NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., Aug. 19.—Premier Baldwin issued the following farewell message to the Canadian people before sailing on the Empress of Scotland this morning. "The time has come for me to say au revoir to Canada, but I cannot go without sending a farewell message to her people—one and all—who have from the day we landed shown Mrs. Baldwin with myself such wonderful hospitality. "Our visit has been unique in several ways. First, it was our great privilege to travel during the greater part of the time with their Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and Princess George. I rejoice, although my job is somewhat tinged with envy, that they are still with you. It is the first time that the Prime Minister of Great Britain has visited any of the Dominions during his term of office. I hope it will not be the last. "I want to thank you especially for the generous interest you have shown in my attempts to explain some of the post war problems that we in Walton returned a returned soldier, received advice from friends in Winnipeg yesterday which intimated that papers and documents forwarded him from England were false. These papers had been accepted as genuine not only to Walton but by the bank handling his affairs. He added that he intended to take action against the persons who had misled him.

Isaac Peters Elected Head Of The Mic Macs

Thursday, August 18th, the election for Chief of the Mic Mac Indians of Prince Edward Island, held in the Hall at Lennox Island. The polls opened at 1 o'clock and although 4 o'clock was the closing hour all votes were recorded about 3 o'clock and Isaac Peters being agreeable, the poll was then closed. Mr. Peters was declared elected by the returning officer, Rev. John A. McDonald, Indian Commissioner for Prince Edward Island. This election differed somewhat from our Civic and Government elections as it was "open voting" and from the opening of the poll there was not the slightest doubt of the outcome, the new contender for the office winning out by about 100 per cent. Chief Peters was sworn in and took the oath of allegiance shortly after the poll closed. With the new chief the following Councillors were elected by the people; Messrs. J. P. Francis (Vice Chief), Dennis Lewis and Sylvan Sark. The proceedings concluded with a banquet at the residence of Mr. Michael Thomas who entertained Chief Peters and his councillors right royally. Chief Peters is a returned soldier, and his comrades stood to him as one man. He wishes through the columns of the Guardian to thank all who supported him and promises to do all in his power to further the interests of the Micmac tribe throughout the province.

SEAFORTH HIGHLANDERS GIVE BRILLIANT BALL IN HONOUR OF THEIR ROYAL HIGHNESSES

(Special to the Guardian) VANCOUVER, Aug. 19.—Though Premier Oliver's death has cancelled tonight's state dinner and dance at Government House, last night's brilliant ball of the Seaforth Highlanders in honor of Their Royal Highnesses was held at the splendid Hotel Georgia in Vancouver. Since the night of the Royal Princes arrival in Quebec when the scene of an official ball, King George's sons have had varied dances in their honor. They have danced from a small affair in a Montrealer's country home to the music of a victoria, to the elaborate hunt ball staged by the Calgary Club. But last night's ball of the Seaforth Highlanders was a magnificent affair in every respect. Fifty stalwart Highlanders in busbies and scarlet and plaid lined the royal pathway from the motors to the ballroom. Pipers sounded signals for dances, and just before the supper rendered the music for a schottische in which about thirty participated. H. R. H. joined it with Mrs. Lough as a partner. Though great white standards of crimson gladioli cheered the Highlanders vividly used jackets through the halls and lounge leading to the ballroom it was undecorated save by the royal standard and a Union Jack and the Seaforth plaid draped upon the wall. Thousands gathered about the streets leading to the hotel and inside tourist guests rivaled those to catch a glimpse of the royal brothers. About twenty minutes after ten they arrived. Though it was a military ball to which the commanding officers of all the regiments and the visiting naval officers had been invited, both the Prince of Wales and Prince George wore evening dress.

British And French Do Not See Eye To Eye On Question

(Special to the Guardian) LONDON, Aug. 19.—An exchange of notes between Great Britain and France has indicated that the British and French governments as yet do not see eye to eye on the question of removing German occupation troops from the Rhineland. Great Britain is stated, is anxious to carry out the promise of the ambassador's conference in 1925, which would involve a reduction of the forces of occupation to 5,000. The latest note from France in the Anglo-French diplomatic channels which have continued for nearly a month suggests that the French troops be reduced by 5,000 with the expectation that the same number of Anglo-Belgium be withdrawn. Great Britain considers these views disproportionate and aims at the same time inadequate to remove German complaints.

Rhodes left today for New York in order to confer with American financiers concerning a $12,000,000 government refunding loan, tenders for which will be received up to September 2, according to information given out today from the Premier's office. Some time ago the government decided that loans for refunding purposes it would be better for the credit of the province to obtain one large loan. Accordingly negotiations were entered into with New York bankers.

Chinese Yield To British Demand

H. D. Raymond. Depository, Isaac Carter. The report of the resolutions committee was happily presented by Rev. Peter Jackson as follows: 1. To the session and trustees of the United Church of Canada for the use of the building. 2. To the people of Canada for the splendid hospitality extended to delegates. 3. To all workers and collectors for their energy and zeal in the work. 4. To the Rev. J. M. Murchison, District Secretary, for his general manner and effective work as agent on behalf of the Society. The Auxiliary was fortunate in securing through the President's efforts, Rev. Dyson-Hague D. D. of Toronto as the special speaker of the evening. The Rev. Dyson-Hague brought an inspiring message, Book of Books, in earnest and eloquent language he increased the faith of those present in the Bible as the inspired word of God and instructed all through the simple way in which he conveyed great truths. None hearing him would in the future show lack of interest in the great work which the Bible Society is doing for mankind. The following resolution was moved by Dr. Ayers and unanimously carried. Whereas: Our Colporteurs has reported that there are many Church Schools in the Province where no attempt is being made to teach the pupils the Bible Memory Courses. Therefore be it resolved: That this Prince Edward Island Auxiliary Bible Society appoint a committee to cooperate with similar committees to be appointed by the different Protestant Denominations, in order to promote Scripture Memory work in the Church Schools of the Province. Be it further resolved: That the Bible Society Executive request the different Protestant denominations to appoint such cooperating committees. The Rev. J. M. Murchison District Secretary briefly addressed the meeting and effectively rendered a gospel solo. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Dr. Dyson-Hague.

FIELD, B. C. PROVIDED WITH A THRILL WORTHY OF MOVIES

Royal Princes, a Crowd, A Woman Left Behind, And A Car Racing The Trans-Canada Limited Train Furnished The Excitement.

FIELD, B. C., Aug. 19.—Two royal Princes, a crowd, a woman left behind and a car racing the trans-Canada over the Rockies, provided Field yesterday with a thrill worthy of the movies. It was all entirely unexpected. When the royal train slipped into Field the trans-Canada Eastbound stood at the opposite platform. There was the usual crowd gathered to give greetings to the Prince of Wales and Prince George. The two brothers stepped from their platform and chatted with the crowd. From the trans-Canada a minute or two before a woman had stepped. She held a through ticket for Montreal, where she is taking a steamer for Europe, but the Prince and the crowd were interested indeed that she did not notice the trans-Canada quietly slipping out. When she looked around the train was gone and with it went her boat connection in Montreal. She looked around helplessly, not knowing what to do. The Prince of Wales noticed her plight and immediately inquired if something could not be done for her. There was only one way. From Field outward the trans-Canada has to climb slowly by spiral tunnels up to the Great Divide before it drops down on the Alberta side of the Rockies. On that stretch a fast car, travelling over the highway can beat it by a few minutes. The Canadian Pacific Railway agent from Field offered his own car. The woman hesitated, obviously doubtful that the race could be won. The Canadian Pacific Railway officials hastened to assure her that she need have no fear and a moment later she disappeared in a cloud of dust and the Prince of Wales stepped aboard the royal train.

Butcher Shuts Up Sheik In Ice-Box

WELLS, Austria, Aug. 19.—Hani Hermann, village butcher, allowed the ardor of his young wife's boyfriend to cool in a refrigerator. Hermann, 50, suspected the glances given in his presence between his pretty young wife and his handsome, slick-haired assistant, and carefully planned his revenge. He installed a huge refrigerator in his butcher shop, and then announced he was going to town to buy oxen. Returning unexpectedly in the middle of the night, he saw lights and heard voices. Always the gentleman, Hermann knocked at the front door in order to give the male voice time to get to the refrigerator—the only safe hiding place in the little shop-house. The wife answered the door after an interval. Hermann kissed her affectionately. After he had locked the door of the refrigerator casually they retired, Hermann first holding the key. Next morning, Hermann opened the ice box. The sheik assistant tottered out, stiff with cold. He kept on walking but stopped at a lawyer's office to enter suit for damages against Hermann.
