"Come, Holy Ghost, our hearts inspire,
Let us thine influence prove;
Source of the old prophetic fire
Fountain of Light and Love."
(C. Wesley).

(The latter hymn was sung to the air of "Drink to me only with thine eyes")
A Short Sentence Prayer
"Grant me, oh Lord! nobility of character, spirituality of thought, love to my fellow-men, and perfect harmony with Thee. In Christ's name, Amen."

The offering ("collection" it was then called) was taken up by the stewards, and in red bags fastened to the ends of long poles, resembling fishermen's landing nets. The services, morning and evening, began a half hour earlier than at present, and should it grow dark either before or during the evening service, the "sexton," Mr. Harris, would walk through the church, "lighting the gas" with a taper fixed on the end of a long pole. The use of the pole was to avoid disturbing the worshippers. This was long before the days of electric light.

The superintendents of the Sunday School of my earliest recollection were, in the order named: William Brown, William Stumbles, Bertram Moore and W. E. Dawson. Of those who attended church and Sunday school in the old wooden building, there are I believe, less than six now living.

Referring to my remarks about the "Great Fire of 1866" I was mistaken in saying that the "Bagnall Buildings" were situated on the corner where the "Cavendish Apartments" now stand. They stood, in fact, one block north of the place I mentioned.

In the first of this series, re "Old

Barrack Square," for "William" read "Richard" Faught.
The Military Parade on St. Peter's Road was held on "Springfield" near where "Love's Tannery" now stands, and the Drill Hall in winter was in Pope's Warehouse where Dr. Jenkins' office now stands, and not on the site of the Canadian Legion Home.
Re "The Tenant League" for year "1864" read "1865".

The "Central Academy," as I remember it, had, as its Headmaster, Mr. John Kenny, a brother, I believe, or near relative, of Sir Edward Kenny of Halifax, N. S. When the Academy became in 1861, the "Prince of Wales College, it had, as Principal, Dr. Inglis from Scotland. His assistant was Mr. William Monk. On the retirement of the latter, Professor (later Dr.) Alexander Anderson became assistant. A few years later, on Dr. Inglis' resignation, Dr. Anderson became Principal, with Professor Lowe as his assistant. Dr. Anderson held the position for very many years, after which he was appointed Chief Superintendent of Education for the Province. Owing to advanced age, in a few years he retired from educational work and took up his residence with his daughter, Mrs. Kingdon, in Halifax, until his death. On Dr. Anderson's retirement as Principal of the College, Dr. S. N. Robertson became Principal, and holds that position up to the present time.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY

TO MRS. H. A. MACKENZIE

On behalf of the North Rustico Presbyterian W. M. S. we wish to convey to you our sincerest sympathy in this hour of sorrow and bereavement. We know there is little we can say that would comfort your lonely heart and we wonder why those things must be. But we must patiently submit to God's will believing He doeth all things well, and we pray that the comfort of God's word will cheer and sustain you in the time of sorrow. While you mourn her loss you have the beautiful memories of the happy days she was with you and that blessed hope of meeting her in Heaven.
"God calls our loved ones
But we must not lose, wholly
What He has given
They live on earth in thought and deed
And in His Heaven."
(Signed)
MRS. GEO. PUBLICOVER, Vice President.
MISS MARY ROLLINGS, Secretary.

Thirty-Two Employees Now On Factory Staff Under Capable Management. Considerable Amount Of Confectionery Manufactured.

The intricacies of candy manufacturing were viewed by a Guardian reporter who was shown through the new plant of the National Candy Company yesterday afternoon by Mr. T. L. Covey, superintendent and manager, and Mr. Theodore Georges, Most of the machinery appeared to be new, and all was functioning perfectly. At present thirty-two are employed in the plant, twenty-one of which are local people. Five men and six girls from Halifax, who are training the local workers, comprise the remainder of the staff.

Mr. Covey, superintendent and manager, has had a wide experience in candy manufacturing, extending over a period of thirty-five years, during which he was employed by Moirs at Halifax.
The first floor is occupied by the office, by mixing and coating machinery, and by a cooling room in the rear, the second by dippers and packers, and the third as a store-room. The basement is to be used as a store room for raw material.
Since the building has been taken over by the National Candy Co. Ltd., it has undergone an immense amount of renovating and cleaning, and presents a spotless and sanitary appearance with ample working room. It is hoped within the next month to raise the staff numerically to about one hundred employees, if sufficient capital is secured.

The first object that meets the eye of the visitor after he passes the office is the mixing and stirring machine which mixes the ingredients for the chocolates. To the rear of this is the machine for mixing the ingredients of marshmallows composed of sugar, glucose, which is a sweet syrup made from corn, and white of egg.
To the right are the tables where thin layers of peanut brittle and fudge are spread to dry. The brittle is composed of sugar glucose and peanuts boiled together and later cooled.
Cream "fondant" composed of sugar and water, much used in candy manufacture is stored in crocks on the lower floor. To this is added glucose, to prevent crystallization.
To the left of the mixing machines are the marble slabs on which various kinds of candy are moulded or cut. In the rear of the building is the "enrober," which as the name suggests, is designed to apply the coating of chocolate to bars and cheaper kinds of chocolates. From this very intricate machine the product passes into the refrigerating room to the rear where the confectionery is allowed to cool.
The sweetened chocolate used for coating is received in 100 pound cases, each containing ten ten pound cakes. These are melted in a cauldron on the lower floor. On the second floor access to which is gained by a stair in the rear, the melted chocolate is kneaded by a machine into a smooth paste.
Here also seven dippers are at work applying the coating of chocolate to the more expensive brands of confectionery. There are six or seven brands of chocolates manufactured in all of which Rainbow is the best known kind. A large number of the dippers are local people working under the direction of skilled and experienced employees from

Hotel Property For Sale

Offers will be received until July 1st, 1930, for the purchase of the "College Inn" property at Antigonish, N. S.
This consists of a three-floor building containing twenty-five rooms, heated with hot water, and also a quarter of an acre of land with a stock barn, hen house, ice house and garage. All the buildings are in good repair.
The property is situated on Main Street, opposite the newly formed Tourist's Information Bureau and also the Eastern Automobile Co., and adjacent to the McColl-Frontenac Garage—the two service stations. It is within two minutes walk of the Post Office and the Celtic Hall Theatre, and within five minutes walk of St. F. X. College, Mount St. Bernard's Cathedral, and two of the three other churches.
It is ordinarily filled to capacity with transient guests and permanent boarders and has rooms in the vicinity for the overflow during the tourist season. Interested persons are invited to visit the place and acquaint themselves of its advantages and revenues. It will be sold as a going concern.

FORMAL CLOSING OF SEWING CIRCLE AT NOTRE DAME
The formal closing of St. Vincent De Paul Sewing Circle took place at Notre Dame Academy on Tuesday afternoon of this week.
The report of the winter's work, read by the Secretary, was very gratifying to the efficient President and her willing co-workers. It showed a large amount of much needed relief extended to the deserving poor of our city.
The Annals show that the society was established in the year 1888, and it has performed an inestimable amount of good work during all those years.
Only one charter member is alive today, Mrs. K. J. Ledwell, and in recognition of her long and faithful service, a motion was made by Mrs. Jas. McAulay and seconded by Miss McKensie that Mrs. Ledwell be elected Honorary President of the society for life. The motion carried unanimously.
After the business of the day was concluded, afternoon tea was served by the members and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all.
As a fitting close to the afternoon proceedings, Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given by Rt. Rev. Mgr. McDonald, Director of the Society, beautiful music being rendered by the Convent Choir.

SHAMROCK NOTES
Miss Kathleen Hughes, of Shamrock, was visiting at Freetown, the guest of Miss Roma Curley.
Miss Annie Newsom and Miss Katie Macintosh have been visiting their friends in Hunter River.
Mr. Emmet Hughes and daughter Kathleen, of Shamrock, spent the week end at North Wiltshire, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Berrigan.

TO VISIT THE MARITIMES
MANY TOURISTS PARTIES WILL SPEND SOME TIME IN THE LOWER PROVINCES THIS SUMMER
MONCTON, April 30—The 1930 tourist outlook for the Maritime Provinces is very promising, and it is likely this year's travel will exceed that of last year by a considerable volume, declared M. F. Tompkins, traffic manager of the C. N. R. Atlantic Region. Already several large conventions and tour parties are making the Maritimes their objective for the season of 1930, he stated.
Those travelling by C. N. R. include Bounti Temple Mystic Shriners, of Baltimore, Md., an offshoot of the great Shriners' convention at Toronto in June. There will be two
