Biggar - Leslie Re-matched In Title Bout

Yep! They're at it again. George Leslie, Island heavyweight champion, has been re-matched to meet Stanford "Stay-with-'em" Biggar. The pair of heavies will meet in a 10-round title encounter on the same card as the two middleweights Kelly and Kinsman on the night of Oct. 19.

The Souris battler has set some sort of record or other in the numerous bouts he has fought in defense of his crown this season, while his hefty opponent, not to be outdone has thrown almost as many challenges at the champion as he has punches in an effort to capture the elusive title.

The 19th should reveal something or other. The consensus of opinion previous to the other Biggar-Leslie battles was Leslie to win in the first four rounds; if it went further, Biggar to win before the eighth; and should the pair still be on their feet after that, "even money."

The popular myth was exploded, however, in the last fight when the Souris Shocker failed to end the bout before the first four rounds, but gained a technical KO over the Charlottetown hope in the tenth. It was an upset whichever way you look at it. Biggar surprised Leslie fans by weathering the four and Leslie surprised Biggar fans by maintaining his aggressiveness to the end.

Judging from comments after the fray, however, Leslie holds Biggar in no little regard. The champion noticed a marked improvement in his opponent's fighting tactics, and contrary to expectations that he would be jubilant over retaining his title expressed, in a veiled manner, disappointment that he had not brought the bout to an earlier termination.

This pending bout probably tinges more of a "natural" than any previous encounter, for the champion will be out to vindicate himself in the eyes of his supporters that he can take the challenger in the early stages, while Biggar, gaining confidence with every bout plans to be in top condition to uphold his followers' contention that after the fourth his will be the victory.

New Records Written In World Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The "you-never-can-tell" society were still in a huddle today in the wake of the world series, and decided baseball's post-season classic is still as unpredictable as ever. After looking over the wreckage left by the Yankees in their 4-1 games' conquest of their local rivals, the Giants, they pointed as evidence to these developments:

1—Tony Lazzeri led both teams in batting with a .400 mark for the five games, and played flawlessly all day, a couple of weeks after announcing he was going to quit the game because he's too old.

2—The Yankees, supposed to be outclassed as a fielding team, played 1,000 ball on the defense for a new all-time record, while the National Leaguers committed nine errors.

3—Babe Ruth's record of 33 runs batted in during 10 World Series, supposed to have been safe for a long time, was wiped out by the books by his successor in swatting, Lou Gehrig, who drove in three this year for a six-years' mark of 25.

4—Pitchers Carl Hubbell, Cliff Melton, Hal Schumacher et al, were pre-series selections to outdo their Yankee rivals, Lefty Gomez, Red Ruffing and Monte Pearson, and were going to cause no end of harrumphs to the American League.

5—The Yankees were going to rely on their home run punch to knock the ears off the Giants. Yet, only in the last game did they call on their four-base blows to bring victory.

Previously, Lazzeri's homer in the first game wasn't needed to win, and Gehrig's in the fourth didn't stop defeat. On Sunday, the round-trip pokes by Myril Hoag and Joe DiMaggio, neither of which was expected with Melton pitching, were vital factors.

Record-breaking, as is usual when the Yankees and Giants grapple, was written into the books. In addition to Gehrig's runs-batted-in mark and the attendance and financial figures, there were such others as Gomez winning two games to tie Herb Pennock and Jack Coombs as pitchers winning five series games and losing none during their careers; Hank Leiber's record-tying two hits in one inning in the fourth game; Gomez's receipt of two walks in one inning of the first game, and Lazzeri and Jojo Moore tying a mark by hitting safely in each of the five games.

The Yankees, winning their sixth series, led all clubs in the big time in the record books, and the Giants had the doubtful distinction of losing the most with their eighth setback this year.

Aberhart Prepares Statement On Legislation

EDMONTON, Oct. 12.—(CP)—Work of preparing the Government's statement in support of three bills referred to the Governor-General-in-Council has been started, it was announced by Premier Aberhart today.

The three bills were passed at the recent special session of the Alberta Legislature and when the session was prorogued Lieutenant-Governor J. C. Bowen referred them to the Governor-General-in-Council for consideration.

The three bills were an "act to ensure the publication of accurate news and information", an act providing for the taxation of banks and the Alberta Credit Regulation Act.

What form the submission would take had not been definitely decided, said Premier Aberhart. A representative of the Government may go to Ottawa or the submission may be sent by mail. It will be completed as soon as possible, the Premier said.

Production Curb Stated Unsound

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Dr. Glenn Frank, former President of the University of Wisconsin, denounced production restriction and price raising as "economic insanity" today and urged industry and agriculture to work together to achieve the "abundant life."

"If we are to do more than talk about the abundant life," Dr. Frank declared at the 63rd annual convention of the American Bankers Association, "then both the manufacturers of American industry and the farmers of American agriculture must come to believe in and to practice consistently the policy of more goods at lower prices instead of fewer goods at higher prices."

Dr. Frank, now head of the magazine rural progress, Chicago, pleaded for "a workable economic policy" after Frank P. Bennett, Jr., Boston editor, demanded that the Federal government keep its "clumsy hands" off the savings field.

Glancing Around The Sport World

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—An authoritative Boston source wires: "You were slightly off key on Maranville today. . . He hasn't a chance to succeed McKeechie as manager of the Bees. . . Some years back he thumbed his nose at a coaching job here and Bob Quinn has never forgiven him. . . The Rabbit is down to Low 'G' with Quinn. . . Donnie Bush is the man on the inside track."

Bill Terry didn't bother to walk across the hall to congratulate Joe McCarthy. Why? Well, he just didn't bother to. Mike Jacobs, who rises to every occasion, served tea at the last business conference he had with Tommy Farr.

Burleigh Grimes likes to tell this one: Just before the season ended he received a letter from a Jewish fan recommending an Italian ball player. "And Burleigh," the fellow wrote, "when a Jew recommends a 'rop, he must be good, ain't it?"

Umpire Bill Stewart dashed straight from the World Series to the training camp of Chicago Blackhawks hockey team, which he'll coach this winter. This may be a minor league record: Buffalo Bisons have finished in the black for seven consecutive years.

Joe McCarthy will be offered a new contract calling for $40,000 per . . . likely to be for five years, too. Colonel Ruppert doesn't intend to let any rival baseball outfit outdo him on the old pay-off. . . Whatever Joe gets, it will not be too much. . . Three first and four second place finishes in seven years is a record hard to beat.

Lacrosse Assn. Breaks With Parent Body

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) VANCOUVER, Oct. 12.—The Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association today ended its affiliation with the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada and changed its own name.

At the annual meeting held here, the Lacrosse Assn. deleted the word "amateur" from its name to become the Canadian Lacrosse Association.

Lacrosse thus became the third amateur sport to break with the Dominion Athletic Union. Two years ago the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association decided to go its own way, and last year similar action was taken by the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association.

Ace Winnipeg Junior Joins N. Y. Rovers

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—Al Pike, captain and ace centre of Winnipeg Monarchs, last year's Dominion junior hockey champions, has been added to the New York Rovers, it was announced today by Lester Patrick.

Of the 15 players listed for Rovers service in the Eastern United States Amateur League this season, six are from Winnipeg. Albert Collings, high-scoring left wing, is a veteran of last year's team, while along with Pike, other newcomers are Walter Cunningham, Jack Boyd, both forwards, Rudy Pious and Bill Allum, defencemen.

After the Monarchs annexed the Memorial Cup in Toronto last winter, Pike led them to a victory over Hershey Bears in the international tournament. Hershey were champions of the league in which Rovers compete.

Dengis Wins Marathon

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) PORT CHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Vat Dengis, veteran distance runner from Baltimore, today won the annual Port Chester marathon. Jumping into the lead after the first 10 miles, Dengis at the finish had a margin of a mile over the runner up, Leslie Pawson, of Pawtucket, R. I.

Dengis, who won this test in 1934, was clocked in two hours, 45 minutes in winning the long grind, run over the full marathon distance of 26 miles, 385 yards. William Wilson of Philadelphia was third.

Fascist Militia Calls Volunteers

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) ROME, Oct. 12.—The Fascist militia has called for approximately 50,000 Blackshirt volunteers for East African service and in preparation for "special emergencies".

This activity is coincidental with the calling up of specialists in various conscript classes and the dispatch of several thousand additional troops to reinforce the Libyan garrison.

The 50,000 volunteers were reported being drawn from classes not immediately liable for conscript service, thus avoiding weakening the potential strength of the regular army.

Part of these volunteers would be sent to Ethiopia to replace garrison troops being repatriated. The rest would be quartered in barracks in Italy awaiting "special emergencies".

An official source said the call of specialists is a routine measure, with no bearing on the international situation.
