MAJOR ATWOOD T. MCKAY, D.S.O.

Major Atwood T. McKay, D. S. O., was reported 'died of wounds' on October 26th, 1918. He was one of the bravest and finest soldiers who left the shores of his native Province, Prince Edward Island, for the front.

The late Major McKay was born at Montague, in April, 1884, so that at the time he yielded up his life for our God, King and Country, he was only thirty-three years of age. He was the youngest son of the late Mr. Donald McKay, one of the most prominent residents of King's County.

Atwood received his education in the High School at Montague. When only eighteen years of age, he joined the celebrated Fourth Regiment, C. A., in this Province, as a Gunner, under the command of Captain W. A. Johnson, also of Montague. In this Regiment, he gained an excellent military training and was imbued with those high principles of loyalty to the Flag, which ever afterwards influenced his life. In 1904, or two years after joining the Military, he was appointed Corporal and a year later he was promoted to Sergeant. In 1907, he duly qualified for and gained the rank of Lieutenant. One year later, or in 1908, he was gazetted Captain of the Montague Company of the Fourth Regiment.

It is a striking evidence of his military ability and the confidence and respect reposed in him by his Company, that in 1908, when Captain W. A. Johnson resigned, Lieutenant McKay, having duly qualified, was unanimously selected as his successor. On May 29th, of the same year the transfer of arms, equipment and clothing of the Fourth Regiment, C. A., Montague, Company was made to Captain McKay. Subsequently he was promoted to the rank of Major.

Immediately after the outbreak of the war, Major McKay volunteered for overseas service, and in order to accomplish his going to war at once, if we mistake not, he cheerfully reverted to the rank of Captain. He proceeded to Fredericton, N. B., on Tuesday, December 11th, 1914, along with ten other of the brave boys from Montague, who volunteered with him, and joined the 26th, Battery, Field Artillery. With this Battery they proceeded to England in February, 1915, and after undergoing the necessary training there for the front, the Battery was transferred to France, in September of the same year. He was promoted to his former rank of Major on the field of battle and given command of the 26th, Battery. Thus from September 1915, to October 1918, Major McKay fought on the battle fields of France, a period of over three years' continuous service.

It has been said that this splendid Battery, under the Command of Major McKay, ranked with the very finest Field Artillery on the battlefield. Indeed, for direct hits in conflict with the Germans, no Battery surpassed the record made by the 26th. For the signal service done by himself, Major McKay was awarded the coveted Distinguished Service Order and was mentioned several times in despatches.

It is therefore peculiarly sad that, almost on the eve of the signing of the armistice and when the dawn of peace was breaking, that Major McKay was wounded and this ultimately ended in his death. In one of the latest battles of the great conflict one of his legs was fractured by a shell, between the knee and the thigh. Some time after his removal to the hospital, amputation was considered necessary. His splendid frame and health, however, had been so badly shattered from the wound, that the shock of the operation proved fatal, and the indomitable spirit of this brave Officer passed to Him who gave it, on October 26th, 1918.

As an evidence of the high regard felt for the Major, in the place of his birth, it may be mentioned that a Memorial Service to him, under the auspices of St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 13, A. F., and A. M., Montague, of which Lodge he was Worshipful Grand Master in 1913, will be held in the Presbyterian Church there at a date to be announced later.

Many tributes have been paid to the brave, by tongue and pen. No greater epitaph can be written of any man—soldier or civilian—than that he gave up his life for his friends or his country. "Greater love hath no man than this." Upon the altar of his country, Major McKay has laid the supreme sacrifice; he is another of those who sleep 'row on row' in Flanders field. Respected, admired and loved at home and abroad, the leader and the idol of the Battery he lead into battle, Major McKay has proved himself worthy of the ancestry from which

VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN

THE OLD INTERCOLONIAL GOES WELL OVER THE TOP

Sixty-five Per Cent. of Employees Financial Shareholders in Canada's Destiny.

Amongst the many agencies at work in connection with the Victory Loan Campaign, that conducted by the employees of the Canadian Government Railways (Eastern Lines) deserves special mention.

A circular issued by the General Manager, Mr. C. A. Hayes, and addressed to every employee, struck the key note of the campaign. Announcement was made that the Government of Canada had issued a call for $500,000,000 to meet the great demands of her military efforts over seas and to insure continuance of prosperity at home—every employee of the Government Railways was directly interested in the undertaking—an active campaign would be immediately commenced with the object of making one million dollars the minimum amount subscribed and every employee a bond-holder—particulars of the bond issue would be sent to every employee personally and special arrangements had been made whereby employees, if they so desired, could have their subscriptions deducted from their pay.

At a meeting of the officers it was decided to make the Superintendent of each of the seven districts a captain of his territory. The General Offices at Moncton and the shops were made two additional districts for this purpose, with an officer to specially look after the campaign. Each captain in turn appointed his own committees so that by means of the Railways' organization it was possible to practically canvas each one of the 11,000 employees. Advertising material

Specially appealing to the employees was distributed along the line from Montreal to the Sydney.

During the campaign the captains sent to the Moncton central committee a daily report of the percentage of employees subscribing and the amount subscribed. The grand daily total and the standing of each district was in turn wired to each captain, so that a friendly rivalry was created.

Off to an enthusiastic and well-organized start, and the knowledge that the boys who had safely carried nearly a million soldier lads would not be satisfied until they had raised more than a million dollars for the Great Cause, the campaign never lagged. The final results, $1,350,370 as the subscription of the 65% of employees, who have thus become financial shareholders in Canada's destiny, will ever be recorded to the lasting credit of the old Intercolonial.

The following telegram from Major G. A. Bell, the acting Deputy Minister of the Great Eastern Railway, to the General Manager, speaks for itself:

Ottawa, Nov. 18, 1918. C. A. Hayes, Moncton. The Minister of Railways and the Department of Finance wish me to congratulate you and through you the officials and employees of the Canadian Government Railways Eastern Lines for their splendid subscriptions and work in connection with the Victory Loan. (Sgd.) G. A. Bell. The General Manager has added his personal thanks to all those who in any way contributed to the success of the campaign.

It seems more than ordinarily sorrowful that this heroic he sprang and exemplified that he was every inch a soldier. young Officer is not to return with the brave boys, who have passed through the awful baptism of war, and will soon, we hope, be home again. In the future the story of the undaunted bravery and sacrifices of our Island youth will be told in chiselled numbers on shafts of stone and marble. It will then be fitting that at least the fallen heroes should have their names enshrined in tablets in the Churches, the cities, towns and villages, so that the heroic example of their deeds may be kept before the rising generation.

Major McKay leaves to mourn, his mother, now visiting her daughter in Everett, Mass; also one brother Walter in Calgary and three sisters, Mrs. C. L. Hulbert, in Everett, Mass., Mrs. Schroder, in Boston, Mass., and Miss Sarah Ann, at present visiting her sister in Everett, Mass. They will mourn, but will always have the proud satisfaction of knowing that while their brother lies 'like a warrior taking his rest' his memory will be lovingly cherished while life endures.

Tired in the Mornings

IT is only natural to be tired at night. And sleep—Nature's sweet restorer—usually comes with soothing rest to him who is naturally tired out after the work of the day.

But to be tired in the mornings is an unfortunate condition, since it tells of sleepless nights and of nerves that refuse to rest.

Unless the nerve force, wasted in the process of living and by the corroding worries and anxieties of the day, is replenished by nightly rest and sleep, there must sooner or later come a day of reckoning—a day of bankruptcy—for the human machine cannot operate without nerve force.

You may not have realized just what was the cause of your wretched feelings in the mornings, of the headaches and digestive troubles, of the restlessness and sleeplessness.

But all the time Nature has been using her danger signals to warn you that nerve force is being exhausted more rapidly than it is being replaced.

Your digestive system fails to supply to the starved nerves the nourishment required, so it is necessary to seek aid in condensed and easily assimilated foods such as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

There is no lack of evidence to prove the restorative influence of this food cure. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is so universally known and used that few people are ignorant of its merits, but this knowledge cannot help you unless you obtain the Nerve Food and use it regularly.

It is not a narcotic or opiate. It will not produce sleep. But when you have used it for a few days you will find the nerves so strengthened that you will be able to enjoy natural, restful sleep. You will not be so easily irritated and annoyed, and will obtain relief from headache and other pains and aches consequent on the exhausted condition of the nerves.

Naturally it takes a little time and patience to rebuild a run-down nervous system, but so long as you can see little improvements you will be happy to follow out this treatment until you are thoroughly restored.

In order to protect you against imitations of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on every package. Price, 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.
