Artists And Story Writers Visit Jasper

JASPER PARK, Alta., Aug. 13—Several days hob-nobbing with the horses, the boys in chaps, and the Swiss guides of Jasper National Park have given Norman Reilly Raine, well known Canadian short story writer, reams of copy. It isn't at all unlikely that for a while his work will veer away from the salt and pepper of the "Raines" and the Rockies and the glamorous Athabasca Valley. Making Jasper Park Lodge his headquarters, Raine, who is accompanied by his bride of three months, has been riding the trails making notes on the ways of the philosophical cynic and listening to the yarns of those who never were dudes. If all our writers would come out here we should never be at a loss for the real stuff in Canadian fiction, says H. Napier Moore, editor of MacLean's Magazine, who is also visiting Jasper. The wife and the Raines will leave tomorrow morning for Vancouver.

Mr. Vernon McKenzie, former editor of MacLean's, and now Dean of the School of Journalism, Seattle, who met the party here, has also visited Jasper. The wife and the Raines will leave tomorrow morning for Vancouver.

Mr. Eugene Hughes, linotype operator of Houlton, Maine, is at present spending his vacation here with his mother in Spring Street.

Miss Emma Gaudet has arrived from Windsor, Ont., to spend her annual vacation with her mother, Mrs. George Gaudet, Dorchester Street.

While working at the Canadian Sapper yesterday, John Gillis, a longshoreman was kicked by a horse and was taken to the City Hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse T. Robbins and Miss Ethel L. Simpson of Lynn, Mass., motored to the Island and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. LePage, Pownal street.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Saunders and two children and Miss Irene Newton, Charlottetown, accompanied by Mr. Elmer Walsh, Craupaud, motored Sunday to Summerside and Borden.

Dr. A. B. MacCallum, Professor of Biological Chemistry in McGill University, accompanied by his son, Dr. MacCallum, Research Chemist of New Jersey, arrived in Prince Edward Island Saturday evening by motor car, from Montreal to spend the week-end. Professor MacCallum who is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Great Britain, is one of the world's most distinguished scholars and investigators in his own special field.

This is Mr. Raeleff's first visit to this Province, and as he will be here for a week he is greatly impressed with the rural scenery of the Province and says that very few places have bathing beaches equal to our famous "north side." LUCKY TO GET MCKENNA
Prince Edward Island boxing fans no doubt read with much enthusiasm and interest the news that Jack McKenna, one of the best middleweights in the world will fight here during Exhibition week. Suitable opponent for him being brought either from New York or Boston. Said fans undoubtedly will also be pleased to know that Jim Fendast is the promoter in chief of this big bout; this in itself insuring that McKenna's opponent for this fight will be the best procurable. Mr. Fendast is to be congratulated in signing McKenna to box here.

Iona Meeting
The following is the continuation of the Iona meeting held in Iona of the one of a series being held in connection with the coming by-election on Thursday next.

Mr. J. J. Larabee replying to Mr. McLean said that Hon. Mr. Lea had taken up the cudgels for the Department of Public Works because the other candidates could think of no complaint against his own department.

The opposition candidates had complained of the inefficiency of the Department of Public Works, but he believed that the roads had never received so much improvement as in the last three months. Mr. Bentley deserved to be criticized for he did nothing but criti-

Appreciation of Beach Grove Banquet Service
The following letter of appreciation speaks for itself:
Aug. 13, 1928

R. H. Sterns, Esq., Proprietor Beech Grove Inn, Dear Sir:
The Queen's County Liberal Conservative Association desire to express to you and your staff their deep appreciation of the excellent menu provided at the banquet in honor of our Leader, Hon. R. B. Bennett and also for the prompt and efficient service, which was very much in evidence.

Yours truly,
(Sgd.) A. A. POMEROY
Chairman Banquet Committee

Mr. Frank McPhee, the next speaker, was greeted with a loud applause of welcome. He said it was the first opportunity he had addressing Iona electors. He strongly endorsed the candidacy of Mr. George McLean who notwithstanding his recent defeat is working all the harder and was not embittered in the least. He referred to the last session of the Legislature, saying that the Opposition was weak in numbers but he felt certain they accomplished a great deal in so far as the Government's extravagance was curbed to a great extent. The speaker said he was greatly surprised at the hostile attitude assumed by the Liberals against Mr. Bentley. Have they forgotten all they owe to this gentleman. Have Messrs. Lea, Larabee and McIntyre forgotten so the part played by Mr. Bentley and the Temperance Alliance in the last election. He remarked that when one begins to think about it, it's both tragic and amusing. When you hear the Government members say the prohibition act is being enforced and you then listen to Mr. Bentley, who says the act isn't successful, well ladies and gentlemen, I'll leave it for you to decide.

With reference to the new Road Act, Premier Saunders said that all would be completed by the first of May. We had an early spring; they had nature and money to their advantage, but you see the results; you are the judges. I am afraid the Public Accounts will tell a startling story when all is completed. We know what the road machines cost and what the road tax will cost who will win. Monte Gerow is said to have the best chance of winning the $20 gold piece for the leading driver. "Monte" will have a mount in every race, and with his excellent ability as a race driver should make it most interesting for the others. Premier Cameron with Bill Sharen is expected tonight or tomorrow night.

Mr. McIntyre, Minister of Public Works, the next speaker, paid a high tribute to Mr. McPhee, former Minister. He was a great man in his department, said the speaker, and I have every respect for him. After taking over the reins, said Mr. McIntyre, I made a three week tour of inspection of the Island. He decided that statute law was not equal to the task of building those roads. The speaker then went on to explain the buying of road machines but did not say much about the commission on said machines or who got it. He said the government accepted the lowest tender by telephone and completed the same afterwards. (Voice from the audience): How about that commission?

Mr. McIntyre—Well, possibly somebody did get a commission. In concluding, Mr. McIntyre said he could not see for the life of him what chance Mr. Bentley has of being elected. He said Mr. Bentley was a great injury to the province because he was helping to elect a government control candidate.

Dr. MacMillan followed Mr. McIntyre in a brief-but able address. He said he was sorry Premier Saunders was not at the meetings. He said he was not at the meetings. He said he was not at the meetings. He said he was not at the meetings.

Referring to the Attorney General's Department, the speaker said it was a farce, and more so when prisoners are allowed to come out of jail to witness prize fights. They say that Charlottetown is dry. Yes, it is dry, so far as Doctors prescriptions are concerned, but the boot-legal is flourishing, added the speaker.

With reference to the roads, the speaker severely scored the Department of Public Works and the Government in general for wholesale extravagance and incompetency. He said the Saunders administration made the best job of the tourist business than any other government; and so far as prohibition is concerned, they cannot enforce it. The Stewart Government he said were going to do the same as the other governments throughout Canada; the same policy of government control. But this is apart from the question at the present time. At all events the government will have to put the taxes on eventually.

Mr. Lea, Minister of Agriculture, the next speaker confined his remarks mainly to prohibition and public works. He said prohibition was never so well enforced as it is today, proving his statement by citing the various public attractions throughout the Province where liquor was conspicuous by its absence.

If Mr. McLean is elected, concluded Mr. Lea, the Guardian will come out the next morning in black head lines, "Victory for Liquor Control."

BIG LIST OF ENTRIES INSURES GREAT RACING EXHIBITION WEEK

Below we publish a list of entries to the Exhibition races Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 22 to 24. A glance over the list will show that every class is filled, some very splendidly. The quality of the horses is at least equal, if not superior, to former years.

In the Free-For-All Tarzan Grattan, who has won some of the biggest stakes on the American tracks, will make an effort to break the local track record. Perhaps the most interesting horse that will perform here is Bill Sharen, 2:04 1/2, sold for $25,000 a few years ago to Thomas W. Murphy and campaigned in the big stakes in the U. S. A. Very few horses in America have had the advertising that Bill Sharen has had. Broken down two years ago, he has this year become quite sound again and has been defeating the great trotters on the Maine and New Brunswick circuits. Many other great horses might be mentioned, but a glance over the list will show them to the reader.

It is difficult to say which day will furnish the best racing, the program is so balanced that every day will be exciting and interesting. The horses are arriving daily. Already some thirty-five are quartered on the race grounds, and interested spectators are attending and witnessing the workouts. Speculation will no doubt be as to who will win. Monte Gerow is said to have the best chance of winning the $20 gold piece for the leading driver. "Monte" will have a mount in every race, and with his excellent ability as a race driver should make it most interesting for the others. Premier Cameron with Bill Sharen is expected tonight or tomorrow night.
