CAPE TO CAIRO RAILWAY.

The important results of the extension of the Cape to Cairo railway into the interior of Africa are now beginning to be seen. The Soudan Government have a line south which forms another stage of the trunk line and this is now being rapidly pushed on, the rate of progress being 10 miles a week. The line follows the course of the Blue Nile at a distance of one to three miles west of the river, and does not actually strike the Nile after leaving Khartoum until the thirty-eighth mile. The forty-seventh mile has now just been reached, and the work has proved remarkably easy. The money at present allotted for its construction on this year's estimates will be sufficient to take the line to the sixty-fifth mile, but the Budget for next year is not due till October next. The importance of the line for the development of the country is such, however, that it is probable that some arrangement will be made for continuing the work forthwith.

The line is just reaching that part of the country where the rising of May, 1908, took place. Its course eventually will be to cross the desert from the Blue Nile to the White Nile, where a bridge is already under construction at Kosti to carry it up to El Obeid, in Kordofan. There it will tap the centre of the gum trade, one of the chief sources of wealth to the Anglo-Egyptian Soudan. At present the gum is brought down by camel to the river and by boat to Omdurman, which has always been the great centre for sorting and selling. From there it has had to be reloaded on to boats to cross the river and be loaded on to the railway on the other side for Port-Soudan. When it is possible to place the gum on trucks at El Obeid for direct transport by rail to Port-Soudan, most of the merchants will move from Omdurman to El Obeid. Omdurman will no doubt lose greatly in wealth and importance, and some even predict that it will dwindle away to an insignificant village, so great is the proportion of its wealth depending on the gum trade. This remains to be seen. It will certainly be off the track as far as Kordofan is concerned, but from time immemorial it has been the converging point for caravans from great distances in the East, and natives of almost half the tribes of Africa could probably be found in it. It will take long to lose its place as a great centre in this respect, for the pilgrim route to Mecca for an immense distance leads through it, and whatever its importance as a centre of commerce, it will always have its historic importance and interest for tourists.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

July 25th, 1909.

Paul's second Missionary Journey. Acts xviii:16-34.

Golden Text.—God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. John iv:24.

Verse 16.—Can any true man, at this time, see the folly and sin which thousands so eagerly follow, without his spirit being stirred?

Verse 17.—Notwithstanding that we all, necessarily, have trades and callings to pursue, should, or should not, our chief concern be the tremendous issues involved in spiritual truth, and why? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 18-21.—The Epicureans and the Stoics had a contrary philosophy of life, state briefly what they each taught.

Which brings the more lasting happiness, and develops the nobler character, a life devoted to the pleasures of sense, or a life devoted to service for others, and to self denial?

What as a matter of fact, is the substance of what Paul taught? Should we lend a respectful ear to all new theories of life, and eternity, or reject them without examination?

Verse 22.—Which is the better man, an active skeptic, or an indifferent and thoughtless Christian?

Which is preferable to be ever speculating about God, or to have no thought concerning him?

Is belief in and a longing for God, peculiar to Christianity?

May a heathen who has never come into touch with Christianity, and out, and know, the true God?

What then is the advantage for a true hearted heathen, coming into contact with Christianity?

Verse 23.—Can one man who knows God, be the means of imparting that knowledge to another who desires to know him?

Verse 24.—How do we know that God made all things?

God does all heaven and earth with his presence; but does he not also dwell in temples that are made in which to worship him?

Verse 25.—What God does not need the support of man's hands, does he not desire "the worship and love of men's hearts?"

How does God give to all "life and breath, and all things?" Will we in heaven be able to see God, in any different way from the way in which it is our privilege to see him now?

Verses 26.—What is the evidence that all races of men, sprang from the same original stock?

Has God had anything to do with the national, and geographical, divisions of the globe, as they exist to-day?

Has God had anything to do with our present individual conditions?

Verses 27-28.—What is both the chief joy and object of life?

Is it possible for every man to find God if he will but seek him, and what is the only condition for seeking him?

How do you conceive of the thought that "in him we live and move and have our being," can you illustrate the thought with air, that is both in us, and around us?

Verse 29.—Can any work of art represent God to any practical advantage?

Verses 30-31.—What makes the need for repentance?

In what way will Jesus judge the world?

Verse 32.—Why did some mock when they heard of the resurrection?

Verses 33-34.—Did all who were true to God accept of Paul's message, and were all untrue to God who rejected it?

GAY'S VEGETABLES.

Our vegetables are taken fresh from our garden daily, indeed we pick them in the morning again at ten and very often a third supply is taken in the afternoon. In this way the consumer has all the luxury of a garden at their door fresh and crisp from mother earth. Cauliflower, a dish fit for the Gods, cabbage with the dew sparkling on them, lettuce just as you like it, beans—so tender and nice, peas in the pod the kind that melts in your mouth. The new way to use peas is to cook them in the pods, the peas go to the bottom of the dish the pods float on the top, cooked in this manner they are just delicious, try them and be convinced.

With wax butter beans, bunch onions, turnips dry onions, parsley, cool crisp cucumbers, bunch carrots, new potatoes, and old, strawberries and many other lines not mentioned it goes without saying that we have something to suit the taste of the most fastidious and critical buyer.

Remember our Saturday and Saturday night special trade, this feature of our business appeals to many that have not time at their disposal to call through the week. Orders taken for delivery up to nine o'clock Saturday nights open until ten, please do not ask to have anything delivered after nine.

This Man Dropped Suddenly Dead From Heart Trouble.

Everything Depends Upon Your Heart.

If you wish to live long, if you wish to avoid sudden death—you must attend to your heart. You must see that it beats properly.

If your heart flutters or palpitates or skips beats—you are in danger of sudden death. If you suffer from shortness of breath or tenderness or pain in the left side—it is your heart that is going back on you.

If you ever feel dizzy or faint or have spots before your eyes, if you sleep poorly, if you have dreams at night, if you find it painful to sleep on the left side, if your feet and ankles are swollen it means that your heart is bad and needs immediate attention. Remember, IMMEDIATE attention. Delay is dangerous.

However, if you suffer from heart trouble it need not frighten you for we have the cure, not only the relief but it heals properly.

These tablets are the result of years of research and experimentation and we can assure you that we have truly discovered the cure. Thousands of people saved from sudden death is the proof.

Thousands of people die suddenly from heart failure because either they have heard about our Heart Tablets or because they are too stingy to spend the small sum of $1.00, which is the cost of these "life savers."

Now, it is up to you if you are suffering. Relief and cure is yours if you will only send for a bottle of GROSSMAN'S HEART TABLETS now, at once, ONE DOLLAR WILL DO THE WORK. Address your orders to
