Victoria Unions Take Game, 4 to 0

for much rough handling, during the whole game.

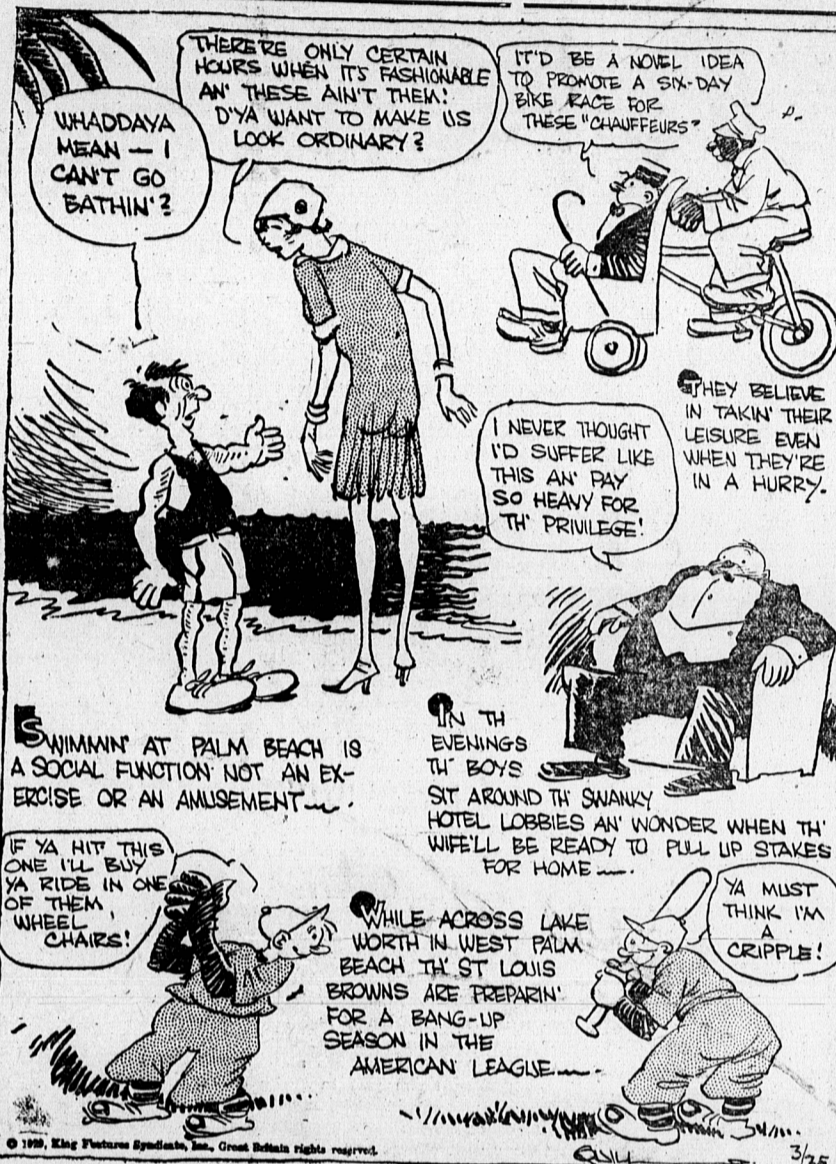

SECOND PERIOD

The Argonauts carried the game to the Victoria Unions making a determined attempt to even the score. Goals McLeod was kept busy for a while handling a bombardment of long shots. The passing of the Argonauts boys and combination work showed that they had not forgotten all the hockey they learned. The Argonauts defence was weakened when Taylor, the tough luck man of the evening was hit in the face with the puck and left the ice. Stewart of the Victoria team scored his second tally soon after this and McLeod again put himself on even terms with his team mate by scoring the fourth and final score of the game two minutes later. During the remainder of the second period the Argonauts sent four men up the ice on the attack and played a determined offensive game. The Unions apparently believing the game won subbed their whole forward line frequently.

THIRD PERIOD

The Victoria team playing a solid five man defensive formation turned the combined rushes of their lighter and younger opponents. The Argonauts showing little effect of the grueling contest worked hard from the beginning of the period. A long drive from Taylor outside the Victoria blue line drew Goale McLeod out of the nets and the Argonauts tried hard to retaliate by beginning a rushing-individual style of play. Taylor who attends vocational school and who formerly played with the Victoria boys seemed to be marked by his home town team and came in

Millionaires, Playgrounds

By QUIN HALL

In touring the big league baseball training camps of Florida, as your correspondent has been doing for weeks, one is impressed tremendously by the social and general amusement atmosphere of the gay parts of the Citrus Belt where millionaires enjoy winter life and diamond stars are taught to twinkle. Athletes, millionaires, gamblers, tourists, health seekers—what a variegated social melange they make during the balmy winter days in Florida!

There is for instance, Palm Beach, just across a small stretch of water from West Palm Beach, where the St. Louis Browns are in training. Heinie Manush, on a good day, can bat a ball from "West Palm" to "Palm" as the natives call the two resorts. They're pretty closely related in distance, but they're miles apart socially, and that is no particular knock on "West Palm." "Palm" is noted as the millionaires' winter playground and naturally it has to be considerably high hat.

Palm Beach—or West Palm for that matter—is not especially renowned from a sporting standpoint. There are a few golfing events held every winter. The social register folks, who infest Palm, do go in for the game in a casual way, what with their teas and one thing or another! They dabble a little around polo matches, which are a millionaires' pastime, and they patronize tennis matches. Sometimes early in the mornings the men folks go out with a lot of hired assistants and daudie with the sail fish. Most of the swimming is done on the beach in front of a swanky hotel and there are certain hours when it's fashionable to do the daily bathing. Outside of those hours the beach is pretty well deserted. Nobody feels like admitting that they're just ordinary folks out for a good time.

Unlike the Greater Miami section, there are no race tracks in the Palm Beach sector—either horse or dog. So after the bathing hour, there is little to do outside of riding around in a wheelchair propelled by a colored chauffeur on a bicycle, or playing bridge in the spacious lobbies of a palatial hotel—if you can whittle your way into such a gathering. By late afternoon most everybody is bored to death and glad of a chance to sip tea and do a little dancing.

Then it's almost time for dinner and this is quite an event in the settlement across Lake Worth from "West Palm." It's the occasion for crawling into the evening clothes at and preparing for an evening of strenuous sitting about. For an hour or so after dinner, the boys sit around in their hardboiled shirts looking straight ahead of them, with that expression which seems to say—"I wonder how soon the wife will be ready to pull stakes for home." Later in the evening, if so inclined, one may drop round to Bradley's and attempt to get a kick out of the gaming tables but even here you have to be all dressed up like a head waiter. Then there are a few formal night clubs, and some are not quite so formal, which can be visited later in the night if there are sufficient funds left after you ease your way out of the Casino.

One day is much the same as any other but Palm Beach has been going on like this, winter after winter for years and years. There are enough people who think that a winter isn't a winter without a trip there to make the place a national institution.

So while there are a good many sports to be found in this section of Florida, the citizens don't cater especially to the mobs which are attracted by such things as horse races or prize fights. When the visitors crave red-blooded action, they hurry toward the South where they can quench their thirst for thrills either at Miami or Havana.

ASSISTANT JAILER HITS PRISONER

Information Elicited Yesterday in Legislature by Dr. MacMillan—He Resigned in Consequence.

At yesterday morning's session of the Legislative Assembly, the rather interesting information was elicited from the Premier by Dr. MacMillan, that the Assistant Jailer in Queens County Jail resigned, because he had hit one of the prisoners. The House resumed at 10.45 a. m. Mr. Arsenault asked the Minister of Public Works:

1. What was the total cost of repairs of and extras for all motor vehicles and machines (including road machines) from January 1st 1928 to this date?
 2. How much has been paid thereon? How much is owing and unpaid?
 3. Give a list of persons to whom paid or owing and the amounts paid or owing to each.
 4. What was the total amount paid by or on behalf of the Government for salaries, wages or remuneration to persons for operating or in any way attending motor vehicles and machines from January 1st 1928 to this date? How much, if anything, is still unpaid thereon?
 5. Give a list of the persons employed and paid and the amounts paid to each.
- Hon. J. P. MacIntyre said he hoped the answer would be ready by Tuesday.
- Mr. MacMillan asked the Hon. Premier the following questions:
1. Was the assistant jailer of Queens County dismissed by the

- Government?
2. If so, for what reason?
 3. Was any investigation made by the Government into conditions in the jail and by whom?
 4. If so what was the result of such investigation?
 5. Was the assistant jailer a returned soldier?
- The Premier tabled the answer, which was that "The assistant jailer of Queens County hit one of the prisoners and as a result he sent in his resignation to the Government. He was a returned soldier."
- Mr. W. Chester S. McLure asked the Leader of the Government:
1. Give the names of all persons appointed as school inspectors since last September 1927.
 2. Give the class of teacher's license held by each person so appointed.
 3. Have any of the persons so appointed been since dismissed or have they resigned.
 4. If so, give the name or names in such cases whether of resignation and the

'NOT-AFRAIDS' NOT AFRAID OF THE MEN

Decisively Trowned The "Quakers" From McLean Co. Ltd., By A Goodly Margin.

The men were forced to sit up and take their beating from the girls last night when the "Not-Afraid's" (ladies) bowling team made McLean Co. Ltd.'s "Quakers" (men) quake, when the "Not-Afraid's" handed the "Quakers" a defeat of 293 pins. McLean's have a snappy team alright and would no doubt give the girls a "go" for the game if they could secure the services of Coach Chandler for a few weeks to show them "how."

Whoopee Burns thought he was getting away with the high single but Kit Coyle wouldn't allow such "goings-on" and rolled the high single of 255 pins—a single you love to roll. Kit also had high three of 568 pins.

These teams are to meet again very shortly and the boys say they will redeem themselves, but just wait, and see, boys—the girls have something to say about that.

MAY RETURN

(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, March 28—The Montreal Star in its sport pages today forecasts the return of Quebec City to the Canadian-American professional hockey league. The Newark Club of that league is to move back to Quebec, where it played during the 1928-29 season and is to be succeeded at the New Jersey city by the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National Hockey League, the paper predicts.

The Premier expressed his regret that he had overlooked the question and promised to give it his early attention.

The Minister of Public Works introduced an Act to amend the road act of 1928, which was read a first time.

The Provincial Auditor's report was tabled as was also the report of Falconwood Hospital.

Hon. J. D. Stewart inquired when the standing committees would be convened, referring particularly to the committees on Agriculture and Public Accounts.

The House then went into committee of the whole to resume its consideration of an act for the prevention of frauds in connection with the sale of securities.

Hon. J. D. Stewart considered the act very drastic, and said that to him it was a most unsatisfactory act, with no definite statements of its purport made anywhere in it. It seemed to be a jumble of words, and apparently it left the whole matter in the hands of the Attorney General, who was invested by it with very wide powers, especially under section 8, subsection 1e.

The Premier repeated his assertion that the act had worked very well in Ontario, and he could see no reason why it should not work well here. He felt that if a limit were placed on the powers of the Attorney General, the whole act would have to be changed.

The reading of the sub-section referred to above was "The registration of any person or company shall be suspended as provided in section 10, and no order of the Attorney General shall be subject to review in any way in any court." It was changed to read: "And any order of the Attorney General may be subject to review by any Superior Court Judge in this Province."

Bruins Defeat The Rangers 2-0

(Canadian Press)
BOSTON, Mar. 28—The Boston Bruins continued their triumphant march towards the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's professional hockey championship, here tonight by defeating the New York Rangers 2-0 in a grueling struggle before an estimated crowd of more than 17,000 fans.

It was the first game of the Stanley Cup Final which is a two out of three series and by their clean cut victory the Bruins established themselves heavy favorites to win the second contest at Madison Square Gardens tomorrow night.

The victors commenced the game by staging a furious offensive which was only frustrated by clever work on the part of the Rangers defense. The visitors seemed unable to hit their stride at this stage and were badly outplayed. Boston continued to force matters in the middle session and were rewarded for their efforts when "Dit" Clapper, a Toronto product, caught the New York defenseman and he darted in to snare to own his passport and beat Roach cleanly. Barely five minutes elapsed before the winners put the game on ice as the result of another individual effort on the part of Norman Galtor, stellar relief forward of the Bruins. Even after clinching the contest Boston had a slight advantage in territorial play as the terrific body checks handed out by the Bruins earlier appeared to have slowed up their opposition somewhat.

Port Arthur Shows Class To Beat The Saints 7 to 2

(Associated Press)
WINNIPEG, March 28.—Marshall to triumph by Jimmy Creighton, a fighting Port Arthur squad tonight started its march towards a third Allan Cup title in five years.

By a decisive margin of 7 to 2 over St. Francois Xavier, eastern champions, the western representatives captured the first of two victories needed to annex the amateur hockey title of Canada. The Lakemen rose to unaccustomed heights in their heart-rending final session.

together with his two little sons and Mr. G. M. Campbell, P. O. official, Regina, Sask., were on their way to Charlottetown Exhibition, they were overtaken by Mr. Mollison just after they had passed through the village of Hunter River.

The latter passed Wigmores' car and in so doing his rear mud guard and bumper struck the left front hubcap of Wigmores' car, causing the latter to immediately strike a steep bank and upset. Mr. Wigmore received injuries to his shoulder; Mr. Campbell also received slight injuries, the other two occupants escaped unhurt.

The evidence given by the Plaintiff, Mr. Wigmore, and his two sons was that he maintained the rightway, was going at a lawful rate of speed, and well to the right, while the defendant passed.

The defendant and witness, Mr. Graves and Brenton Clark, witnesses, claimed that the plaintiff didn't give enough road and that when the defendant's car hit that of the plaintiff, it was so slight that he had never slackened his speed until he had gone some seventy five yards ahead, when he stopped and with Mr. Graves went back to see the damaged car, and that when the plaintiff questioned the defendant he claimed he had done nothing out of the way, he was only trying to make the hill on high and that he was in a hurry to get down to exhibition, as he had a hard-ware booth there. The latter witness, however, was somewhat different in some respects from the fact that he was some 2 or 3 cars back on the road and claimed he saw everything that happened, could even measure distances between the cars when they passed, and the distance that the defendant's car had gone ahead before the plaintiff's car upset.

This evidence, however, the Judge could not entertain, and in part, further said that the evidence of not only the plaintiff but the defendant as well showed that the defendant Mollison never attempted to slow down, shift gears, or anything to protect Wigmores' car, and would therefore give judgment to plaintiff for $70 damages.

Mr. Heath Strong, K. C., Summerside, appeared for the defendant, while Mr. Wigmore conducted his own case.

The plaintiff said he regretted he was unable to produce evidence that would have given judgment to plaintiff for $70 damages.

The bill was duly reported agreed to, ordered to be engrossed and read a third time tomorrow.

At 12.55 p. m. on motion of the Premier the House adjourned to Tuesday next at 3 p. m.

Wigmore-Mollison Automobile Case

An automobile case which attracted much public attention came up before His Honor Judge Stewart at the court house at New London on March 18th, between Thos. Wigmore of Graham's Road, Farmer, and Robert L. Mollison of Summerside.
