Scotland Yard Is Baffled By "Cat" Burglaries

Fires Cause Damage To City Hall And Bakery

After a period of inactivity extending over several days, the City firemen responded to two fires yesterday. They had their first call at 2 o'clock in the morning to a fire on the second floor of the City Hall.

The blaze is thought to have had its origin in the south-east corner of the lavatory since it was there that the damage to the woodwork was greatest. A hole

Total Loot Now Claimed To Be $300,000

(By Glenn Williams)
LONDON, Oct. 27—(AP)—Scotland Yard's general staff, already without a trace of the stolen $80,000 jewels of the Duchess of Windsor, was confronted today with three more mysteries—the disappearance or theft of $65,200 in gems and furs from St. James's Palace and the boudoirs of two titled women.

The thieves, who have got away with $300,000 of jewelry and furs in the last two months in Britain's post-war crime wave, added these three coups to one of the most amazing records ever entered in Scotland Yard's cross-indexed archives: 1. Stole $3,000 worth of diamonds from St. James's Palace, housing personnel of the Royal household. The victim was American-born Lady Piers Leigh.

2. Looted the home of the Marchioness of Hartington, who is the daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, former United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James's. The loss was estimated at $40,000 in gems.

3. Robbed the Orme Square home of J. Harvey and his daughter, R. Betty Livingston, of $20,000 in pearls and a diamond necklace. A Scotland Yard spokesman on the St. James's Palace case raised speculation that it might have been an "inside" job. Detectives said the case was "not a burglary—the jewels have only been reported stolen."

The Press Association speculated that a pre-war gang of "counters" house thieves might have picked up the commando training during the war to accomplish the "cat" burglaries of the Duchess of Windsor's apartment and a similar string of baffling crimes.

Many Injured In Passenger Plane Crash

CAIRO, Oct. 27—(Reuters)—A chartered French air service plane carrying 21 passengers, including several Jewish agency leaders, crashed last Wednesday about 150 miles south of here.

Earlier reports said the crash took place during a sandstorm 90 miles west of Cairo. Early accounts of the crash did not mention the number of persons killed although it was stated that Joseph Perzman, prominent Jewish agency official, had died among many persons injured.

Eliaz Sasson, head of the agency's Arab section, was one of the 13 Palestinians aboard the Junkers transport which was flying from Paris to Cairo.

According to the latest reports the plane crashed and caught fire at Gebel Kalamoun after losing its way in a sandstorm.

Passengers were temporarily cared for at a nearby monastery. Mr. Sasson was returning from recent talks in London with the British government on Palestine.

Cardinal Villeneuve Completely Recovered

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—(CP)—Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, in Misericordia Hospital here for nearly a week as a result of a heart attack, was reported to be "completely recovered" but will remain in hospital for a few days more.

Hospital attendants said his Eminence had progressed satisfactorily from the heart attack as suffered last Monday, a recurrence of one with which he was stricken last July, and that when released, he would continue the vacation in New York which his illness interrupted.

Mexican Troops & Guides Seek Killers Of United States Bride

(By Reginald L. Wood)
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27—(AP)—Mexican troops and Indian guides fought their way through tangled underbrush today along the semi-primitive Biassas River in Mexico's biggest manhunt in recent years, seeking the killers of Nan Peiker Beach, 19, of Tulsa, Okla., and New York City.

Nan, a bride of four months, was wounded fatally Wednesday night while sleeping in the arms of her husband, Charles Edward Beach, 28, New York City, commercial artist. The young couple were on a honeymoon.

Street Battles In Chefoo

(By The Associated Press)
PEIPING, Oct. 27—Chinese Government troops were reported today to be fighting Communists in the streets of Chefoo and Government sources continue to predict the capture within four days of that shanting anchor of the Communists' vital sea lane to Manchuria.

The Manchurian end of the route, Antung, fell to the Government Friday without a fight.

Government military leaders expressed concern that international complications develop as Antung lies on the border of Soviet-occupied Northern Korea.

No incidents have been reported, however, from front-line dispatches saying the Russians were staying on the south side of the Yalu River boundary and the Chinese on the north.

All Government quarters emphasized the importance of the capture of Antung and the co-ordinated drive on Chefoo. They said the Communists long had used these two ports to ship arms from Manchuria to North China and troops from North China to Manchuria.

Lone Survivor Tells Grim Story Of Wreck

Gale Causes Heavy Damage In Alaska

(By The Associated Press)
NOME, Alaska, Oct. 2—A disastrous gale, now diminishing, that cut a wave-battering swath of destruction across this northern Alaskan community, leveling six business buildings and severely damaging 12 others, created a property loss of from $200,000 to $400,000, it was estimated today.

W. Boucher, publisher of the Nome Nugget, said after interviewing property owners that the Saturday damage undoubtedly will exceed $250,000 and may reach the $400,000 mark.

No lives were lost and only a few minor injuries were incurred during the storm.

Forewarned, Nome citizens formed emergency crews and moved all merchandise and the winter's food supply to safety. Mr. Boucher said this kept the damage below that of last year, when a similar storm caused a $600,000 loss.

Mountainous waves subsided during the night as the storm moved northward.

The huge combers, whose crests towered 300 feet in the air, crushed steel bulkheads along the waterfront and battered the rear of exposed buildings along the seaward side of the town's main street.

Bond Sales Are Nearing 200 Million Mark

OTTAWA, Oct. 27—(CP)—Canadians bought $182,968,900 worth of Canada Savings Bonds at the end of 10 selling days, national headquarters reported over the weekend. The total for the 10 days was $22,170,050, while represented in the cumulative sales were 461,774 applications from individuals.

Of the total, purchases through general sales amount to $135,796,400 and $47,222,500 was "payroll subscriptions. Headquarters officials said there was still a considerable lag in the reporting of payroll sales, the latest cumulative figure falling to reflect actual buying reported in plants located in all provinces.

The $22,170,050 total for the 10th day, however, showed a slight upward trend of payroll returns towards the pattern which national headquarters expects within the next few days. Of the amount, $9,520,150 was from payroll, and $12,649,900 applications out of 69,573 reported for the day were payroll.

Headquarters' examination of average purchases during the first 10 days shows that surprisingly few citizens are buying the $50 denomination. The sales organization attributes this to greatly diminished sales pressure.

Second Of Quadruplets Dies

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 26—Sydenham hospital said tonight a second of the quadruplets born Friday to Mrs. Lillian Hauptmann, 29, died Saturday night.

The second death was that of the only girl among the quadruplets. She died 1 1/2 hours after the births. Condition of the two surviving boys was described as fair.

MIDDLEBROUGH, England—(CP)—The Medical Officer, Lloyd Hughes has reported an increase from 66 to 79 per 1,000 in the infant mortality rate compared with 46 for all England and Wales.

Island Man Drowned At Pictou

(By William Stewart)
Canadian Press Staff Writer SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 27—James Cush, Norwegian sailor, told today the grim story of the wreck of the coastal ketch Nova and the wrecks of his three shipsmates.

Cush—a gaunt skeleton after 119 days of starvation—struggled ashore on New Caledonia Oct. 7 and now is in a United States army hospital here.

The Nova's skipper, Grant West, 34, and crew members Frank Anderson, 32, and Frank Pulling died during the long battle with thirst and hunger.

The Nova set out last June 10 on a coastal fishing trip. It ran out of gasoline and later, during a storm, its sails and sextant were washed overboard.

With only a day's provisions, West, Anderson, Pulling and Cush began 1,000 miles of drifting. After weeks of horror, the Nova was wrecked on the Isle of Pines, 70 miles southeast of Noumea, New Caledonia.

Only Pulling and Cush remained alive then and Pulling died shortly afterwards. When their rations were gone, the four sailors had attempted to keep alive by spearing fish with a fork and using barbed wire scraped from the hull of their boat for soup.

But Anderson died of malaria and Pulling died of malaria and cholera followed by West.

Pulling was within sight of rescue when he died. When he and Cush had landed from their wrecked boat, they could see smoke arising from the French island of New Caledonia.

After Pulling's death, Cush spent two weeks building a makeshift raft. He had been a stowaway 270-pound seaman when he had joined the crew of the Nova in Australia. But scurvy, malnutrition and exposure reduced him to 130 pounds.

After paddling his raft from the Isle of Pines to New Caledonia, he fell unconscious on the shore. Taken to hospital he was too weak to talk and the full story had to wait until today.

Notes Of Results Achieved By Missions

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Oct. 27—(AP)—Pope Pius XII in a radio address strictly religious in nature, declared Saturday that "perhaps the greatest sin in the world today is that men have begun to lose their sense of sin."

He made that observation in a broadcast from his summer castle residence directed to the opening of the eighth international congress of the confraternity of Christian doctrine in Boston.

The Pope said he was disturbed by the weakness of the church in the face of the "new faith" that flourishes for generations, but at the same time he noted the "magnificent results being achieved by Catholic missions among the Indians throughout the world: 3,000,000 and more receiving instruction in the faith, almost 500,000 entering the church each year."

151 Divorce Cases

FREDERICTON, Oct. 26—(CP)—The October term of the New Brunswick Court of Appeal and matrimonial cases will open here Tuesday.

A total of 151 petitions for divorce faces the court, including nine unfinished cases of the May term. Of the new petitions 133 are undefended.

Bevin Hopes Peace Will Last Forever

(By James McCook)
Canadian Press Staff Writer LONDON, Oct. 27—(CP Cable)—Foreign Secretary Bevin left for the United Nations general assembly in New York with his foreign policies generally endorsed by Prime Minister Attlee, Winston Churchill, the Trades Union Congress, and—most difficult of all—the backbenchers in his own Labor Party.

The massive, determined "John Bull" of the Labor movement never doubted that he would have Conservatives on his side when he recited in the House of Commons last week his problems in dealing with Russia and gave his warning that the Soviets could not continue indefinitely having their own way in regions such as occupied Germany.

Mr. Churchill listened and nodded as Mr. Bevin's review went on and the Foreign Secretary more and more began to address his own party rather than the opposition. Sometimes he practically turned his back on the Conservatives and faced the Labor men and women who were clearly waiting to be convinced.

Mr. Bevin was able to hold them until he mentioned Greece. Then a few began to repeat the familiar get-out-of-that-country.

The whole business of Greece has caused embarrassment to the Labor Party. Whatever the justice of the case, Labor members found it hard to make clear to some meetings why British troops should be involved in fights with Greek Leftists, how the Greek King came to be restored, and why, supervision of the Greek election was necessary.

Most Labor members loyally accepted that intervention was the only action possible in the circumstances, but a few think it is obvious that a group of the younger Labor men are completely dissatisfied with the theory again propounded by Mr. Attlee last week that suggestions for outside interference are simply strengthening the Franco regime.

Wage And Hour Program To Be Taken Up

TRURO, N.S., Oct. 27—(CP)—An increase close to $2.50 a day and a 40-hour week appeared certain to be incorporated in the new scale of demands for 13,000 Nova Scotia and New Brunswick coal miners, which will be placed before the annual convention of District 26, United Mine Workers of America, C.I.O., within a few days.

As the convention entered its second week, the new wage and hour program stood out as the most important remaining item of business.

It was learned unofficially tonight that the scale and policy committee, charged with the job of formulating the demands as a basis for contract negotiations with Dominion Coal Company, had almost completed its report for presentation to the delegates.

Present basic data rate in district 26 is $5.84 with a 48-hour week in force. The contract with Dominion Coal, employer of the great majority of district miners, expires Jan. 31, 1947. As in the past, any contract negotiated with Dominion Coal Company would be accepted by the few small concerns.

Pravda Calls Democratic Leadership Reactionary

(By Eddy Gilmore)
MOSCOW, Oct. 27—(AP)—The Communist newspaper Pravda declared Saturday that the present leadership of the Democratic party in the United States was abandoning the ideas of Franklin D. Roosevelt and was "betraying the will of reactionary Republicans and Democrats who express the interest of capitalist monopolies."

The Democratic leadership, said the newspaper in commenting on current United States politics, was embracing the views of Senator Vandenberg (Rep.-Mich.), turning away from a policy of unity of the great powers and adopting ideas of "force, atomic diplomacy and dollar democracy."

Pravda said general opinion was that errors "admitted by Democratic leaders worsen their election prospects which are not too happy anyway."

"If the old guards of the Republican party," Pravda continued, "Hoover, Landon, Taft and Vandenberg have shifted from a position of pre-war isolationism to a pale of impetuous imperialism and expansion, then the ruling circles of the Democrats have also accomplished an opposite revolution. They have left Roosevelt and come to Vandenberg."

The first Russian reaction to the United Nations general assembly meetings was in a Moscow radio broadcast Saturday by Nikolai Mikhalov who called Senator Vandenberg an "unrestrained spokesman of American imperialism" and declared an attack on the big powers' veto in the security council would demolish the United Nations' organization.

Ten Killed, 54 Injured In Rioting

(By The Canadian Press)
CALCUTTA, Oct. 27—Ten persons were killed today and 54 injured by acid bombs tossed by a rioting mob, as Calcutta's newest outbreak of Hindu-Muslim disorders continued into the sixth consecutive day. Approximately 80 deaths have occurred since Tuesday.

In an effort to check the disorders before they flared into thousands of lives in August, police extended curfew hours in certain sections of Calcutta, particularly in the trouble areas in the north part of the city.

Saturday night additional British troops were moved into the city after a day of disorders in which 26 persons were killed and at least 50 injured.
