How Canada will get its overseas mail 24 hours earlier is shown in this map. The postmaster-general has asked for an air mail service between Father Point, P. Q., and Quebec, whereby mail from Great Britain will be landed from the British liner at Father Point and rushed by plane to Montreal, the plane arriving 24 hours before the ship gets in. The mail bags would then speed westward with their usual celerity.

A capacity house greeted the Summerside performers at their presentation of "The Spoiled Darling" in the Masonic Hall here on Tuesday evening. Splendid order prevailed throughout a glowing tribute to the interest and appreciation of the entire evening program. The instrumental music was a very excellent feature and the vocal duet and solo were each heartily encored and graciously responded to. At the close a hearty vote of appreciation, moved by Mrs. R.H. Baxter, seconded by Mrs. John Bertram, was extended the party, thanking them for the splendid entertainment and for their courtesy and generosity in giving the W.M.S. of the United Church here such aid financially. At the tea hour and at the close of the play they were the guests of the W.M.S. at Supper and Lunch respectively in the Dining Hall.

The local committee are in no small way indebted to the Ticket sellers who materially aided in making the affair such a success. $76.35 having been realized over and above all expenses.

Dr. CHASE'S OINTMENT

On Friday evening, May 20th, the day after Mr. Peter H. Greenan, Brae, returned from Hantsport, N. S., where he obtained an artificial limb, a very large representation from Brae and vicinity assembled at the home of Mr. Greenan to manifest the high esteem in which you are about to leave us, we feel that we cannot allow you to depart without expressing in a humble manner our feelings of good will toward you. As a member of our institute you may be classed as one of "The Willing Workers," ever ready to lend a helping hand and no doubt you will be greatly missed but you will always be remembered and we fervently ask the Giver of all good to grant you abundant graces and blessings. We shall not only miss you from our institute, but we shall miss you from our community, as we have found in you a most charming companion and true friend. Rest assured that we will always remember you and with the warmest feelings we ask you to accept this present as a small expression of our good will towards you. And when you have time to reflect in a foreign land you will again return to dear old St. Patrick's Road and make it your home. In saying good-bye we ask you to accept the good wishes of all, and may prosperity for the future be the leading feature of your life, is the sincere wish of your many friends. Signed, St. Patrick's Road Women's Institute.

Mrs. Birt replied in a few well-chosen words, thanking her friends for their kindness and assuring them that their acts of generosity would always remain fresh in her memory.

After a dainty lunch was served to all, the singing of "For she's a jolly good fellow" was brought to a close a pleasant evening's entertainment. (Patriot please copy.)

FAREWELL PRESENTATION

On the evening of May 23rd a number of the neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Webster of Hampton gave them a surprise visit to express to them the appreciation in which they were held and the regret felt over their departure to Cornwall where they will take up their temporary residence. The address which was read by the Hon. J. H. Myers speaks for itself and was accompanied by lovely gifts for Mr. and Mrs. Webster and a purse for their son Sterns. The gifts were suitably acknowledged by Mr. Webster who also took the occasion to thank them all for the exceedingly good patronage extended to him while in business in Hampton for the past two years.

A jolly evening was then spent in speeches and music until the Hampton ladies took charge and served the refreshments which were unsurpassable as these ladies are all noted cooks.

The address was as follows:
Hampton
May 24th, 1927

To Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Webster and family on the eve of their departure from Hampton to take up their temporary residence in Cornwall.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Webster—Having learned some time ago of your intended departure from Hampton, we the assembled guests think it fitting to express to you our regrets at your leaving.

It is a high tribute to any citizen who has been a part of a community, that his going is a loss to the community.

You have only resided in our midst for a few years it is true; yet during that brief space, by your geniality, straightforwardness, and courteous attention to business you have formed many friendships which although they may be interrupted by time and space can never be completely obliterated.

Just as a good citizen is valuable to the state, so a good business man is a valuable asset to a community and it was our hope had you remained here, that with increased facilities you would have been in a better position to handle a larger portion of our ever increasing agricultural products.

Both you and Mr. Webster have always shown yourselves interested in any movement having for its object the betterment of this section.

We do not wish to weary you with a long address, but simply say in conclusion that we have enjoyed your fellowship for the past two years, and accompany you in spirit with our best wishes for your welfare wherever you may reside in the future.

Please accept the accompanying gifts not for their intrinsic worth or value but as a reminder of friendships formed and pleasant memories we would not have forgotten.

Signed on behalf of assembled guests:
Warren Villett,
Mark Cameron,
J. H. Myers.

Every Workman a Guardian of Quality

INSPECTION . . . careful and uncompromising . . . is diligently carried out by General Motors of Canada through a large and competent, specially appointed staff.

This inspection deals with materials, with workmanship, with assembly . . . and will not tolerate the slightest variation from precision.

And, in addition, each veteran Canadian craftsman constitutes himself an inspector no less critical and exacting.

Each is just as truly a guardian of that high quality which is the solid foundation of General Motors' constantly rising position in public esteem.

So deeply rooted and doubly assured, General Motors precision manufacture is of the greatest importance to the owners of its cars . . . and to all who consider buying one.

It results not only in better performance and the matchless satisfaction of dependability. . .

It makes itself decidedly felt in those more important attributes of true value which are slow depreciation and long life!

he is held by the community, and to congratulate him upon his recovery from the regrettable accident he met with last summer.

About 8.30, Mr. John Noonan was appointed chairman. After expressing the purpose of the assemblage, Mr. Noonan called upon Mr. Jerry Buote to read the following address:

To Mr. Peter H. Greenan, Brae, P. E. I.

Dear Mr. Greenan—A few of us old neighbors and old friends of many years standing, have met here tonight to attest to you our warmest heartfelt friendship, and to congratulate you upon your recovery from the deplorable accident which resulted in the partial loss of one of your limbs. Be assured that throughout the trying time when you were undergoing suffering, and when the worries of the world were bearing heavily upon you, we, too, were suffering mentally and worried greatly over your misfortune.

During all the years of our acquaintance you have stood forth for the right always, and no good object ever lacked your sympathy and helping hand. To all of us you have always been a kind and thoughtful neighbor, unselfish in all things and willing always to do even more than your part where voluntary effort was required.

You have been very fortunate in your family relations, and we can truthfully say that every good word we are conveying to you now appertains with equal force to your dear wife, Mrs. Greenan. As a moment of our regard, we take very great pleasure in handing you greetings, Mr. Greenan then treated herewith a present, as a token of our friendship, and we sincerely hope and pray that many years of usefulness will be granted you because the call we all must answer, comes.

(Signed)
Hubert McAleer,
Ambrose MacDonald,
Jerry Buote.

In behalf of the community, the presentation of a gold watch and chain was made by Mr. Hubert McAleer.

Mr. Greenan in fitting terms expressed the lively sentiments of thanksgiving and appreciation which seized him.

A letter from Mr. J. D. Kennedy, O'Leary, was then read by Mr. Buote in which Mr. Kennedy expressed his regret at being unable to attend, and in behalf of Mr. Greenan's many friends in O'Leary sent greetings. Mr. Greenan then treated to a close by all present went to their sincerest and best wishes for his recovery.

The social evening was brought to a close by all present went to their sincerest and best wishes for his recovery.

Special instrumental music was furnished by Messrs. Albert Noonan, O'Leary, and Neil Macdonald, Brae, Miss Pearl Noonan, O'Leary, accompanying on the organ. After enjoying the music so fully rendered, Mrs. Greenan had a dainty meal to all in usual good style. Two hours were then spent in dancing. A special feature of the evening was a dance by Mr. Ambrose MacDonald, Mr. MacDonald, although having danced for some years, is so pleased at the honor bestowed upon his neighbor, Mr. Greenan that he consented to give a special performance.
