PRESIDENT TRUMAN CALLS FOR DRAFT

In an address to a joint session of the Senate and House of Representatives at Washington, President Truman bluntly accused Russia of plotting to enslave Europe. The chief executive of the U. S. urged universal military training, supported by a temporary draft, as a measure to combat "threatened Communist control and police-state rule" among the remaining free nations of Europe. The President said that the United States must be prepared to pay the price of peace or "assuredly we shall pay the price of war."

Dories Provide Safety Factor At Swimming Centres

In June, 1947, The Red Cross spent $600.00 for the purchase of ten flat bottomed dories. These small white boats with Red Cross insignia painted on them were placed at the ten different centres where Swimming and Water Safety Classes were held. One day in August when the tide was very high a group of boys who were not members of the swimming classes were at Brighton Shore playing. One of these boys, who was a fair swimmer, got beyond his depth and became exhausted. None of the others were able to swim out to him, but some carpenters who were working nearby saw the situation, rowed out to where the boy went down, got him into the boat and brought him to shore. When he was rescued he was apparently not breathing. Just at that time, Margaret Wood, a former member of the Red Cross Corps was walking past. Seeing his condition she immediately began Artificial Respiration. The lad was revived by the time an ambulance arrived. This life was saved as a result of the Red Cross. That incident alone, justifies the expenditure of the $600.00.

The local Red Cross Campaign is now on. "The work of mercy never ends—give generously."

"FLASHING GUNS" DUE WITH BROWN

A plot to seize illegally a ranch which bears rich silver ore deposits is opposed by Johnny Mack Brown in Monogram's "Flashing Guns," due today at the Empire Theatre. The cowboy stars finds himself in conflict with desperate outlaws, who resort to forgery and gun-play to achieve their cunning schemes.

Raymond Hatton, seen in the featured role, has one day in which to pay off a debt on his ranch, owed to banker James Logan. Hatton sends his son, Riley Hill, to inform the banker that the debt will be paid on time, as daughter Jan Bryant is bringing money from Silana. Hill is forced to reveal to gambler Ted Adams, to whom he is in debt, that his sister is arriving with the money. Johnny Mack Brown rescues her after she is robbed by the gambler's henchmen, and later gets the money back from the outlaws. Meanwhile, the crooked banker has papers forged with Shelby's signature, giving the former possession of the ranch. When the desperadoes attempt forcibly to take over the ranch, they are fought off by Brown and Hatton. But the bandits have other schemes up their sleeves, and their further activities bring about a show-down.

DO DONATIONS TO THE CANADIAN SAVE THE CHILDREN FUND REACH EUROPEAN CHILDREN?

TORONTO, March 27 — "Yes, without the slightest doubt," is the answer from an official at the Headquarters of the Canadian Save the Children Fund at 36 Toronto Street, Toronto. Shipments of food and clothing donated by generous Canadians are sent to the British and Swedish Save the Children Funds for redistribution to children in the most needy countries. Shipments are also sent to our Canadian Save the Children Fund representative in Paris, for conditions among the children in France are much worse than generally known. Great care is taken to guard every shipment from port to port.

Letters of heartfelt thanks often decorated with pictures and written by the children themselves come to our Headquarters and tell us without any doubt that our gifts have reached them. One little child, unaided, drew pictures which show what a pre-occupation the daily diet is in homes of growing children. Another describes life among children in France, illustrated with pictures.

High School children in Budapest send book marks, beautifully illustrated on which are inscribed "Many thanks for delicious biscuits." Others send little embroidered mats and cloths to express their gratitude to Canada. Snowsuits from Canada were distributed to a Children's Home in France and a report from our representative says, "They look like a group of little penguins. I am so sorry you were not there to see the delight of the children upon receiving those truly magnificent gifts. Every child was anxious to hold the pencil and sign, even those who had to be helped to send their appreciation to their far away and generous benefactors."

The terrible need in Europe continues. In France, prices are still rising and as even vegetables are so dear, many children are suffering from malnutrition. Only infants get milk, so that the school children are brought up milkless, and show it. In Germany only children under six get milk and food is a veritable obsession with parents of growing children. In Hungary, clothing is a problem and children suffer physically and mentally for lack of clothing means absence from school.

The diet of an office worker in Germany according to a report from Child Welfare International Union for Child Welfare consists of — a cup of ersatz coffee and piece of bread for breakfast; thin soup with bread brought from home for lunch and some farina or potatoes for supper. Children do not fare any better except infants who get some milk.

In Memoriam In Memoriam

F. J. MacDONALD MRS. M. D. MacPHERSON

At his late residence, 220 Kent St., on Sunday afternoon, February 29th, there passed peacefully to his eternal rest the late F. J. MacDonald. On Tuesday that same week Mr. MacDonald was up and visited the grocery store, the place he did business from 1920 until February 1942 when he was struck with a paralytic stroke from which he never fully recovered. This day he complained that he was not feeling as good as usual and on advice of his physician and son, Dr. Wendell he was to have a complete rest, but his heart which was being weakened by his sickness completely failed him and he left his home here for a better one in that other world he so often talked about. His funeral was held from Zion Presbyterian Church on Tuesday, March 2nd at 2 o'clock with the Rev. G. C. Webster and the Rev. T. A. Wilson officiating. A quartette of Zion Church sang his favorite 23rd Psalm. The large crowd paying their last respects to F. J., the name by which so many people knew him, as his pastor stated, together with the many floral tributes testified to the fact that his many quiet acts of kindness to all with whom he came in contact were not accepted without appreciation. The pallbearers were his five sons, Earle, Wendell, Stirling, Elmer, Allison and son-in-law George Mason. Honorary pallbearers were, His Honour Lt.-Gov. J. A. Bernard, Premier J. Walter Jones, Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, Dr. R. F. Seaman, George D DeBios, E. E. MacKinnon, J. M. MacFadyen, Col. C. L. McKay. Mr. MacDonald's remains were laid to rest beside those of his wife who predeceased him in 1938.

On March 15th in the district of Bellevue, Elizabeth MacPherson, the beloved wife of Malcolm D. MacPherson passed through the "valley of the shadow of death." Mrs. MacPherson was born in this district seventy one years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. MacPherson. During her life time she had won a place in the hearts of its people by her kindly and industrious nature. Many gathered to worship God in her memory at the funeral service which was held at her late residence on March 18th. The Minister of her church in Caledonia, Rev. T. A. Duke, conducted the services both at the home and at the grave. The hymns used by request were: "The Lord is My Shepherd; All the Way My Saviour Leads Me; and Shall We Gather at the River. Besides her sorrowing husband, she leaves to mourn for her five children; Katherine, Mrs. Fletcher of Quincy, Mass.; Minnie, Mrs. Angus L. MacPherson of Wollaston, Mass.; Angus A. of Quincy, Marie, Mrs. Chester Martin of Caledonia; Ruth, Mrs. Collum Martin of Bellevue. She is survived by a sister and three brothers; Mrs. John S. MacPhee, Bellevue; D. A. MacPherson of Kinross and Roderick and Jack of Quincy. The interment was in Valleyfield cemetery. The pall bearers were John A. MacPherson, John S. MacPhee, John N. MacPherson, Stanley MacPhee, Archie MacPherson and Stewart MacPherson.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. M. D. MacPherson and Family wish to thank all their friends for their messages of sympathy, also all their neighbours who so kindly assisted in every way during their recent and bereavement.
