MILBURN SCHOOL EXAMINATION

The semi-annual examination of Milburn School was held on the afternoon of Dec. 18th. Despite the inclement weather, a large number of parents were present, thus showing the interest taken in the school.
 The school was prettily decorated for the occasion, and a heavily laden Christmas tree occupied one corner of the room.

The pupils were examined in the various subjects by their teacher, Miss Mary A. Driscoll, and showed by their prompt and correct answers that they had been diligently taught.

After the examination a short, but interesting program was carried out, Mr. Fred Robbins capably acted as chairman.

A very pleasing feature of the children was the arrival of Santa Claus, who appeared in his usual jovial manner and distributed the many presents to both teacher and pupils.

All present were treated to a generous supply of candy.

A vote of thanks was tendered the teacher by Mr. Lewis Moore, and seconded by Mr. Fred Robbins.

All returned to their homes feeling assured that they had spent a pleasant afternoon.

"Caught" A New Western

Whoever says that the vogue if it can be called that, for Western pictures on the screen is passe, will have to alter his opinions when he sees "Caught," Paramount's splendid talkie based on the life and adventures of Calamity Jane, at the Prince Edward Theatre.

"Caught" opened at the Capitol Theatre yesterday. And it caught the intense interest of every beholder with its fascinating characterizations and its stirring plot.

The cast is an extraordinary good one. The work of Miss Dresser as the leather lunged and incrimible virago of the wild West surpasses her notable achievements as the long-suffering wife in "Lightning."
 If you like Western pictures see "Caught."

"Transatlantic"

One of the most interesting pictures of the season is on display at the Prince Edward Theatre, where it had its premier showing.

"Transatlantic," briefly, has to do with the tangled lives of a dozen or so men and women who set out from an American port for Europe aboard a de luxe liner. Unknown to each other before the vessel slips its moorings, they speedily become involved in a tangle which takes the entire voyage across the Atlantic to unman.

Aboard is Edmund Lowe, a high class gambler of the Robin Hood type. We also find Lois Moran daughter of an old German lens grinder, played by Jean Hersholt.
 Then, too, there is John Halliday, a wealthy banker; his wife—Myrna Loy; a Swedish dancer—Greta Nas-sen, and other fascinating figures.

Lowe befriends Miss Moran, and she immediately falls in love with the handsome, debonaire gambler.
 Miss Loy enlists his aid in saving her husband from Greta Nissen, and Lowe has plans of his own for taking over some of Halliday's surplus cash, with which he is fleeing from his tottering bank.

"Transatlantic" is a picture you will not want to miss.

THAT THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

(A column of interest to all recording accepted facts and worthy opinions regarding the place of alcoholic beverages in modern life; as well as news of the progress of the campaign for a "dry" world.)

FINLAND—EXAMPLE OR WARNING?

Finland has given up Prohibition.
 Should P. E. I., follow her example?
 Let us look the facts in the face.
 A Smuggler's Paradise—Finland rubs shoulders with nine immediate neighbors, each an admirable base of operations for smuggling by land or sea or both. As these are all liquor-drinking nations, the dry country had a full-sized job on its hands.

The Pressure of the Traffic—The liquor interests, law-breakers without scruple, organized and financed a campaign to break prohibition on moral. (Even Canada has felt its corrupting touch!) Especially the wine-growing and liquor-producing countries pushed their products on those northern nations who like ourselves were striving to curb the drinking habit, in line with the tested results of modern science. They enlisted their governments in this effort. Ireland and Norway were first, pushed over among the wet. Now Finland is dragged across also.

Nullifying the Law—Smuggling in tremendous proportions brought the law into disrepute. Not ordinary smugglers and bootleggers but the liquor-producers, organized, aggressive, resourceful, flooded the country with illicit liquor in their determination to discredit the law.

Wet Propaganda—The Farmer's Party, and like P. E. I., Finland is predominantly rural, recently had taken such effective steps to enforce prohibition that the sky looked brighter for the dry cause, when because of a serious economic crisis a coalition government of a wet complexion was formed, leading almost inevitably to the present result. Prohibition became the scrape-goat for all the nation's sins, lawlessness, depression, etc. Besides many voters hoped to improve the national finances through liquor revenue—a familiar device where money is more important than morals. For instance if P. E. I., were under government-control schemes, the government might receive some $150,000 annually from the $1,000,- 000 sale of liquor the Island's proportion of the $200,000,000 sale in the rest of Canada. Would the Island be better off?

Cornwall

On Tuesday evening in Cornwall United Church a lecture was given by Rev. D. K. Currie, illustrated by beautifully colored lantern slides of the Canadian West. Many enjoyed seeing the beauty spots of our great Dominion, including Banff and Jasper Park.

The many friends of Mr. Herbert Primmell will be glad to know that he will soon be out again, after his severe accident about six weeks ago.

Miss Evelyn Bell, Cape Traverse, is visiting at Mr. Percy Lowther's, Cornwall.

Mr. E. Morrow, St. Catharines, was a visitor to Cornwall Rink on Saturday night.

Among the hockey fans from Cornwall who attended the Abbe-Dalhousie game on Friday night were the following: Louis McDonald, Gordon Frizzell, Vincent Leonard, Gordon McEwen, Jack Scott and Gunnar Oassen.

Hilfred Stretch, Long Creek, was a welcome visitor to Cornwall Rink Saturday night.

Waldron Lowther, Cornwall, was a recent visitor to Clyde River.

Mrs. Deane McEwen, North River, and Mrs. Hazen Howard, Cornwall, have returned from Summerside, where they were attending the W.
 M. S. Presbyterial. Mrs. Howard was re-elected as recording secretary.

Henry Godfrey, Kingston, and George MacMillan, Cornwall, (not McDonald, as appeared in last week's notes), received the T. Eaton Trophy for judging at Amherst Fair.

A public school examination was held in Cornwall School on Friday, the twenty-ninth. The teachers were assisted by John Hearz. The scholars showed by their answers that they had received careful training.
 Delicious candy was passed around by the teachers and the singing of God Save the King brought the meeting to a close.

A large number enjoyed the Mission Band Social, which was held
