JACK JOHNSON PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21—Jack Johnson today received permission from United States District Judge Carpenter to file demurrers to the five charges of violating the Mann Slave Act, pending against him. Three weeks were allowed in which to prepare the demurrers.

It had been expected when arraigned that the pugilist would plead to the several indictments which charge him with transporting Belle Schreiber, a white woman, across interstate State boundaries for immoral purposes.

Johnson was represented by four attorneys in another case in the Federal Court and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of smuggling a diamond necklace on his return from Europe.
