Envoys From Belligerents In Moscow

MOSCOW, June 12 —(AP) —The ambassadors of three belligerents arrived in Moscow this afternoon to strengthen relations with Soviet Russia.

Sir Stafford Cripps and Erik Labonne, new envoys from Britain and France, arrived in the same plane. Italian ambassador Dr. Augusto Rosso, former envoy to the United States came by train.

Rosso, technically, had been away "on leave." His departure, however, coincided with the sudden leave taking of Nicholai Gorelchin, Soviet ambassador -designate from Rome last December when the Finnish war touched off anti - Soviet demonstrations in Rome. (Gorelchin returned to Rome today.)

Sir Stafford and Labonne replaced ambassadors who had also departed Moscow at the time of strained relations resulting from Russia's cooperation with Germany in the Polish invasion and her own invasion of Finland.

Will Issue Visas Free To Canadians

OTTAWA, June 12.—(CP)—Visas will be issued free to Canadians with passports travelling to the United States after July 1, United States Legation officials said tonight.

Recently the United States government ordered that all Canadians travelling to that country after July 1 would require passports. Previously this was not necessary.

The Canadian passport office here said under a "family passport" arrangement a man, his wife and all children under 16 years of age could enter the United States with one passport when they are travelling together.

When they travel individually separate passports will be necessary.

Japs Cause Great Damage In Second Raid

CHUNGKING, June 12.—(AP) — In a brief 23-minutes raid this afternoon 124 Japanese planes destroyed two-thirds of old Chungking city, provisional capital of China, and caused casualties probably numbering 1,500.

United States missionaries said the havoc was the worst single devastation caused by Japanese bombers since the start of hostilities nearly three years ago, and probably was one of the worst ravages of a city in history.

Between 800 and 900 demolition bombs were dropped.

Columns of smoke poured from the stricken district after this second big raid in two days.

A raid yesterday by 117 planes caused at least 50 casualties. One bomb fell within 30 yards of the United States embassy, two fell in the garden of the British ambassador's home, and others wrecked the Soviet embassy.

Offices of the German trans-Ocean News Agency were destroyed by fire, the building housing the Havas (French) and Tass (Soviet) news agencies was destroyed, and the Associated Press building was near collapse.

FINANCE

By Frederick Gardner
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 13—(AP)—Wall Street construed the war news as pretty sour today and financial markets, particularly stocks and commodities, shifted to lower levels.

Leading shares lost a sizeable portion of their sharp rally of Wednesday with declines ranging from 1 to 4 points at the worst.

The Canadian section showed fractional losses. Distillers Seagrams was down 3-4, International Nickel and Ford 1-2, Imperial Oil 3-8 and Walkers 1-4. Bell Telephone was the only gainer, up 1-8.

The Associated Pres average of 60 issues was down .6 of a point at 39.6, compared with an advance of 1.8 points Wednesday, largest since last September. Transfers of 877,070 shares compared with 1,357,190 the day before.

Items studied in the day's analytical proceedings included: sale of a stock exchange seat for $36,000, off $4,000 to a new low since 1914; a substantial fall in bank clearings for the week ended yesterday; a brisk pickup in demand for textiles, and a more than seasonal increase in last week's freight loadings.

Prominent stocks on the reversal were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Anaconda, Westinghouse, DuPont, General Electric, Norfolk & Western, Standard Oil of N. J., J. I. Case, Montgomery Ward, Western Union, Santa Fe and Great Northern.

Modest gains were held by Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, Loft, Sears, Roebuck, Cerro de Pasco and Eastern Air Lines. International Business Machines shot up 6 points on a few trades.

Says Diabetes Is Universal

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP) — Evidence that diabetes is a universal disease, and that there are not, as had been supposed, favorable places where people escape it, was reported to the American Medical Association today.

This report was by the foremost American authority, Dr. Elliott P. Joslin, of Boston. Three hundred Arizona physicians, that state's public institutions and press helped him gather the data.

Arizona was the evidence. Officially this state has an abnormally low diabetes death rate. The doctors set out to discover why.

They concluded, Dr. Joslin reported, that in reality diabetes is just about as prevalent in Arizona as elsewhere.

Allies Said Seeking U. S. Destroyers

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP) —Negotiations by Great Britain and France for acquiring several decommissioned United States destroyers to combat Italy's submarine fleet were reported advancing today.

How many of the 35 destroyers laid up several years ago were involved in the projected purchase was not disclosed, but a considerable number was indicated.

Doubt existed, however, that the government had authority under present law to trade in naval vessels to manufacturers for release to the Allies in the same manner already applied to other war equipment such as airplanes.

Pending legislation permitting trade-in of guns and other supplies was believed by some congressional leaders not to cover destroyers.

It was believed that before negotiations were concluded for disposing of the ships, President Roosevelt would request specific legislative authority. The President has not indicated that he contemplates any immediate move in this direction.

The Allies were reported to be seeking as many of the destroyers as the United States government would release. Informed sources said the negotiations were in progress between the Allied purchasing commission and government authorities, but what stage they had reached was not disclosed.

The craft involved in the negotiations were said to be in such condition that they could be put into use within a month or two.

Cites Suspect List In Commons

OTTAWA, June 12—(CP)—A list of 19 organizations and 10 publications was read in the House of Commons today by Dr. Herbert A. Bruce (Con. Toronto-Parkdale) who demanded they be outlawed because "all have been actively associated with the spreading of subversion."

Finance Minister Ralston asked if Dr. Bruce was making the statement himself that these organizations were guilty of subversion or if it was on information.

"It is from information received from police authorities," Dr. Bruce replied.

"Where?" Col Ralston asked.

"I think I shall let it go at that, said Dr. Bruce. He then listed the following organizations:

Canadian Youth Congress; Czecho-Slovakian Workers Club; Freihei Choir; German Workers and Farmers' Association (Communist); Housewives Association (Communist); Independent Mutual Benefit Society; International League for Peace and Freedom; International Left Opposition of Canada (Trotskyites); Jehova's Witnesses; Jugo-Slav Educational Bureau; Labor League Mutual Benefit Society; Macedonian-Bulgarian Society; National Childrens' Council; Progressive Arts Club; Theatre of Action; Women's Labor League; Workers' Educational Carpathian Association; Workers' Sports Association; Workers' International Relief.

He listed the following publications: Always Ready, The Beacon, The Canadian Tribune, Clos Pracy, Munkas, New Advance, Peoples Gazette, The Road, Slobodna Misao and Vapaus.

Dr. Bruce said the Beacon was, he believed, the organ of the Young Communist League and the Canadian Tribune he said, had "practically taken the place of The Clarion," a banned Communist publication in Toronto.

A. P. — The Story Of News

NEW YORK, June 12—(AP)—"A. P.—The Story of News".

This is the title under which the history of the first 90 years of The Associated Press will be published in the fall.

It was selected from some 4,000 suggestions turned in by staff members of the AP and employees of member newspapers in a world-wide competition.

L. A. Brophy of the New York AP staff and James Hutcheson of the Seattle, Wash., bureau both submitted the title and so will split the $250 prize offered.

Oliver Gramling is the author of "A.P.—The Story of News." He was assisted by William A. Kinney, now of the Washington bureau.

Farrar and Rinemart have scheduled the book for publication either in September or October.

Jews Seek To Form Army To Fight Nazis

By H. M. Peters
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 12 —(CP) — Jews regard themselves as one of the belligerent peoples and for that reason seek authorization from the Allied governments to form a Jewish army to fight wherever needed, Vladimir Jabotinsky, president of the world new Zionist organization, said today.

Jabotinsky, leader of the militant wing of the Jewish Zionists, has been for many years at odds with the British government because he did not think the national home in Palestine was going ahead fast enough.

But now that is swallowed up in a greater crusade, he told a press conference here. Jewish opposition to Hitler and what the Nazis stand for is a fight for existence.

Negotiations in Progress

Negotiations for creation of the Jewish army are in progress in London and Tours, Jabotinsky said. He hoped that a final decision would be made within a few days. What is planned is an army with the same status as that of the Polish army in exile. Financial aid is being sought of the British and French governments, but Jews would be urged to contribute generously to the treasuries of those nations.

Jabotinsky was founder of the Jewish battalions which fought in the last war as part of the British army, and he had with him today Lt.-Col. J. H. Patterson who commanded those battalions in Gallipoli and Palestine.

Jews Singled as Victims

"In this war, where the Jews are singled out as main victims of Nazi barbarism, it is up to us to offer sacrifice and help as much as, if not more than, any other people," Jabotinsky said.

The recent changes in government in Britain and France had resulted in speeding up negotiations, he said. Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Reynaud had shown much sympathetic interest.

The sponsors of the plan have also opened negotiations with the government at Ottawa, he said, while the administration at Washington is being asked to use its good offices to persuade the Allies that the plan is sound.

When the plan gets under way he expected that volunteers from all the Americas would be trained in Canada.

Jabotinsky expressed "the unalterable conviction" that the war will last for a long time but will end in an Allied victory. Nothing else was thinkable.

He and Col. Patterson believed that 100,000 was a most conservative estimate for the proposed army, which will have an air force and all other branches of a modern field force.

Jabotinsky said, "the main groups of which this army will be composed are:—

"1. The refugee and stateless Jews who owe allegiance to no country and of whom many hundreds of thousands live in western Europe, the near east, and on the western hemisphere.

"2. The Jews of Palestine where 150,000 men of military age stand ready to take up arms to defend their homeland and the Allied cause in the near east.

"3. Volunteers from neutral countries who would gladly flock to take up arms in the defence of humanity and of their own race."

Saturday Evening Post Released After Examination

OTTAWA June 12.—(CP) — The current edition of the Saturday Evening Post was held up for examination and later released, it was learned unofficially here.

It was said the examination was a purely routine procedure of the National Revenue Department which from time to time examines publications coming into Canada.

Speaking in the Senate last Thursday, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, drew attention of the government to articles appearing in the Chicago Tribune and the Saturday Evening Post which he considered anti-Allied. Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader, said he would consult with the appropriate government department.

World Sugar Futures Jump

NEW YORK, June 12 —(AP) — World sugar futures jumped 5-6 1-2 points today under influence of reports the French beet sugar crop would be sharply reduced.

New speculative demand also was encouraged by the buoyant action of securities. Sales totalled 6,350 tons; Jly 1.22 1-2B; Sep 1.19 1-2B.

Domestic futures advanced 1-2 points on sales of 2,650 tons. Principal factor was the advance in the raw market, where offerings were scarce.

June delivery Philippine raws sold at 2.77 cents a pound and Jly shipment at 2.78 cents, the latter a gain of 8 points over a sale late yesterday.

Withdrawal of refined sugar continued small at the unchanged eastern price of 4.50 cents a pound.

No. 3 close: Jly 1. 84 B; Sep 1.90B; Jan 1.93B; Mar 1.95B; May 1.99B.

Gracie Fields Arrives; Met By Band

HALIFAX, June 12-(CP)—A regimental band serenaded Gracie Fields when the English comedienne arrived here Saturday on her way to Montreal, where she will begin her first tour of Canada.

Her tour will be in aid of Britain's servicemen. "I'm here to collect some money for the lads—to help make things better for them," Miss Fields said as the band played tunes which she has made famous.

Miss Fields, who is travelling with her husband, Monty Banks, English film director, said she did not know how long she would stay in Canada. She may go to Australia after that.

Although "Roll Out the Barrel" has become almost a theme song of British and Canadian troops, the first time Miss Fields sang the song was during her trans-Atlantic trip. She spoke proudly of the concert group which she organized aboard ship from the 60-odd children who made the crossing. Several children disembarked at Halifax. While she talked to reporters she patted them on the head as they passed down the gang-plank.

Songs like Miss Fields sings in her motion picture "Shipyard Sally" are popular in England, she said. But the most popular tunes are the old ones like "When I Grow Too Old to Dream."

The English star recently finished a tour of the war area in France, giving performances for the troops. She recalled that the hotel where she stayed in Arras had been bombed by the Germans seven days after she left.

"Thank heaven I left a week too soon," she said. When she was told that the French planes had bombed factories in the suburbs of Berlin, she said, "Good, I'd like to have a squad of planes myself and bomb the hell out of them."

Miss Fields will make final arrangements for her concert tour in Montreal. Her chief worry is the absence of her pianist, Harry Parr Davies who has been called up by the army. "If he's not with me I'm going to be a miss," she told reporters.

While the liner was in dock Miss Fields went ashore to buy some magazines and candy. Outside a theatre a group of British sailors recognized her immediately and crowded around for autographs.

Widow Benefits From Hero

SOUTHAMPTON, June 13—(CP)—A deed of heroism in the First Great War was recalled when the Rev. Frederick Swift Algeo, former rector of Studland, Dorset, left £500 $2,250) in his will to Mabel Goodwillie, widow of Sergeant Goodwillie, of the 1st Dorsetshire Regiment. The bequest was a tribute to the memory of the sergeant, who lost his life May 17, 1916, near Thiepval, "while bravely endeavoring to save the life of his officer, my son, Captain William Bensley Algeo, M. C."

She Milked Cows As Bullets Flew

LONDON, June 13—(CP)—A Belgian woman refugee arrived here with a story of how she milked a cow in a Belgian field while German planes flew overhead, machine-gunning a trainload of people driven from their homes.

During one of the train's frequent halts between Antwerp and Ypres, Mrs. Renee, Thorn, wife of a retired sea captain of Dovercourt, Essex, jumped out to get some milk for her three babies. Bullets fell around her as she calmly filled several empty beer bottles and then ran back to the train with them.

"The babies had to be fed," she said. "I suppose I was lucky not to have been killed while milking the cow."

Invasion Of Cats Stumps N. Z. Force

AUCKLAND, N. Z., June 13—(CP)—Sailors of the cruiser Achilles, who faced the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee without a quaim, couldn't take it when they were invaded by a horde of unwanted cats.

The trouble started when soldiers on coast defence duty near Auckland appeared through newspapers for eight kittens to get rid of a swarm of rats. The kittens to be left at an Admiralty wharf from which they would be forwarded.

Immediately kittens began to appear on the wharf in crates and boxes. Some were shipped, some came by taxi, others were brought by hand. Sailors in the first picket boat to call at the wharf saw the array of boxes, heard the plaintive mewing. They presumed the cargo was intended for the Achilles and delivered it there.

Meanwhile the influx continued. From all over the city came kittens. Farmers brought them in from the country. An elderly woman telephoned to say she had a cat she had treasured for years. She had been unable to help the war effort in any other way, but she would give her pet provided it was called by the name to which it was accustomed.

Eventually the appeal was traced to the coastal defence unit. Naval authorities demanded that coast defence headquarters take delivery of the cats forthwith. But the soldiers too were swamped by this time with cats. They said they couldn't handle those they had, let alone take more.

Things were at a standstill. Finally the harassed sailors and soldiers were left to dispose of the influx as best they could. No one knows how they did, and no one has the nerve to ask.

HOME GUARD RULES

OTTAWA, June 12—(CP)—Municipalities have no authority to form "home guards" in the sense of a corps of the militia, C. E. Desmond (Con. Kent) was told in the House of Commons today in reply to a written question.

Hon. C. G. Power, acting Minister of National Defence, said a militia corps could be formed only by or under the authority of the Governor-in-Council.

Straight from headquarters comes the cheery "Best of luck" which sends Flying Officer John D. Pattison off on a flight over England. As he takes off, the Toronto pilot, member of the 110th Squadron R.C.A.F., carries the best wishes of Hon. Anthony Eden, Britain's new war secretary.

Betting 1000 screaming dive bombers and 700,000 men against the flower of the French army, Adolf Hitler gambled for his greatest prize—a quick smash-through to Paris and victory in the war. And while the great battle rages, the shadow of German armed might looms threateningly over France's Arc de Triomphe.
