Of all the skin beautifiers we have had in our store there is none that we can recommend more highly than the D. D. D. Prescription.

A. D. McIntosh having been returned as duly served, Mr. A. J. W. Black, conducted public worship and preached from the Epistle to the Hebrews 12:1, and the words, Wherefore, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us.

Mr. R. G. Strathie narrated the steps leading to the settlement, and put the usual questions to Mr. A. D. McIntosh, to all of which satisfactory answers were given.

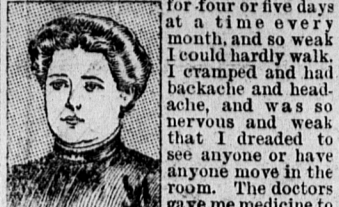

Rev. Mr. Whiteman of the Methodist Church, being present, spoke a few words of welcome on behalf of his people and himself.

There passed peacefully away at Souris, November 27th, after a long illness, which was borne with patience, beautiful to see in one so young Willie, the dearly beloved and only son of Edith and Michael FitzPatrick, aged 16 years and 3 months, leaving six sisters to mourn the loss of a loving companion.

The funeral of the late William Smallwood, Mr. Herbert, took place on Tuesday afternoon from his late residence to the Mt. Herbert Cemetery. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. E. E.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at the times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as fast as any ordinary woman any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."

Styles, Pownal, and a very large number of people followed the remains of the deceased to their last resting place.

Arthur McArthur, 20, a lodger at 161 Massachusetts Avenue, in the Back Bay, says the Boston Advertiser, committed suicide in his room Wednesday morning by inhaling ill-uminating gas. When discovered McArthur was sitting in a chair, partially dressed, and gas was escaping from an open jet connected with a gas stove. The key holes of the doors and the cracks in the window panes were stuffed with cotton batting. No motive can be ascribed for his act. The odor of gas was noticed by another lodger in the house, James Keefe, traced it to McArthur's room. Mrs. Julia King, the landlady, said she saw McArthur early Wednesday evening, and he appeared to be in a cheerful mood. He was formerly employed by an advertising concern and is supposed to have friends living in Seaview, P.E. I.

named Russel McLaren, who thought quickly and acted promptly, headed a bucket brigade and as there was a spring a short distance away, they quickly had some water on the scene. Some men were already on the roof, with axes, and the combination after a stiff fight, succeeded in getting the flames under control. A strong wind was blowing and as a number of dwelling houses were situated closely to Mr. McLeod's a serious disaster must have occurred but for the timely assistance rendered by Mr. McLaren and the young men of the town, to whom much credit is due.—Com.

Many citizens of Prince County and also of Charlottetown will regret to learn of the death of Miss Fanny Collett, which took place yesterday morning at the home of the Hon. Wm. A bad conflagration was narrowly averted at St. Peter's Bay Wednesday night, when the roof of Neil Mead's house and tailoring shop caught fire from a defective flue. The shingles and saddle-board were all ablaze and the fire was rapidly gaining headway when the friends and neighbors gathered. A young man, Madam-It's Got to be Blended or You Can't Use it for Pastry as Well as for Bread. All this talk about western wheat flours being "pastry" flours, is just plain talk. Anyone, who knows anything about wheat, knows that western wheat flour cannot, will not and does not, make as good pastry as "BEAVER" FLOUR. Any flour, which is said to be western wheat flour, and makes extra good pies and cake, will be found to be blended like "Beaver" Flour—whether it is sold as such or not. A blended flour like "BEAVER" FLOUR is the only one that is equally good for bread and pastry. You will understand WHY. Manitoba wheat has what the bakers call strength. It makes a big loaf of bread; but the bread is spongy or full of holes and lacks flavor. Ontario wheat, blended with spring wheat, makes the ideal bread and pastry flour. By combining the two in just the right proportions, we have "Beaver" Flour—a flour that makes the real home-made bread and delicious light pastry. In cities such as Toronto, where bakers have tried a blended flour, it was found that although a smaller appearing loaf was the result, the people refused the Manitoba flour bread in favor of it—and there is now no other flour used. "BEAVER" FLOUR is sold for what it is—a scientifically blended flour—the original blended flour—pure, honest, reliable. Don't bother with two kinds of flour—don't put up with heavy pastry, or flavorless bread. Order "Beaver" Flour—at your grocer's. Dealers—write us for prices on Feed, Coarse Grains and Cereals. THE T.
