RELIGIOUS SERVICES

ST. JAMES KIRK

The Minister, the Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, D. D., preached at both services in St. James Presbyterian Church yesterday.

The subject for the morning sermon was "Devotion" and Dr. Legate dealt with the importance of prayer in private life. Special music included the anthem "The Sun shall be no more Thy light by Day" -Woodward, presented by the choir.

The evening exposition was based on the words of our Lord "Be ye therefore merciful", St. Luke VI, verse 36.

Dr. Legate pointed out that the true Christian life is one of mercy. To be like Christ, we must be merciful in thought, in word, and in action. The spirit of mercy should enter into our every thought. Almsgiving should be made for the needs of our fellow men. We should consider the conditions which may affect others. Poor health, trying circumstances, poverty, and many other causes lead some to do and say things which do not meet with our approval. Yet we must be merciful to these. In cultivating a merciful spirit we are opening our hearts' doors. Thus we may follow the example of our Lord in stretching out our hands to our fellow men, dealing with them in the spirit of mercy and brotherly love, even as we are the recipients of the everlasting mercy and love of our Heavenly Father.

During the offertory, a beautiful solo was rendered by Mrs. H. S. Henderson.

ST. DUNSTAN'S BASILICA

Yesterday, the first Sunday in Advent, the Solemn High Mass at St. Dunstan's Basilica was celebrated by the Rev. Father Ellsworth, assisted by the Rev. Father McCordie as deacon and the Rev. Father Dalton as sub-deacon. The sermon on "The Catholic rule of Faith" was preached by the Rev. Father Sullivan of St. Dunstan's University. The children's mass at 8 o'clock was celebrated by the Rev. Dr. McMahon and the 9.30 mass by the Rev. Father Sullivan. In the evening, Vespers were chanted and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament given by the Rev. Father McCordie.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Having his thought on the passage from St. Luke "Soul thou hast much goods,....take thine ease" and from Psalm 17, "I shall be satisfied, when I awake in thy likeness", the Rev. H. L. Denton preached an arresting sermon on "Unholy satisfaction and holy dissatisfaction. The unworthy satisfaction of the rich man in the gospel wisely taking care of his goods, foolishly accepting selfish, mean, unworthy ideals for his soul. There is always danger in easy satisfactions. "Satisfied" is not good enough to become any better and so to remain; satisfied with a religion which is only a sort of friendly attitude toward Christianity; satisfied with a glow instead of a glorious radiance. St. Paul might well, one thinks have been satisfied" but his attitude was always "I count myself not to have apprehended" and Jesus with "ye are still unprofitable servants" urge a divine discontent, a "beyondness in Christian living... the right to become." The Church was urged to higher ideals for self, for Church for community; to the will to achieve and to persevere; a rich appreciation of Jesus, his standard, his ideals. The morning anthem was "Obedience" like as the heart." The Offertory selection was Simonet's "Madrigal" for violin and organ, with Miss Vera H. Malcolm Campbell, Mrs. Bae, and Miss Helen Calbeck.

A great deal of interest has been evinced in the series of sermons based on popular hymns, as preached by Mr. Denton during the Sundays of November. The last, and most popular choice, "Abide with me" was the suggestion of a great number last evening. The male choir led in the music, beginning with a song service at 6.45 p. m., and ending "Abide with me" as a special number after the sermon. Messrs. Calder, Quigley and Sterns gave as solo selection "Secret Prayer."

ST. PAUL'S ANGLICAN CHURCH

Yesterday, the first Sunday in Advent was remembered at St. Paul's Church by the celebration of Holy Communion at 8.30 a.m. At the 11 o'clock service the Rector called to our remembrance the fact that our church throughout the Dominion of Canada was giving special thanks to God for His goodness, in restoring the lost endowments in the west. The speaker said that when our church in Charlottetown heard the sad story from the lips of Archbishop Stringer, the leaders of our church guaranteed their appointments. The church and Sunday School worked together, and between them sent much more than they agreed to give. He went on to say how glad the church and Sunday School were to have a share in this great work. The church throughout the Dominion rejoices today because the endowments have been restored.

Continuing, the speaker said the season of Advent reminds us that Christ is coming again. God, our loving Father, offers us forgiveness through His Son Jesus Christ, which means casting ourselves on the divine mercy, for the assurance that He will save us. He urged that we should not delay our acceptance of the Divine forgiveness, for there is a time when it will be too late. Four points were suggested as helping us to understand this message. First, Christ most certainly will come again, and it is fair that He should come, because He promised. The closing message of the seer of the Revelation is, "Surely, I come quickly, amen, even so, come, Lord Jesus".

Second, it is the same Jesus who comes, and what a comfort this is to us. He who took the little children and blessed them; He who had compassion on the woman taken in adultery, and He who extends to us pardon and peace is coming again. Third, His coming is going to be a time of great joy, because He who is our Saviour and King is coming to be our Judge. Lastly, the time of His coming is one for which we should pray from our hearts. "Father, Thy kingdom come". Jesus said, "Behold I come quickly." Let the prayer of our hearts be, "Even so, come, Lord Jesus".

At the evening service, the Rector began a series of sermons from the teachings of Jesus. Taking as a text "The Parable of the Good Samaritan" he pointed out that Jesus did not answer the lawyer's question, but endowed it with its perpetual, so that down the years it continually challenges us, "Who is my Neighbour".

Analyzing the parable story, the speaker drew attention to the fact that the priest and the Levite were aggravated examples of those who do not do what is expected of them. A Samaritan is an example of those who render service not expected of them. Applying the question to daily life the eternal question is tested by our relationship to community life, as instanced in the child and in the down and out, and in its relation to the church by the vision with which we pray for and work with other people. And in the home by the fruits found in peaceful family life. At the morning service the choir rendered pleasing Handel's selection "And the Glory of the Lord," while the other music was in keeping with the Advent season.

TRINITY CHURCH

In the evening, Rev. Andrew MacKenzie preached on the theme "The Practice of Love", the text being the words "Make your love a reality", Romans 12, 9. Referring to the fact that everyone seeks to discover the "summa bonum", we find that Paul has answered this question for us by saying "The greatest of them is love". In I Corinthians 13, Paul has analysed love for us—But love, like light cannot be defined or created—it is a gift; an effect, not a cause—"The cause is the love of Christ—"We love, because He first loved us."

As we look again at the Central Figure and message of our Christian faith and gospel, we are invited to accept His gift of eternal life. And this is eternal life to know God, and Jesus Christ whom he has sent. To be saved, is to love and be loved, and he who loves dwelleth already in God, and He in him, for God is love.

The choir, rendered Woodward's "The Radiant Morn" with fine effect, and Prof. Kendall's organ recital preceding the service was much appreciated.

And thou shalt put the mercy seat above upon the ark", was the text of Rev. Hugh Miller's sermon at the morning service, when a large number partook of the Sacrament of Holy Communion. In the portable sanctuary erected by Moses there was placed in the Holy of Holies the ark containing the law; resting upon it was the mercy seat of pure gold surmounted by four cherubim of beaten gold. The costliness and ornamentation of the mercy seat indicated the place mercy held in salvation. It was the final and completing act in God's redemption. Our final plea is for mercy.

In the Christian religion mercy has a corresponding place. The atonement is God's offer of full mercy to him who believeth; whose life is hid with Christ in God. The Holy Communion is the central act of Christian worship. Here is presented on holy elements the sacrifice of Christ, the love of God and forgiveness because God is love and love is mercy. The final cry of the soul is for mercy because of the imputed righteousness of Christ.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The service at the Central Christian Church yesterday was conducted as usual by the pastor, the Rev. S. C. Cooper. The subject of the morning ser-

ISLAND ANIMALS BETTER—The Maritime Province made a very creditable showing at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto this year, declared Mr. H. J. Kennedy of Southport on his return to the Province last week. Ascerting the show was one of the best held in the world today, Mr. Kennedy said the sea-side provinces had more exhibits and won more first prize awards than in any previous year.

In the Holstein classes, the Maritime entries won 10 out of 25 first prizes. Mr. Kennedy was delegating to buy three bulls for this Province but declared on his return that after inspecting the animals there he had decided there were better bulls at home than in Ontario. Ontario breeders were of the same opinion, he added.

mon was "Spiritual Sacrifices" and the text was Romans 12:1. "I beseech you therefore brethren, by the mercies of God that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God which is your reasonable service."

Paul showed continually the relationship between doctrine and morals, the two were never severed in his mind. "We do not expect good fruit except from a good tree and if our lives are grounded in good doctrines we will live aright," the speaker said.

The apostle presents to the church at Rome the motive force for this which was the mercies of God. The mercies of God are not the benefits received from Christ but Christ himself.

"For the act of consecrating the apostle uses the familiar figure of sacrifice. The sacrifice which God demands of us is self-surrender and surrender to God. This is the highest stewardship call which we can heed and rise to," Rev. Mr. Cooper said.

The burnt offering was a sacrifice which went up or ascended unto God and in conclusion Mr. Cooper said that our material bodies were to be offered up to God not to be taken back but given to him for ever as a spiritual sacrifice.

At the close of the morning service this sermon was warmly commended by the e present.

The subject of the evening service was "The Woman Who Started a Revival" the text being John 4:30. "Then they went out of the city and came unto Him." The nameless woman at Sychar's well is not the only woman who has started a revival as this has been the history of the Christian Church.

The music of the day was effectively rendered by the choir. Mrs. V. L. Dingwell presiding at the organ. Mrs. Platts took the solo part in the morning anthem which was "God So Loved The World" by Shawker. The solo part of the evening anthem "Like As The Heart" being thoughtfully rendered by Mrs. Milton Stewart.

STUDENTS' SONG SERVICE

Mr. Howard Langille, boy's work director of the Y. M. C. at Halifax was the speaker at the students' song service at the Central Christian Church last night. Mr. Langille attended the world youth congress at Geneva and spoke on youth and their problems.

At the congress international questions and how relations were studied. No definite solution was arrived at except that each member of the congress should by word and deed do all possible to bring about a better understanding between nations.

The youth of today in the economic situation are being handed a problem which with careful and correct handling can be of the greatest value but on the other hand with careless or incorrect approach it may cause great dejection and almost wreck civilization, the speaker said in conclusion.

Mr. Allan McLeod was the chairman. Mr. Nial Burnett read the Scripture lesson and the Rev. S. C. Cooper led in prayer. Special music was rendered by the students' choir under the direction of Mrs. Frances Holl Trainor. Mrs. Roy Cudmore sang a solo.

POLICE DOG SETS RECORD—The German Police dog "Prince," owned by Golding Smith of Cornwall has established a record for catching foxes. Within the past two weeks he made two very successful catches. One fox owned by Hazen Howard strayed from the ranch. Mr. Smith was notified and "Prince" set out by the track of the missing vixen, and in a very short time tracked and held the fox until the owner arrived and bore her back again to the ranch. Another fox owned by Wesley Hood strayed away and was seen in the vicinity of Wm. Drake's on the ferry road. Prince again came to the rescue and in a short time rounded up the fox and established an enviable record for fox catching. Two foxes in one week is pretty good work for any dog.

Other prizes included five firsts, one special first, four seconds, first in the graded herd class, and first in the breeder's herd class.

The attendance, number and quality of exhibits, and management all were better than last year, Mr. Jones continued.

Fox Pelting Demonstration Draws Crowd

The Charlottetown Fur Sales on Lower Queen Street was a busy place on Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock when about thirty interested fox ranchers witnessed the pelting demonstration put on by the Company's staff through special arrangement with the Provincial Department of Agriculture. Demonstrations were given by Mr. Anthony Lund in removing the pelts from the carcass, tacking them on the boards, together with proper scraping and cleaning methods. After a short talk by Colonel Dawson the ranchers asked that Mr. Lund skin a fox at his regular rate of speed and when this had been done they were greatly surprised to find that the job was carefully done in less than four minutes.

Describes Trials In Army Work

KENTVILLE, N. S., Nov. 29—(CP)—A Toronto officer of the Salvation Army today described his trials and troubles in early days of the Army to the Golden Jubilee celebration of the Kentville corps. He had been arrested five times for "daring to hold" open-air services. Envoy P. C. Alward said, and once given a 10-day jail term in Amherst, N. S. Other arrests came in Manitoba and Ontario. "The jail sentence was well worth while," he said. "It brought attention to the work of the Army." Envoy Alward who has served in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, Ontario, Manitoba, New York and California, addressed the first meeting of the Army in Saint John, N. B., 82 years ago. He was captain of the Kentville corps 43 years ago.

SMITHS OUTNUMBER FELLOW STUDENTS

MONTREAL, Nov. 29—The "Smith" clan has invaded McGill campus in a big way this year. The new students' directory lists 33 Smiths, with the Browns scarcely a good record with a total of 17. Third place in numbers is given the Thompsons and Thomasons who mustered 15. It is not very hard to keep up to the "Jones" as there are but 13, with an equal number of Sects. The Cohens still outnumber the Kellys in proportion of nine to two. The "Macs" and "Mc's" I grouped together outnumber another aggregation, some five pages being required to list them.

Better Housing For Canada Urged

OTAWA, Nov. 28—(CP)—Abolition of slums and provision of healthy, comfortable housing for low wage earners at an additional cost was urged upon the people of Canada at a national duty and responsibility in an address delivered here yesterday by Hon. H. A. Bruce, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario. Dr. Bruce spoke at a luncheon of the Ottawa Canadian Club. "All things are possible where men care enough," Dr. Bruce declared. "To build palaces for idiots and mentally deficient but to be content that normal, sane people struggle against or acquiesce in the fifth and baseness of life in the slums is not to make the best use of our democratic freedom." In a country so vast in area as Canada and with so small a population it was inexplicable Mr. Bruce said that there should be over-crowding. He urged that every municipality have a town planning commission which would "unravel the tangled skein of confused and almost archaic real estate and building operations of the past, which have left all too frequently a heritage of chaos—the deplorable city councils."

Violence Marks Factory Strike

COUMBERLAND, Md., Nov. 29—(AP)—Fierce hand to hand fighting between union pickets and police at the strike-closed celanese plant caused Gov. Harry W. Nice to hurry here today to seek an "armistice." More than a score have been injured in outbreaks at the big artificial silk factory where a walk-out Nov. 12 involved 9,000 workers in a dispute over wages and union recognition. Some of the injured had battered heads, others stab wounds or bruises and burns from stones and flaming torches hurled in melees between as many as 75 officers and guards and 250 strikers. Many arrests were made. "This is no way for civilized people to act," Governor Nice said as he left Annapolis.
