Recital at Sydney
(Sydney Post, Oct. 12th)

The recital of sacred music, arranged by W. E. Fletcher, A. R. C. M., A. T. C. L. organist and choir-master of St. Andrew's United Church, given at the close of the evening service in that church brought to a climax the varied Sunday activities. Hundreds were present in the spacious sanctuary from the city and outside points. Assisting the choir was the Thomas Male Quartette, of Glace Bay, recognized as one of the finest in the country. They also sang at the regular service. Professor Fletcher's mastery work at the organ was only to be expected, for his musical ability has been clearly established. The choir, in its two anthems-"While the earth remaineth" by Mauder and "O Gladsome Light" by Sullivan, was at its best and evidences careful and constant training. It is certain that Sunday's performance added to the prestige already established and enhanced the reputation of the director, Prof. Fletcher, who is also a composer of note, gave as his final offering an organ composition, entitled, "An Autumn Message" specially prepared for the occasion, and rendered publicly for the first time.

The four numbers by the Thomas Male Quartette were of a truly spiritual uplift and held the large audience spellbound. Their splendidly balanced voices and beautiful rendering of strictly religious music, will not soon be forgotten and explains fully the great demand for the services of these artists. Rev. Mr. Aitken, who presided, congratulated the quartette upon the character of their singing, their consecration to Christian ideals and service, and the contribution they are making to the musical and religious life of the community. He also expressed appreciation of the efforts of Prof. Fletcher and the choir and thanked the public for responding so largely to the invitation to attend the recital, which concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

CONVENTION

The fifth annual convention of the Women's Institutes comprising of Mt. Stewart, Savage Harbour, Point DeRoche, Glenroy, Donaldson, St. Andrew's, Cherry Hill, St. Patrick's Road, Pisquid East and Auburn was held in Mt. Stewart Hall on Sept. 9, 1932. A large number of members from six of the Institutes attended the first session which was held at 2.30 p. m.

The president, Mrs. Montague McKay, presided and on the platform with her were Mrs. Amelia Smith, Mrs. D. J. MacDonald, Mrs. Joseph Barrett and Miss Isabelle Jay. The meeting opened by singing the Institute Ode followed by repeating the Creed in unison. The minutes of the 1931 convention were read, adopted and signed. Mrs. Fred MacDonald of Mt. Stewart read an address of welcome to the visiting delegates, which was very fittingly responded to by Miss Mary O'Brien of Glenroy. The Secretaries of the various Institutes gave reports of the past year's work. Miss Hilda Douglas, Head of Hillsboro, entertained the audience with a very humorous reading, after which the nomination of officers for the ensuing year took place, namely:-

President-Miss Isabelle Jay, Pisquid East.
Secretary-Mrs. Ross Pigott, Mt. Stewart.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. JAMES MCQUEEN

The death occurred in Shediac, N.B., on Friday morning, of James MacQueen, Town Clerk, and a well known member of the New Brunswick Bar. For years he had been prominent in the councils of the Liberal party of New Brunswick and was formerly President of the Westmoreland Liberal Association.

He was born on January 4th, 1861. His father was a native of Pictou and the mother a daughter of John Welling, Sr., a United Empire Loyalist of Welsh descent, who was born at Newburg on the Hudson New York, went to St. John in 1776, then to Welling's Point, Prince Edward Island, and a few days later to Shediac, where his wife's sister, Mrs. William Hanington, Sr., resided.

SOURIS

Rev. Martin Monaghan, of the Magdalen Islands is guest of Rev. Monsignor J. C. McLean, V. G., at the Parochial House at Souris.

Mr. W. L. Brenton, of Charlottetown, spent a few days in Souris and surrounding districts last week performing his duties as Dairy Superintendent.

Miss Margaret McLean, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, at Charlottetown, is at present visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McLean, Souris.

The S. S. Bauta, Captain Johannessen, of the William Hansen Company, of Norway, arrived in Souris last week and was in port for a day during which time she completed loading a cargo of potatoes for Havana, Cuba. This is the first potato steamer to be loaded in Souris port this season. The above mentioned steamer, formerly the Canadian Sealer, spent a winter in Souris quite a few years ago, when the ice formed so solid she was unable to leave port until the early spring. We understand that another potato boat will arrive in Souris port within the next two weeks.

Mr. H. S. Callbeck, of Bedeque, motored to Souris on business.

Her many friends will regret to learn of the continued serious illness of Mrs. Thomas J. Arbing, (Sr.) at their home in Souris.

Little Celebrates

LILLE, France, October 19.-A festival of French military music played by bands from Great Britain and Belgium was celebrated today on the 14th anniversary of Lille's delivery from German occupation.

At the same time the city's new belfry, or Central Bell Tower, believed to be the highest in Europe, was formally dedicated, in the presence of French authorities and delegations of Canadian, British and Belgian ex-service men.

The Republican Guard band of France, that of the British Grenadier Guards, and that of Belgium's First Regiment of Guides were heard at intervals in concerts from Saturday afternoon until late this evening.

A torchlight parade, a fireworks exhibition, and an historic cortege in the famous Grand Place, the central square of Lille, were among the colorful events of the week-end.

Two Safes Cut Open

LUTON TOWN, England, Oct. 19.-For the second time in about two years the offices of Luton Town Football Club on the town ground have been broken into.

When Mr. Bert Day, the groundsman, arrived there the other morning he found that entry had been effected through a window against which a ladder had been placed.

The backs of two safes had been cut open and the thieves had cut through the inner cases to the cash boxes.

The filling material between the outer and inner cases was strewn all over the floor.

Finding only a few coppers, for money is not kept at the ground in bulk, the thieves opened every drawer in the place and threw books and papers about in confusion.

Although they gained so little they have put the club to very considerable expense at a time when losses can be ill-afforded.

Tryon and Vicinity

On Saturday October 8th, Melrose, Mass., lost one of its most respected citizens in the person of Mrs. Selma M. Wadman, widow of the late Oliver B. Wadman, of Crapaud, P. E. I. The late Mrs. Wadman was formerly Selma Myers of Hampton, P. E. I., and was the last one of a family of eleven. The news of her death came as a great shock, for although she was advanced in years, she was quite active and apparently in good health to within a few days of her death, which was due to heart failure. The late Mrs. Wadman attended church the Sunday before her death. The deceased was a woman of high ideals and a kind and loving disposition. The sincere sympathy of a wide circle of friends is extended to her bereaved relatives. Of her immediate family there are left to mourn, one daughter, Mrs. John S. Shirley (Winifred) of Melrose, Mass., with whom she has resided for the past thirteen years; also two grandchildren, Marian and Clifford Shirley. At the largely attended funeral services held in Melrose there were many beautiful floral tributes, including several from the different church societies to which she belonged. Mrs. Shirley accompanied the remains home for burial the funeral taking place on Thursday afternoon, October 13th, from the United Church in Crapaud. The services were conducted by Rev. J. L. Lund, assisted by Rev. Mr. Ayers, after which the deceased was tenderly laid to rest in the United Church Cemetery. The pall bearers were: Mr. Hermos Myers of Carleton; Mr. Frank Myers of Hampton; Mr. Oscar Myers of Halifax, N. S., and Mr. Russel Sturdy of Crapaud.

Groom Was "Rattled"

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.-At a recent Hollywood wedding, the groom was visibly embarrassed; but the bride, a popular moving-picture actress, was quite self-possessed.

"If it were only over," whispered he, excitedly. "I know I'll do it all wrong."

Suddenly there came to the ears of the groom the voice of the minister saying "Kindly change places with the bride."

The groom tried to do so, but was so rattled, he stepped on the toe of her shoe, and raising his arm, caught his cuff button in her veil.

The minister began the ceremony. The groom grew more and more embarrassed and fumbled with the rose of the bride's bouquet. Then he put his hand into his pocket and pulling out his handkerchief excitedly mopped his brow.

The church was silent save for the voice of the minister.

"If any person knows any just reason," he said, "why these two should not be joined together, let him now speak, or forever."

"I will!" shouted the groom.

Scientists Seeking Cinderella of Sea

WASHINGTON, October 19.-Sarah Ann, much to the consternation of the astronomical world, has disappeared and it is feared, "drowned."

Just a pin-point freckle on the face of the Pacific, Sarah Ann was—and maybe is—the tiniest sort of an uninhabited island.

This Cinderella of the sea was last reported "alive" some 15 years ago. Then of no value to anyone and avoided by ship captains, she has become today a spot of great importance. If she can be located, many scientists want a date five years from now.

The reason for the sudden popularity arises from the efforts of Professor A. Kopff, director of the Rechen-Institute of Berlin, and Professor James Robertson, director of the Naval Almanac office here, to calculate the course of the 1937 eclipse. They have found that on June 23, 1937, the sun will be eclipsed totally by the moon for about seven minutes. In all the Pacific, Sarah Ann was the only reported spot of land suitable for observation in the 5,000-mile long, 120-mile wide band of totality.

Recalling that the scientific world spent thousands of dollars to visit New England and Eastern Canada for the August eclipse that lasted a minute and 40 seconds, the value of a seven-minute observation can be easily understood.

Astronomers remark there is no possibility of setting up an eclipse observing station except on land, because of the precision necessary. Unless Sarah Ann can be found, it is possible that a coral reef may be built up to island status for the seven minutes.

Biographical Study Of Chinese Woman

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.-The first biographical study of a Chinese woman to be published in any language forms the subject of a book by Dr. Nancy Lee Swann, specialist in Chinese studies at the McGill University. It has been published by the American Historical Association as a contribution to research in the history, philosophy and ancient usages of the Chinese people and the name of it is "Pan Chao, the Foremost Woman Scholar of China."

"So far as is known this is the only thorough biographical study of a Chinese woman that has been published either in Chinese or any Western language," the publishers state. "It gives a complete account of the life and works of Pan Chao, moralist, essayist, poet, historian and teacher, whose influence has been far-reaching. Pan Chao was one of the earliest advocates of education for women. She was an extraordinary person, and this story of her life is intensely interesting both for itself and because of the light it throws on Chinese history during the period in which she lived."

The work is regarded as an important literary and historical contribution of both the Great Chinese Research Library and McGill University.

Women Should Insist On The Franchise

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.-Women who say they do not want the franchise are confessing that they are not interested in the affairs of their country in the opinion of Mme. A. A. Bruneau, a Canadian who is active in the woman suffrage movement in France. In an address at a meeting under the auspices of the Canadian Alliance for Women's Votes in Quebec, Mme. Bruneau drew attention to the anomaly by which women are admitted to almost all professions, are on an equality with men in medicine, law and in commerce, but are debarred from the electoral field. Yet in 19 European states, and in more than 30 nations throughout the world, women have the vote. She thought it strange that so advanced a country as France could continue to refuse women the enfranchisement. No valid reason could be found, she said.

Remarkable Cure Of Infantile Paralysis

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.-A notable example of recovery from infantile paralysis has been unearthed by Miss Fanny "Bobby" Rosenfeld, who writes a column on girls' sports for the Montreal Herald. Hilda Strike, a Montreal girl who ran 100 metres in girls' Olympic record time was at one time an apparently hopeless cripple. "Up until she was two years old," says Miss Rosenfeld, "Hilda Strike was the victim of infantile paralysis, and it was thought she never would be able to walk properly as long as she lived. Constant care and a mother's nursing finally put this young lady on her feet. She is equally at home on the baseball diamond, the basketball floor, the skating rink and the swimming tank."

Potato picking is now about completed and grading is in progress. Most crops were much lighter than last year but in general the potatoes were of fair size, clean and free from decay.

Mr. John Matheson of Tryon, was a Sunday visitor to his home in Appin Road.

Mr. John Frizzell, road supervisor, of Bedeque, P. E. I., made a business trip to Tryon and Tryon North on Monday, D.

Webb Drops Title

LONDON, October 19.-"The gentleman who goes under the fantastic name of Lord Passfield," as Mrs. Sidney Webb once described her husband when the veteran Fabian was Secretary for the Dominions in the last Laborite Government, has dropped his title, according to The Daily Mail. The familiar names of Sidney and Beatrice Webb, it is stated, are being resumed in the famous literary partnership, now engaged in producing a volume entitled "The Methods of Social Study."

"I have never altered my name," he told a reporter. "I am Sidney Webb to my publisher and my sailor, and when I lecture I am Sidney Webb."

POWNAW

The funeral of the late Sydney Brown took place on Tuesday, September 11th and was largely attended. He was laid to rest in the family plot at Birch Hill. The Rev. Ewen MacDougall officiated.

The floral offerings were beautiful and six Great War veterans acted as pall bearers, Messrs. Malcolm Judson, Lawson Jenkins, William Doyle, Spurgeon Jenkins, Warren Myers and Callaghan. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family as well as the young man whose gun discharged accidentally through no fault of his.

Mrs. Kenneth Jenkins of New Glasgow, N. S., who was on an extended visit to her sister Mrs. Nathaniel Gay has returned home.

The chicken supper given by the ladies of the United Church at Pownaw was a decided success. These ladies are noted for their good cooking and choice viands this was no exception. The following program was much enjoyed: Piano selections, Miss Charlotte Drake; reading, Miss Adele Smith; vocal solo, Mrs. Nathaniel MacKinnon; monologue, Mr. George W. Ballew; sing song led by Mrs. MacKinnon.

The October meeting of the Mount Mellick Women's Institute was held at the home of Miss Laura MacQueen on Thursday evening, Oct. 13th. Thirteen members and four visitors present. Meeting opened with Institute Ode and Creed after which the roll call was answered by a Canadian product and where manufactured. After the usual routine of business Miss Hazel MacEachern, convener for home industries gave a very interesting and instructive paper on Canadian Research. The following program was rendered, piano solo, Miss Charlotte Drake, contest by Miss MacEachern in Canadian exports. Mr. Lewis then gave a comic song; solo by Miss Frances Hood; duet by Mrs. Mutch and Mr. Lewis. Meeting closed by singing God Save the King.

We are very sorry to hear of the serious illness of Miss Hannah Dodd and hope for her speedy recovery.

Many friends and relatives in Pownaw regret the passing of Mr. W. A. Mutch whose funeral took place on Sunday and was very largely attended, people coming from all parts of the Island to pay the last tribute of respect. His daughter, Miss Edith arrived by plane from New York on Friday evening.
