taking their parts well. There were specialties between the acts which were very much enjoyed.

—WORTHY OF SPECIAL NOTICE

On account of the history attached to the exhibit of an Original Chinese Three Pattern Plate (Moorfields) shown at the recent exhibition of curious and antiquies held in the Town Hall at Summerside, it is worthy of more description than was given in the brief reports appearing in the press. This plate was part of a very handsome service designed to match the trousseau of a Chinese Princess at the time of her marriage into British Royalty. As was customary, the original pattern provided was fired and coloured in England. This pattern was used by Royalty only. Sir Charles Fitzroy, Governor of Prince Edward Island (1837-1841) who married into the British Royal Family became the possessor of a set of this china, which was used at Government House, Charlottetown, in pre-Confederation days and was afterwards bought by the late Mr. Stephen Wright, of Bedouque.

—JUNIOR RED CROSS AT SUMMERSIDE

The Junior Red Cross met in the Red Cross Room in the Town Hall, Summerside, for the closing meeting before the summer vacation. There was a full attendance of members and many little pieces of sewing were finished. It was decided to hold a sale of the work and home cooking in the Red Cross Room next Saturday. The proceeds from the children's work will be devoted to helping some handicapped children in Summerside to procure medical aid. The class will close for the summer months and reopen in September, when it is hoped more little girls will join. Miss Zinck will be in her office on Saturday mornings until school closes. Dr. Acker, the crippled children's friend, will come to Summerside in the near future.

Church Services

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

In keeping with the general spirit of thankfulness throughout the Empire on the return to health of King George, the morning service opened with the singing of the "National Anthem," and in connection with our National life one of the hymns selected was "Lord of the Lands, Make Canada Thine Own."

ZION CHURCH

Yesterday morning the Mission Band furnished a full Choir at the regular service. Diplomas were presented and prizes for exceptional attendance were given. Sixty of the Sabbath School Children were given awards. A full account of memory work, etc., may appear later. The Minister gave an address on II. Chron. 17, "Ask what I shall give thee?" In illustration of this verse Mr. Fulton told the interesting story

The Graf Zeppelin, which was forced to abandon its transatlantic flight because of engine-trouble. Inset credited to abandon its transatlantic flight Dr. Hugo Eckener, her commander.

mountain to pray." Mr. Boothroyd gave an inspiring and helpful address on the necessity and efficacy of prayer. Through the avenue of prayer we are clothed with power from on high, God can utilize and combine all the various forces of his divine law to bring about His own will in answer to prayer. Natural law does not interfere with or counteract spiritual law in connection with prayer. Mountain prayer gives a new vision of God. It is the royal road to humility.

The attendance at Sunday School was 407.

The evening service was specially for the students who have been worshipping at Trinity during the past 7 or 8 months. Rev. Mr. Johnson spoke from the text as found in Eph. 3-16. "Strengthened with might by His Spirit in the inner man" and he first made a very happy and appropriate reference to the presence and co-operation of the students which have been an inspiration to him and to the congregation. He charged them that in going forth to life's work the important thing was the disposal of their forces. Providence is always on the side of the last reserve. He mentioned three lines of defence. 1. Guard well the physical, look to the material. If any man defile the temple of God, he will God destroy. 2. The mental. The trained mind represents a most important line of defence, but both these lines must fall and go down. The 3rd is found in the Text. The inner man, the Soul will survive. The call is "Be strong." The testimony of St. Paul is "I can do all things through Christ, who strengthened me."

A statement of receipts of the financial campaign for Mount Allison was given last week to a meeting of the Board of Regents. The total receipts to date is $465,666.03. The campaign to reach a million mark is to be continued. The P. E. I. Presbytery leads all other Presbyteries in the Maritimes outside of Sackville. We contributed $24,349.50 but we should double this figure as we are the largest and most important Presbytery in the Conference. There were 397 students at Mt. A. last year compared with 311 the previous year. Fifty-three of the students are preparing for the ministry of the United Church.

It is an encouraging and hopeful sign to read of the movements in different parts of the world towards union. In Scotland after 20 years of negotiation there is to be union between the Church of Scotland and the United Free Church of Scotland. In the United States conversations are taking place looking to a large union of the free evangelical churches and in Europe the different Catholic bodies not affiliated with the Church of Rome are seeking a basis of union to combat the latter's aggression.

This year marks the quadricentennial of Protestantism and the four-hundredth anniversary of the birth of the word "Protestant" as a term used generally to denote the churches of evangelical Christianity. It is believed to have been on April 19 (or April 25), 1529, in Speyer (or Spire), Bavaria, that the term first was used to apply to all non-Catholics in Europe. In that city there now stands a beautiful church dedicated some years ago in commemoration of the event. The chief observance of the quadricentennial probably will be held in that church on Pentecost Day, May 19.

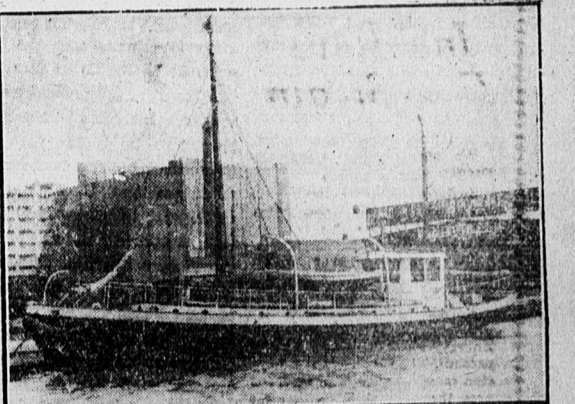

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

With yesterday morning and evening services, the Rev. A. J. Vincent finished a very helpful, inspiring and fruitful supply ministry with this Church. Mr. Vincent's stay with the Baptist Church will long be borne in pleasant memory. Next Sunday, his second son, Rev. Arthur C. Vincent, D. D., will enter upon the pastorate.

Mr. Vincent in his morning sermon yesterday dwelt on the "Separated Life." His thought was based particularly on the last clause of John. 9, 34. "...And they cast him out." The world has no place as yet for a man who might be able to reproduce in its fulness the life of Jesus. Jesus gave men a clear standard of righteousness. Jesus never compromised, Jesus never suggested lowering the standards, and making the way of life easier. The brave way, the self sacrificing way, the way of the great adventure, counting not the cost, the way faithful unto the uttermost, even unto the cross was His.

The Church and its people must dwell in the world. He would not that they were taken from the world, but that they were kept from the evil. Safe and splendid sails the ship, so long as it is in the ocean, death and destruction wait when the ocean is into the ship.

Mr. Vincent further developed his thought along three lines. STAND-of "The Invisible Prince." The story was very suitable to "Rose Sunday." Jesus was compared to "The Invisible Prince" and was referred to as the "Rose of Sharon." The pulpit platform was tastefully decorated, roses being in evidence, the gift of the Mission Band. This live and active organization will hold their closing meeting Monday afternoon. They reopen in September.

Reserve Tuesday evening for the C. G. I. T.

Last evening there was a fine audience which gave the Minister every attention. The sermon was unusual and arresting. "The Power of Empire Building" was the topic. At the end of the discourse, Mr. Fulton, as illustrative of the theme, cited the story "With His Face to the Wind" and "The Younger Son" by R. W. Service (for the King's recovery). It is being suggested that a service of Thanksgiving be held next Sabbath.

In the morning a large children's choir was present and led the service of song very acceptably. The hymn, "Father in Heaven we Thank Thee," was sweetly sung, as a solo, by Miss Thelma Dingwell and a duet "I'll be a sunbeam for Him," was rendered by Miss Irene McDonald and Marion Gay.

In the evening the adult choir was present and sang the anthem "O Worship the King" by Maunder. Mr. Harry Craswell taking the solo part. A duet, "Love Divine, all Loves Excelling," by Sawyer, was sung by Misses Gladys Farquharson and Margaret Ross.

Mr. Vincent further developed his thought along three lines. STAND-

ING FOR JESUS, LIVING JESUS and SPEAKING FOR JESUS.

Dea leaves do not hang out a living tree. Pressing new life pushes out the useless. Sin and wrong cannot thrive in the life of one who really lives Jesus. If the old sins have dropped off, we may well question whether we have newness of life. An unspotted life is a wonderful endorsement of an eloquent testimony. Such a life, such a testimony, wins more, does more than any split of meeting the world part-way.

In all our living, even in the smallest affairs of life let us keep the standard high, stand true to our calling and profession so that in life and word and work we help to bring about His ideal, "Thy Kingdom come."

The subject of Mr. Vincent's evening sermon was "When He cometh." The text "Therefore watch, for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of man cometh."

There are four great supernatural events in the life of Jesus. Christ His Incarnation, His Resurrection His Ascension, and His Coming again in glory. Never has there been greater interest than now in the imminent second coming of Christ. The outlook is dark, but the uplook has lost none of its brightness.

THE COMING OF JESUS IS CERTAIN.

There is no future event more certain, all Christians agree on this subject, differing only in detail. Jesus gave us all to know of the second coming.

As surely as Jesus came—so surely will he return. The completion of his plan of redemption waits His coming again.

THE COMING OF JESUS CHRIST IS UNCERTAIN.

Certain it is that He is coming uncertain the day and hour. The coming may not be in fifty years—it may be in fifty minutes. The time is uncertain—that you and I might make readiness a daily practice of our lives. If you are "in Jesus" you are ready. Is it near? We are 190 years nearer than the early Church. There are indications on every hand. Never was there an age that presented more indications than this one. The signs have multiplied more in the last decade than in any previous century. We are standing on the threshold of the great day of God Almighty.

ARE WE READY FOR THE GREAT DAY?

Is there anything wrong between God and your soul? Make it right tonight. The speaker closed with tender and eloquent appeal to surrender all to Jesus and "Crown Him Lord of all."

The splendid choir led in impressive and worshipful music under Miss Spencer's efficient direction. The usual church activities were announced for the incoming week, special attention being directed to the mid-week prayer meeting, Wednesday at 7.30.
